

IT DISGUSTS CORBETT

The Refusal of Jackson to Sign the Sioux City Articles.

JACKSON IS A BLUFFER.

Says the Champion, and is Trying to Back Out.

CORBETT READY TO FIGHT

In Three Months, or Today, if the Colored Pug Will Come to the Scratch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Champion Corbett talked freely with an Associated Press reporter tonight concerning Jackson's refusal to sign the articles for a fight under the auspices of the Sioux City Athletic club next year. He expressed his hearty dissent at Jackson's actions, and reiterated his oft-repeated views of the colored man's fear to fight him.

Corbett insisted that Jackson's objections to those portions of the articles that failed to point out the place of fighting and the duration of the contest were very trivial and ought not to have any consideration in the minds of the people. He pointed out in this connection that in his fight with Mitchell there was no certainty regarding the fight and not until the day before the battle, Jackson was now after, he said, to secure his $10,000 deposited in Chicago and then get out of the country.

JACKSON WILL NOT SIGN.

A Dozen Reasons Why the Articles Do Not Suit.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The efforts of the Sioux City Athletic club to bring off a fight between Corbett and Jackson resulted today in complete failure. Jackson absolutely refusing to put his name to the articles of agreement as signed by Corbett, Edward Lloyd, representing the Sioux City club, met Jackson and his manager, "Parson" Davies, at the Bridge house at noon today in the presence of a good-sized crowd of sporting men and newspaper reporters. Little time was spent in preliminaries, and Mr. Lloyd produced the papers, which Corbett had signed in New York.

That's the idea exactly," said Davies. "Mr. Corbett is on the stage now, and we don't intend to advertise him until next May or June. This agreement calls for the fight to take place between May 15 and June 15. Now, the people name your place and make the time within the next three months and Jackson will sign."

"I want to fight before a club and in an house," he said. "I don't want the affair to take place in a field or a tent." Lloyd became considerably excited over the fact that Davies poked at the papers, but kept his temper and tried to obtain the necessary signature. He declared positively, however, that he could not bring off the fight in the time specified by Jackson.

"We have got to have good weather to get a crowd around," he said. "I want to see this thing go through, but there is no use talking of bringing it off in three months." "It's three months or nothing," declared Davies, and Jackson added, "That's right." "Well, it's off," said Davies, as he picked up his hat. "I didn't like the looks of this thing, anyway."

STONENELL VANQUISHED.

Domino Wins the Culver Stakes, Galilee the Sea Breeze.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—There was an excellent attendance at Gravesend today, the chief attraction being the running of Domino in the Culver stakes at six furlongs with Stonenell. There was little doubt of the result, as Domino never looked like anything but a winner, and got the first place at the end without raising anything more than a common gallop. Banquet was an odds-on choice in the third race and his victory was an easy one. In the Sea Breeze stakes Fizaro was an odds-on Yesterday eighty-three of the survivors of the gallant Minnesota Second Infantry, that served in the war from 1817 to the close in 1832, and of which the late Gen. Van Cleave was the first colonel and Gen. Bishop the last, held the annual reunion of the regimental association at the chamber of commerce.

Soon after the opening ex-Gov. Ramsey, the war governor, made his appearance in the hall and was greeted with rounds of applause. Gov. Ramsey, Gen. R. W. Johnson and Mrs. Van Cleave, widow of the late Gen. Van Cleave, had been invited to be present to address the association, and all three responded. Their speeches, of course, were devoted largely to recalling war incidents, and they were greatly appreciated.

A GORGEOUS OPENING.

MANNHEIMERS, RAMSON & HORTON, SCHLEIK & CO.

And Pease Brothers Illuminate and Decorate with Bands of Music, Flowers, Etc.

The announcement of the combination opening of Mannheimer Brothers, Schleik & Co., Ramson & Horton, Pease Brothers and Wedelstaedt & Co. for last night, that has appeared in the daily papers the past few days, must have been eagerly anticipated by the majority of the people at present in St. Paul, for last night from 8 p. m. until nearly midnight the streets in front of these five palatial purchasing palaces were packed, and the masses were crowded to overflowing with the best people in the Northwest.

The fair ex seemed to predominate. A superb orchestra filled with music, and the thousands of electrical lights and effects illuminated the district, the men, women and children revolved in the best that art, money and accommodation could produce for the entertainment of the visitors.

There is probably not to be found on the face of the earth a combination of five such perfect, enormous and complete stores as the foregoing, and last night they had on their best attire; and showed to advantage an advantage that would do credit to any metropolitan city.

Mannheimer Brothers, with their perfect and diversified assortment of the best on earth in their lines, was a veritable show within itself. Schleik & Co., with their fine and fabulous stock of footwear, was a feature.

And Ramson & Horton, in their attractive Venetian home-fall to overflowing with furs from far-off lands, as well as an immense taxidermist display of choice specimens of fur growing animals, made a view for the vision that was delightful. Ramson & Horton's window was a picture that would have done credit to any artist for they had some novelties in fur goods interspersed with mechanical electrical pieces that showed to an advantage. Inside their door was the orchestra; and their gold and ivory walls and columns were embellished with flowers and plants, the best that the florist can produce.
