A STARTLING SCENE.

RUNAWAY DASHES INTO A STREET CAR.

One Horse Killed, but No Person Hurt—Car Caught Fire.

Just as a Lafayette and Rondo electric car was rolling along Tenth street, near Five, shortly before 9 o'clock last evening, Motoneer Samuel Olson saw a team of horses, attached to a delivery wagon, galloping at full speed toward his car. They were headed directly toward the front vestibule. The motoneer stopped the car in an instant, but it was impossible to escape a collision, for there was no driver in the wagon to control the horses. One of the frightened animals ran against the car with terrific force and fell to the ground dead.

The vehicle bounded over the horse's body, and smashed the vestibule to pieces. Fortunately Motoneer Olson had just made his exit from the vestibule in closure, or he would, unquestionably, have received fatal injuries. None of the passengers suffered more than a slaking up, but they made a rush for the rear door, and as they did so a blaze of fire enveloped the front end of the car. Had there been a large number of passengers a panic would have resulted, but as it was all escaped safely.

The fire was caused by the contents of a gasoline can in the wagon coming into contact with the heated rheostat. The fire department when notified dispatched a hose cart to the scene, and the flames were extinguished before they occasioned much damage.

The team and wagon belong to Andrew Schoch's grocery establishment, at South street and Broadway. The delivery wagon was demolished, and the male of the horse that was killed was not injured.

TWINS PULL AS ONE.

Commercial Clubs Appoint a Joint Committee for the Interests OF THE CITIES AND STATE.

Will Push the Irrigation Project to Enhance the Value of Farm Lands.

GOVERNMENT RESERVOIRS

And Other Matters of General Interest Will Be Worked Up Vigorously.

A very wise move was made yesterday by the St. Paul and Minneapolis commercial clubs in the formation of a joint committee of five members from each club. This joint committee will represent the respective clubs united action on all public questions that affect the interests of the Twin Cities as well as the state at large.

President Calderwood has appointed four of the five members of the Minneapolis end of the joint committee, as follows: Charles A. Pillsbury, chairman; B. F. Nelson, J. T. Wyman and F. G. Winston.

President Footner, for the St. Paul end of the joint committee, yesterday named D. K. Noyes, Theodore Schurmeier, George O. Freeman, George R. Finch and J. F. Broderick.

Among the matters that will be taken up by this joint committee are a number of important moves in the way of legislation that the committee will attempt to secure this winter affecting the progress and welfare of Northwestern interests. The Minneapolis and St. Paul clubs have already agreed that the agricultural interests of the state will be greatly benefited by the application of the code of irrigation laws of Minnesota, Montana and other states to this state.

This will be the preliminary move in preparing for the great irrigation convention which means the rich country lying between the Twin Cities and Little Falls on the east side of the Mississippi river will be irrigated from that stream. Judging from the success of irrigation, as applied to land of similar quality further west, the irrigation of this vast tract of land will fill it with a dense population of farmers living on small farms, and the land will increase from its present price of from $50 to $100 per acre.

Another very important matter that will receive attention from the clubs will be the extension of a system of government reservoirs on the headwaters of the Mississippi to St. Croix, to Lake Superior, to the Red river and other streams. Joint action has already been agreed upon in favor of a government appropriation for creating a vast storage reservoir at Lake Traverse, at the headwaters of the Minnesota and the Red River of the North. Major Jones, of the United States department of engineers, having charge of government work on rivers and harbors in the Northwest, has determined that surveys and reconnoissances that this beneficial undertaking can be carried through at a very small expense compared to the very great benefit will confer in storing the flood waters of early spring to be gradually released during the low water period in July, August and September. Any extension of this plan to Big Stone lake will greatly improve the navigation of the Minnesota river.

ILLUMINATED SIGNS.

Commercial Club Wants Them on Street Car.

At the recent monthly meeting of the St. Paul Commercial club a resolution was offered that a committee of five be appointed from the club to act with a similar committee from the Minneapolis Commercial club in an important matter. In short, this joint committee proposes to induce the street railway company to place illuminated signs on its cars in both cities for the convenience of the public. In accordance with this idea, the secretary of the St. Paul Commercial club formally requested the secretary of the Minneapolis club to have that body appoint its portion of the joint committee for the purpose outlined.

AN EDEN OF FLOWERS.

The Chrysanthemum Show the Greatest of the Kind Yet Seen.

Those who have not yet visited the big chrysanthemum show have missed seeing the most elaborate display of flowers and decorative plants that has ever been made in this city, and which has been pronounced by persons who have seen flower shows in New York and Chicago as equal to any display that has ever been held in those cities. The show closes today, and Mr. Swanson has announced that all plants and cut flowers will be disposed of during the afternoon and evening. Attached to the tickets which have been sold for 25 cents is a coupon which entitles the amount of money to apply on a purchase. Persons having two or more of these coupons can apply the value of all on any purchase that they choose to make. Yesterday was devoted to an elaborate display of table and wedding decorations. One of the large dinner tables was done in a new variety of roses, which is used very largely of late in place of La France. The name used in this instance is Madame Gail, a variety that is of a much brighter pink, and the petals, instead of being pointed, are shell-like in form. In the wedding decorations a new variety of pink chrysanthemums, the most beautiful that has been seen here, was used very largely in the decorations. The variety is Vivid Morel, and the color is the most delicate pink.

ANOTHER ELEVATOR BILL.

Senator Eaton Thinks One Will Be Presented.

Senator Eaton, of Buffalo, Minn., was at the Windsor last night, having just come in, he is said to have spent most of the night in North Dakota, where he spent most of the winter. He only remained over night, and left this morning. He did not think there would be any particularly drastic legislation that would emanate from the legislature this winter. He talked interestingly of a number of matters. Referring to Senator Donnelly's bill for an elevator at Duluth, which it will be remembered was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, Senator Eaton thought it possible that another bill of a similar nature, omitting the unconstitutional features, might possibly be passed that could not prove objectionable. Such an elevator, he contended, might be built by contract labor. As a general rule, he could see no reason why the state should not make its own laws and let the market take care of itself. There was no good reason why contractors, who are an expense to the state, should not at least earn an amount that would pay for their keep, and any surplus over such sum could always be accommodated by the state treasury. Such labor, under proper restrictions, need not materially conflict with free labor.

Warmer Weather Promised.

Observer Lyons prophesied yesterday that the cold weather would begin to moderate this afternoon, warming up considerably by tonight.

"The cold wave is big enough," said he yesterday, "to cover the whole country. At present it extends from the upper lakes to the western slope of the Rockies. By Saturday the cold wave will move eastward and chill the people along the Atlantic seaboard. The thermometer will fall to 5 degrees below zero at Lansing, Wyo., this morning. This is the lowest temperature so far reported this season."

ST. PAUL ATTRACTIONS.

THEY ARE NUMEROUS, AND OF A HIGH ORDER.

Amusements and Accommodations Were Never So Cheap—New Things for Winter.

While progressing rapidly in all commercial lines, it is pleasing to note that we have not run entirely to business schemes—all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

A brief resume of some of the entertaining features of our city will indicate how much there is to be enjoyed. We are known far and wide as an attractive summer resort; hence, attention will be called more to the winter features.

Theaters of today present a marked contrast to those of a few years ago, all three of which have been destroyed by fire, and instead of which we have the Grand opera house, which is elegant, beautiful and comfortable. There is no playhouse in the country presenting any better attractions for the money, and it is deservedly the most popular.

So Alleges Dennis Ryan in a Suit Against Stephen Douglas Ryan.

SERIES OF FALSE ENTRIES

Is Alleged to Have Been Placed in the Books by the Defendant.

ST. PAUL GETS A NEW TRIAL.

Cases Considered and Be Considered in the District Court.

Another chapter in the litigation between Dennis Ryan and Stephen Douglas Ryan has been commenced in the Ramsey county district court. The new suit is in the name of the Minnesota & Ontario Lumber Company against St. Paul. It is alleged that the defendant has made and make proper entries, it is also asserted that he has wrongfully credited himself with sums aggregating $100,000. The court is asked to require Stephen Douglas Ryan to make a full accounting of the corporate business. The company has a large amount of pine lands in Minnesota and Canada. There are but three persons in the corporation, the principal holders being the two Ryans.

City Gets a New Trial. Judge Kelly has granted the motion for a new trial of the case of Hermann Peppin against the City of St. Paul. There was a verdict for $2,400 because of injuries sustained by a fall on a sidewalk.

The city based the motion for a new trial upon misconduct of jurors who visited the scene of the accident, while the court had not yet granted a view by the jury of the premises. The court says that as the assistant city attorney, who tried the case, knew of the misconduct of the jury before the trial ended and did not so inform the court, the new trial is not granted. That ground, but because justice demands it. The slippery condition of the pavement alone is not negligence on the part of the city and the evidence should show other defects.

Judge Kelly has granted the order in the case of Nellie James Ruffner Jackson against Anastain W. Hokegan et al., allowing the defendants to file an answer.

In the case of the National German-American Bank against the St. Anthony Park North Real Estate Improvement Company Judge Kelly has dismissed the order to show cause and denied the application for stay of proceedings.

Judge Brill has overruled the demurrer of the City of St. Paul, opposing against Odin G. Clay.

Judge Kerr has denied the motion to dismiss the case of John S. Pillsbury against Foley Bros. The ground of the motion to dismiss was that the court had no jurisdiction. Judge Kelly holds that, while the evidence in support of the case would require the plaintiff to show title to real estate in dispute, yet it is not a question involving the title to real estate, and the case may be tried on the merits to the action.

Heart Disease Carries William McDonald Away.

Deputy Coroner Wheaton was summoned yesterday forenoon to 105 Granite street to view the body of William McDonald, who was found early in the morning dead in his bed. Dr. Wheaton made an external examination, from which he came to the conclusion that McDonald's death was due to natural causes, presumably heart trouble. He was unable to hold an autopsy. McDonald was about fifty years old, and leaves a wife. He was engaged in the liquor business in this city.

The applications of the following places for the privilege of having high school examinations were granted to Evansville, Ind.; the city of St. Paul, near Brighton, Breckinridge and Sherburne. The town of Dundas was granted $400 state aid for the years of 1913 and 1914.

MONEY TO PAY POLICE.

County Treasurer Turns Over $50,000 to the City.

Yesterday the county treasurer made his October settlement with the city treasurer, by transferring to the latter's office the sum of $50,000. This replenished the city department funds sufficiently to enable Comptroller McCarley to audit the police pay roll for October, which he did, and the pay roll is now in the city clerk's office. It will be passed by the board of aldermen next Tuesday and the police pay roll for the month of October will be paid by the city treasurer, so the policemen will probably receive their pay a week from today.

VOTED FOR SETTLEMENT.

City Will Settle Two Damage Cases Cheaply.

The committee on claims of the board of aldermen met yesterday afternoon, and recommended the passage of ordinances for settling the claims against the city of George E. Kemp, who has sued for $5,000 for injuries caused by a defective sidewalk, and Michael Furst, who has sued for $1,000 damages caused by an overflow of water on his premises. Under the settlement agreed to, Kemp will receive $200 instead of $5,000, and Furst will compromise for $100 instead of $1,000.

SHE DENIES THE POLICE.

RAY CLIFTON DENIES TO LEAVE HER LOW CAREER.

Hassel Fails to Prove That Mrs. Fetsch Kibbed Him—Police Court Grind.

Ray Clifton's father returned home yesterday without his seventeen-year-old daughter, who had been informed by the police that she would not be permitted to remain in a low house in this city. Ray, who is still at the city hospital, replied that she would go to state's prison for life rather than return home, and she notified the police that she would be welcome to arrest her any time they were in an evil spirit.

Clifton's Prove It. There was not enough evidence before Judge Orr yesterday afternoon to warrant the conviction of Mrs. C. V. Fetsch, who was charged with robbing William Hassel of a sum of money when he visited her house on Temperance street; the other night, Hassel said that Mrs. Fetsch took two $20 gold pieces out of his pocket, but a complaint charging petit larceny was sworn out and Mrs. Fetsch was tried on the charge.

The testimony revealed the fact that the witness was mixed up in the matter, but there was no evidence, save the statement of Hassel, the complainant, to show that Mrs. Fetsch took the money. Judge Orr let her go. She lives with her husband on Temperance street, between Eighth and Ninth streets.

Yakovs Charges of Crime. Jacob Fandel and Samuel Stelover appeared in the police court yesterday, charged with embezzling $100 in cash from Isaac Krawetz, a peddler. In his complaint Krawetz alleges that the defendants, while acting as his partners and agents, did on the first day of last August convert to their own use $100 in money belonging to him. The hearing was continued until Nov. 20, and the men were put under $200 bail.

Charles Erick Alts Thomas Kelly was bound over to the grand jury yesterday on a sum of $1,000, on the charge of burglarizing the home of Gus Gimme, on the West side, about two weeks ago.

August Grenner, a teamster, was fined $1 yesterday for driving upon a sidewalk with a heavy load of wood, in order that he might more conveniently unload it.

Alarmed by a Chattel Mortgage.

H. C. Burbank & Co. and Lanpher, Finch & Skinner have applied to the district court to appoint a receiver of the effects of Martin J. Hanson and Joseph P. Kelly, who have been made an order of the parties to appear at special term today, and show cause why a receiver should not be appointed, as asked. It is alleged that Hanson & Johnson have given Albert A. Johnson a preference over other creditors without having been assigned. There is due H. C. Burbank & Co. for merchandise sold the sum of $2,089, and due Lanpher, Finch & Skinner a balance of $333. It is asserted that John A. Johnson has given his brother, Albert A. Johnson, a chattel mortgage on the effects of the firm of Hanson & Johnson.

Judge Kelly has filed an order in the case of C. J. Monroe against Laura T. Greig. The order is that there be a trial of $1,300 due upon the mortgage mentioned and which is ordered foreclosed.

Sued by a Livyman. Judge Willis and a jury are engaged in trying the action brought by Fred Schroeder, a livyman, against W. H. Orr. Damages in the sum of $615 are asked. It seems that Mr. Orr hired a team and "T" cart to take a drive. He went to Como, and while on the road had a collision with another team. One of the horses was injured and afterwards shot by order of the livyman, who thought it would not recover. This case was taken up by the court.
