SEVENTH DAY KEPT

OVER ONE HUNDRED CLASSES OF CHILDREN UNDER INSTRUCTION

AT ADVENTIST CAMP GROUND

EARLY MORNING SERVICE WELL ATTENDED AND MOST INTERESTING.

A SCORE OF MINISTERS TESTIFY

Regarding Their Experiences in the Pioneer Days of the Sect.

That the Adventists are deeply in earnest and thoroughly enjoy their peculiar religion, any one who attends services at the camp meeting now in session at Merriam Park must testify. This is especially evident in their devotional services held every morning at 5:30. Scores are on their feet at once, and all the time peering to religion, a verbal expression to their faith and zeal, there is no noise or excitement, everything being "done decently and in order." Even the youth and children are willing and ready to bear loving and cheerful testimony to the joys of their religious experience.

Promptly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning (the day they observe as the Sabbath) the campers assembled in the various tents for Sabbath school. The total attendance at the school was 872, divided into 119 classes, and the donations amounted to $72.50. There were represented three languages—English, German and Scandinavian—divided into senior, junior, intermediate, primary and kindergarten departments. The donations at present are being devoted to the establishment of a mission in Zamboni, in Africa. A large company of ministers, missionaries, doctors and nurses, are already laboring in various parts of "the dark continent," among them being Elder G. B. Tripp and wife and E. J. Harvey and wife. For "He that is born of God overcometh the world," a life of righteousness, for "Whosoever is born of God, sinneth not," a life of "love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance." But before this new life can be lived in man, "self must be crucified," "the old man of sin must die," then the "new birth takes place; the new life is begotten by the spirit of God, and he "grows in grace and in knowledge of the Lord Jesus," until he reaches "the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ," and stands "complete in him," a perfect man, "without spot and blemish," ready to be "presented faultless before His presence, with exceeding joy."

At 4 p. m. Elder Olsen again addressed the people in the pavilion. "The Work of the Ministry" was his subject, and the solemn and weighty responsibilities that rest upon the minister were clearly pointed out and defined. He believed that the minister may find in the life of the great Head of the Church a perfect and complete pattern and example for every detail of his life and labors. While the minister should, like his Lord and master, be humble and "meek and lowly in spirit," yet he should possess and manifest a true dignity that will command respect wherever he goes, inasmuch as he is an ambassador from the "court of heaven," a representative of the "King of Kings and Lord of Lords."

At the close of the sermon short remarks were made in turn by each of the twenty-five ministers of the conference who were present. Many very interesting experiences were related by the older ministers, pioneers of their work in Minnesota, who have grown gray in the Master's service. All expressed themselves as being full of faith, courage and zeal. This meeting was decidedly unique.

At the evening service Elder Victor Thompson, late of Indiana, addressed the people in the pavilion. His subject was "The Power of God."

as manifested in creation and redemption. Some of the errors and fallacies of modern geology, and "science, falsely so called," were exposed. The speaker believed that "the Word of God, was the heaven's made, and all the host of them by the breath of His mouth, for He spake, and it was done, He commanded and it stood fast." The meetings will continue, each forenoon and afternoon and evening, until next Tuesday, when the camp will break. The services today will be especially interesting.

AN ATTRACTIVE PROGRAMME

Is Arranged for Manager Kingsbury's Benefit Next Week.

The sale of seats for Manager Kingsbury's benefit will open at the box office on Thursday of next week. The programme is now well under way, and Mr. Neill, who has the matter in charge, promises the most attractive evening's entertainment ever offered as a testimonial to the memory of the late St. Paul, will be presented. "The Open Gate," C. Haddon Chambers' beautiful little play, which achieved such great success at the Lyceum theater in New York, is one of them. The principal parts will be taken by Mr. Neill, Kate Blanche, Mr. Maher and Annie Blanche. It admits of elaborate stage settings, and Mr. Neill promises to make it the finest of its kind ever seen in this city. A novel innovation in this connection will be the setting of the intricate stage hands, in full view of the audience. The second play will be a beautiful one-act, two desecrated Western life, entitled "Bully's Betrothal." The latter was produced for the first time in Denver several months ago, and scored an immense hit.

One of the principal features of the entire bill will be an eccentric monologue by Mr. Kent. It is given on a darkened stage and the recitation contains is materially heightened by the ingenious use of calcium light effects. Manager Scott, of the Metropolitan, and Manager Kilgus, have generously offered two or three of the best specialties at the Metropolitan that week. Franklin W. Lee, whose work as an entertainer is well known, will contribute ten minutes' fun to the bill. The programme in its entirety will be most attractive and ought to draw a big audience.

KILLING A SWINDLE

ATTORNEY GENERAL CHILDS INSTITUTES AN IMPORTANT ACTION.

IT'S A MILL CITY CONCERN.

AND OFFERED TO PAY $1,000 TO ITS DUPES AFTER FORTY YEARS.

ONLY TWO DOLLARS A MONTH

Was the Bait Held Out, and Numerous Gullible People Went Into the Net.

Attorney General Childs yesterday filed a complaint in the district court of this county, in which he declares that the Tontine Savings association, of Minneapolis, is an insolvent, swindling institution and asks that a receiver be appointed therefor to wind up its business. He further charges that it is a gambling scheme and he asks for a restraining order to prevent the officers from transacting any further business for the association.

The main office of the institution is in Chicago, but it has various branches, including the one in Minneapolis. His plan of operation is to induce persons to invest in bonds at the rate of $2 a month for forty years, at the end of which time it agrees to pay to each $1,000. To make it an object to invest these bonds are arranged in series, and according as money was realized, certain sets of bonds were to be paid, so the holders would not have to wait until the expiration of the forty years to get their money. It is this feature that makes it a gambling institution in a certain sense and caused the postal authorities to refuse to allow its mail matter to pass through the department.

It is claimed that there are outstanding 3,941 of the bonds issued by the association, making a liability of $7,882,000, while its assets are placed at only $60,000. It is claimed that the first bonds that were to be paid were bought up by the officers of the association for a trifle and then the officers drew the amount of the face from the funds of the association.

The association was formed by J. G. Talbot, S. W. Devore, R. A. Sweet, N. A. Sprong, I. M. Van Slyke and E. D. Zeisel. The present officers are Devore, president; Sweet, vice president; Sprong, secretary and treasurer, and W. H. Butler, actuary. Attorneys Davis, Kellogg & Severance are associated with the attorney general in the case.

One of the great safeguards surrounding our State Savings Bank is that no officer or trustee can directly or indirectly borrow the bank's money or be interested in its profits.
