

MINNEAPOLIS.

TO GLOBE READERS.

"QUEER PEOPLE" AND "THE WORLD'S SWEETEST SONGS" IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Mill City Residents Can Now Secure These Elegant Works at Home.

The Globe's holiday offer of wit and music, in the form of Palmer Cox's "Queer People" and "The World's Sweetest Songs" has been received with so much favor by the residents of Minneapolis, and the mail orders from there are so heavy, that it has been decided to place them on sale at the Minneapolis office, so that all those desiring the work can be accommodated easily and quickly.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Rev. G. L. Morrill will deliver his lecture "My Trip to Chihuahua" this evening at Oaker Freely's church. George W. Tinker, secretary of the Home Trade Association, is in Duluth in the interest of the home trade plan. A state convention of the People's Party Bureau of Education and Organization will be held in this city on the evening of Jan. 9.

The Charity club will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Muncy, 1300 Hawthorn street, and discuss plans for the next season. Max Decker, eloquent soloist of Danz orchestra, has been offered a position in the court orchestra at Portland, Germany. In spite of the handsome offer he is of the opinion he will decline it.

The Metropolitan Opera company will begin a three nights' engagement at the Grand this evening in the operas "Phaeton and Galatea" and "The Rose of Avengeur."

J. K. Emmet began a week's engagement at the Bijou yesterday, playing in "Fritz in a Madhouse" to two large audiences, afternoon and evening. Liberal applause was bestowed upon the actor and play.

The Franco-American club met yesterday afternoon and decided to hold a social on Jan. 6, 1915, at which the officers for that year will be installed. The next meeting of the club will be held Dec. 20, when the committee on arrangements for the banquet will report details.

The Maple Leaf gambling house, in the rear of the saloon of that name, on Sixth street, between Nicollet and Hennepin avenues, was pulled by the police early yesterday morning. Harry Reed, the proprietor, was taken into custody, and the five men caught playing were allowed to depart. A roulette table and a crap-shooting outfit were confiscated.

IN "JUMBO ALLEY."

Gus Peterson Gets Used Up There.

There was a row Saturday night in Cleo Murray's dive in "Jumbo alley," and Gus Peterson, a "visitor," was seriously stabbed. William Burton, a colored piano player, was arrested for the offense. The police raided the place and captured several negro women and four white men. Peterson and several friends were taking in the town, and wound up with the colored women in a row. A row ensued, and the unfortunate Peterson got hurt. He was taken to the office of Dr. Moulton, where his wounds were patched up, and when the patrol wagon escorted him home to 325 Eighteenth avenue northeast.

"Jumbo Alley" enjoys the reputation of being a tough place, and rows in the dirty bagnios located there are of frequent occurrence.

Will Decide Upon a Speaker. The members of the Hennepin discussion will meet tonight and discuss matters to come up before the legislature. They will, it is understood, decide upon which speaker will support the speaker of the house, though it is unlikely they will make it public after so deciding. Representative Dale, who has been making himself more or less conspicuous of late by his "ideas," will endeavor to get the members to stand by him if introduced, and father them, as it were, instead of having them introduced by individual members.

PATHETIC MEETING.

Seelye and His Wife Weep in Each other's Arms.

New York, Dec. 16.—Samuel C. Seelye, the National Shoe and Leather bank bookkeeper, locked up in the Tombs charged with stealing $354,000, saw his wife today for the first time since he abandoned his home on Nov. 16 and fled to Chicago. His wife has been very ill since his flight, and the prison's chief anxiety has been for her. The pair are devotedly attached. Before allowing Mrs. Seelye to see her husband, Keeper McMahon went through the formality of announcing to Seelye, who was in the reception room, that his wife and brother-in-law desired to see him. The prisoner arose from his chair, grasping his back to steady himself. His nervousness was so great that he nearly a minute before he found voice to say: "My wife here? Please, quick; admit her." A few moments later they were sobbing in each other's arms. The evening was well advanced before Mrs. Seelye went away. Another sad scene was enacted at their parting. The two clung to each other for a long time without saying a word, and then, moaning and supported by her brother, the woman walked slowly out of the room.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair.

DR. J. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT. CREAM BAKING POWDER. MOST PERFECT MADE. Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

BLIXT MAY NOT HANG.

Intimation That He May Save His Neck by Telling a Straight Story.

THE ARRAIGNMENTS TODAY.

Blixt and the Haywards Probably to Be Called Upon to Plead.

THE FORMER'S DAY IN JAIL.

He Refuses to Talk to the Attorneys Named to Defend Him.

The probabilities are that Murderer Claus Blixt and Harry and Adry Hayward will be arraigned before Judge Hicks in the criminal court today. In Harry Hayward's case he will have to answer to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree; in Adry Hayward's case it is not known what step the county authorities will take. He has been in jail now for some time with no known charge against him, and it is probable that his attorneys will demand that the county authorities take some action against him very soon or release him, and those who ought to know allege that Adry will be released, and that after having entered his plea Harry Hayward will be returned to the jail in St. Paul.

In Blixt's case, he will probably be brought before the court and given more time to plead, in order that his attorneys, Judge Shaw, Gen. W. J. Hain and Frank Carleton, may have time to consult with him and decide what action had best be taken. Gen. Hain and Frank Carleton were appointed Saturday afternoon to defend Blixt, and the former stated to a Globe reporter that at his request Judge Shaw had been added later in the day. The three attorneys held a consultation Saturday afternoon, none of the three knowing more about the case than they had read in the newspapers, and none relying on their own judgment as to what to do. Blixt and his attorneys had a talk yesterday, and what had best be done.

Passed Up His Attorneys. Yesterday forenoon the three attorneys called at the county jail and were admitted to see Blixt, who was lying down and nervously refused to have anything to do with them at all or to talk to them until Sheriff Ege was sent for. When the sheriff arrived Blixt asked him what the three wanted and Mr. Ege told them that the court had appointed them to look after his interests. Blixt said he did not want to talk to them, however, until after he had talked with his father, who will arrive from Cannon Falls today. He is eighty years old and it is feared that the shock caused by learning of his son's awful deed will be hard on him. The attorneys decided that it would be best to leave Blixt to himself yesterday and said that they would be present in court today to look after his interests. They will ask for a continuance of time to pass up with Blixt again after the father arrives.

Despite the evident sincerity of Blixt's confessions, the county attorney's office is suspicious of the man, and that suspicion was somewhat increased yesterday by his apparent disinclination to talk to his attorneys. County authorities know that it would be an absolute impossibility for Blixt to secure more competent or honorable legal counsel, and have a sort of an idea that the fellow is out to get something out of the case. He is "fixed" to admit, and thus save his neck from the gallows anyhow, and perhaps save Harry Hayward. There is considerable more back of the case than has yet been told, the authorities believe, and are studying every word Blixt says in an effort to study more the confessed murderer makes. Said Assistant County Attorney Hall yesterday:

"Blixt may not hang. If Blixt goes on the stand and tells a straight story without any fooling, he may save his neck and go to state's prison. He has decided, however, that if he does not do this, after what he has said, we will push him to the very end and hang him. We have the evidence to do it."

Blixt is not a hardened criminal. He is an earnest, cowardly and a sounder at heart. He could not be hired to commit suicide, and those who have watched him quite closely say that about the most he is figuring on is to save his precious neck from the hangman's hand. He will admit to his story if he thinks it will save his life and if he sees it won't be a quite likely to go back on it.

Blixt's condition yesterday was pitiful. The load he is carrying bids quite fair to put an untimely end to his life anyhow, if not to drive him to an insane asylum. He eats but little from day to day, and is very weak, spending most of his time lying down upon his back, closely watched day and night by a deputy sheriff.

He is nervous to almost wildness, and his restless, sudden eyes show plainly that anything else but the burden that is upon him is carrying, and his lack of relief, despite his confessions and the stories printed of his conversion, etc. Blixt is quite irritable, and the number of those allowed to see him was constantly curbed yesterday, that he might not be annoyed, but left in quiet. He has aged years in the last week, and is thin and very tired looking, and far from anxious to tell his story to every one as he was at first. Even Mrs. Blixt was allowed to remain with him but a short time.

Will Talk Only to Ege. About the only person Blixt cares to talk much to is Sheriff Ege, and to him he will tell anything. He said the other day that he was coming to the court, but that he knew of the crime, and that if he thought of any more he would tell the sheriff and tell him at once. Up to date he hasn't thought of anything new.

Blixt says he was born in Sweden in 1857, and came to this country when he was six years old. He says he has been married three times. His first wife lived four years and bore him two children. His second wife lived about the same length of time, and bore him three children, which his present and first wife has had no children. Blixt has two sons by his second wife still alive, but says he doesn't know where they are, and has not heard from them. He talks slowly now, as if completely exhausted, telling everything in the same tone of voice. Asked when Harry Hayward killed the murder to him, Blixt said: "He was some time in September. Said he: 'Harry used to come down to the engine room where I was lots of nights for weeks before that Monday and talk to me about big schemes which he had for making money easy and lots of it. Finally he told me how he was going to make this money, and said it was getting her out of the way and getting the life insurance which he had made out to him. I said I'd not have anything to do with it at all. He came on Saturday night, and I refused and he got mad. I said I wouldn't have anything to do with it.'"

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE ARRAIGNMENTS TODAY.

Blixt and the Haywards Probably to Be Called Upon to Plead.

THE FORMER'S DAY IN JAIL.

He Refuses to Talk to the Attorneys Named to Defend Him.

The probabilities are that Murderer Claus Blixt and Harry and Adry Hayward will be arraigned before Judge Hicks in the criminal court today. In Harry Hayward's case he will have to answer to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree; in Adry Hayward's case it is not known what step the county authorities will take. He has been in jail now for some time with no known charge against him, and it is probable that his attorneys will demand that the county authorities take some action against him very soon or release him, and those who ought to know allege that Adry will be released, and that after having entered his plea Harry Hayward will be returned to the jail in St. Paul.

In Blixt's case, he will probably be brought before the court and given more time to plead, in order that his attorneys, Judge Shaw, Gen. W. J. Hain and Frank Carleton, may have time to consult with him and decide what action had best be taken. Gen. Hain and Frank Carleton were appointed Saturday afternoon to defend Blixt, and the former stated to a Globe reporter that at his request Judge Shaw had been added later in the day. The three attorneys held a consultation Saturday afternoon, none of the three knowing more about the case than they had read in the newspapers, and none relying on their own judgment as to what to do. Blixt and his attorneys had a talk yesterday, and what had best be done.

Passed Up His Attorneys. Yesterday forenoon the three attorneys called at the county jail and were admitted to see Blixt, who was lying down and nervously refused to have anything to do with them at all or to talk to them until Sheriff Ege was sent for. When the sheriff arrived Blixt asked him what the three wanted and Mr. Ege told them that the court had appointed them to look after his interests. Blixt said he did not want to talk to them, however, until after he had talked with his father, who will arrive from Cannon Falls today. He is eighty years old and it is feared that the shock caused by learning of his son's awful deed will be hard on him. The attorneys decided that it would be best to leave Blixt to himself yesterday and said that they would be present in court today to look after his interests. They will ask for a continuance of time to pass up with Blixt again after the father arrives.

Despite the evident sincerity of Blixt's confessions, the county attorney's office is suspicious of the man, and that suspicion was somewhat increased yesterday by his apparent disinclination to talk to his attorneys. County authorities know that it would be an absolute impossibility for Blixt to secure more competent or honorable legal counsel, and have a sort of an idea that the fellow is out to get something out of the case. He is "fixed" to admit, and thus save his neck from the gallows anyhow, and perhaps save Harry Hayward. There is considerable more back of the case than has yet been told, the authorities believe, and are studying every word Blixt says in an effort to study more the confessed murderer makes. Said Assistant County Attorney Hall yesterday:

"Blixt may not hang. If Blixt goes on the stand and tells a straight story without any fooling, he may save his neck and go to state's prison. He has decided, however, that if he does not do this, after what he has said, we will push him to the very end and hang him. We have the evidence to do it."

Blixt is not a hardened criminal. He is an earnest, cowardly and a sounder at heart. He could not be hired to commit suicide, and those who have watched him quite closely say that about the most he is figuring on is to save his precious neck from the hangman's hand. He will admit to his story if he thinks it will save his life and if he sees it won't be a quite likely to go back on it.

Blixt's condition yesterday was pitiful. The load he is carrying bids quite fair to put an untimely end to his life anyhow, if not to drive him to an insane asylum. He eats but little from day to day, and is very weak, spending most of his time lying down upon his back, closely watched day and night by a deputy sheriff.

He is nervous to almost wildness, and his restless, sudden eyes show plainly that anything else but the burden that is upon him is carrying, and his lack of relief, despite his confessions and the stories printed of his conversion, etc. Blixt is quite irritable, and the number of those allowed to see him was constantly curbed yesterday, that he might not be annoyed, but left in quiet. He has aged years in the last week, and is thin and very tired looking, and far from anxious to tell his story to every one as he was at first. Even Mrs. Blixt was allowed to remain with him but a short time.

Will Talk Only to Ege. About the only person Blixt cares to talk much to is Sheriff Ege, and to him he will tell anything. He said the other day that he was coming to the court, but that he knew of the crime, and that if he thought of any more he would tell the sheriff and tell him at once. Up to date he hasn't thought of anything new.

Blixt says he was born in Sweden in 1857, and came to this country when he was six years old. He says he has been married three times. His first wife lived four years and bore him two children. His second wife lived about the same length of time, and bore him three children, which his present and first wife has had no children. Blixt has two sons by his second wife still alive, but says he doesn't know where they are, and has not heard from them. He talks slowly now, as if completely exhausted, telling everything in the same tone of voice. Asked when Harry Hayward killed the murder to him, Blixt said: "He was some time in September. Said he: 'Harry used to come down to the engine room where I was lots of nights for weeks before that Monday and talk to me about big schemes which he had for making money easy and lots of it. Finally he told me how he was going to make this money, and said it was getting her out of the way and getting the life insurance which he had made out to him. I said I'd not have anything to do with it at all. He came on Saturday night, and I refused and he got mad. I said I wouldn't have anything to do with it.'"

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE ARRAIGNMENTS TODAY.

Blixt and the Haywards Probably to Be Called Upon to Plead.

THE FORMER'S DAY IN JAIL.

He Refuses to Talk to the Attorneys Named to Defend Him.

The probabilities are that Murderer Claus Blixt and Harry and Adry Hayward will be arraigned before Judge Hicks in the criminal court today. In Harry Hayward's case he will have to answer to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree; in Adry Hayward's case it is not known what step the county authorities will take. He has been in jail now for some time with no known charge against him, and it is probable that his attorneys will demand that the county authorities take some action against him very soon or release him, and those who ought to know allege that Adry will be released, and that after having entered his plea Harry Hayward will be returned to the jail in St. Paul.

In Blixt's case, he will probably be brought before the court and given more time to plead, in order that his attorneys, Judge Shaw, Gen. W. J. Hain and Frank Carleton, may have time to consult with him and decide what action had best be taken. Gen. Hain and Frank Carleton were appointed Saturday afternoon to defend Blixt, and the former stated to a Globe reporter that at his request Judge Shaw had been added later in the day. The three attorneys held a consultation Saturday afternoon, none of the three knowing more about the case than they had read in the newspapers, and none relying on their own judgment as to what to do. Blixt and his attorneys had a talk yesterday, and what had best be done.

Passed Up His Attorneys. Yesterday forenoon the three attorneys called at the county jail and were admitted to see Blixt, who was lying down and nervously refused to have anything to do with them at all or to talk to them until Sheriff Ege was sent for. When the sheriff arrived Blixt asked him what the three wanted and Mr. Ege told them that the court had appointed them to look after his interests. Blixt said he did not want to talk to them, however, until after he had talked with his father, who will arrive from Cannon Falls today. He is eighty years old and it is feared that the shock caused by learning of his son's awful deed will be hard on him. The attorneys decided that it would be best to leave Blixt to himself yesterday and said that they would be present in court today to look after his interests. They will ask for a continuance of time to pass up with Blixt again after the father arrives.

Despite the evident sincerity of Blixt's confessions, the county attorney's office is suspicious of the man, and that suspicion was somewhat increased yesterday by his apparent disinclination to talk to his attorneys. County authorities know that it would be an absolute impossibility for Blixt to secure more competent or honorable legal counsel, and have a sort of an idea that the fellow is out to get something out of the case. He is "fixed" to admit, and thus save his neck from the gallows anyhow, and perhaps save Harry Hayward. There is considerable more back of the case than has yet been told, the authorities believe, and are studying every word Blixt says in an effort to study more the confessed murderer makes. Said Assistant County Attorney Hall yesterday:

"Blixt may not hang. If Blixt goes on the stand and tells a straight story without any fooling, he may save his neck and go to state's prison. He has decided, however, that if he does not do this, after what he has said, we will push him to the very end and hang him. We have the evidence to do it."

Blixt is not a hardened criminal. He is an earnest, cowardly and a sounder at heart. He could not be hired to commit suicide, and those who have watched him quite closely say that about the most he is figuring on is to save his precious neck from the hangman's hand. He will admit to his story if he thinks it will save his life and if he sees it won't be a quite likely to go back on it.

Blixt's condition yesterday was pitiful. The load he is carrying bids quite fair to put an untimely end to his life anyhow, if not to drive him to an insane asylum. He eats but little from day to day, and is very weak, spending most of his time lying down upon his back, closely watched day and night by a deputy sheriff.

He is nervous to almost wildness, and his restless, sudden eyes show plainly that anything else but the burden that is upon him is carrying, and his lack of relief, despite his confessions and the stories printed of his conversion, etc. Blixt is quite irritable, and the number of those allowed to see him was constantly curbed yesterday, that he might not be annoyed, but left in quiet. He has aged years in the last week, and is thin and very tired looking, and far from anxious to tell his story to every one as he was at first. Even Mrs. Blixt was allowed to remain with him but a short time.

Will Talk Only to Ege. About the only person Blixt cares to talk much to is Sheriff Ege, and to him he will tell anything. He said the other day that he was coming to the court, but that he knew of the crime, and that if he thought of any more he would tell the sheriff and tell him at once. Up to date he hasn't thought of anything new.

Blixt says he was born in Sweden in 1857, and came to this country when he was six years old. He says he has been married three times. His first wife lived four years and bore him two children. His second wife lived about the same length of time, and bore him three children, which his present and first wife has had no children. Blixt has two sons by his second wife still alive, but says he doesn't know where they are, and has not heard from them. He talks slowly now, as if completely exhausted, telling everything in the same tone of voice. Asked when Harry Hayward killed the murder to him, Blixt said: "He was some time in September. Said he: 'Harry used to come down to the engine room where I was lots of nights for weeks before that Monday and talk to me about big schemes which he had for making money easy and lots of it. Finally he told me how he was going to make this money, and said it was getting her out of the way and getting the life insurance which he had made out to him. I said I'd not have anything to do with it at all. He came on Saturday night, and I refused and he got mad. I said I wouldn't have anything to do with it.'"

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE ARRAIGNMENTS TODAY.

Blixt and the Haywards Probably to Be Called Upon to Plead.

THE FORMER'S DAY IN JAIL.

He Refuses to Talk to the Attorneys Named to Defend Him.

The probabilities are that Murderer Claus Blixt and Harry and Adry Hayward will be arraigned before Judge Hicks in the criminal court today. In Harry Hayward's case he will have to answer to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree; in Adry Hayward's case it is not known what step the county authorities will take. He has been in jail now for some time with no known charge against him, and it is probable that his attorneys will demand that the county authorities take some action against him very soon or release him, and those who ought to know allege that Adry will be released, and that after having entered his plea Harry Hayward will be returned to the jail in St. Paul.

In Blixt's case, he will probably be brought before the court and given more time to plead, in order that his attorneys, Judge Shaw, Gen. W. J. Hain and Frank Carleton, may have time to consult with him and decide what action had best be taken. Gen. Hain and Frank Carleton were appointed Saturday afternoon to defend Blixt, and the former stated to a Globe reporter that at his request Judge Shaw had been added later in the day. The three attorneys held a consultation Saturday afternoon, none of the three knowing more about the case than they had read in the newspapers, and none relying on their own judgment as to what to do. Blixt and his attorneys had a talk yesterday, and what had best be done.

Passed Up His Attorneys. Yesterday forenoon the three attorneys called at the county jail and were admitted to see Blixt, who was lying down and nervously refused to have anything to do with them at all or to talk to them until Sheriff Ege was sent for. When the sheriff arrived Blixt asked him what the three wanted and Mr. Ege told them that the court had appointed them to look after his interests. Blixt said he did not want to talk to them, however, until after he had talked with his father, who will arrive from Cannon Falls today. He is eighty years old and it is feared that the shock caused by learning of his son's awful deed will be hard on him. The attorneys decided that it would be best to leave Blixt to himself yesterday and said that they would be present in court today to look after his interests. They will ask for a continuance of time to pass up with Blixt again after the father arrives.

Despite the evident sincerity of Blixt's confessions, the county attorney's office is suspicious of the man, and that suspicion was somewhat increased yesterday by his apparent disinclination to talk to his attorneys. County authorities know that it would be an absolute impossibility for Blixt to secure more competent or honorable legal counsel, and have a sort of an idea that the fellow is out to get something out of the case. He is "fixed" to admit, and thus save his neck from the gallows anyhow, and perhaps save Harry Hayward. There is considerable more back of the case than has yet been told, the authorities believe, and are studying every word Blixt says in an effort to study more the confessed murderer makes. Said Assistant County Attorney Hall yesterday:

"Blixt may not hang. If Blixt goes on the stand and tells a straight story without any fooling, he may save his neck and go to state's prison. He has decided, however, that if he does not do this, after what he has said, we will push him to the very end and hang him. We have the evidence to do it."

Blixt is not a hardened criminal. He is an earnest, cowardly and a sounder at heart. He could not be hired to commit suicide, and those who have watched him quite closely say that about the most he is figuring on is to save his precious neck from the hangman's hand. He will admit to his story if he thinks it will save his life and if he sees it won't be a quite likely to go back on it.

Blixt's condition yesterday was pitiful. The load he is carrying bids quite fair to put an untimely end to his life anyhow, if not to drive him to an insane asylum. He eats but little from day to day, and is very weak, spending most of his time lying down upon his back, closely watched day and night by a deputy sheriff.

He is nervous to almost wildness, and his restless, sudden eyes show plainly that anything else but the burden that is upon him is carrying, and his lack of relief, despite his confessions and the stories printed of his conversion, etc. Blixt is quite irritable, and the number of those allowed to see him was constantly curbed yesterday, that he might not be annoyed, but left in quiet. He has aged years in the last week, and is thin and very tired looking, and far from anxious to tell his story to every one as he was at first. Even Mrs. Blixt was allowed to remain with him but a short time.

Will Talk Only to Ege. About the only person Blixt cares to talk much to is Sheriff Ege, and to him he will tell anything. He said the other day that he was coming to the court, but that he knew of the crime, and that if he thought of any more he would tell the sheriff and tell him at once. Up to date he hasn't thought of anything new.

Blixt says he was born in Sweden in 1857, and came to this country when he was six years old. He says he has been married three times. His first wife lived four years and bore him two children. His second wife lived about the same length of time, and bore him three children, which his present and first wife has had no children. Blixt has two sons by his second wife still alive, but says he doesn't know where they are, and has not heard from them. He talks slowly now, as if completely exhausted, telling everything in the same tone of voice. Asked when Harry Hayward killed the murder to him, Blixt said: "He was some time in September. Said he: 'Harry used to come down to the engine room where I was lots of nights for weeks before that Monday and talk to me about big schemes which he had for making money easy and lots of it. Finally he told me how he was going to make this money, and said it was getting her out of the way and getting the life insurance which he had made out to him. I said I'd not have anything to do with it at all. He came on Saturday night, and I refused and he got mad. I said I wouldn't have anything to do with it.'"

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE ARRAIGNMENTS TODAY.

Blixt and the Haywards Probably to Be Called Upon to Plead.

THE FORMER'S DAY IN JAIL.

He Refuses to Talk to the Attorneys Named to Defend Him.

The probabilities are that Murderer Claus Blixt and Harry and Adry Hayward will be arraigned before Judge Hicks in the criminal court today. In Harry Hayward's case he will have to answer to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree; in Adry Hayward's case it is not known what step the county authorities will take. He has been in jail now for some time with no known charge against him, and it is probable that his attorneys will demand that the county authorities take some action against him very soon or release him, and those who ought to know allege that Adry will be released, and that after having entered his plea Harry Hayward will be returned to the jail in St. Paul.

In Blixt's case, he will probably be brought before the court and given more time to plead, in order that his attorneys, Judge Shaw, Gen. W. J. Hain and Frank Carleton, may have time to consult with him and decide what action had best be taken. Gen. Hain and Frank Carleton were appointed Saturday afternoon to defend Blixt, and the former stated to a Globe reporter that at his request Judge Shaw had been added later in the day. The three attorneys held a consultation Saturday afternoon, none of the three knowing more about the case than they had read in the newspapers, and none relying on their own judgment as to what to do. Blixt and his attorneys had a talk yesterday, and what had best be done.

Passed Up His Attorneys. Yesterday forenoon the three attorneys called at the county jail and were admitted to see Blixt, who was lying down and nervously refused to have anything to do with them at all or to talk to them until Sheriff Ege was sent for. When the sheriff arrived Blixt asked him what the three wanted and Mr. Ege told them that the court had appointed them to look after his interests. Blixt said he did not want to talk to them, however, until after he had talked with his father, who will arrive from Cannon Falls today. He is eighty years old and it is feared that the shock caused by learning of his son's awful deed will be hard on him. The attorneys decided that it would be best to leave Blixt to himself yesterday and said that they would be present in court today to look after his interests. They will ask for a continuance of time to pass up with Blixt again after the father arrives.

Despite the evident sincerity of Blixt's confessions, the county attorney's office is suspicious of the man, and that suspicion was somewhat increased yesterday by his apparent disinclination to talk to his attorneys. County authorities know that it would be an absolute impossibility for Blixt to secure more competent or honorable legal counsel, and have a sort of an idea that the fellow is out to get something out of the case. He is "fixed" to admit, and thus save his neck from the gallows anyhow, and perhaps save Harry Hayward. There is considerable more back of the case than has yet been told, the authorities believe, and are studying every word Blixt says in an effort to study more the confessed murderer makes. Said Assistant County Attorney Hall yesterday:

"Blixt may not hang. If Blixt goes on the stand and tells a straight story without any fooling, he may save his neck and go to state's prison. He has decided, however, that if he does not do this, after what he has said, we will push him to the very end and hang him. We have the evidence to do it."

Blixt is not a hardened criminal. He is an earnest, cowardly and a sounder at heart. He could not be hired to commit suicide, and those who have watched him quite closely say that about the most he is figuring on is to save his precious neck from the hangman's hand. He will admit to his story if he thinks it will save his life and if he sees it won't be a quite likely to go back on it.

Blixt's condition yesterday was pitiful. The load he is carrying bids quite fair to put an untimely end to his life anyhow, if not to drive him to an insane asylum. He eats but little from day to day, and is very weak, spending most of his time lying down upon his back, closely watched day and night by a deputy sheriff.

He is nervous to almost wildness, and his restless, sudden eyes show plainly that anything else but the burden that is upon him is carrying, and his lack of relief, despite his confessions and the stories printed of his conversion, etc. Blixt is quite irritable, and the number of those allowed to see him was constantly curbed yesterday, that he might not be annoyed, but left in quiet. He has aged years in the last week, and is thin and very tired looking, and far from anxious to tell his story to every one as he was at first. Even Mrs. Blixt was allowed to remain with him but a short time.

Will Talk Only to Ege. About the only person Blixt cares to talk much to is Sheriff Ege, and to him he will tell anything. He said the other day that he was coming to the court, but that he knew of the crime, and that if he thought of any more he would tell the sheriff and tell him at once. Up to date he hasn't thought of anything new.

Blixt says he was born in Sweden in 1857, and came to this country when he was six years old. He says he has been married three times. His first wife lived four years and bore him two children. His second wife lived about the same length of time, and bore him three children, which his present and first wife has had no children. Blixt has two sons by his second wife still alive, but says he doesn't know where they are, and has not heard from them. He talks slowly now, as if completely exhausted, telling everything in the same tone of voice. Asked when Harry Hayward killed the murder to him, Blixt said: "He was some time in September. Said he: 'Harry used to come down to the engine room where I was lots of nights for weeks before that Monday and talk to me about big schemes which he had for making money easy and lots of it. Finally he told me how he was going to make this money, and said it was getting her out of the way and getting the life insurance which he had made out to him. I said I'd not have anything to do with it at all. He came on Saturday night, and I refused and he got mad. I said I wouldn't have anything to do with it.'"

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE SAINT PAUL DAILY GLOBE.

THE ARRAIGNMENTS TODAY.

Blixt and the Haywards Probably to Be Called Upon to Plead.

THE FORMER'S DAY IN JAIL.

He Refuses to Talk to the Attorneys Named to Defend Him.

The probabilities are that Murderer Claus Blixt and Harry and Adry Hayward will be arraigned before Judge Hicks in the criminal court today. In Harry Hayward's case he will have to answer to an indictment charging him with murder in the first degree; in Adry Hayward's case it is not known what step the county authorities will take. He has been in jail now for some time with no known charge against him, and it is probable that his attorneys will demand that the county authorities take some action against him very soon or release him, and those who ought to know allege that Adry will be released, and that after having entered his plea Harry Hayward will be returned to the jail in St. Paul.

In Blixt's case, he will probably be brought before the court and given more time to plead, in order that his attorneys, Judge Shaw, Gen. W. J. Hain and Frank Carleton, may have time to consult with him and decide what action had best be taken. Gen. Hain