LIKE LOVERS' LANES. SO APPEARED THE AISLES AT FIELD, MAHLER'S.

An Excellent Promenade Concert for the Entertainment of Their Thousands of Customers. Sweet strains of music wafting through the myriad aisles of Field-Mahler's mammoth store last evening attracted an immense throng of people to that wonderful dry goods emporium. The entertainment was in the nature of a promenade concert for the amusement of not only their city friends, but the many country customers of the firm who are in attendance at the State Fair, and Kiel's orchestra was stationed in the center of the store, from whence they played at short intervals from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The army of clerks employed in the store were all in attendance to show goods but not to sell, and many a lady availed herself of this opportunity to carefully inspect some rich dress patterns, some handsome cloaks, or any of the other numerous novelties which Field, Mahler & Co. carry in such grand profusion, while listening to the excellent program of music, and while she was having an evening of rest and pleasure. The younger people promaded up and down across the aisles, and came and went in perfect throngs through the four grand arch entrances of this palace for the ladies.

The store was brilliantly illuminated and handsomely decorated, and many of the aisles looked more like lovers' lanes than walks in a gorgeous dry goods store. The Wabasha entrance was artistically decorated with all the latest fashions in furs, ranging in price from $10 to $1,000, and many a young man of the finest seal ever brought from arctic shores, opposite the display of furs was one of the finest furs that attracted the eye of the youth and the man, whether he was a son of toil, a professional man or a banker, and the contents of the wondrous store have pleased the daintiest dame that ever wore glasses and carried a cane.

The entertainment last evening demonstrated one fact very clearly, and that is that Field-Mahler's mammoth store is especially adapted to such an occasion. The large number of aisles gave the thousands who attended ample room to move around, and it was a perfect pleasure to wander up and down pushing so common on these occasions. It was perfect freedom of motion, and it really looked more like Field, Mahler & Co. to accommodate one-half the residents of St. Paul at one time. Father and mother, sister and brother, husband and wife and lover and maid all mingled together in one perfect uniform procession, and after the concert strolled away happy and contented with the evening's entertainment.

An idea of how many people this great store can accommodate may be shown from the fact that it covers 40,000 square feet of floor space, or nearly an entire acre. This immense space, with the perfect arrangement of aisles, makes Field, Mahler & Co.'s an idealistic palace for the purchasing public, as was well attested by the crowds who visited there last evening.

For Homes in the Milway District. Attend the sale by auction on the premises in Howard Park next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Francis H. Clark will address the Populists of North St. Paul Friday evening.

The Eighth Ward People's Party club will meet tonight at the corner of Front and Oxford streets.

CALL FOR SUPPLIES. State Commission Outlines What It Wants.

The Minnesota state relief commission requests contributions of winter clothing and heavy underwear as the cold weather is fast coming, and without plenty of good, warm clothing the people who have lost their all through the fires will suffer severely. They are also in great need of flour and pork in barrels and at least 500,000 pounds. All contributions and communications should be addressed to Kenneth Clark, treasurer, St. Paul. County papers please copy.

A PRETTY OPENING. BOSTON ONE-PRICE MAKES A DISPLAY.

That Calls Out a Vast Throng of People—Music and Flowers.

Never since the days when Third street used to be illuminated during State Fair week has such a throng of people been seen on that thoroughfare as promenade last night, between the hours of 8 and 11, while the excellent concert provided by the Boston One-Price Clothing House lasted. Always enterprising, Messrs. Bowley & Co. have now fairly outdone anything that they have before attempted. If their aim was to furnish a first-class evening's entertainment to the citizens of St. Paul, as well as to the crowds of visitors who are at present doing the State Fair, they certainly succeeded in doing so, and on an elaborate scale. It is of course impossible for one firm to illuminate Third street, but so well did the Boston succeed in lighting up the handsome store on the corner of Robert and Third streets, that for several blocks each way it almost seemed as though the illumination was general. On a balcony built out in front of the store and artistically draped with American flags, Seibert's full military band of twenty-five pieces was stationed, and during the evening rendered the following concert program: March—"Greater New York"; Hosman Selection—"Nanon"; Genee Selection—"Crown Diamond"; Auerbach—"Tobaska"; Chadwick—"American Patrol"; Meacham Selection—"Slave Songs of the Sea"; Selection—"Bathurst Popular Medley—"Tid Bits"; Beyer Galop—"Good Night"; Auerbach Selection—"The Stars and Stripes"; L. L. May & Co., were exquisite. No great mass of flowers or palms to be in the way, but at the two-entrance and in convenient places around the first floor were disposed great plants and beautiful potted plants. It is probable that $500 would not cover the expense to which the firm has gone each evening to provide an expensive and high-class entertainment, free to the people who visit the store on any of the five nights this week. The first concert occurred Tuesday night, and there will be another tonight, which the program is published below, and Friday and Saturday evenings the open-air performances will continue. In case the weather should be unpleasant on any one of these evenings ample seating accommodation has been provided inside, so that visitors can listen and enjoy the music in comfort. On the whole, more complete arrangements could hardly have been devised than those which the management of the Boston decided upon for this series of open-air concerts.

Tonight's programme of eight numbers is as follows: March—"Alicia"; Brooks Overture—"Poet and Peasant"; Suppe Selection—"Olivette"; Andra Waltz—"Euseno Seducator"; Rusas Galop—"Tornado"; Beyer Medley—"The Metropolis"; De Witt March—"The Passing Regiment"; Coverly Patrol—"Vienna"; Fairbairn

DEMOCRATS IN LINE

For Active Service in the Election of Darragh to Congress.

OLD LINERS OF THE SIXTH. Populists Assert That Old Soldiers Stand With Their Party.

STIRRING PARTY RALLIES. People's Party Preparing for the Owen Rally of Monday Evening.

The Fourth congressional Democratic committee met last night, opened headquarters in Room 32 of the Globe building and inaugurated a vigorous campaign in the interest of E. J. Darragh. W. C. Reed, chairman of the committee, was present and occupied the chair.

There was a full attendance of the resident members of the committee, as well as a few from out of the city. T. R. Willerscheid was chosen secretary and John Wagner treasurer. The headquarters will be open continuously until after the election, and the secretary will be at reasonable hours to give information and attend to ordinary duties. Notices will be sent by mail today to all the members of the committee to attend a meeting to be held Saturday. It is desired to have all the members from all the counties present so that best may be given to the business hand.

SIXTH WARD DEMOCRATS. The Sixth Ward Old Line Democratic club held a conversational meeting last night at its club rooms, near the corner of South Wabasha and Colorado streets.

President Frank W. Buer declared himself in favor of selecting the best men available for office, and not soreheads. His view is that good business men should be chosen to make the laws, and that capable men be chosen for all the positions on the ticket. W. R. Hawthorne, who has been mentioned as the Democratic candidate for the house of representatives, was present and advocated a ticket of men who are Democrats from the ground up. William Hawley wanted to be placed on record as favoring a Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

SOLDIER POPULISTS. Boys in Blue Are Joining the New Party.

Some people who are not posted in regard to the membership of the People's party clubs are circulating cock-and-bull stories in regard to what comprises their body. These gentlemen are trying to convince the innocent and glibly that there are no old soldiers—no patriotism—identified with the People's party. At the recent state convention of the People's party it was proven that out of the 1,000 delegates present, more than 100 were Union soldiers who fought for "Old Glory" and the preservation of the Union. By the way, Morris Treacy, of the Fourth Minnesota volunteers, a gallant soldier and one who captured the colors of the Mississippi Tigers, is a member of the Eighth Ward People's party club, and he says that he is as good a People's party man now as he was a Union soldier. The parties who are not old soldiers are old soldiers in the People's party, should attend some of the People's party meetings, and be convinced that there are no old soldiers, an expounder of the purest kind of patriotism.

A MEMBER OF THE EIGHTH WARD PEOPLE'S PARTY TRACY CLUB. CLUB MEETINGS.

The Sixth Ward People's Party club held a good meeting last night at Beethoven hall. The committee on hall reported that arrangements had been made for a large, well-lighted room in the Paul Martin block could be secured for the club meetings. It was determined to make the change, and a night for weekly meetings will be agreed upon and notice given to the members.

Christ Gatzke reported that the central committee and levied an assessment of 25 cents per delegate for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the various clubs and the central committee, and asked that the members of the various clubs contribute two shillings each as a campaign fund. The club ordered the assessors to list its delegates to the central committee to be paid.

The club will meet at Beethoven hall, corner of Concord and Congress streets, Monday night, and march in a body to the Owen rally at Market hall. Twenty-six new members were installed.

The Populists are making big arrangements for the Owen mass meeting at Market hall Monday evening. The central committee and the central club have charge of the arrangements. In addition to the address of the farmer candidate for governor there will be other short speeches and a race of the little girls that created a sensation at the state convention.

The People's Party Ramsey County Central club will meet this evening at headquarters in the Union block.

The Eighth Ward Banner Democratic club will meet tonight at Braund hall, corner of University and Western avenues.

The Anglo-American Independent Political club will meet tonight in Kebecca hall, over Lutz's drug store.

The Third Ward People's Party club will meet tonight at 296 East Seventh street. Col. Pierce, of Minneapolis, will address the meeting.

The Ninth Ward People's Party club will meet at Labor hall, corner of Park avenue and Seventh street, tonight. Col. Pierce and Ed F. Peterson will speak.

The Sixth Ward Populist Club No. 2 will meet Friday night at the corner of South Robert street and Fairfield avenue.

The Ninth ward Pop. club No. 2, will meet Friday night at Smith hall, corner of Valley and Jackson streets.

The Ramsey County Scandinavian Populist club will meet Friday night at Decatur street, between Bedford and Edgerton streets.

The Eighth Ward People's Party club will hold an interesting meeting last night at Waller's hall. Speeches were delivered by A. E. Bowe and others.
