

ALL DOUBT IS GONE

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT IS NOW SURE TO COME TO THIS CITY.

CAPT. MCCARDY CONFIDENT.

PRIVATE ADVICES YESTERDAY REMOVE ALL HIS FEARS FOR THE FUTURE.

POOL ON CONVENTION TICKETS.

Talk of Interchanges on K. of P. and G. A. R. Rate Tickets a Possible Solution.

Senior Vice Commander J. J. McCarty, of the G. A. R., received a letter yesterday that removes any "possible, probable shadow of doubt" that the next national encampment will be held in St. Paul.

"I received a letter this morning," said Mr. McCarty, "from the passenger agent of one of the largest railroads in the Western country, telling us to 'stand pat.' The agent assured us that his road would haul into St. Paul one of the longest trains ever seen here. We are not worrying."

The St. Paul veterans are unwilling to accept as possible the idea that the Grand Army encampment may be taken away from this city, and the notion that the present uncertainty will soon end is gaining strength.

Nobody can be found who will venture to predict with any degree of certainty how the settlement is to be brought about, but there is an abiding faith, which apparently cannot be shaken. The statement was made yesterday that in any event the executive committee of the Grand Army, numbering perhaps 1,000 veterans of the war, must meet somewhere, and no place offers better advantages than St. Paul. This is considered a good starter.

MRS. MABEL G. SUTTON, Matron of the St. Paul Day Nursery.

A solution which is suggested is that by a slight change in dates for one or other of the big meetings arranged for the coming summer in the Twin Cities the whole matter may be straightened out with little effort.

The G. A. R. encampment begins Sept. 1, while the Knights of Pythias conclude theirs Aug. 24. Now if the dates are made the same for both meetings the Knights can avail themselves of the G. A. R. rate of one cent a mile and get through their business and return home within the time prescribed in the Grand Army agreement. Those who wish to remain here longer can buy their tickets under the Knights of Pythias agreement, and at the fare and a third rate enjoy the thirty-day limit. On the other hand, those of the Grand Army men who wish to stay longer than the seven-day limit can, by using the Knights' rate of one and a third fare, avail themselves of the Knights' time limit of thirty days.

Tickets for both meetings read good to either St. Paul or Minneapolis. The additional boon to the Grand Army people wishing to remain longer than the time provided in their agreement will be as follows from the points here given: Chicago, $2.50; Peoria, $4.25; St. Louis, $3.75; Kansas City, $2.50. It must be remembered, however, that under the action of the Eastern Joint Traffic association even the Knights of Pythias rate will not help persons coming from points other than those given, as the return portion of the tickets is good only three days after the expiration of the meeting.

It may not be clear to the general public that the thirty-day limit asked for from the Western Passenger association would be of benefit only to those people coming from Chicago, Peoria, St. Louis and Kansas City, and intermediate territory outside of a radius of 75 miles from St. Paul. In past years the return of the largest number of the veterans from the largest forces have come from Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, and these members of the order will derive no benefit from such an action on the part of the Western roads, inasmuch as the Eastern Joint Traffic association, which has jurisdiction over the roads east of Chicago, has refused to make a rate up to Chicago of less than one fare for the round trip, and will not give longer time to return than three days after the close of the meeting. In a word, this means that all visitors to the encampment coming from the east and southeast of Chicago will have to leave St. Paul not later than Sept. 7.

It has been stated by several of the men who are working strenuously to bring the encampment here that the Eastern roads have said they are willing to make as good rates and time limits as are given by the Western roads, but a local passenger man said yesterday that the Central Traffic association will not concede from its position, owing to the general demoralization which not only follows, but invariably precedes for some weeks such an action.

Death of Anna Tegeler. A young woman of admirable characteristics, a favorite among relatives and friends, was taken away when Miss Anna D. Tegeler died at 3 p. m. yesterday, at the residence of her parents, No. 75 Carroll street. Miss Tegeler was the eldest daughter of Es-sent Frederick G. Tegeler, of the Rondo street police station, and was in her first year. Her death was caused by typhoid fever. She had been sick three weeks, and passed away at last despite the most skillful treatment at the hands of her physician, Dr. J. A. Viergie. The funeral will take place at 2 p. m. tomorrow, from the family residence.

GOOD PULPIT BLOOD.

Descendants of the Mayflower Party Organizing Locally.

A new society of a semi-social and semi-patriotic nature is being formed by prominent people in the Twin Cities and Minneapolis. While the formation is still in a crude state, it is laid down that the members shall be descendants of the original 111 Puritans who came over on the Mayflower. While the organization will be of necessity select, it will not be as small as might seem probable at first thought, for there are a great many people in the Twin Cities who can show the required ancestry who can trace their records back to Plymouth colony, and many more are being found every month as the records of the old Atlantic towns in the possession of the state historical society reveal their treasured secrets to the diligent seekers after historical truth in a genealogical way. For that matter, the membership will not be strictly confined to the Twin Cities, as any residents of the state, man or woman, who can show the required ancestry will be eligible. The social features of the new association will, however, only be practically available to the residents of the two cities and their immediate vicinity.

NOT A STRANGER.

The New Matron of the Nursery a Stillwater Girl.

Mrs. Mabel G. Sutton, the new matron of the day nursery not unknown in St. Paul, having been a Stillwater girl before her marriage, and having scores of friends in this city.

Mrs. Sutton came from Chicago, her home of late years, a week ago to assume her duties at the nursery, and has already made fast friends with the children. She is a warm lover of babyhood, and has a little one of her own, a two-year-old boy. Although this work is new to Mrs. Sutton, she has had experience with children and their care and is fully capable of filling such a position.

OLD RECORDS RECEIVED.

Ancient Works Sent to State Historical Society.

Some peculiarly ancient works were received yesterday by the state historical society, among them the records of the town of Brookhaven, one volume embracing the records up to 1890, and the other from 1798 on. Other interesting works received are as follows: "Life and Voyages of Discovery of American Vesputius." New Haven, 1832. "Robinson's Biblical Researches in Palestine, Mount Sinai and Arabia Petraea." 3 vols. 1841. "Hampton and Its Students, by Two of Its Teachers." 1875. "The Jews." By James K. Hosmer. 1887. "The History of Haverhill, Mass." 1822. "Expedition to the Dead Sea and the Jordan." 1829. "Pioneer History of the Phelps and Gorham Purchase and Morris' Reserve." By Turner. 1831. "History of Delaware County, N. Y." By Jay Gould. 1836. "Record of the Family of Rev. David D. Field, D. D., of Stockbridge, Mass." By Thomas Lawrence. 1858. "Historical Memoir of the O'Brien's." By John O'Donnoghue. 1859. "History of Rockland County, N. Y." By F. D. Green. 1858. "A Short Account of the Family of Ormsby, of Pittsburg, Pa." By Oliver O. Pace. 1882. "Kings County (N. Y.) Genealogical Club Collection, Vol. I, pts. 1-4." "R. I. Historical Facts." Second series. No. 2. "A Century of Lotteries in R. I." By J. H. Stimes.

Monday, Feb. 3, 1896.

The last day to deposit money in the Savings Bank of St. Paul to secure five months' interest July 1, 1896. One dollar and upwards received. Fifth and Jackson streets.

Cleveland High School.

The Cleveland High School Literary society elected the following officers on Friday: President, Sam Hofer; Vice president, Reine Gremer; secretary, Katherine Bersee; treasurer, Harold Stolpestad.

The Cleveland high school has organized an orchestra under the leadership of Prof. A. Jurka. Prof. Jurka, first violin; Nellie Seeger, piano; Howard Bersee, flute; Ellen Nelson, mandolin; Judith A. Anderson, guitar; and Adolph Voges, cornet.

Important.

The public are hereby notified that Monday next, Feb. 3, is the last day to deposit money in the Savings Bank of St. Paul to secure five months' interest July 1, 1896. One dollar and upwards received. Fifth and Jackson streets.

Concordia Masque Ball.

The Concordia Singing Society will give its annual masquerade ball at Mozart's hall (formerly Turner hall) on Monday evening, Feb. 2, and it is anticipated that it will be the masquerade event of the season. The society is one of the foremost German singing societies in St. Paul, and events of the nature of the coming one are participated in by all classes of Germans in the city. There will be singing by the society and the gallery will be opened to spectators who desire to go unmasked.

To California on the "Maple Leaf."

Every Tuesday the Chicago Great Western Railway (Maple Leaf Route) runs a Tourist Sleeper via the Santa Fe Route to Los Angeles—24 hours shorter than by any other line! Tickets at Maple Leaf Ticket Office, Robert and Fifth streets.

WANT OLD SALARIES

DARRAGH, JENSEN AND THE POLICE JUDGES STICK TO THESE FIGURES.

NO BARGAIN SALE FOR THEM.

OTHER CITY DEPARTMENTS GRACIOUSLY ACCEPT THE CUT OF 10 PER CENT.

BUT POLICE WAGES ARE NOT CUT.

And Corporation Attorney Darragh Says That Only the Council Can Cut Them.

There is trouble brewing in the city hall over the pay rolls for the month of January. Those heads of departments who have consented to the 10 per cent reduction—the city engineer, board of public works and city treasurer—have made out their pay rolls for the reduced amount. The corporation attorney, city clerk and the judges of the municipal court have copied the pay rolls that they have learned to love through force of habit and refused to reduce because their salaries were authorized by state law. To these latter three departments City Comptroller McCarty has written a communication suggesting that they each submit pay rolls to conform to the proposed 10 per cent reduction. It is probable that all three will comply with this request of the comptroller, as such compliance cannot, so they are advised by competent legal authority, be construed into an admission that they are not entitled to the compensation which the law allows them.

The city comptroller would appear, however, to have expected too much from the police department. When the conference committee was in session Chief Clark submitted to the body a proposed schedule of reduction which, if adopted, would effect a saving of $12,200. The conference committee approved of the schedule, but allowed the entire $185,000 to which the department is limited by the charter. The common council indorsed the conference committee as to this item. No action was or could be taken at this time regarding the salaries of the police. Yet the charter expressly provides that the common council shall fix the salaries of the police every year. This the council has not yet done, and until it does the present salaries must perforce remain as they are. Accordingly, the pay roll of the police department submitted yesterday by the department contained the original figures. Nevertheless, Comptroller McCarty returned it with the request that a roll be prepared calling for reduced salaries.

"What right have I to reduce the pay of any member of the police force?" said Chief Clark yesterday. "The charter says that the common council must fix the salaries of this department every year. Until that is done the salaries must stand as they are, and as the council has taken no action in this matter, I could not submit a pay roll calling for reduced salaries."

The chief's position was indorsed by Corporation Attorney Darragh, who advised him that he had no power to alter the salaries of the force.

Building Inspector Gaurer, who served during the first ten days of January, submitted a pay roll for himself and force based on the original schedule of $2,500 a year for the building inspector.

Removal Sale.

Groceries at cost to dealers or consumers beginning Tuesday, Griggs & Co., Wholesale Grocers, 150 East Fifth street.

TODAY IS THE DAY.

This Is the One Sacred to Ground Hog.

This is the day of the arctomys monax. It has been his day for more than 200 years. Before the Pilgrims landed or Jamestown was laid out, the monax fed no special duty. Feb. 2, and its coming was not discussed by his family. But the immigrants from England conferred upon the arctomys an annual duty which had been performed by the mother country. The arctomys, the common brown bear, for ages it had been the meteorological of the browns to come out of his hole Feb. 2—Candlemas day—and evaluate a piourette and prophecy. He felt obliged on that day to look for his own shadow. If the sun was shining, and the brown bear could observe the condition, he smiled sadly and retired once more to his charmingly situated apartments with a southern exposure. He was convinced that the north wind had merely stepped to rest and would blow again shortly, nor would it cease to blow for a long six weeks. If, however, the bear could not detect his shadow he knew that he could throw up his lease whenever he felt like it. He even encouraged his wife in her intimations that she could never stay another winter in such a stuffy little room, and was happy.

But it was not to be expected that such a little and unimportant ceremony should be exhibited by a fat, independent bear in the new found land of plenty. The responsibilities of the meager meal of an imported and monerally were, therefore, transferred by Capt. John Smith to the arctomys monax "ya wuch," as the captain oddly expressed it, "doe hee cyept his 'woud-chue' by the Indians." The same animal has since been called the ground hog, and the day itself has lost its century honored connection with Candlemas in the more popular appellation of "Ground Hog Day." But long before Capt. John Smith learned how to spell, the ruddy English bumpkin, who would believe anything but a Frenchman, would shiver with the joy of conviction during the howling storm on the second day of the second month, for

If Candlemas day be bright and clear, There'll be two winters in that year.

A debate on the Howard charter, Judge Schoonmaker advocating and Frank N. Stacy, of Minneapolis, opposing it, is being arranged for by A. L. Woolsey. It will probably take place at Market hall.

Removal Sale.

Groceries at cost to dealers or consumers beginning Tuesday, Griggs & Co., Wholesale Grocers, 150 East Fifth street.

TODAY IS THE DAY.

This Is the One Sacred to Ground Hog.

This is the day of the arctomys monax. It has been his day for more than 200 years. Before the Pilgrims landed or Jamestown was laid out, the monax fed no special duty. Feb. 2, and its coming was not discussed by his family. But the immigrants from England conferred upon the arctomys an annual duty which had been performed by the mother country. The arctomys, the common brown bear, for ages it had been the meteorological of the browns to come out of his hole Feb. 2—Candlemas day—and evaluate a piourette and prophecy. He felt obliged on that day to look for his own shadow. If the sun was shining, and the brown bear could observe the condition, he smiled sadly and retired once more to his charmingly situated apartments with a southern exposure. He was convinced that the north wind had merely stepped to rest and would blow again shortly, nor would it cease to blow for a long six weeks. If, however, the bear could not detect his shadow he knew that he could throw up his lease whenever he felt like it. He even encouraged his wife in her intimations that she could never stay another winter in such a stuffy little room, and was happy.

But it was not to be expected that such a little and unimportant ceremony should be exhibited by a fat, independent bear in the new found land of plenty. The responsibilities of the meager meal of an imported and monerally were, therefore, transferred by Capt. John Smith to the arctomys monax "ya wuch," as the captain oddly expressed it, "doe hee cyept his 'woud-chue' by the Indians." The same animal has since been called the ground hog, and the day itself has lost its century honored connection with Candlemas in the more popular appellation of "Ground Hog Day." But long before Capt. John Smith learned how to spell, the ruddy English bumpkin, who would believe anything but a Frenchman, would shiver with the joy of conviction during the howling storm on the second day of the second month, for

If Candlemas day be bright and clear, There'll be two winters in that year.

A debate on the Howard charter, Judge Schoonmaker advocating and Frank N. Stacy, of Minneapolis, opposing it, is being arranged for by A. L. Woolsey. It will probably take place at Market hall.

Removal Sale.

Groceries at cost to dealers or consumers beginning Tuesday, Griggs & Co., Wholesale Grocers, 150 East Fifth street.

TODAY IS THE DAY.

This Is the One Sacred to Ground Hog.

This is the day of the arctomys monax. It has been his day for more than 200 years. Before the Pilgrims landed or Jamestown was laid out, the monax fed no special duty. Feb. 2, and its coming was not discussed by his family. But the immigrants from England conferred upon the arctomys an annual duty which had been performed by the mother country. The arctomys, the common brown bear, for ages it had been the meteorological of the browns to come out of his hole Feb. 2—Candlemas day—and evaluate a piourette and prophecy. He felt obliged on that day to look for his own shadow. If the sun was shining, and the brown bear could observe the condition, he smiled sadly and retired once more to his charmingly situated apartments with a southern exposure. He was convinced that the north wind had merely stepped to rest and would blow again shortly, nor would it cease to blow for a long six weeks. If, however, the bear could not detect his shadow he knew that he could throw up his lease whenever he felt like it. He even encouraged his wife in her intimations that she could never stay another winter in such a stuffy little room, and was happy.

But it was not to be expected that such a little and unimportant ceremony should be exhibited by a fat, independent bear in the new found land of plenty. The responsibilities of the meager meal of an imported and monerally were, therefore, transferred by Capt. John Smith to the arctomys monax "ya wuch," as the captain oddly expressed it, "doe hee cyept his 'woud-chue' by the Indians." The same animal has since been called the ground hog, and the day itself has lost its century honored connection with Candlemas in the more popular appellation of "Ground Hog Day." But long before Capt. John Smith learned how to spell, the ruddy English bumpkin, who would believe anything but a Frenchman, would shiver with the joy of conviction during the howling storm on the second day of the second month, for

If Candlemas day be bright and clear, There'll be two winters in that year.

A debate on the Howard charter, Judge Schoonmaker advocating and Frank N. Stacy, of Minneapolis, opposing it, is being arranged for by A. L. Woolsey. It will probably take place at Market hall.

Removal Sale.

Groceries at cost to dealers or consumers beginning Tuesday, Griggs & Co., Wholesale Grocers, 150 East Fifth street.

TODAY IS THE DAY.

This Is the One Sacred to Ground Hog.

This is the day of the arctomys monax. It has been his day for more than 200 years. Before the Pilgrims landed or Jamestown was laid out, the monax fed no special duty. Feb. 2, and its coming was not discussed by his family. But the immigrants from England conferred upon the arctomys an annual duty which had been performed by the mother country. The arctomys, the common brown bear, for ages it had been the meteorological of the browns to come out of his hole Feb. 2—Candlemas day—and evaluate a piourette and prophecy. He felt obliged on that day to look for his own shadow. If the sun was shining, and the brown bear could observe the condition, he smiled sadly and retired once more to his charmingly situated apartments with a southern exposure. He was convinced that the north wind had merely stepped to rest and would blow again shortly, nor would it cease to blow for a long six weeks. If, however, the bear could not detect his shadow he knew that he could throw up his lease whenever he felt like it. He even encouraged his wife in her intimations that she could never stay another winter in such a stuffy little room, and was happy.

But it was not to be expected that such a little and unimportant ceremony should be exhibited by a fat, independent bear in the new found land of plenty. The responsibilities of the meager meal of an imported and monerally were, therefore, transferred by Capt. John Smith to the arctomys monax "ya wuch," as the captain oddly expressed it, "doe hee cyept his 'woud-chue' by the Indians." The same animal has since been called the ground hog, and the day itself has lost its century honored connection with Candlemas in the more popular appellation of "Ground Hog Day." But long before Capt. John Smith learned how to spell, the ruddy English bumpkin, who would believe anything but a Frenchman, would shiver with the joy of conviction during the howling storm on the second day of the second month, for

If Candlemas day be bright and clear, There'll be two winters in that year.

A debate on the Howard charter, Judge Schoonmaker advocating and Frank N. Stacy, of Minneapolis, opposing it, is being arranged for by A. L. Woolsey. It will probably take place at Market hall.

FIELD, SCHLICK & CO.

(SUCCESSORS TO FIELD, MAHLER & CO.)

ANNUAL SALE OF MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

Our Annual Sale of Muslin Underwear begins tomorrow. We are a little later than usual, but we are all the better prepared for it. We have been very careful to see that every garment is properly cut, properly made and properly trimmed—careful to see that all materials are perfect. In making our selections we were careful to avoid all the rubbish that enters into so many of the Underwear Sales.

We have gathered a stock that is a credit to ourselves and a credit to the city. Better Underwear never left the workrooms. We don't think a better collection of handsome styles has ever been shown anywhere in this country, and we are absolutely certain the prices will be ever known in the Northwest. We begin the sale tomorrow with an array of Low Prices that will set the town afire with enthusiasm.

THE LOWEST

600 Beautiful Empire Gowns, elaborately trimmed with frill of English Embroidery and Insertion to match, at the wonder price of each. They ought to sell readily at $2.00. We can't get any more to sell at this price, and we shall therefore not sell more than two of these to one buyer. Ready at 9 o'clock.

95 Cents

1,200 good Muslin Corset Covers, like cut, perfect fitting, made with 11 seams, only

7 Cents

each. Last season's price was 20c.

600 at 9 o'clock; 600 at 2:30 o'clock. Not more than three to one buyer.

1,600 extra fine Muslin Drawers, cut 27 inches wide, deep yoke band, hem, clusters of small tucks and deep ruffle of fine Cambric, only each; ordinary price, 40c. Not more than three to one buyer.

29 Cents

Every piece of Muslin Underwear in the store will be sold at prices that will be of greatest interest to women who appreciate good workmanship and dainty styles.

Umbrella Skirts with flounces of lace and embroidery, $2.00 to $12.00.

FOR THE BABY.

In order to attract attention to the department for Infants' Wear we will offer tomorrow 600 Infants' Dresses, in 1, 2 and 3 years sizes, made of fine Nainsook, Hubbard and Bishop styles, trimmed with dainty edges of lace and embroidery, very full sleeves, for each. They are the kinds and styles you are accustomed to paying $2.00 for.

$1.00

WOOL DRESS GOODS.

The greatest activity prevails in our Dress Goods Sections. Vast Stocks of New Dress Goods—THE ONLY NEW DRESS GOODS IN THE STATE—at prices that surprise the closest buyers, and which cause the sharpest competition to despair. With such stocks and such prices it is easy to see why we are doing practically all the Dress Goods business of the Twin Cities.

30 pieces of fine, pure wool Serges, black and all colors, 36 inches wide, firm, strong, honest goods, a yard tomorrow. No need to tell you worth 50c. They will speak for themselves.

21 Cents

NEARLY HALF-PRICE.

46 pieces and part pieces Imported All-Wool English Check Suitings, the kind usually sold for $1.00, only a yard tomorrow.

55 Cents

A fresh lot of new Scotch Suitings, 40 inches wide, at a yard.

50 Cents

About 50 pieces of French Vigoreaux, dark colorings, for present wear, finest yarns and tough as leather for hard usage, 46 inches wide, for a yard. We don't know of anything better you can buy at $1.00. There should be mighty few yards left when the store closes tomorrow.

55 Cents

Two-toned Crepes, six different colorings, 46 inches wide, 85 Cents.

New Diagonals, 50 inches wide, two-toned effects, $1.00.

BLACK GOODS.

Another large batch of our Spring Importations has been received. See them under our skylight—the best light for Dress Goods in the country.

The best Storm Serge in the country, 45 inches wide, for 50 cents.

Imported All-Wool Jacquards, 38 inches wide, 47 cents.

Strictly All-Wool Serges, 36 inches wide, 21 cents a yard tomorrow. Tuesday will probably be too late for these.

We invite attention to the as-

CHEMISES.

300 Cambric and Muslin Chemises, only 25 cents each.

Fine Muslin Chemises, plain or trimmed with embroidery, 50c and 75c.

Fine Nainsook Chemises, daintily trimmed with lace and embroidery, $1.00 to $2.25.

SKIRTS.

600 fine Muslin Skirts, deep flounce of cambric, finished with hem and tucks, 75 cents each.

Fine Muslin Skirts finished with cluster of tucks and flounce of fine embroidery, $1.00 each.

Umbrella Skirts of fine, strong muslin with deep flounce and protection ruffle of Lawn, trimmed with a pretty edge of embroidery, $1.25 each; worth $1.75 any other time.

FIELD, SCHLICK & CO.

(CONTINUED...)

sortment of Fancy Weaves, Silk and Wool Mixtures, Granite, Jacquard and Pebble effects, in designs never before shown.

Mohair Lusterines, 50c, $1.00 and $1.25.

Sail Cloths in Wool and Mohair, $1, $1.25 and $1.50.

Extra Silk Sales

Qualities and prices tell. It isn't necessary to use bill board type or extravagant language for thinking people. Thousands of ladies will read this small, modest announcement, way down in this advertisement, and they will be here bright and early to buy good silks at the lowest prices in St. Paul.

At 9:30 A. M.:

1,000 yards Flawless White Habutais.

1,000 yards Striped Wash Silks.

1,000 yards Cable Cord Wash Silks.

All of these at

12 1/2 Cents

a yard at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow.

All of these are clean, fresh Silks—part of our regular stock, no remnants or outcasts. They ought to sell from 35c to 50c a yard. No more than 15 yards to one buyer.

1,000 yards 27-inch Shantung Wash Pongees, advertised in St. Paul last week "worth 75c," only a yard at 9:30.

24 Cents

2,000 yards of Brand New Satin Brocaded Taffetas, twenty styles, firm and strong and recommended for hard wear, a yard. There are advertisers who would say worth $1.50. We are content to state the price, 59 Cents.

59 Cents

These Silks came on Saturday, and not a yard will be left after a few days' selling.

NOVELTIES.

It is to be expected that we sell ALL the Novelty Silks sold in St. Paul. But what pleases us most is the fact that we sell lots of these Novelties to the ladies of our sister city every day. It proves what we have said before, and what is worth repeating, viz.: We have the only stock of Warp Printed Novelty Silks in the Northwest. Prices range from 88 cents to $4.00 a yard. See some of the beauties in our Silk Windows. Hundreds of equally handsome and exclusive styles on the counter.

NEW CAPES.