THE CARNIVAL COMMITTEE ON GROUNDS FAVOR A SPOT NEAR AURORA PARK.

IT MAY BE CHOSEN YET.

SINCE CAPITOL HILL HAS BEEN FOUND UNFIT FOR THE OCCASION.

RAISING THE FINANCES.

The Needed Amount Can Be Secured—Emergency Meeting of Directors Today.

The carnival committee on grounds has put in a great many hours looking for a new site since examination proved the capitol grounds unfit for carnival purposes in their present condition.

The carnival directors desire, if possible, to combine what may be called their permanent attractions in one location. The block referred to being located on the Interurban line, would be convenient for citizens of Minneapolis as well as of St. Paul.

At the emergency meeting of carnival directors to be held today at 1 o'clock the committee on grounds will report, and it is expected that action on their recommendations will be prompt and decisive.

Speaking of this, Assistant Secretary Tyler said last night: "We have not spent our money in vain. We have full attendance. Every selecting committee which has reported makes it plain that the needed amount of money can be raised. Some of the committees have been a trifle slow in getting to work, and one of the main objects of tomorrow's meeting is to urge them to early action."

THE PARK ESTIMATE.

Interview With President Wheelock, of the Park Board.

The comptroller's estimates of expenditures for the coming year are being studied diligently by the taxpayers of St. Paul.

J. A. Wheelock, president of the park board, being asked for the facts as to its estimates, stated to a representative of the Globe yesterday that the body which he represents has not asked for any more money for 1896 than was assigned to it in 1895.

"Believing that only a portion of this sum could be used by the park board for that purpose, I so stated to the comptroller and subsequently to the conference committee. But I was assured by Mr. McCarthy that whatever part of the sum could not be used directly for the unemployed could be devoted to park purposes; that it would form a portion of the park fund, and that it was only expected that so much of it should be used for the unemployed as would pay for the work that could be found for them to do."

PRAYER IN SCHOOL

GEN. CHILDS REENDERS AN OPINION ON A SUBJECT OF INTEREST.

READING OF SCRIPTURES

OR THE RECITAL OF THE LORDS PRAYER CONTRARY TO THE CONSTITUTION.

SECTION 16 OF ARTICLE 1

Furnishes the Basis for the Attorney General's Opinion for State Supt. Pendergast.

Attorney General Childs has written an opinion for State Superintendent Pendergast, in which he holds that the practice of opening a public school with a recital of the Lord's prayer or the reading of the Scriptures is in violation of the constitution of the state, which provides that no person shall be compelled to attend or support any place of worship.

Some time ago the state superintendent received a letter from Hinckley, inquiring whether or not the law prohibited the opening of public schools with a recital of the Lord's prayer, and the opinion from Mr. Childs is in answer to a request for information made at that time.

The attorney general's opinion follows: "You inquire whether or not the law prohibits the opening of a public school with a recital of the Lord's prayer. The question involves a construction of section 16 of article 1 of the constitution, wherein it is, among other things, provided: "Nor shall any man be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship."

In the absence of that provision, I should not hesitate in answering your question in the affirmative. Indeed, there is a strong array of well considered cases in states whose constitutions are not thus characterized to the effect that it is a question for the school authorities to determine whether or not a public school shall be opened with prayer and the reading of the Scriptures.

Wisconsin and Minnesota, so far as my examination extends, stand alone in respect to such a provision. In the first named state the supreme court, after exhaustive argument and in a carefully considered opinion, held that the reading of the Scriptures in a public school was in violation of the constitution, in that it compelled one to support a place of worship. (State vs. School District, 76 Wis., 177.)

No occasion has arisen for a construction by our own court of the said provision. It was held by one of my predecessors at an early day and some time prior to the decision reached by the Wisconsin court that the reading of the Scriptures in a common school is not a part of education or of the duties of the board of education or of the school teacher, and that the school is not a place of worship.

It is the purpose of the law of this state to permit no intrusion into our public schools of any religious teaching whatsoever. They are to be kept purely secular in character and as places where the children of parents of every shade of religious belief may assemble for purposes of instruction in authorized subjects and incidental moral improvement.

The judicious teacher will never attempt to institute such a practice in schools against the wishes of the parents of his pupils. In view of the decision by the Wisconsin court, you are advised that the practice, however frequently tolerated or indulged in, is violative of the constitution.
