Baron a Winner. Defeated Thomas at Billiards in Foley's Tourney. Baron covered himself with glory last night, since he succeeded in defeating Thomas. Even allowing the fact that he was handicapped at 200 points while Thomas played scratch, 300 points even, the victory was a commendable one. Baron has not had the experience of his competitor. Starting in his second inning with 17, he gave promise of a fair game. In his twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth innings he succeeded in reaching double figures again until these he made 11 and 15 respectively. He scored 13 and 17 later on, and these conceded his high run, a Thomas rating of 29 in his first inning, 13 in his eighth, 20 in his thirty-second, 14 in his forty-first, 12 in his forty-ninth, 10 in his fifty-third, 18 in his fifty-seventh and in his sixty-second. His average was 4.34-65 as against Baron's (actual) 3-11. The game for Sunday night will be between Clow (300) and Foley (250).

Curling Fairly Begun. Three Rinks in Working Order—More Coming. The curling season has fairly started in, Friday night's games marking the opening. Three rinks are already in shape, and in a day or two more these will be increased by two more. Judge Cory, Jim Anderson, Bill Rogers, Alexander McCulloch, Dan McMillan, Nettleton, Murray, Tom Scott, Dr. Carson and the rest of the "aud ones" are chafing to have the rinks buzzing. George Hall has agreed to raise a beard if everything doesn't come his way this season.

Local bonspiel will probably be held this winter for which valuable prizes will be hung up. The cutting down of the annual dues from $12 to $8 is already beginning to be felt, and the season will be one marked by the accession of new members. The annual election of officers will occur. Some interesting matches will occur Thanksgiving day, and games will take place morning, afternoon and evening.

SKATING RACES. A Number Scheduled to Take Place at Como. The skating races at Como this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, will prove of more than ordinary interest, and will inaugurate the opening of the regular skating season. The intention of the city railway company, under whose auspices these races will take place, to continue putting on events all through the season. The races at Como will be held on the first rink, which will be held on Sunday, and at present is held by Johnson, who made it on a straight race. The race at Como is circular, but Davidson thinks, providing the ice is in proper condition today, that he can break the record.

ANY PUG IS WELCOME

Corbett, on Behalf of His Sparring Partner, Issues a Challenge. O'DONNELL'S CASH IS UP For a Battle With Any Heavy-weight Who Accepts. HALL, SMITH OR MAHER Preferred—Corbett Confident of His Protege's Prowess.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—James J. Corbett has issued, on behalf of Steve O'Donnell, a challenge to fight any heavy-weight in the world, Jim Hall, Denver Ed Smith and Peter Maher being especially referred to. The challenge is as follows: "With a view of ending what is to me a decidedly distasteful wrangle over the merits of my sparring partner, Steve O'Donnell, which has been carried on in the daily press for many weeks now, I desire to put both him and myself on record as to what our intentions for the future are. For that purpose I made up my mind a week ago to put the sincerity of O'Donnell's challenges to the only test that proves, viz., the posting of a forfeit and the issuance of a regular challenge, fully supported. Therefore, I have this day deposited in the hands of Will J. Davis, of Chicago, the sum of $1,000, and hereby challenge any man in the world to box to a finish with Steve O'Donnell, of Australia, for $5,000 a side, the contest to take place the same week of my battle with Robert Fitzsimmons next fall. This challenge is directed particularly at and meant especially for Ed Smith, of Denver; Peter Maher, of Pittsburgh, or Jim Hall, of Chicago, and the one who will first to first cover the money in Mr. Davis' hands will be given the opportunity to prove the oft-repeated claim on their part that O'Donnell does not care to fight. It can no longer be a case of wide range talk of the bluff order with respect to the money, but the man of whom has said many bitter things to us. Our money is up in responsible hands. Let it be covered before there is any more idle waste of time. To the public at large I will say that I firmly believe that O'Donnell as a finisher is the peer of any man living today, but none, and an unwilling to bet my money to that way of thinking. He will match any one excepting myself, of course, as we are together, and for that reason only. He has been unsuccessful before in getting any of the heavy-weights to meet him, but I trust and sincerely hope that this time will be the case in the present instance. Some talk has been caused among sporting men by the omission of the name of Joe Choynski from the list of those against whom Corbett is willing to back O'Donnell. "I have not included Choynski in the challenge," said Corbett, "for various reasons. I do not wish to offend the fellow, and, besides, I regard him as a beaten man. Fitzsimmons having practically had him out in five rounds at Boston. However, if Choynski insists on challenging himself on O'Donnell, I may say something that will make him a bad. Possibly I may notice Choynski, but I say plainly I do not want O'Donnell to back him. It would not redound to his credit." JAMES J. CORBETT.

JOHNSON IS A WONDER. Breaks Another Record on the Fountain Ferry Track. LOUISVILLE, Nov. 23.—The opening of the new bicycle track at the Fountain Ferry Park today was an auspicious one. There was a large crowd in attendance, the weather was fine, and the sport was above the average. The principal event on the card was the second race, two miles, flying start, against time. John S. Johnson was billed to go against his previous record of 4:01-1/2, made by him on this track, and he succeeded the time will show. He clipped 6-5 seconds off his former record, going two miles in 3:54-5/8. Tyler's time for this distance is 4:04. The fractional time is as follows: Fourth, 2:51; third, 3:04; half, 3:11; two-thirds, 3:15; three-fourths, 3:25; one mile, 3:35; two and a quarter, 3:52; mile and a half, 3:58; two miles, 4:01-1/2. He was paced by the quad for the first mile, where the triplet took up and reared him for the next two-thirds of a mile. Here they dropped out, and tandem piloted him to victory, and saw the crowd cheer him in the phenomenal time of 3:54-5/8. All the other events on the card were of a good order.

MORRIS PARK FOR SALE. No More Races Likely on That Famous Track. NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The World tomorrow will say: Morris Park, the grounds of the New York Jockey club, on which the Morris family has expended over $2,000,000, is on the market. Since the adoption of the amended state constitution, the Morris, father and son, have decided to sell the famous racing track. Alfred H. Morris, who has been active in the affairs of the New York Jockey club, said tonight: "We have decided to sell the track to the Jockey club. The Jockey club will offer over all its stakes to be run off as they see fit. Should the offer be rejected, the stakes will be declared off, the entrance money returned to nominal owners and the race course left to any club or individual that wants it."

QUEERED BALDWIN'S HORSES. Erratic Running of Rey El Santa Anita Causes an Investigation. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—The board of stewards of the California Jockey club has suspended Lucky Baldwin's trainer, William Brien, for suspected crooked work, and is making a searching investigation concerning him and out running of the Baldwin stable. The running of Rey El Santa Anita particularly excited comment and investigation was commenced. Brien charges that Willis Duff, accredited stable foreman, had dosed the crowd with alcohol. Duff was let out, then Rey El Santa Anita came out, and won a stake race in easy style. The board of stewards was not satisfied that Duff was responsible, however, and Brien's suspension was the result.

Directum Changes Hands. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Orrin Hickok will no longer handle Directum, a racing trotting stable in the world, which has been turned over to James Duffan, and is now at the Oakland Driving park. Directum is owned by J. Greene, of Dublin, Cal., but his racing qualities have been leased to C. C. McIver, a wealthy vineyardist of Mission San Jose. Both Greene and McIver were assisted with the showing under by Directum in the East, and it was decided to turn the horse over to Duffan, who will probably take him East. There is a prospect of another race between Directum and Alix, which will be trotted in California if arranged.

GREAT GAME IS POLO.

Two Greatest Teams of the Northwest Were St. Paul Boys.

HENRIETTAS' HARD LUCK. The flag next went to the old St. Pauls, Jack and Archie Stark, Lou Barrett, Sam Painter, Frank Marshall and Billy O'Dell made an invincible aggregation, and never suffered a defeat until they met the Henriettas and lowered their colors to the youngsters who had learned the game from them.

Lost the Pennant to Duluth Through the Breaking of a Skate.

BUT THEY'LL GET IT BACK. The Henriettas played for five years with an unbroken record of victories that winter, when they accepted the challenge of the Duluth Stars and went to the Zenith city to defend their title as champions of the Northwest.

Bowling and Billiards and the General Weekly Round-Up of Sports.

While winter sports in general have languished since the last ice palace, the game of polo has always held a warm place in the hearts of the jolly skaters of St. Paul. Since its introduction here ten years ago the admirers of this lively game have never allowed interest to die out, but have always stood ready and willing to back St. Paul polo clubs against the rest of the universe. We have always had a few crack teams aching for gore and games, and the state championship has been held by St. Paul time out of mind until the close of last winter, when the Duluth Stars captured it from the Henriettas in a series of the most brilliant games ever seen in the Northwest.

In 1882 and 1888 the game became very popular, and the managers of the ice carnival inaugurated a tournament open to the world. The Junior Carnival club, under Capt. Frank Barron, won the championship, beating the St. George club and the crack teams from Minneapolis up the river. The flag next went to the old St. Pauls, Jack and Archie Stark, Lou Barrett, Sam Painter, Frank Marshall and Billy O'Dell made an invincible aggregation, and never suffered a defeat until they met the Henriettas and lowered their colors to the youngsters who had learned the game from them.

The Henriettas played for five years with an unbroken record of victories that winter, when they accepted the challenge of the Duluth Stars and went to the Zenith city to defend their title as champions of the Northwest. In the first game of the series the St. Paul boys did not play up to their usual form, and, although they won the first goal, the husky Duluth boys took the next three by main strength, winning the game. The next night the Henriettas played the West Superior club, with honors even. Two thirty-minute games were played without a goal, although it was conceded that the Wisconsin boys were outplayed at every point.

On the following evening the Henriettas and Stars lined up with the championship in sight, and St. Paul won in the hottest game on record. An immense audience had gathered at the Glen Avon rink, and when Duluth made the first goal in three minutes, the cheers of the delighted crowd were heard in St. Paul. Their joy was short, however, for the boys from home evaded the score in forty-eight seconds. Just five minutes after a brilliant team play by the Henriettas gave them another. They won the third and deciding goal in ten minutes of the prettiest and most scientific polo ever witnessed. As the Henriettas had won the first goal of the series in 1883, they first placed their pennant was safe, and were greatly surprised at the announcement that another game would be played within fifteen minutes. Protests were of no avail. Tired, lame and disgusted the Henriettas faced their opponents strengthened by fresh players. With two men nearly disabled and one with a broken skate the boys started in to defend the hard-won pennant.

The game that followed was more exciting than any scientific than any previous exhibition. The ball was constantly in Duluth territory. Time and again it was driven to the Duluth goal, but little Carey was playing a phenomenal game, and the stops he made were a sight to see. The Duluth team then resorted to football tactics, and within two minutes the St. Paul half-back went over the rilling four times, and once he was toted the whole length of the rink and deposited in the corner farthest from the enemy's goal. Twenty-seven and a half minutes of red-hot playing without a goal, then the unfortunate broken skate gave its owner a tumble, leaving the St. Paul goal unguarded at a critical point, and the Duluth Stars had won back the championship of the Northwest. The Henriettas at once challenged the winners, but the season was too far advanced for another series to be played that year. They are now in communication with the Duluth manager, and before the close of the season a pennant will be here in St. Paul, where all good things should be. Polo on ice is the very best of winter sports. Quickness, nerve and great presence of mind are the requisites of a good player, and the game is much more scientific than is generally supposed. It is known and admired by every skater, and that should mean every healthy and hearty man, woman and child in St. Paul. Skating is the greatest of winter sports and polo is the best of skating with the pluck and science required in football and base ball thrown in.

A number of polo clubs have already organized and the present winter will be the greatest for winter sports of all kinds since the days of the late lamented ice carnivals. The city fathers should encourage all this, and in their proposed amendments at Lake Como they should provide for a space to be inclosed and kept sacred for the young men of the city. William Lesh is manager of the Henriettas, and T. M. Newson is captain. The members and their positions are as follows: William Scheffeburg and T. M. Newson, rush; Fred Pfeifer, goal; William Krieger, cover goal; Ed Mager, near point; W. B. Egan, half-back; Ed Sheehan, cover point. The Henrietta Polo club has organized for the season, and challenges the world to play for amusement, money or prizes. Address all communications to T. M. Newson, care of Gotzian & Co. They are in communication with number of outside towns, and expect during the season to play in Winona at the St. Paul, and in Stillwater, Duluth, West Superior, Celmet, Mich., or with any team that does not concede the Henriettas are the finest on earth. Weather permitting, a game of polo will be played Sunday afternoon on Koborn's ice between the Henriettas and Spaldings.

Van Heest a Winner. BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 24.—It took Johnny Van Heest three rounds to subdue Jack Grace, of New York, tonight, and it was a marvel to the spectators that Grace was able to bear the punishment as long as he did. Both men weighed in at 126 pounds.

WOMEN'S FACES. Like flowers, fade and wither with time; the bloom of youth is only known to the healthy woman's cheeks. The nervous strain causes the ailments and pains peculiar to the sex, and labor and worry of rearing a family, can often be traced to "the change of life," the "Prescription" is just what they need; it aids nature in preparing the system for the change. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure the chronic inflammation of the lining membranes which cause such exhausting drains upon the system. It cures the nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faintness, nervous debility and all disorders arising from derangement of the female organs and functions. "Mrs. Jennie Williams, of Mohawk, Lane Co., Oregon, writes: 'I was sick for over three years with blind dizzy spells, palpitation of the heart, pain in the back and head, and at times would have such weak fits, that I could not get up in the morning. I first got up in the morning, but my physicians differed as to what my disease was, but none of them was any good. As soon as I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I began to get better; could sleep well nights, and had no nervous feeling and the pain in my back soon left me. I can walk several miles without getting tired. I took all three bottles of "Prescription" and two of "Discovery."'
