

PARKER IS HOSTILE

A WASHINGTON COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE UNBENDS HIS MIND.

MASTERMAN HAS THE PULL.

SECRETARY BERG IS ACCUSED OF GROSSLY RECEIVING THE REPRESENTATIVES.

ALL WASHINGTON MEN NAMED.

And Only One Old Soldier in the List-Reckoning Day Ahead.

Hon. C. A. Parker, one of Washington county's representatives in the legislature, was in St. Paul yesterday to attend the conference of the Republican league delegates to Cleveland. He had not by any means recovered from what he calls the "unwarranted slap in the face" administered to the representatives in the appointment of census enumerators for Washington county.

To a Globe reporter Mr. Parker talked freely and earnestly, saying that the treatment he had received was so unprecedented that he could not dismiss it as a mere accident. "The representatives from our county have been turned down," he said, "and every enumerator has been appointed at the dictation of some one else, that seems like our senator, as they are all Washington men, without a single exception, and you know that the senator was a staunch supporter of Mr. Washington."

"The fact is, we were greatly deceived by Messrs. Berg and Wildt, and they repeatedly told Mr. Sutton and myself that when the list of names was ready it would be submitted to us for approval, and in showing us the list of applicants they did not show us any but such as had their signatures attached. The last day that we called on them they still said that the list was not made up, and that we should know when it was. We have since learned that the list was complete and the certificates of appointment were mailed the next morning. Saturday, Wildt himself told me this. Mr. Zelch called to see the list Saturday morning and they told him that it was not made up yet. At the very moment they told him this the certificates of appointment were on their way to the lucky parties. There is only one old soldier in the whole list of men appointed, as near as I can make out. But such work will not win. There may be a reckoning some time."

WILL MAKE IT KNOWN.

Agricultural Editors Impressed by the Northwest.

The party of agricultural editors who have been inspecting the territory along the line of the Northern Pacific during the last month returned to St. Paul Tuesday evening. That they have been delighted with the trip is evidenced by the following resolutions which they have sent to Charles S. Fee, general passenger agent: "Resolved, That to Charles S. Fee, general passenger agent, we are boundlessly indebted for planning our itinerary, so that we could see and study every desirable section, and for the courtesy and kindness he caused to be extended to us from the officers of the road at every point reached. By his care and foresight he made every mile of the journey an unceasing round of pleasure."

"Resolved, That in our various methods we will make known to our millions of readers the possibilities of the grand country we have visited, and the luxury of visiting them upon the best regulated railway upon the continent. "Resolved, That our president and secretary be instructed to present a copy of these resolutions to Mr. Fee, and from every member of the association, with the hope that all the things of this life may come to him all the days he lives upon the earth. "JOHN B. CONNOR, President. "DAVID WARD WOOD, Secretary."

PHARMACISTS' MEETING.

It Will Be the Largest and Best One Yet Held.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Minnesota Pharmaceutical association, to be held at the Lake Park hotel, Lake Minnetonka, June 11, 12 and 13, bids fair to be the largest and best yet held. A cordial invitation has been sent out by the able and popular secretary, C. T. Heller, of this city, to all members to be present, and arrangements have been made for reduced rates, etc., as usual. An especially interesting feature of the meeting will be the presence of Prof. Remington, of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, who delivers an address on the evening of Wednesday, June 12, before the association. No one stands higher or is better known amongst pharmacists than Prof. Remington, and every pharmacist in Minnesota who can do so should hear him. Prof. Remington's work on the United States dispensary since 1833 is well and most favorably known.

ADVENTISTS SETTLING DOWN TO HARD WORK IN THEIR CAMP.

TALKS ON LAWS OF HEALTH.

OUTLINE OF MISSIONARY AND EDUCATIONAL WORK OF THE SECT.

SPECIAL EFFORT FOR CHILDREN. Minnesota Conference Will Be Legally Incorporated—Routine of Camp.

After several days of cold, damp weather the inhabitants of the Adventist camp at Merriam Park knew how to appreciate sunshine and warmth, and gladness filled their hearts as they arose yesterday morning to behold the dawning of an almost perfect day. At 5:30 the usual devotional services were held in the pavilion, Scandinavian, German and youth's tents, and for an hour the air was full of songs of praise.

Breakfast, family devotions and children's meetings occupied the time of the campers until 9 o'clock, when the second meeting of the conference convened in the pavilion. The representation was largely increased, as numerous delegates arrived yesterday. One new church (Pine City) was admitted to the conference. The remainder of the hour was occupied in the discussion of the report of a committee appointed last year, to take steps toward the legal organization of the Minnesota S. D. A. Conference association.

At 10:30 Dr. Paulson continued his favorite theme, urging the necessity of conformity to the laws of health, and the blessings and advantages that result from it. Dr. Paulson is a representative of the Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarium, a benevolent and charitable institution, about half of the many hundreds of cases that are successfully treated every year being treated in the proceeds being used to increase the work and usefulness of the S. D. A. Medical, Missionary and benevolent association, under whose management the institution is conducted. Missionaries of all denominations are always made welcome and are treated free of charge. Branches of this institution have been established in various parts of the world, and in addition to these sanitariums, medical missions have been opened in various cities of this and other countries. There are two in Chicago, where the patients are daily fed and supplied with clothing. Free baths and luncheon are conducted in connection with each of these institutions, which are daily patronized by hundreds. A corps of trained nurses works in connection with the missions, seeking out the sick and suffering and ministering to their needs. A training school is constantly in operation and many of the youth of both sexes of this denomination are entering it to prepare themselves for medical missionary work.

Dr. Paulson expects to address a large number of young people in this work during his labors in the camp meetings in Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska and the Dakotas. A mighty work is being done by this small and unpopular sect in this mission to the needs of the people in the lower walks of life.

"The spirit and the bride, say, come! And let him that heareth, say, come! And let him that is athirst, come! And whosoever will, let him come and take the Water of Life, freely." These were the words of Elder Field's text at 3:30 p. m. The blessed privilege that is offered to all of partaking daily of the refreshing, life-giving Water of Life (symbol of the spirit of God) that flows continually from the throne of God was set forth in eloquent and impressive language, and the large congregation listened with deepest interest.

This camp meeting affords the people of the Twin Cities an excellent opportunity of getting a glimpse of the "tent life" of this peculiar little sect, who claim they are often misrepresented because of their "tent life." It is a permanent and prominent feature of their existence. One annual and several district camp meetings are held in each state, as well as in other countries, and their ministers carry all labor in tents, throughout the warm season. "Education" is a word that stands high and means much among the Adventists, as at many colleges, academies and schools testify. From the very beginning of their existence they have been active along educational lines. One of their first movements was the erection of a college at Battle Creek, Mich., which is still the foremost of their many schools. They now have large flourishing schools at Battle Creek, Mich.; College View (a suburb of Lincoln, Neb.); Headburg, Cal.; College Place (a suburb of Walla Walla, Wash.); Copenhagen, Denmark; Cape Town, South Africa; and Melbourne, Australia; academies at Mount Vernon, O.; Grayville, Tenn.; and South Lancaster, Mass. A large and flourishing industrial school is in operation at Keene, Tex. Besides all these, each conference has its own schools in operation three months of each year. There are also training schools in London, Eng., and Hamburg, Germany. Enterprises are begun in the West Indies and Bay Islands, New Zealand, and others of the South Sea islands. The prosperity and success of all these is phenomenal. The careful instruction includes careful mental, physical and spiritual training. Their diet is nearly or entirely vegetarian, and their dress, plain, neat, comfortable and healthful. "They shall be able and taught of God," is the motto that is inscribed over the door of each of their schools, and adhered to in their school work, and so the Bible, which they believe, "is able to make wise unto salvation; and to perfect and thoroughly furnish unto every good work," is their chief "text book." However, no branch of learning essential to a complete education is neglected.

At 4:30 yesterday afternoon Prof. Loughhead, president of Union college, addressed the campers on the importance of education, outlining the principles of the ticket office, 40 Robert St. (Hotel Ryan), and Union Depot.

Every detail has been perfected at the pavilion for the accommodation of supper parties, and the service this season is much finer and more satisfactory than ever before. The entire band has been re-engaged to give two concerts next Sunday afternoon and evening which promise to be of an unusually elaborate and attractive nature.

At the Commercial club yesterday afternoon a coterie of prominent St. Paul physicians discussed the location of the fourth hospital for the insane. It was said by one of the gentlemen that Secretary of State Berg is the principal factor in advocating the locating of the asylum at Princeton, Minn., about eight miles north of Minneapolis.

As is well known, every hospital in the state is under the management of a certain district only. This new institute is to be supplied from Ramsey, Hennepin, Washington, Anoka, Itasca, Charles, Aitkin, Lacs, Kanabec, St. Louis, Carlton, Lake, Grant and Cook counties. It is argued that Fridley would be the proper place because of its location on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways and because patients could be received there without a change of cars from the most northern of the above-mentioned counties. The entire Dakota territory is comprised of 16 counties, but scarcely populated. One objection raised against Fridley, however, is that the most populous territory is comprised of the counties of Washington, St. Louis, Ramsey, Hennepin, Anoka, Millie Lacs and Cook counties, and would not be tributary without a change of roads and cars. And again, the Great Northern Pacific is not a daily line, and the entire territory, the Northern Pacific only running through St. Louis, Ramsey, Hennepin, Anoka, Millie Lacs and Cook counties.

It is maintained by some that the St. Paul & Duluth road is apparently more favorably situated to drain the needs of the territory, and the new institution, it is argued, arises whether or not it would be advisable to locate the hospital on the southern part of the line, and the northern part of Ramsey county, near White Bear. It would be of greater benefit, it is asserted, not only to the three cities of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Stillwater—the distance to hospital from these cities being about equal—but also to the medical fraternity, as the faculty could be made up more advantageously from the cream of the profession in the state.
