

The Lowest Prices prevail at our office. If you are interested it will pay you to call today. Bear in mind our Coal is ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM CLINKERS and our service unexcelled.

125 East Fourth Street
(PIONEER PRESS BUILDING).

Youghiogheny & Lenigh Coal Co.

ON WITH THE FIGHT

FURNISH IN PROSPECT FOR THE NEW GAME AND FISH COMMISSION.

ALL RECORDS ARE WANTED.

AND A LEGAL DEMAND WILL BE MADE FOR AGENT ANDRUS' DATA.

HIS FRIEND FERRIS OUT NOW.

It is believed that the other members can make things warm for the ex-agent.

There is a prospect of a lively fight for the possession of the records of the old state game and fish commission, which, instead of being in possession of the commission, are where not more than one member of the board can get at them. When the commission meets again Feb. 11, to organize with the new member, C. S. Benson, of St. Cloud, it is entirely probable that more aggressive action will be taken than has hitherto been the case. Representative Ferris, the retired member, has always been loth to believe against his friends, and was very apathetic when the proposition for an investigation was brought up. Mr. Benson, it is believed, will not be opposed, even negatively, to the most rigid investigation, and it is deemed certain that a well enforced demand will be made on the possessor of the books that they be turned over to the commission or its secretary, Hon. Fred Von Baumbach, of Alexandria. With these records in its possession, the commission will be in a position to explain many of the apparent eccentricities which have been laid at the door of previous administrations, and it is possible that scandalous disclosures may be made.

Executive Agent Fullerton, of the commission, is in receipt of an offer from Cobb, the commission man, to compromise the case of James, who was the Park Rapids end of the deal broken up by a recent seizure. As yet, however, the proposition has not been accepted. Mr. Fullerton, on the other hand, declaring his intention to push Cobb to the limit of the law in all cases where the evidence is conclusive. It is believed in some quarters that he is the chief of the violators of the law, and it is evidently on this theory that the executive agent is working.

AN OLD TIME RELIC.
British Horse Pistol Presented to Historical Society.

Maj. William A. Jones, United States army, in charge of the upper Mississippi reservoirs, has forwarded to the Historical society an old British smoothbore horse pistol dug up at Sandy Lake, Atkinson county. The history of the Mound Builders, after according to Brower's reports, opened and maintained the great portage leading from Lake Superior to the Mississippi. Copper mines have been found on the south shore of Lake Superior so many centuries ago, by those people, that the true date is not ascertainable. However, the copper implements and tools made from the native ore and used at Sandy Lake have been excavated and found to be in all stages of corrosion and decay, some entirely fallen apart by the action of time. Spear arrow points, knives, etc., of pounded copper, have been found in a perfect state of preservation, indicating a more modern, yet sufficient, ancient mode of life. In 1839, when Grosvenor and Radisson reached and crossed the Mississippi, west or southwest from Mille Lacs, the Sioux Indians in force had succeeded the Mound Builders. After the Sioux had been driven out by the Ojibwas, Lieut. Pike in 1804-5 found the British at Sandy Lake and reported all the circumstances. The Northwestern Fur company also had a post on the banks of the Mississippi there, the old unearthen ends of the stockade still remaining. By the purchase of Louisiana, the very paying stroke of business, ownership of the entire upper Mississippi came into the possession of the federal republic—and the construction of the reservoir dams followed in regular order, and the excavations at Sandy Lake uncovered from their long resting place the relics of bygone days, including the old horse pistol which Maj. Jones says was found in the bed of the river far below the surface, near the outlet of the lake. The land marks of the Mound Builders, of the Sioux, the Ojibwas, the British, the Northwestern Fur company are still plainly visible in that locality, where an ignorant, superstitious and poverty-stricken Indian population still exists, without schools, without churches, and apparently without hope or visible energy. These are the results of the vicissitudes of a single year from Jan. 4, 1895, to a single year from Jan. 4, 1895, the association has not only cared for all its obligations, but has accumulated

Officers Are Elected and Financial Reports Received.

The annual meeting of the St. Paul Police Mutual Aid association was held yesterday at the central police station. The reports of the retiring officers showed that during its existence of a single year from Jan. 4, 1895, the association has not only cared for all its obligations, but has accumulated

FIELD OF POLITICS

GEN. CHILDS OUT FOR A RENOVATION, ACCORDING TO EDGERTON.

THE ASSISTANT IS OUT OF IT.

GOV. CLOUGH FINDS HE HAS A ROUGH ROAD TO TRAVEL.

MINNEAPOLIS IS AGAINST HIM.

If Eustis Can Secure Hennepin for Trading Purposes He Stands a Show.

Attorney General H. W. Childs is a candidate for a third term. He has not exactly shed his own castor into the political ring, but the announcement of his candidacy is not nearly as cathartic as it must be given all the credit of an original announcement.

It came up this way: There have been rumors afloat that Mr. Childs would not be a candidate for further honors, and in that view of the case Assistant Attorney General George B. Edgerton announced himself a candidate for the place. He has been swinging around the circle at a more or less lively pace, and it is now given out that he has found such a wide-spread sentiment in favor of Mr. Childs that he has concluded not to endeavor to defeat it, and he issues a manifesto to the public in which, besides announcing his own withdrawal from the field, he declares that Mr. Childs is "disposed" to be a candidate for re-nomination, "and may hereafter be so regarded." Edgerton's famous "straddle" opinion on the legality of Wildt's drawing three salaries, it has developed, has not been forgotten by the people who are anxious to show Secretary Berg what they think of him.

INTEREST PENALTIES PAID.

State Auditor Dunn Prepares His Annual Statement.

State Auditor Dunn has prepared the following statement showing the amount of penalties paid to the state on delinquent interest payments on school and other state lands during 1895. The interest is payable yearly in advance, and is due June 1. Six percent therefor penalty of 12 percent per annum attaches on the figures show the amounts paid as penalties in each county. The total interest payments have already been printed, being $1,422,181, as against $89,646 for 1894. The penalties by counties are as follows:

Counties—	School University Lands—
Aitkin.....	$3.27
Anoka.....	59.67
Becker.....	105.60
Benton.....	64.55
Big Stone.....	163.57
Blue Earth.....	129.74
Brown.....	21.05
Carleton.....	5.52
Cass.....	43.87
Chippewa.....	705.25
Chicago.....	28.12
Clay.....	1,363.27
Cottonwood.....	362.02
Dakota.....	39.87
Dodge.....	17.89
Duluth.....	483.78
Faribault.....	375.12
Fergus.....	17.23
Frederick.....	100.75
Goodhue.....	3.00
Hennepin.....	894.25
Houston.....	55.50
Isanti.....	32.09
Jackson.....	1,552.19
Jefferson.....	890.27
Kandiyohi.....	407.99
Kittson.....	90.25
Lac qui Parle.....	289.36
Le Sueur.....	15.58
Lincoln.....	104.11
Lyon.....	121.35
McLeod.....	26.67
Martin.....	438.78
McLeod.....	1,065.39
Mower.....	228.84
Murray.....	1,045.11
Nicollet.....	30.81
Norman.....	739.33
Olustee.....	7.46
Otter Tail.....	890.27
Pine.....	3.38
Pipestone.....	94.28
Polk.....	103.96
Pope.....	740.69
Redwood.....	3,125.11
Rice.....	54.81
Rock.....	128.61
St. Louis.....	82.45
Shoreburne.....	59.90
Stearns.....	136.51
Steele.....	29.34
Swift.....	586.73
Todd.....	492.38
Traverse.....	204.74
Wabasha.....	19.00
Wadena.....	101.62
Waseca.....	15.42
Washington.....	284.74
Winona.....	18.38
Yellow Medicine.....	643.09
Totals.....	$21,705.87

DEATH OF THOMAS TURNBULL.

The Northern Pacific Clerk Passes Away at Brainerd.

The news of the sudden death at the Northern Pacific sanitarium at Brainerd of Thomas Turnbull was received yesterday afternoon, and proved quite a shock to the relatives. Turnbull was the young man in St. Paul. The young man, who was employed in the office of Tax Commissioner Fernald, of the Northern Pacific, was taken ill early in the week, and his friends, thinking he was in for a siege of typhoid fever, prevailed upon him to go to the company's hospital, and he left the city of Brainerd in charge of Conductor Quinn on Tuesday.

He grew worse, and finally developed symptoms of pleuro pneumonia, from which malady he died. A bare telegram was received by E. F. Rice, superintendent of the Pullman Palace Car company, whose brother-in-law the young man was, announcing the latter's death.

The deceased was born in Muskegon, Mich., and was twenty years old. He has until the last two years been a member of the Rice family, on Laurel avenue, Mr. Rice having brought him up.

Two of his sisters live in the city, and are Mrs. E. F. Rice and Mrs. H. C. Drake. The remains will be brought to St. Paul, and the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from the Rice residence, 290 Laurel avenue, after which Mr. Rice will take the body to Muskegon for interment.

Small Fire at Midway.

Fire, presumed to be of incendiary origin, caused a loss of $200 in a valuable two-story frame dwelling at No. 2165 University avenue, near the Minnesota Transfer bridge, just before 5 a. m. yesterday. The agents for the building are Cochran & Walsh.

At 11 a. m. yesterday a fireman testing the fire department wires sent in a false alarm from Cleveland and University avenues.

The Misses Castle, of Western avenue, gave a Welsh rarebit and ball picture party on Tuesday evening. Miss Clark, Miss Wright and W. H. Farham carried off the prizes.

would like to see Graham taken out of the service, the reason being that Mr. Potter had been that Graham kept him from completing negotiations for the sale of several creameries at one time.

Congressman A. R. Klefer has written to his friends that he is a candidate for a third term in congress, and expects his party to endorse him. His letters he wrote a year ago declaring that two terms were all he wanted, but he has changed his mind, and now, however, he has saved them, and promises to publish them in circular form soon.

Some of the country newspapers are bringing out Attorney General H. W. Childs as a candidate for governor. His official record is estimated on the Great Northern and Northern Pacific cases and in the Sutton case, are being used as campaign arguments.

The question of most local interest now is who is going to get the St. Paul postoffice. It is expected that the appointment will be made in about a time now, but there are so many candidates in the field that it is largely a matter of conjecture who is going to secure the place. It is seldom that so many men after one position, all of whom have a fair share of backing and all of whom are considered good men for the place, would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named would speedily be decided in one particular than if it were a question of selecting between two men. The result may be as soon as it otherwise would, but it is not believed that the naming of any of the men urged for the place would meet with the opposition of Senator Davis, and if not, the man named