Wheat Held Up Corn for a While, but It Turned Weak and Closed Lower.

CHICAGO, Sept. 39.—Wheat bobbed up and down with unusual energy and frequency today finished ½c higher for December. Dry weather abroad and higher cables were the builtsh influence. May corn lost ½c, May oats ¾c and provisions closed slightly lower. Wheat was nervous and irregular, with a fair degree of activity. Early in the session the price was fully ½c higher than it closed Saturday, then turned weak and sold off fully ½c, but recovered later. The news operated both for and against the price, but the leading influence was local sentiment. Cables were strong and higher. The fact that dry weather continued throughout Europe, retarding the fail seeding, was thought by many to have been responsible for part of the advance there. At the start some of the belated shorts were covering and this helped the early advance. But the deliveries in the Northwest were again heavy—1,630 cars, against 1,651 a year ago. The short interest had been pretty well estimated by the active buying during the last few days and there was less demand, while many longs seemed disposed to liquidate. The rumor that Baldwin and Farnum's big long line had been thrown overboard was calculated to weaken the confidence of other holders, although a good many did not believe the report. The world's shipments last week proved rather bullish, being only 6,728,000 bu, against 7,064,000 bu the week before and $00,000 bu less than consumptive requirements. Thoman's crop report makes the crop of wheat 453,000 bu, and this probably helped the development of the bearish feeling.

It was the impression for a time that the visible would show over 2,000,000 bu licrease. Later, however, when it was found that the highest shown by wheat at the same time, but later it was comparatively weak. September and October deliveries sold at 66c on a one million decrease in the English visible, December closed at 63½c.

Corn opened firm, under the influence of bullishness shown by wheat at the same time, but later it was comparatively weak. September and October deliver

The feature of the speculative trade in provisions was the searcity of offerings of October ribs, in the face of a good demand Armour & Co, were reported to have bid for 1,000,000 lbs, but could find no selling in such sized lots. October pork was likewise in larger quantities than were for sale at Saturday rates, and had to be bid up from $8.40 to $8.47%, and closed at $8.42%c, as against $8.35 on Saturday. January had a little spurt at the start, but dropped in the end to 2%c below the Saturday closing price. October lard is 2%c higher for the day, and January made a similar gain. October ribs closed at an advance of 20c, and January without change. Heavy Offerings Cause Weakness In Wheat.

The high point at which wheat closed Saturday, after a continuous advance of nearly 5c, brought out a good deal of long wheat yesterday morning resulting in nearly all the trading yesterday being done at a lower price than Saturday's closing quotation.

Buyers were on hand for all offerings of spot wheat on the basis of December price for No. 1 northern. Offerings were comparatively small, a large part of the arrivals being applied on sales previously made to arriva. No. 2 northern was in liberal supply and went at about 2c under No. 1 northern, although much of the best of it went at 1½c under. Rejected wheat was in the usually large supply and with a fair demand prices were well sustained, although not partaking, in the fullest degree, of the advance in No. 1 northern. Default in Interest Has a Bad Effect on Its Securities-Bonds Quiet.

almost entirely by the professional dealers. The movement of prices was less erratic, however, and the net results of operations were not material. The opening was dull and irregular, with the initial changes slight. A drooping tendency soon developed and losses extending to 2 per cent were recorded, the last in Distilling. To-bacco dropped 1%. Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred, 1%; New Jersey Central and Missouri Pacific, 1%; Chicago Gas and Louisville & Nashville, 1¼; Manhattan, 1½, and 1 per cent in Colorado Fuel, Reading, Southern preferred and Northwest.

Reading suffered from realizations and Chicago Gas on rumors from the West of fresh hostile legal measures by the municipal authorities of Chicago. The movement in Distilling apparently derived most of its origin also in Chicago, although some buying on the decline was ascribed to New York insiders. Rubber displayed pronounced strength in the face of the general heaviness and sold up 1 per cent, one-half of the gain, however, being lost subsequently. In the specialties New York, New Haven & Hartford attracted comment by an advance of 4 per cent, and Pittsburg, C., C. & St. L. receded 2 and raillied 1 per cent. The pressure to sell was exhausted around 1:30 and in the ensuing dealings fractional recoveries from the low figures-were generally noted, and in the cases of Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred, Distilling and Missouri Pacific advances of 1 per cent courred. In the final dealings Sugar was under pressure and yielded to 107%, against 107%, the earlier high figure.

There was very little in the way of news having important general bearing on the market. The reported impending default tomorrow on the interest for the last six months on Oregon Improvement Consolidated 5 per cent bonds had an unfavorable effect on the securities of the company. The bonds declined 2 per cent to 36 and the stock was bid down to 3, against 5 bid at the close on Saturday. The coalers, as a group, were not especially affected by the advances in coal prices taking effect in the last days, as they mannested a drooping tendency. The market closed dull and steady.

Bonds were quiet and in the main lower. Oregon Improvement consol 5s and Atchison, Colorado & Pacific 1sts lost 2 per cent; Atlantic & Pacific 4s, 1½, and Mobile & Ohio new 6s, St. Louis & San Francisco 2ds, class 1A4, and Cordage first trust receipts, 1 per cent. Advances were established of 3 per cent in Long Dock 6s, 2% in General Electric debentures 5s, 1¾ in .Ca. C., C. & I. consols, and 1 in St. Louis & San Francisco trust 5s. The sales were $1,355,000.
