

PARADIS IS MUM

WHEN ASKED A CERTAIN QUESTION BY THE GRAND JURY.

AN APPEAL TO COURT.

JUDGE KELLY MODIFIES THE QUESTION AND SAYS HE MUST ANSWER.

THE EDITOR OF THE MIDWAY

Given Till Today to Make Up His Mind What He Will Do About It.

Paradis, editor of the Midway News, created some excitement by the grand jury and Judge Kelly's court yesterday by his refusal to answer a question that was put to him in connection with the investigation of the Midway district. Paradis was called as a witness before the grand jury to give information he was supposed to have in his possession. Just what questions were asked him is, of course, a matter of secrecy, as none of the proceedings of the grand jury are made public. But finally a question was asked which he refused to answer. The grand jury reported the matter to Judge Kelly, who ordered that the question be modified. This was done, and Paradis still refused to answer.

ARRESTED IN DENVER.

Richard S. Haynes, now down after awhile. Northwestern Manager Joyce, of the National Surety company, received a telegram yesterday afternoon saying that Richard Sydney Haynes was arrested Thursday in Denver, and will leave that city in custody of Charles E. Linton, inspector for the National Surety of Kansas City, for St. Paul. The prisoner and his wife have been released on considerable territory since the disappearance of Haynes from the little station of Kindred, N. D., on Nov. 6. From Oct. 23 to Nov. 6, Haynes was in the employ of the Western Express company, the Northern Pacific Railway company and operator for the Western Union Telegraph company in Kindred.

DEAD GIRL'S SISTER IN THE JOHNSON TRIAL.

Just as Judge Egan was about to order an adjournment of court in the trial of Dr. Johnson last evening, Deputy Clerk Sundberg glanced in the direction of Lillie Walton, the sister of the dead girl, and noticed something was the matter. She was thrown back in her seat and looked as though she had fainted right out in death. Mr. Sundberg made a motion for adjournment to it, but the next second the woman dropped over in a faint. Dr. Pinnell and other physicians present went to her assistance, and she was revived so that she was able to leave the court room, supported on the arm of her aged mother.

TWO ESTATES SETTLED.

Judge Willrich has filed the final decrees. In the probate court, Judge Willrich, in the probate court, has just filed decrees for the final distribution and settling up of two estates. The first is the estate of John Schaffbill, of which Henry Schaffbill is administrator. The court disallows $38.65 of the amount with which the administrator has credited himself, and credits to the estate the balance of $1,484.11 to be distributed.

MUNICIPAL COURT GRIND.

Henry Crable, John Kimmick and Others are Continued. In the municipal court yesterday the case of Henry Crable was charged with appropriating two suits of clothing when he left the employ of H. C. Burbank & Co., was continued until Dec. 6. Charles Fitch was discharged. It was alleged that he had stolen a ring some weeks ago from a certain woman, who failed to appear against him. M. and Jacob Levinsky, the third street commission men, said to have assaulted a customer, were discharged. So far as any assault was developed in the testimony, the customer appeared chiefly responsible.

Inspector Sutton's Case.

Davis, Kellogg & Severance have filed with the clerk of the supreme court the respondent's brief in the case of the State of Minnesota vs. John B. Sutton, the state boiler inspector. Attorney General Childs filed his brief some time ago. The case is on the supreme court calendar, for Dec. 3.

Mille Titus' Appeal.

Supt. Pendegast will this morning hear the appeal of Mille Titus, from the decision of the county superintendent of Lyon county, refusing to grant certificates to teach. The superintendent claims that Miss Titus failed entirely to pass the examination, while Miss Titus claims that her markings were too strict. Supt. McIntosh will be present at the hearing.

Uglier the Better.

Prof. Gleason, the horse trainer, delights in vicious animals. Prof. Oscar Gleason, the horse trainer, is a man whose age six times his height, and whose eyes are as big as his hands. He advances a queer theory to account for this: "You will find it hard to believe," he says, "but fifteen years ago I looked as old as I do today. I had been giving public exhibitions three years before, and I have found that the continuous training has the effect of keeping the body and mind in excellent condition."

A Notable Trademark Decision.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 28.—Special Judge Romano Bunn, U. S. Circuit Judge for the Western District of Wisconsin, has decided for defendants in the case of the Sterling Remedy Co., proprietors of "No-to-Bac," against the Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., proprietors of "Baco-Curo." The latter, brought by the former April 3rd last, asking $20,000 damages and an injunction restraining defendant from using the name "Baco-Curo" in advertising the same and from using boxes, racks, etc., which it was claimed, were infringements upon those used by "No-to-Bac." The case was heard in order to allow the grand jury to look into the accusation, the case was continued until Dec. 4.

Mr. Ehrmanntrud's Opinion of Some Accrued Interest.

At the meeting of the joint city and court house commission last evening, a letter from the St. Paul Gas Company, which contains a demand for $182.28 interest on the bills hung up by Comptroller McCurdy until he was ordered by the courts to audit them, was read. Mr. Ehrmanntrud, in opposing to paying the claim, not because he did not think the gas company was entitled to payment, but because he thought McCurdy was not to be paid for his services. The comptroller had seen fit to make a fight in the courts, and he got locked, and it was always the rule for the man who got locked in the courts to pay for his experience.

J. S. Simonton Opposes the White Bear Improvement. An injunction suit was begun in the district court by James S. Simonton, of White Bear, to restrain the Ramsey county commissioners and the commissioners appointed to report on the White Bear boulevard, from entering upon certain lands for the purpose of going ahead with the work of constructing the proposed boulevard. Simonton is not a property owner in the White Bear section, but his brother, Thomas D. Simonton, who owns a tract valued at $40,000 on the lake front. He alleges that the property it is proposed to condemn for this boulevard is valued at $20,000. It is further urged that it is not proposed to construct the boulevard clear around the lake, but only some four miles along this shore. It is also claimed that the act of the legislature authorizing the construction of the road is special legislation, and is therefore contrary to the constitutional amendment prohibiting the enactment of legislation. The commissioners appointed to report on the boulevard are Ambrose P. Wright, Charles A. Parker and William R. Saeche. They will report in the district court only a few days ago.
