MOVEMENT OF STEAMSHIPS. NEW YORK, June 14.—Arrived: Normanna, Hamburg; Island, Copenhagen. Manitoba is little, but, oh my!

"Better late than never" is said to be the motto of Mr. Debs.

It is better to win a game on a forfeit than not to win at all.—The St. Paul Team.

The craze is continental when even the Helena Independent remarks that this may be called the Biking Age.

When Merritt secured that judgment for nearly a million, Mr. Rockefeller's name fit Mr. Rockefeller's feelings.

A New Jersey man has just awakened after a sleep of thirty years. This ought to be a tip to his state to wake up.

Harry Hayward is keeping up his record as an objector. He now objects to being hanged on a second-hand scaffold.

A Brooklyn trolley company introduced a pleasant custom by decorating the grave of one of its victims on Memorial Day.

With the "six-year hoodoo" bucking against Forker, Ohio politics promise to regain this year some of their lost picturesqueness.

Every fast mail train out of St. Louis is a success, even as to passenger business. Why not try a few out of St. Paul and Minneapolis?

St. Louis pins her faith, so to speak, to a curiosity in the person of George W. McMillon, who can repeat the whole of the Bible word for word.

When it comes to record-breaking meanness Chicago can beat the world. A Garden City servant got angry at her mistress and shut her up in a folding bed.

Mr. Dwyer's Banquet finished seventh at Birmingham yesterday. This is not as bad a defeat as it might have been, as there were more than seven horses in the race.

Mr. Debs has at least introduced a novelty into the street vernacular. Young men who have not reached the gold cure stage are already saying, "Come and have a cucumber with me."

Elizabeth Cady Stanton says that "women are riding to suffrage on the bicycle." Mrs. Stanton has been riding a hobby in that direction for a long time, without making perceptible forward progress.

It is quite evident that W. W. Taylor is to occupy the parlor, first floor, at the Sioux Falls penitentiary. His sentence is to be two years, and the governor is to pardon him to save his citizenship. How lovely!

State Geologist Winchell should look well to it that he doesn't get burned in effigy in Redwood county. He says the gold fields of that thriving community consist of a twenty-foot hole, a windlass and two buckets.

Even the Democrats are questioning Mr. Whitney's veracity. Senator Smith, of New Jersey, says the Democratic leaders of New York and elsewhere regard Whitney as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president.

The Atlanta Constitution has reached the stage of sixteen-to-one dementia that it imagines it a convincing argument to call Hon. Josiah Patterson the "Hon. Josiah Sputteration." We doubt if this will convert even a Georgia "cracker."

TAYLOR TO GET OFF TO THE QUEEN OF THE ATLANTIC FROM THE QUEEN OF THE WEST

Taylor will then plead guilty, and Judge Gaffey has agreed to call a special term of court and sentence him to the penitentiary for two years. It is further agreed that before the expiration of the sentence the governor will pardon him out and thus save his citizenship.

It has been well understood that the company has been handicapped in carrying out its plans by the Eastern interests, but that trouble is now eliminated. The road is owned exclusively by Winona stockholders and is entirely free from bonded indebtedness. They appreciate that now is an opportune time for economical railroad construction, because of the low cost of material and abundance of labor seeking employment. Moreover, with the present equipment of rolling stock 50 or 100 miles of road could be operated.

Badgers Are Active.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Gov. Upham, of Wisconsin, and George E. Bishop, secretary of the state board of immigration, left Washington for New York this morning. Col. King remains to complete certain details in relation to the encampment of the regular troops with the Wisconsin National guard. It cannot be ascertained that Upham or Bishop were able to accomplish exactly what they came here for, respecting the swamp lands matter, in which Wisconsin and other Northwestern states are interested, but they will probably put in some good work in New York in the interest of immigration to the Badger state.

Wisconsin's Semi-Centennial.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., June 10.—The chamber of commerce at its meeting yesterday passed a resolution appointing a committee to organize the jubilee in 1838 to celebrate the semi-centennial of its admission to the Union. The other cities and the rest of the state will be asked to co-operate.

HARNESS MAKERS MANGLED.

FOUR KILLED AND MANY INJURED BY A Boiler Explosion. FALL RIVER, Mass., June 14.—By the explosion of the boiler in Henry J. Langley's loom, reed and harness factory, on Cony street, at 8:50 this morning, four persons were killed and two probably fatally hurt. The list of dead is as follows: ADELE DUEB, aged twenty years. LELLA HORTON, aged seventeen. ADOLPHE BELLEFEUILLE, forty-five years old. ROBERT MURRAY, aged twenty-one.

The seriously injured are: Thomas Barry, skull fractured and face and body badly burned; will undoubtedly die; Mattie Duroches, bruises and burns; fatally; William Russell, badly burned; Alice Tremblay, bruises and burns; Ida Le Page, bruises. There were twenty people in the building at the time of the accident. Four were burned beyond recognition and twelve escaped with hardly any injuries to speak of.

At exactly 8:25 o'clock the whole eastern section of the city was shaken as if by an earthquake. Five minutes later the ruins were in flames. Citizens assisted the fire department so effectively, however, that the fire was soon under control. The first body recovered was that of Lella Horton, the next Adelle Dube and the third Robert Murray. Terribly mangled and burned, they were deposited in Star Music hall, in charge of Medical Examiner Dolan. Later a fourth body, that of Bellefeuille, was discovered. Engineer Le Page was placed under arrest by order of Medical Examiner Dolan. He says the boiler was five years old and had not been inspected for a long time. He claims to have been near at hand when it exploded and cannot explain why it did so. The building was a three story affair, of wood, 100 feet long by 125 feet wide. Mr. Langley says the boiler had been inspected every year.

LANGEVIN IS SORRY.

He Hopes the Canadian Government Will Not Weaken.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 14.—There was no reference to the school question in the legislature today. Premier Greenway returned from Ottawa this evening, and a debate is anticipated on Monday. Archbishop Langevin was asked today for his opinion on Manitoba's reply to the remedial order. The following is his answer: "I am sorry for the local government's bad lot. It is rather strange that, after five years of public discussion, their memorial should blindly charge the Ottawa government with ignorance, and claim for themselves the monopoly of knowledge. I trust that the government and parliament of Canada will sustain the judgment of the privy council of England, and stand by the constitution of the country." A caucus of the opposition members will be held before Monday, when a plan of action will be decided upon in reference to the debate on the motion pertaining to the schools.

ALL IN SHIP SHAPE

CITIZENS' BALL COMES OFF IN A MANNER BEYOND CRITICISM.

FINANCIAL RESULTS O. K.

AND THE SOCIAL FEATURES IN ENTIRE HARMONY WITH ANTICIPATIONS.

DECORATIONS WERE SUPERB.

A Representative of International Navigation Company Honors the Occasion.

With all the intense public spirit of the burghers of the ancient "free" cities, the citizens of St. Paul combined last night to render memorable the great civic ball at the Metropolitan opera house. Nothing could be more admirable than the entire harmony which every one united their labor for the credit of the municipality. It is the defect of many similar important social functions that they fall into the hands of a clique, thus tending to belittle the entertainment and render it representative of a narrow circle. Fortunately such was not the fate of the civic ball. Like the general committee of forty to which it owed its eminent success, it brought forth the prominent of every class throughout the city. All the complicated details that have been so long incubating, at last developed, and nowhere was there aught of failure. The decorations, the music, the refreshments, were alike characterized by perfect taste.

THE FIRST CARRIAGES

began to arrive about 9 o'clock, and within an hour Sixth street was well-nigh impassable. The arrangements for caring for the vast throng were unexceptionable, yet still every doorway, every corridor, was taxed to the utmost. Upon all sides were seen the beauty and the manhood of the city. The immense stage was, of course, insufficient for the crowd, and it was fortunate that the space devoted to dancing was extended by including the entire arena of the parquette. As it was, there was not room for the dancers. Beginning with the first dance, the limitations of the space became manifest, and many couples were utterly unable to participate. Throughout the house the same crush prevailed. In the gentlemen's cloak rooms the over-worked checkmen and valets were almost dropping from fatigue. The impatient guests formed in double and even in triple rows, blocking the doorways and steps. Yet still came others. The roll of carriages did not cease, the last guest did not arrive, until after 11 o'clock. The foyer was a confused mass of evening dress suits and brilliant feminine costumes. All parts of the house were in much the same condition. The dress circle was never more magnificent, even upon a first night. The boxes were bowers of beauty. And above all, tier after tier of the balcony stretched upward and filled with a galaxy of fashion and of loveliness.

THE WEATHER

could scarcely have been more propitious. St. Paul has been blessed with such a superabundance of moisture the past few weeks that much apprehension was expressed during yesterday lest the rain might come again. However advantage-

ARRANGEMENTS COMMITTEE.

On the committee of arrangements were: Charles W. Gordon, William H. Patterson, Michael J. Boyle, Crawford Livingston, Almerie H. Fager, William C. Read, William N. Armstrong, John C. Parker, William P. Clough and Olin B. Lewis.

The committee of forty was made up of: W. E. Clough, chairman, and M. Auerbach, W. B. Bend, F. G. Brady, John Copeland, C. K. Davis, William Dawson, J. H. Geon, R. Finckel, W. J. Footner, T. C. Field, J. J. Hill, Charles E. Flaudrat, Richards Gordon, H. P. Hall, A. Kalmann, P. H. Kelly, J. W. Lusk, A. H. Lindke, D. W. Lawler, Robert Mannheim, Crawford Livingston, Geo. E. Mason, William R. Merriam, D. A. Monfort, Charles P. Noyes, J. J. Parker, Stanford Newel, Judge H. Nelson, E. W. Peet, Le. Reed, Alex. Ramsey, Mayor R. A. Smith, A. B. Stickney, J. E. Sargent, John A. Steen, George Squires, George Thompson, E. W. Winter, J. A. Winchell, Dr. C. A. Whiston.

Among the guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Flaudrat, Crawford Livingston, P. Clough, J. J. Parker, J. L. Lovering, R. A. Wheaton, Ambrose Tigue, C. B. Hersey, John Field, W. J. Mastman, W. Postlewait, Paul Zueher, H. L. Morse, Charles Schurmeler, F. B. Ross, Dams Kirby, H. Kelly, J. W. Andrus, H. C. James, J. S. Mackey, E. J. Darrach, W. J. Larkin, Stewart, O. S. Sperry, P. E. ous a plentiful deposit of dampness may be for things agricultural, a heavy down-pour would have by no means been welcomed by the committee on arrangements for the ball. But Jupiter was good-natured, and the evening, although rather warm, was otherwise unexceptionable. Yet the heat prevented the ladies from wearing, in many cases, the cumbersome, though magnificent, costumes appropriate to a winter function. In the place of these toilettes appeared such an infinite variety of dainty summer gowns such filmy laces, butterfly colors, and tender artistic effects that it seemed as if summer, after all, was the true and the only time for balls. The special attention of every guest as he entered from the foyer. It was a brilliant piece of ornament. One of the features which received the most praise was the service of refreshments. Too often this service is accompanied by confusion indescribable whenever the entertainment is as vast as that of last night. Ept, though every delicacy obtainable and appropriate was to be had, not a guest was rendered impatient. Beginning with the promenade concert at half-past 8, the musical programme was a source of true delight. The great orchestra, located, as it was, in the gallery, was heard to decided advantage, nor were the most delicate tones blurred by the proximity of the musicians to the extreme heights of the theater.

When the ball was at its height, just before midnight, the scene was most brilliant. The hundreds of dancers upon the broad parquet and stage, the picturesque groups in the various boxes and the great amphitheater crowded with gay costumes, made an ensemble without a rival in the social recollections of St. Paul.

Not least of all, the ball was, of course, a financial success, and a number of thousands will go to swell the fund for purchasing the finest library ever carried by a trans-Atlantic steamer.

THE PATRONESSES.

The ladies who acted as patronesses of the ball were: Mesdames Maurice Auerbach, T. C. Borup, William B. Bend, C. W. Bunn, John Copeland, E. C. Bent, W. B. Hendrick, Gen. Brooke, Furness J. D.
