ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE MIN-SOTA ASSOCIATION

Will Occur This Afternoon and Tonight at the Ryan Hotel.

The arrangements for the meeting and banquet of the Minnesota Demoeratic association today are now all perfected. The business meeting for the reception of reports and the election of officers will be held in the ordinary of the Ryan at 4 o'clock p. m., and the guests will take seats at the banquet promptly at 8. C. D. O'Brien will preside and act as toastmaster.

Franklin MacVeagh writes that he cannot be present, as he would leave yesterday for Europe; and George D. Partridge, of Wyman & Partridge, of Minneapolis, who was to respond to the toast, "Free trade and our business interests," is called East and cannot be present.

Of the speakers less generally known, Mr. Rosing is a resident of Cannon Falls, was the Democratic candidate for senator in Goodhue, and is one of the bright young men in whom Minnesota Democracy places its hopes and trust.

John H. Sneets, who will speak for the farmer, is a practical farmer of Todd county, and was one of the representatives in the legislature of '91. Earle S. Youmans, the well-known lumber manufacturer of Winona, will speak from the manufacturers' standpoint. He has been operating a 2,000-acre farm in Lyon county, and is as capable of telling how free trade would help the farmer as the manufacturer. When the first Morrison bill was pending putting lumber on the free list, a Winona paper sent its reporter among the mill men to get their views. Mr. Youmans curtly said if the tax on lumber was intended to protect him he didn't want or need it, and if it was intended to increase the cost of lumber to the farmersout on the prairies it was a blanked outrage. E. G. Erickson will talk of free trade from the point of a wage earner. He is a compositor earning his daily bread by sticking type, and speaks

"like one having authority." The following is the programme of toasts, sentiments and speakers:
