Meets Death Suddenly at a Hotel.

DOCTORS TREATING HER

With an Electric Needle for Fireman Day's Skull Fract-The Removal of Facial Blemishes.

A SOLUTION OF COCAINE

Used to Deaden the Pain--The Drug Apparently Too Strong.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. - Belle White, twenty-three years of age, daughter of Benjamin S. White, a wealthy lumberman, died at Wood's hotel this morning about 10 o'clock, while under treatment for the removal of facial blemishes. Death was caused, it is supposed, by the use of cocaine to deaden the pain from the application of an electrical current, which constituted the means of treatment. The operator was Dr. Sophie Santa, of the Dr. Sophie Santa company. Eliza A. James, the business partner of Dr. Santa, was assisting in the operation at the time. In one hand Dr. Santa held the electric needle and in the other a sponge saturated with a 4 per cent solution of cocaine, which she applied at intervals to deaden the intense pain caused by the needle. She had almost completed the treatment when Miss White gasped for breath, and, before the operator could assist her, she slid from the chair to the floor, dead. Aid was hastily summoned and restoratives applied, but without avail, the young woman having Died Almost Instantly. Dr. Tallman, the only physician called, and as the people in the room where the dead girl lay acted in rather a strange trucks of the mail cars manner, he informed the police, and Dr. Santa, with her assistants, were locked up until the exact cause of the young woman's death is known. There is no thought, hewever, that the death was the result of anything but an accident. Dr. Tallman described his visit as follows: "When I reached the room I heard through the closed door a woman's voice repeating, 'Is she dead,' I knocked several times. At last an elderly woman opened the door. When she saw me she banged the door shut again. I felt sure that something was wrong, and I forced my way in. I told the woman I was a physician, and, brushing her aside, found two men making vigorous efforts to revive a woman. As soon as I looked upon the woman I saw that she was dead. I said: 'You cannot do anything, that woman is dead.' The elderly woman who opened the door began lamenting and cried out: 'I only used a four per cent solution. That would not have killed her.' 'A four per cent solution of what?' I asked. She replied:

'Cocaine.' She said the young lady was sitting on a chair while she was at work removing the outer cuticle from her face. To face with the solution or cocaine. Seeing that my services were of no avail. I left the room. I had heard enough to warrant me in thinking that the interested people intended to hush up the affair if they could. I telephoned to the Harrison street station and advised the arrest of all the parties in the room as the only way of finding out the true story.

"An amusing incident occurred when I left the room that had its serious aspect in showing to what extremes of order to beautify her face. Outside of | blew a strong gale from the same dithere would be any danger to her in taking the treatment. She said she wanted to get rid of her wrinkles, and was ready to try the treatment. 1 told her of the fate of the young woman, and she replied that she knew the girl had died in the chair, but she believed herself strong enough to bear the pain without flinching, obviating the necessity of cocaine."

The father of Miss White is a business partner of Don J. Leathers, the well known capitalist of Grand Rapids,

Mr. Boggs came to New Mexico in 1845 with his father, who was one of the organizers of the ill-fated Bonner party, the first to travel overland to California. "Uncle Tom" acted as guide for Gen. Fremont. He was sent by Gen. Kearney in 1848 with dispatches of Gen. Scott in Old Mexico to Fort Leavenworth, and met with many thrilling experiences while engaged in this duty. Mr. Boggs was a brother-in-law and companion many years of Kit Carson, and his stories of his life are extremely interesting.

CARS REDUCED TO SPLINTERS

And Yet Their Occupants Escape Almost Without a Scratch,

Toledo, O., Sept. 30.-Train No. 12 on the Wabash road was wrecked this morning at Maumee, a small town twelve miles south of this city. The accident happened shortly before 7 o'clock, and was the result of a welllaid plan to ditch the entire train. Happily, albeit miraculously, the heavy Pullman sleeper kept on the track, and the mail and baggage cars, although badly wrecked, did not contain any victims. F. N. Smith, engineer, Toledo, was killed. A. H. Day, fireman, Toledo, was fatally injured. Slightly injured: Charles Holland, mail clerk, Toledo, scalp wound; F. J. Provst, mail clerk, Toledo, slightly cut and bruised; J. W. Kreamer, mail clerk, Disko, Ind., badly scratched on legs and body. The wreck was planned, by whomsoever conceived it, to occur at the west end of long siding just west of Maumee. The road at the lower part of the switch target had been removed, and the switch was partly thrown. The target indicated a clear track, and Engineer Smith was probably not aware of the situation many minutes before his motor was bumping along on the ties. As soon as the train struck the switch arrived too late to be of any assistance, it leaped into the air, fell toward the ditch and turned completely over. The

Followed by the Engine, but the cars themselves went in an and Fireman Day, the latter suffering from a fracture of the skull which will prove fatal. At the time of the accident the train was running at the regular speed, and it is considered a miracle that more lives were not lost. The postal cars were torn away from the trucks, and were lying side by side. Besides the slightly injured there were in the cars S. J. McCorkle, Kokomo, Ind.; E. S. Coffin and J. S. Dalton, both of this city. The express and baggage cars were literally reduced to splinters, yet the occupants escaped unhurt. There were several passengers in the combination smoker, which was wrecked beyond repair, yet not a scratch could be shown by any of them. The passengers in the Pullmans were only made aware of the accident by the severe jolting which they experienced. Wrecking trains from Toledo and Fort Wayne were immediately sent to the scene, and the main track was cleared for travel by 7 o'clock this evening. The dead engineer and dving fireman were both new men or the line, and are believed to have come deaden the pain she kept brushing the to the road from the Lehigh during the recent A. R. U. strike.

Vessels from the eastward have had the wind fair, but those arriving from the southward felt the full force of the storm. The steamer Comal, of the Mallory line, was the only vessel to arrive this morning from the southward. Capt. Risk reports having experienced very heavy weather since leaving Galveston, a continuation of east or northeast gales with high head seas, which greatly layed more than twenty-four hours. She received no damage, however. A very high tide prevailed along the Staten Island shore this morning, but so far as could be ascetained no serious damage was done to property along the shore. The steamer Grecian, of the Allen line, which cleared yesterday for Glasgow. went to an anchor in Gravesend bay to await an abatement of gale. At 11:45 a m. she got under way and proceeded on her voyage. All vessels coming from Southern and West Indians ports will undoubtedly feel the full force of the gale and be delayed many hours. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 30.—The northeast storm which has been raging along the coast for several days is increasing in fury tonight. Heavy gales are playing havoc with the telephone and telegraph wires and the surf is dangerously high. The water is on a level with pulldings in the inlet district and is breaking over the board walk all along the ocean front. The electric railroad on Brigantine beach has been washed out in several places on the lower end of the beach, and it is feared that the big steamboat wharf will go. as it is rapidly weakening. The rail-road tracks over the meadows are submerged and the late atternoon trains had great difficulty in crossing.

The hurri-canes from the South have slowly crept northward, until today the storm center was about 150 miles south of Fire island light. The wind blew forty-four miles an hour off Block island this forenoon and same rain fell, but the precipitation was slight. The harbor is filled with house and stables of Runyon Bros., 229 Burnett street. Seven horses, among them a valuable trotter owned by P. P. Runyon, were cremated. The loss is about $25,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

CRUSHED BY LUMBER.

Five Killed in a Wreck on the Northwestern.

WOODSTOCK, Ill., Sept. 30. - At 3 o'clock this morning a freight train bound for Chicago was wrecked on the Chicago & Northwestern railway at Grover's Crossing, about a mile west of this city. When the wrecking crew reached the spot the voice of a man was heard calling for help. His hand protruded from beneath the debris. This wrecked car was loaded with green planks, and the lumber was removed as rapidly as possible, the result being the discovery of five dead bodies, one man badly injured and a boy seriously bruised and shaken up. The dead are Bert Little, Freeport, Ill.; Tyrell Davis, Mount Morris, Ill.; unknown boy, Lincoln, Neb.; unknown boy, no residence; unknown man, said to be known as "Milwaukee Eddle." The injured are Joseph Grady, Fall River, Mass., leg broken, back sprained and left wrist chewed by one of the boys in his death struggle, the latter dying with his head pinned by the lumber to Grady's breast. Cardinal Gibbons Talks Interestingly on Labor. FROSTBURG, Md., Sept. 30. -Cardinal Gibbons, in a sermon on the labor question today, said in part: "Bofore the coming of Christ manual labor was held in degradation and relegated to slaves as being unworthy of free men. Christ, our Savior, has dignified and ennobled labor by word and example. He was pleased to devote many years of His life to mechanical pursuits, and when He worked in the but the cars themselves went in an opposite direction. Under them were opposite direction. example of a Christ. "Labor has its rights, chief among which is the privilege of organization without infringing upon employers. One of the most difficult questions in our times to discuss is the question of strikes. Strikes, as experience has de-monstrated, are very questionable for redress of laborers' grievances. The statistics furnished show that the losses to employes by strikes for eight years amounted to nearly $78,000,000, while the employers only lost one-half this amount. I earnestly hope that efficient remedy will be found to put an end to our recurring strikes, and arbitration seems to be that most potent method that can be conceived of."

Work to Begin in the Supreme Court Oct. 8.

WASHINGTON Sent. 30 .- The fall term of the United States supreme court will convene on Monday, Oct. 8, and devote that day to the customary ceremonies of the opening of the term, the call upon the president, etc. The work of the first week will be upon the docket, no important cases being in immediate prospect. It is not probable that there will be any decisions rendered by the court before the latter part of November. In the second week of the term the cases particularly assigned will be taken up, among them being a number of considerable importance. The case of The United States vs. The Union Pacific Railroad Company and The Western Union Telegraph Company is one being brought to test the right of Union. Another is the case of The Texas Pacific Railroad Company vs. the Interstate Commerce Commission, the question at issue being the right of the railway company to discriminate in freight charges in favor of foreign freight. Another case of New York vs. Eno is early on the list, involving the prosecution of John C. Eno, the New York banker who fled to Canada. The case against the sugar trust under the auti-trust law is also assigned. Justices Field, White. Brewer, Brown and Shiras are in the city. Justice Harlan is in Chicago. Chief Justice Fuller is expected to arrive in the city on Monday. Justice Gray has not yet arrived home from Europe. Justice Jackson has been at Manitou Springs all sammer, and it is not known whether he will be beck for the opening of the fall term.

Not only does he possess the confidence and esteem of Democrats, but he is exceedingly liberal, is well posted in the politics of the state, and a tireless worker." For the benefit of those Democrats who are not so well acquainted with these-gentlemen as Mr. Wise, the able editor of the Review, it is fair and proper to state that all three of these gentlemen are already hard at work in the good of the cause stirring up the Democrats of the state. The committee is made up of active and working Democrats, and they are going to back up the chairman, secretary and treasure in their efforts to get every Democrat to the polls with a straight Democratic ticket in his hand. In view of the attempts made by the Republicans to create the impression that the members of the Democratic state committee did not organize with entire harmony, the following bit of advice given by Mr.

Wise should be read by every loyal Democrat and practiced: "The committee is now organized for work, the best of feeling prevails among its members and the candidates, and that they will work together for the welfare of the party there is no reason to doubt. This being the case, we say to our Democratic readers to pay no attention to reports of factional division of the state central committee. It is broad enough to take in all Democrats and all sections of the state. Pay no attention to reports of Democratic disaffections in different counties of the state. There is no occasion for such division, and if a man is really and at heart a Democrat, this, of all years, is the one when he will not be engaged in sowing the seeds of discord and dissension. With an admirable and harmony in the ranks, there ought to be no trouble to succeed.

RENVILLE FOR REED.

A Republican Paper Claims the County for Him.

The Renville Times, published at Efforts to Facilitate the Carrying Olivia in that county, is a staunch Republican paper, but the editor is an old comrade of Capt. A. H. Reed, of Glensistant Postmaster General Nelson is coe, and refuses to indorse the manner giving a great deal of attention to in which the Northfield man secured the special mail service in large cities. He majority of the delegates to the Chaska has ordered prepared maps of all large convention. Mr. Kelsey, in addition to cities, showing the surface car lines, the publication of Capt. Reed's address with a view of having mall cars run over them. He expects to give his attention especially to carrying mail on electric cars which run from the centers of cities to the suburbs and to adjoining smaller towns. Cable cars may be utilized where possible, but Mr. Nelson is of the opinion that only on electric lines running long distances will it be profitable to carry the mails.

the publication of Capt. Reed's address to the people of the district, declares in an article which may be found below that Capt. Reed is the choice of nine out of every ten Republican voters in Renville county. The article follows: "Capt. A. H. Reed, our old army comrade of the Second Minnesota, ignores caucuses and conventions and has declared himself an independent candidate for congress. The captain has Learned by Experience that he, unless a scheming political demagogue, has no show of a nomination under the present system of caucus rule, where two or three intriguing politicians in each town generally run the whole machinery and have things their county are for Capt. Reed for congress as against Joel P. Heatwole. "We predict that the captain will enliven the canvass, and would not be surprised to see him carry off a plurality of the votes in Renville county in November. He is deserving of every vote in the district, and no man ever elected from this district will act more independently, and represent his constitu-ents more satisfactorily, than would Capt. Reed. The captain will take the stump and have some of the best speakers with him there is in the state."

The above statement of the situation in Renville is interesting, showing as it does what an injustice was done in seating the Heatwole delegation from that county.

WASTED GOOD MATERIAL. The Republican Fight in the Seventh Ward Grows Hot.

The Seveuth ward has seldom been so torn up politically as it will be tomorrow evening when the friends of Eli Warner and Willie Lightner will try conclusions. It is conceded by all hands that should nothing better result, it will make Lightner acquainted with the ward, for it is a matter of record that since this strife began he has abandoned his usual custom of requiring to be twice introduced to a man before he knows him again. The fight is really Summit avenue against the rest of the ward, with Fred Bryant thrown into the Lightner scale as a paper weight, and the betting is 2 to 1 for Warner, as the rank and file has a hot poker in the fire for the autocrats of the Harris Richardson stripe who affect to be ward dictators. Fred Bryant has really hurt more than helped the Lightner cause in inducing ridicule, and a good story is told of him in connection with the famous coachmen's meeting in Gordon's barn. He wanted to furnish some beer, and wanted to buy as little as would answer the purpose, so tele-phoned Paul Lavailee to know how much would be necessary.
"Will a half keg answer?" he manded. "Do you want to get 'em real drunk or just jolly 'em up?' asked Paul.

"Drunk as boiled owls," was the reply. "Three kegs at least," was the advice.

Fred got that many, but with many groans at the waste of good material.

LUCAS AND REED.

Republican Politicians in Minnesota and South Dakota Turn Down Old Soldiers.

Minnesota and South Dakota have at Washington several representatives who are very fond of prating about their devotion to the old soldiers, and yet in Minnesota this year there is but one Republican congressional candidate who served during the war, Col. A. R. Kiefer, of St. Paul, while two Democratic candidates went through that great struggle and came out with honorable records. These two are Maj. Baldwin, of the Sixth district, a member of the famous fron brigade, a man who, though wounded in the service, receives no pension, because he has never asked Second district. In South Dakota about the same showing was made by the Republicans. Capt. Lucas, an old soldier, was deteated to carry out a political deal. The Pipestone has the following to say regarding the

the manifest displeasure of the veterans of the war in the action of conventions in turning down many of their comrades for office. In South Dakota, Capt. Lucas, a member of congress, was defeated, and for no other reason than to carry out certain political deals. In the Third congressional district of this state Capt. Reed was a candidate for the nomination of congressman and when the convention met at Chaska, he declared himself an independent candidate, stating among his reasons for doing so: "I am forced to take this action by the fraudulent and dishonest which have been employed against me at so-called Republican caucuses and conventions, where the honest exagain and again thwarted and falsified." Gov. Nelson is severely criticised for his action in cutting off aid and support from the state fund by turning back many thousands, when every dollar is needed by deserving comrades, and other official acts affecting their inter-ests.

RED LAKE FRAUDS.

The Globe's Figures From the New Estimate Clinched Matters. The GLOBE's exposure of the crooked work done by the first set of timber inspectors on the Red Lake reservation has caused a sensation all over Northern Minnesota. Many of the local papers in the region of the reservation have reprinted the article in full, particularly the News at Thief River Falls, a prosperous little town that will turn into a city in ten days after Senator Davis takes his foot off the Baldwin bill for the early opening of the reservation. Other newspapers have contented themselves with calling the attention of the people to the facts presented by the GLOBE a week ago. The Hutchinson Democrat says: A Big Steat Planned

"The St. PaulGLOBE has made an fmportant exposure, which does not show Gov. Nelson in a favorable light. While in congress Nelson introduced a bili for the opening of all the Red Lake Indian reservation. The bill appeared inno-cent on its face, as all such bills do, but it was solely in the interest of the pine land ring, which has gobbled nearly all the valuable pine land in the state. the late session of congress Baldwin introduced a bill for the sale of 100,000 scres at a time, but this was opposed and defeated in the senate by Senator Davis, also in behalf of the pine land ring. Congressman Baldwin also secured a new set of appraisers for the pine lands on the reservation, because he old appraisers had been in partnership with the pine land ring, with this result, that while the old appraisers had estimated the pine on a certain 4,000 acres at but 1,769,000 feet, the new appraisers estimated the pine on the same tract at 5,089,000 feet, showing a clear steal (intended) of over one-half, or over 3,000,000 feet.".

Davis Is Hearing From the People. The Crookston Times is a newspaper that has all along fought for the early opening of the reservation and has done much to unearth the crookedness that has prevailed at almost every step in this matter since Gov. Nelson first introduced the bill providing for the ac-

Vest Says Lots of It Will Be Used in New York.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 30. - United States Senator George E. Vest arrived here today. Questioned upon the political situation in New York he predicted the election of Hill, whom he considered a most remarkable man. Continuing he said: "I do not regard Hill as a great man or as the possessor of a great intellect.

the tariff bill on account of the tax, not because he objected to its pro visions as to tarlff duties on sugar or anything else. The income tax he irrevocably opposed for two reasons: First, because he wanted to strengthen himself with the business men of New York, who had always been for Cleveland; second, because he did not want to drive from the Demo-cratic party in New York the men who make liberal subscriptions for cam-paigns. Hill is determined not to give up his hold in New York whatever happens, and he played the opposition to the income tax as his trump card. As to Tammany, which rules the party in New York, it is governed by the sachems, who are either rich men or expecting to be rich. Of course, the Tammany leaders are against the income tax and Hill knows it. New York politics is a strange business and money is the principal factor. Morton will be bled until he will give no more and Hill will have all the money he needs. I think Hill will beat him."

The "bulls" are conservative and in no hurry to precipitate an improvement which they are confident must come at no very distant date, and which they think may come in better shape and with more intrinsic force if allowed to wait until conditions are more fully ripe for it. They there-fore extend full length of rope to the "bears;" for one reason, because they have no objection to an opportunity for increasing their holdings at a lower range of prices; and, for another, because an over-sold market may give them a chance for making a profitable turn at the expense of the enemy Under all the conditions of the market the best practical policy is to avoid "short" sales; to buy on sharp depressions, and to be satisfied with moderate HENRY CLEWS. profits.
