LYLA KAVENAUUGH.
A Young American Singer Who Has Scored a Great Hit in Europe.

For several years England and France have been deluged with country with actors of more or less ability. Many of these people have been warmly and all have been courteously received, despite the fact that with perhaps a single exception no American player has won emphatic success on the "other side" for more than two decades. Mary Anderson was the fortunate one. Booth and Jefferson could have done very much better at home. Lawrence Barrett's London experience almost broke his heart, while Richard Mansfield is still telling of how shabbily he was treated over there. Therefore when an American without reputation at home goes abroad and wins fame it is all the more gratifying. And that is what Lyra Kavenaugh has done.

Miss Kavenaugh is a Philadelphia girl of good family who was well educated and gently reared. She became a magnificent performer on the piano and several other instruments, and her voice received a particular attention. Then it was discovered that she was possessed of a phenomenal vocal organ, and she was sent to New York and put herself in charge of the famous instructors, Mme. Rodolphe and Signor Bellini.

SPECTACULAR MAGIC.

Frederick Bancroft to Make a Starring Tour.

The new spectacular production of magic which Frederick Bancroft has designed for his starting tour next season is nearly finished. Two special cars are necessary to carry the elaborate scenery and properties. Mr. Bancroft has already engaged the members of his company, and his manager, Clarence Fleming, has signed contracts for engagements at the leading theaters throughout the country. The magician's season will open in the East, but he is booked for an engagement here at the Metropolitan.

The entertainment will be one of the most novelties of the season, as well as one of the most costly productions on the road.

Lauren Pease.

The vignette portrait of the Globe today is that of Lauren Pease, a well known citizen of Minnesota. Mr. Pease was at one time a member of the Minnesota legislature, and is at present a resident of Fairbault. He is a tenor singer of more than ordinary talent, and has been heard not only in this city, but in many of the larger towns of the state, where he has earned a splendid record. He studied music at Northfield, and is a nephew of Hon. Hudson Wilson, a prominent citizen of Fairbault.

Potpourri.

Sgt. Tamagno, the famous tenor, began his operatic career as a chorus singer when but eighteen years of age. There will be twenty-four comic opera companies in the field the coming season.

"Modio," the latest Biblical oratory, by Max Bruch, has been selected for performance at the first day of the jubilee to be held in Berlin the coming spring, in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Royal Academy of Arts in that city.

Johnston and Arthur have engaged Archibald Rivalde, a superb violinist, for a series of fifty concerts in this country.

At the recent performance of Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" at Crystal Palace, London, 3,000 people were crowded into the hall. Mr. Mann played the piano, and the orchestra numbered 300 men.

Fortune is the title of a new spectacular musical production about to be given to the public at Boston. It is the work of John Stromberg, an American.

The four-act opera by Philip Ruffer, entitled "Iago," and based on the novel of the same name, by Gustave Flaubert, has been selected for performance at the Royal opera at Berlin.

Jakobowski has composed a new opera entitled "Fox Wolfington." H. Saville Clark wrote the libretto, based upon the novel of that name, by Charles Reid.

"La Sagra di Valpurga" is the latest opera of the Czech style, now in production by Sgt. Brunetto, and is said to possess much merit and grandeur of instrumentation.

In Paris the first novelty of the winter will be the opera "Compagnie de Saint-Saens." It was at first named "Brumhilde," but is now called "Frederic," the subject being the life of the composer.

The death of the late Smyth Rockstro at the age of seventy-two is chronicled at London. Mr. Rockstro wrote the "Blossoms of the Bower," and was a pupil of Leipzig of Mendelssohn, and for many years president of the Royal College of Music.

Miss Calve is mentioned in foreign newspapers as having grown remarkably thin and as bearing indications of recent severe illness. Her success and her reputation is chronicled as equal to that of Mme. Patti.

Stavenhagen has withdrawn from Welmar voluntarily because of the opera house squabble at the opera house, and taken up his residence in Munich. Von Bronsart has tendered his resignation of his post as director of the "Theater of Ill Health." Meanwhile, Albert, who a few days ago purposed returning to Scotland, will remain, perhaps indefinitely.

Local Notations.

Walter Guernsey Reynolds, St. Paul's bright and popular humorist, will leave this week for a month's absence, during which time he will visit friends.

We desire to acknowledge the receipt from the press of Dyer Bros. of Urah; F. I. very pretty, with waltz refrain, and bound to be a popular hit.

The young singer found at the end of her period of preparation that her work had only just begun. It was next to impossible to get an engagement, and she was willing to accept, and Miss Kavenaugh decided to go to Europe to look for work. She went to Paris and signed a contract soon after her arrival. Before its expiration, the great London impresario, heard her and engaged her for a long term in the British capital, to be followed by a season in Berlin. Miss Kavenaugh's work has evoked genuine enthusiasm, and she is such a strikingly handsome woman that her portrait has been published by nearly every illustrated paper in France and England.

WILL OPEN AUG. 29.

Regular Season at the Metropolitan Begins Then--Re-decorating the Theater.

The Metropolitan opera house is closed for the short space of three weeks, during which time the regular entrance to the theater is being entirely re-decorated, and it is expected that when the house is reopened, the Metropolitan will be one of the most sumptuous entrances possessed by any theater in America.

The interior of the theater will be entirely renovated for the opening of the next regular season, which occurs on Thursday evening, Aug. 29. Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead" will be the attraction for the first three days, to be followed in rapid succession by the best attractions in this country. Manager Scott leaves for the East tonight, and the entire list of attractions to be offered at this theater this season.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES.

"The City," the new musical farce, which Davis and Keogh produce this season, is an extravagant travesty on real estate speculations, with a plot, which admits of startling and impossible events, that put Munchausen and Quixote in the shade and rival the doings of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp; for such trifles as stealing a whole town and making a cyclone drop it in a desired spot, several miles away, do not embarrass its characters. Specialties, spectacular effects and all the adjuncts attend the production.

The new romantic drama, "Mexico," by Edwin Milton Royle, is founded on the war between Mexico and the United States, and recites the exciting and glorious achievements of our heroes in that struggle. Texas, the immediate cause of the war, declared its independence in 1835, and in March of that year the famous defense of the Alamo occurred at San Antonio. Gen. Santa Anna marched into Texas, with 10,000 of his choicest troops, and immediately besieged the Alamo, where Col. Travis, with 250 men, had shut themselves up. They fought until only one man was left, Santa Anna, enraged at the loss of 1,000 troops, ordered the single prisoner to be shot, and the bodies of the garrison to be burned. When these heroes saw all was lost, they sang "Home, Sweet Home" until only the one man was left.

"On the Bowery" is coming to this city shortly. As the whole world knows, this play is a comedy in the old parts of New York, especially in that part of New York which has been called "The Bowery" for a long time. Mr. Brodie himself has much to do with the play, both dramatic and comic, and the play is a New York life in itself. Events follow a rapid course, and the play is a dramatic and comic, and the play is a New York life in itself.

The meeting of the Western line of the Western Lines Passenger Association, will succeed in its object. The general passenger agents feel that matters have gone so far that it will require a meeting of the general managers of all the lines to untangle the snarl. In reality the object of the call is to make the general managers understand that the passenger affairs of the Western roads are in a desperate condition, and not far from the conditions that prevail at actual rate wars, and that the passenger agents are not heavy enough to straighten matters out.

J. Pierpont Morgan may soon be called upon to interfere once more with the Eastern roads. They are cutting rates again on nearly all kinds of freight, and conditions are once more looking bad for the tariff sheet. The cutting is not done by any one particular line, but all of the roads seem to have a hand in the thing. The presidents' agreement has been violated with greater frequency of late than it has been observed. The general lack of demand for grain at the Eastern seaports is said to be the main cause for the demoralization in rates. Some of the roads think that they are

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—No hope is entertained that the general meeting of the Western lines set for next Thursday, to consider the reorganization of the Western Lines Passenger Association, will succeed in its object. The general passenger agents feel that matters have gone so far that it will require a meeting of the general managers of all the lines to untangle the snarl. CATHEDRAL PARISH EXCURSION.

The people of the cathedral parish have been invited to an excursion last evening on the Flora Clark and barge. Three hundred were in the excursion, and the excursion was under the auspices of the ladies of the parish. The party returned about midnight.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Hubbell, of Kansas City, who have been on a visit to Mrs. Hubbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Teasdale, of the Albion, have returned to their home in Kansas City. Mr. Hubbell will return later.

Lucille and Emily Mahan, of 22 Virginia avenue, returned from their vacation at Lake Minnetonka.

Frank Brickmeier, the genial and jolly agent for G. H. Mumm, visited the Globe last evening, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the splendid equipment of the Globe's new printing press, and favorably with New York office. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Brickmeier, and his daughter, Mrs. Hercules Kittson, of St. Paul. Mr. Brickmeier said the machines designed for the Globe are the best of the kind, and that the new press is an opening of several bottles of Mumm's extra dry.

CORNER STONE WAS A FAILURE.

A Little Difference Develops in a Wadena Church Affair.

WADENA, Minn., Aug. 10.—The Episcopal authorities in Minnesota are engaged in an official investigation of the circumstances leading to the laying of the corner stone of the new St. Helen's Episcopal church here, on July 19. The investigation is being conducted by the bishop of the Diocese of Minnesota, and the result of the investigation will be reported to the bishop of the Diocese of Minnesota.

The bishop of the Diocese of Minnesota is said to be highly displeased with the result of the investigation, and that he will be carrying out either by the bishop of the Diocese of Minnesota, or by the bishop of the Diocese of Minnesota.

Bishop Whipple was notified of what had occurred and he at once decided to lay the corner stone of the church, and that with that end in view, he ordered that nothing should be done until the investigation was completed. In the meantime, he is gathering evidence in regard to the affair, which will be the subject of a report to be presented to an ecclesiastical court to be summoned for that purpose. The report of course, will be heard, and his inexperience and ardor will probably lead in mitigation of his charges.

Strong Effort to Be Made to Stiffen the Rates.

Now that the greater amount of tourist business of this season is over efforts are to be made to readjust the rates, especially east-bound. All of the railroads realize that something has to be done to secure a more stable order of things. Chairman Caldwell has sent out a letter to all the association roads, in which he urges them to take due notice of the importance of the meeting of the lines called for next Thursday in Chicago. "If rates are to be maintained," says the chairman, "then we must make some progress in this meeting."

This sounds very well and the lines may get together. The bulk of this summer's business is over. The rates in tourist seasons are usually pretty well maintained in this territory. But if the Soo line stands from under and concludes to keep out, as it has in the past, then all the meetings at Chicago will go for naught.
