Statements by other manufacturers to the contrary have been declared by the official authorities falsifications of the official reports.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS TAKE ACTION ON NEW POSTOFFICE.

WANT AN INVESTIGATION

AS TO THE BUILDING AND A REPORT ON NECESSARY CHANGES.

SIXTH STREET FRONT IS BAD.

St. Paul Donated a Valuable Site on Certain Conditions—E. V. Smalley Honored.

The chamber of commerce elected officers yesterday morning, and adopted a resolution toward securing larger appropriations for the new government building.

The election was in the hands of the new board of directors that was chosen last Monday. Col. Clough, nominated by Mr. Hodgson, declined to assume the office for another term.

The new president made a pleasing speech of acceptance, in which he congratulated the chamber upon the personnel of its present board—the best it has had during its twenty-five years' existence.

The directors next elected the remaining officers as follows: E. W. Peet, first vice president; C. P. Noyes, second vice president; F. W. Anderson, treasurer.

The resolution regarding the appropriation for the new postoffice was then introduced at the suggestion of Congressman Kiefer, who was on the floor.

Whereas, The city of St. Paul donated to the government of the United States the present site upon which the new customs house and postoffice building is being erected; and, Whereas, no other city of like size and commercial importance has donated a site for a public building; and, Whereas, It is understood that in consideration of this magnificent gift to the general government on the part of the city of St. Paul a building commensurate with the splendid growth and development of the city would be erected at a cost not less than $1,500,000;

Whereas, A bill was passed in the senate of the United States during the fifty-first congress appropriating the sum of $1,500,000 for the erection of said building; and, Whereas, The city of St. Paul, acting in good faith, made its deed of the site to the United States; and, Whereas, Late in the session of the said fifty-first congress the house of representatives cut the appropriation to $800,000;

Whereas, During the fifty-second congress a bill passed the senate increasing the limit of the cost of said building to $1,400,000, and was also favorably reported from the committee on public buildings and grounds; and, Whereas, An amendment to make the limit $1,300,000; and, Whereas, At the last session of congress the committee on public buildings and grounds reported favorably for an increase of $200,000 to be appropriated for the completion of the said building; and, Whereas, The city of St. Paul, acting in good faith, made its deed of the site to the United States; and, Whereas, The increasing business of the United States federal courts, the United States revenue, customs house, postoffice, and the division of land, division United States mail service and other public offices render it necessary that the building should be increased in size; and, Whereas, The city of St. Paul, acting in good faith, made its deed of the site to the United States; and, Whereas, The increasing business of the United States federal courts, the United States revenue, customs house, postoffice, and the division of land, division United States mail service and other public offices render it necessary that the building should be increased in size;

Whereas, Said building, which is to be used for the services of coming generations, should not have rear entrance on a principal and leading street, and the house committee on public buildings and grounds having stated in its report at the last session of congress the following:

"To erect a building which is to stand for all time to come, and leave the rear entrance on Sixth street, would be in the opinion of the committee on the showing made before it, and on the information furnished by the supervising architect, be a most serious and unjustifiable mistake." Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the chamber of commerce of the city of St. Paul, at a regular meeting held on the 31 day of June, 1895, that the honorable secretary of the treasury be requested to detail a competent person to the office of the supervising architect to visit St. Paul for the purpose of examining the construction of said building, the needs of the city, and to report to the secretary of the treasury on the entire subject of the supervising architect or to the secretary of the treasury previous to Dec. 1, 1895.

The board of aldermen committee on streets will meet at 2 p. m. today. The summer school for girls at the experiment station will close on Friday.

CLARENCE CARR'S BAD WORK.

Samuel Carr Asserts It Was His Brother Who Abused His Wife.

In the municipal court yesterday appeared Huston Osborne, who had a narrow escape from the story of the expedition of the rope in the hands of a dozen enraged citizens at an early hour Sunday morning, for assault on the story of the Kachel at 1033 Eleventh street. It developed yesterday that Osborne is not a total stranger in this city, at least not to the neighborhood of the Kachel.

Whereas, Late in the session of the said fifty-first congress the house of representatives cut the appropriation to $800,000;

Commissioner Joyce occupied the seat heretofore held by Robert Senz and takes Senz's place in the board of supervisors, with the exception of the committee on claims.

No Inquest on Sopp. Coroner Whitcomb has decided to hold no inquest on the remains of John Sopp, the unfortunate young invalid who was killed by a car on University avenue last Saturday evening. He is of the opinion that Sopp came to his death by his own negligence.

that the door key was gone. It was at first supposed that whoever the intruder was he effected an entrance from the rear, but inasmuch as Clarence Carr was only present outside of the family who was aware of the key in the door, Samuel says there is not the least doubt but that his brother is the guilty man. The latter has not been seen since Sunday evening, and where merely suspicion prevailed before there exists now a determined effort to apprehend him at any cost, and he need not expect any mercy at his hands when he is caught," said Samuel last evening.

Mrs. Carr has been shown all consideration at the hands of the ladies in the vicinity are constantly in attendance upon her. Dr. Jones has also administered to her during the entire day, and while he has worked hard to diminish the swelling, he has succeeded, but little. It is evident that the fluid did not stop short of anything to the neck, and the swelling, which caused the marks his finger nails have left are sure to remain for a long time.

One fact which makes Samuel so certain that it was the work of his brother is that a necktie pin Clarence always wore was found on the floor near the bed where the struggle took place. The necktie was found to have struck the woman with a sock filled with gravel stones.

Samuel is at sea as to the whereabouts of his brother, but he is sure in the end that the medical is somewhere in hiding in the city.
