

PLAYED ON A HILL

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE WITNESSED THE BALL GAME AT THE FAIR.

ST. PAUL BEATS DETROIT.

ONE OF THE VISITORS' PITCHERS KNOCKED OUT OF THE BOX.

MINNEAPOLIS WON A GAME ALSO

Putting Up a Very Good Quality of the National Sport.

Table with 4 columns: Played, Won, Lost, P.C. for various teams like Indianapolis, St. Paul, etc.

Ten thousand people saw the Saints from the Tigers at the fair grounds yesterday in a game that was remarkably pretty considering that the teams were struggling on a stretch of undulating prairie and precipitous bluff.

It was in the eighth inning that the Saints "played horse" with two of Detroit's twirlers, knocking Whitehill out of the box in the first inning, nailing the gentleman for a single and two triples. It was so evident that the Saints were going to murder him that Raymond substituted Fifeled in the second, but the Saints went right on lamming out base hits till they run the total up to seventeen. Eight out of their ten runs were earned. They scored another in the ninth, but the game was called by Detroit got her half, and the Saints' half therefore didn't count.

The Tigers could do little with Mullane. He pitched a handsome game, and held them down to nine hits. A triple, two singles, two bases on balls, a fumble and a home run were the only things that the seven runs made by the Tigers in the first inning. They made them after two men were out. The third man would have gone, too, had it not been that Camp misjudged a foul fly, which struck second base and fell in the wind. The wind was blowing hard at the time, and the error of judgment was perhaps justifiable. One of the bad features of the game was the disgusting kicking of Raymond, of Detroit, who became very abusive of Cantillon and enjoyed a neat fine. The game follows in detail:

GAME IN DETAIL.

O'Rourke led off with a single to right and Irwin followed with a clean three-bagger to left. George sacrificed and scored Charlie, and an instant later Burns lined out a beautiful hit to left for three bases, scoring on Pickett's sacrifice. When he crossed the plate Burns lifted a magnificent homer from his hat and thus explained that clean hit. Camp flew out to right and retired the side. Deleahanty started away with a foul to right, which the latter ate up with a relish. Dungan flew out to George, who made a neat running catch. Pop McCauley struck first on Mullane's sacrifice. Boyle died at first, and Deleahanty followed suit concluded the inning for the Saints. For the Tigers Dungan went to first on balls and took second on a passed ball. Deleahanty fanned out and Gillen died at first. Twineham struck out and Boyle nailed Dungan when he started off to steal.

MILLERS GOT A SCORE.

Hottentots Took the Lead, but Failed to Keep It.

Minneapolis, 16; Terre Haute, 13. Goar, the pale-faced phenomenon who has been bought by Pittsburgh, pitched the game, striking out fourteen men, and ought to have won his game, but when the Hottentots had pounded the ball and filled the bases, Hartman's swing, a double, and then the side was done. Blackburn pitched an even game, and opportunity hitting by the locals being him out. The game was the opening feature of the great International Newspaper day at Hamilton, with which the state fair closed in a blaze of glory.

Lally and Verden scored in the first inning. Blackburn filled the bases with Hottentots and then proceeded to strike out the next three men, one, two, three, either gave the Hottentots a total of 12. Nops flew out, but the strangers had an almost hopeless chance.

Kuehne, however, secured a base on balls. Wilson hit safely and Blackburn came in all the game. Irwin was hit for two bases each and the next two were singles. Gallagher muffed another long fly and Minneapolis laid out the lead and taken another. Pop-up error.

Millers scored one in the eighth and another in the ninth, and the game was over.

and hit sharply past Irwin for a base, but did a second on Dungan's hit to Mullane. McCauley got in a double to center and Twineham quit at first. Boyle went out on strikes in the beginning of the fifth and O'Rourke quit at first on a grounder to short. Irwin ended operations by flying out to Campau. Boyd was first up for the Detroit and Tony rapped him again, this time on the right mitt. Boyd didn't get his base, though, because he was hit below the elbow. He went to first on balls and took second on a passed ball, going home on Campau's single past second. Gillen went out at first by O'Rourke and Fifeled ran out of Irwin. Deleahanty ended it by going out at first.

SIXTH OPENED WELL.

Billy George opened the sixth with a single to short center and Burns fanned out. Pickett hit to Dungan, who seemed to get a bound, but claimed that he caught it. Cantillon didn't think so and Pickett stood on first. Camp got in a good double to right and scored. George, Pickett and laying long enough to throw to center at the plate. Kraus scored Camp on a neat single to right. Mullane got on on balls. Boyle swiped a hot single past the pitcher.

Kraus and sending Mullane to third, meanwhile going on to second himself. O'Rourke went to first on balls and Irwin was called on to save the game with two men out. He was equal to the emergency, hitting for a double, scoring Kraus and Boyle, O'Rourke trying while trying to steal third. The result tied the score.

Dungan opened the inning for Detroit by flying out to Mullane, who made a beautiful catch. He then went out an instant later on a fly to George. Gillen quit at first, hitting to O'Rourke, who distinguished himself by a beautiful running out to second.

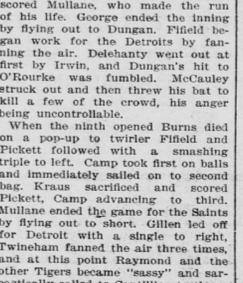

Billy George inaugurated the seventh by flying out to Campau, Burns following with a double to left. He scored when Pickett lined out to center in the same territory and the crowd was tickled. Camp hit a single to center and Pickett was again nailed at the home plate by a hand from Irwin sent to third. Kraus struck out and ended the trouble. Twineham, for the Tigers, fell a victim to O'Rourke's hot catch. He then sent a single to right center, Campau fanned the atmosphere and Gillen died at first. Kraus sacrificed and Pickett, Camp advancing to third. Mullane ended the game for the Saints by flying out to short. Gillen led off for Detroit with a single to right. Twineham fanned the air three times, and at this point Raymond and the other Tigers became "sassy" and sarcastically called the attention of the crowd up the game. He took them at their word and the game was off. The ninth therefore didn't count for St. Paul, and the game was called by Detroit got her half, and the Saints' half therefore didn't count.

WHICH TAKES SECOND?

A Hot Fight on Between the Apostles and Knaves.

The Western league season for 1895 ends one week from today. The contest for the pennant is over, Indianapolis having already won it. It is true, of course, that if both St. Paul and Indianapolis should play all of the 126 games scheduled, and St. Paul should win all and Indianapolis should lose all, there would be a tie for first place, but the Hoosiers have a game to play with Terre Haute which they will not be able to work in, so that, under the most favorable conditions, Indianapolis has won by half a game already. The two teams are even on the point of protested games. Indianapolis may lose one which it claims from Minneapolis on a forfeit, and St. Paul may lose one in which Phyle pitched at Kansas City. With these two games thrown out, however, St. Paul would have a better chance for the pennant than indicated above, but the Hoosiers have been playing football, the fight resolves itself into one for place. There is a hot contest on between St. Paul and Kansas City for second position. St. Paul now has it by 16 points, two games in the past games to play, however, Kansas City has slightly the best of it, as the Kaws have five games with Terre Haute, three with Detroit and one with Grand Rapids, while St. Paul's seven games are three with Indianapolis, three with Grand Rapids and one with Terre Haute. With fair weather this week St. Paul ought to win out. Minneapolis is safe in fourth place, with four games left to play with Indianapolis, three with Grand Rapids and one with Detroit. Detroit doubts fifth place, but will not doubt surrender to Milwaukee this week. Terre Haute's week has anchored it in seventh place. Financially, the season has been a very successful one, the list of two teams at the foot of the record to date follows:

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 14.

The Champions knocked Kennedy out of the fourth inning and Gumbert finished the game, which was a pretty heavy hitting. A foul tip from the eighth knocked Dumbudly, but he recovered and pluckily struck the game out. Dicky Bell broke into masculine and feminine "rooting" on the grounds and the result of his resound with his horns and yell of triumph. Attendance, 5,500. Score: Baltimore, 10; Louisville, 1.

COLTS TOOK IT IN THE FIRST.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 14.—The Colts won today's game in the first inning, making seven singles off McCauley. They then together with Wilson on balls and a couple of dumb plays, gave Chicago nine runs. Darkness stopped the game at the end of the seventh inning. Score: Louisville, 10; Chicago, 2.

ONE-LOVE WINS THE EASTERN HANDICAP ON SHEEPSHEAD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The chief attraction of the last day's racing at Sheepshead Bay was the great Eastern Handicap for two-year-olds, on which there was a good deal of betting. Several were heavily played, although Margrave went to the post a favorite. The flag fell to a good start, and after twenty minutes' racing, Margrave was the first to show. He ran well and true to the last, but One-Love was too much for him in the last eighth, when she rushed ahead of Applegate, who dropped away back from second, and then for a further distance she was staying in, in which the filly got the verdict by a head. Summary: First race, mile-Sarasoga, 115 (Farley), 6 to 1, win; Sir Excelsa, 119

SCRAPS OF SPORT.

Beginning tomorrow night young Harrison and T. Foley will play a four-night billiard match at the walk hall, in which Harrison will endeavor to make 1,200 to Tom's 500. The game matches them very nicely, as in recent games of 30 to 15, Harrison's match has been slighted in the one game he will in all likelihood win.

Harrison's playing since he has been in St. Paul has attracted much attention.

A lawyer in Australia was defending a young man whose record was up to Mattlar jail, where his record, however, the lawyer proceeded to draw a narrow picture of two gray-haired parents in England looking anxiously for the return of their prodigal son. He said: "I have seen your father and he asked: 'Had they the hearts to deprive this old couple of this happiness?' The lawyer, however, explained the prisoner's guilt. Before passing judgment the judge called for the prisoner's jail record, after examining which he blandly remarked that "the father and mother were previous victims against him, but he was glad to say that the learned counsel's elo-
