It is fully illustrated with maps and views, those of the Mt. glacier in particular being most graphic, and well worth framing. The booklet is very complete, and those of the Yukon district embodying the latest knowledge of that country, while the map showing the trip day by day through that wonderful territory, and the waters known as the "Inland Passage," is most comprehensive yet attempted. The reading matter is arranged by subjects, and covers every feature of interest about that mighty land.

One as good as another.

It is easy to say that one preparation is as good as another, and it is easy to waste money by buying something you know nothing about and receiving no benefit. When the body is weak and you want to give it strength, what wisdom is there in experimenting with a substitute, when for a few cents more you can buy the original article? For more than twenty years Scott's Emulsion has been the standard Cod-liver Oil emulsion. It contains more pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil than any other emulsion in the world, and will stand the test of time as being a perfect, inseparable emulsion. You can't afford to take a substitute for it.

DODGE IS UPHELD.

BAR ASSOCIATION UNANIMOUS IN DRIPPING PROCEEDINGS AGAINST HIM.

NO DISBARMENT ACTION.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE LISTENS TO LARRABEE'S CHARGE AND DODGE'S DEFENSE.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES.

Revs. Dawley and Beach Appear Before New Congregations—News of Minneapolis.

The Hennepin County Bar association will not commence disbarment proceedings against Col. W. E. Dodge. This was determined on at one of the longest meetings of the executive committee in the history of the organization Saturday afternoon, by a unanimous vote.

The charge against Col. W. E. Dodge was preferred about two weeks ago by Frank Larabee, the attorney for Billings in the case recently tried in the district court. The charge was made in writing, as required by law, and alleged that Col. Dodge had been a party to the bribing of a juror in the Czech case in Wright county, precisely the same grounds charged in the affidavit of Billings submitted to the grand jury at the last session. The charge was taken up at a meeting of the executive committee and Larabee was cited to appear before the committee and state his case. This he did. He dwelt upon the evidence as brought out at the trial of Billings and went over the same ground, almost exactly, as was gone over in the criminal trial, claiming much of the evidence which was not relevant to the charge against Col. Dodge. The committee then cited Col. Dodge to appear, and at a meeting held about a week ago the latter put in his defense. He explained many of the charges made against him by Billings and also the statement appearing in the alleged affidavit made by Juror Ernest Otto. The committee and all parties in the matter concurred that the allegation of Billings was not the bribing of a juror, but was the bribing of a juror in the Czech case, but the point at issue in the charge against Dodge was whether or not the latter was a party to the bribery or in any way sanctioned it.

In order to determine this a committee on discipline, consisting of Messrs. Lancaster, Simpson, Judge Ueland and Flannery was appointed. The committee held a meeting last week, at which the transcript of the evidence in the Billings case was gone over carefully and minutely. The transcript was given to all evidence which could be brought out to show that Dodge had definite knowledge of the alleged act of bribery. This committee was also given a letter from Judge McConnell, of Fargo, in which the latter stated that he was certain Fraser appeared in his court on the 7th of last December to participate as counsel in the prosecution of the case. This is the strongest evidence to date in the case, and was not disclosed by Col. Dodge and his colleagues, and it had its effect on the committee.

Saturday the culminating session of the matter concluded that the executive committee of the bar association in the office of Mr. Jackson in the Oneida block. Every member of the committee, excepting Mr. Jackson, was present. The committee on account of business, was in attendance.

Those present were C. S. Selley, Judge Young, Wilson, Wheelwright, Thompson, Wood, Munro, Judge Ueland, J. H. Hendrix, Jackson, Lancaster and L. A. Reed.

Frank Larabee acted as prosecutor and the committee on account of business, was in attendance. The committee on account of business, was in attendance.

Col. W. E. Dodge was to have responded in his own behalf, but it was not possible for the defense. Each member was permitted to take up an hour and a half at the conclusion of the arguments the committee took a vote on the question whether or not the evidence produced had been sufficient to show that Dodge knew of the bribing of the juror and was implicated in it, or whether he resulted in forcing it into it. The vote was decided that no further action should be taken by the bar association in the disbarment proceedings. There has been considerable interest in the matter in the bar association among the attorneys of the city, and the possible bearing the result may have on the Billings trial at the next term of court has been a matter of some speculation.

BATTLE OF PRAYER

BALLINGTON BOOTH'S VOLUNTEERS AND THE SALVATION ARMY CLASH AT CLEVELAND.

APPEALS TO PATRIOTISM.

NEW ORGANIZATION USES THE AMERICAN FLAG FOR A CON-TRIBUTION BOX.

ARMY IS FOR AMERICANS.

Significant Statement by Booth-Tucker-Ballington and His Sister to Meet.

CLEVELAND, O., April 5.—There was a conflict between Ballington Booth's American Volunteers and Corps No. 1 of the Salvation Army here today. It was a conflict of prayer and melody, however, the Volunteers holding their first public meeting in the public square. There were about twenty-five of the Volunteers. Most of them wore the olive drab uniform and the Ballington Booth badge. A crowd of a thousand followed the extra pay that he demands. He saves it first in his capacity as the market gardener for the city. He raises as fine truck as all his neighbors, and how cheaply he markets it we shall see further along. Then, again, in his role of cook he is the most economical buyer imaginable. He is precisely as saving when he cooks for a boarding house. Of vegetables, for instance, he buys a cent's worth or two cents' worth for soup or garnishing, and of all the trifles that enter into a day's cooking he buys in the same petty way precisely what he needs for his meal or order. He uses up what he has left of the day's cooking. In San Francisco—save in the great market of game, which is purely American—John learns of French cooks, directly or through the medium of the mistress of the house, and he distances the Frenchman in his utilization of his stock in hand.

The abundance of fish and game explains the cheapness thereof. Even at Monterey, within the confines of the ancient village, I saw scores of wild ducks swimming in a pond, and on other small sheets of water I saw them continually from the car windows. Various varieties of delicious fishes, and a greater variety of delicious fishes than we are familiar with are yielded by the Pacific and its sheltering arms. Vegetables and fruits are superabundant. Strawberries are to be had all the year round, and the fruits that are allowed to ripen there are greatly superior to those that ripen on the road. I wonder that the people of the city do not call it "The Paradise of America" without asking leave of Cincinnati to borrow the nickname.

X RAY ON EXHIBITION.

One of the surprises which will greet the visitors at the new cycle show, which begins at the exposition tomorrow, is a practical exemplification of the X ray. The American Masonic Accident association has been organized for the purpose of insuring a special policy for when the accident occurs with the accident underwriters' convention, and space has been secured for advertising the new machine to the public. In order to draw the attention of the public, the X ray outfit, which the company brought into requisition in the prosecution of its business, has been placed on exhibition at the cycle show. The length of wire on the induction coil of the common apparatus was from one to two miles of wire. At the show will contain over five miles of wire, more than doubling the intensity of the current. The interruptions, which are commonly made by a motor, will be made by a motor instead. The current is capable of running at the rate of from 700 to 1,000 turns a minute; the motor will break the current at the rate of 10,000 per minute. The experience these comparisons will indicate the superiority of the apparatus, which will be exhibited.

The practical utility of the X ray in the insurance business has already been shown by the work of the company. There is a case in New York in which a railroad man claims to have suffered an injury which he knows cannot be reached by the touch. The claim has been held up in a half-dozen offices until the shadowgraph tells whether the bone is actually broken or whether the claimant is suspected only of shamming. The purpose of collecting the insurance.

Booth-Tucker Makes Significant Statements.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 5.—Commissioner Booth-Tucker, the new commander of the Salvation Army, conducted a religious meeting in this city today. He was accompanied by Maj. Milan and a number of the Philadelphia officers of the army, and the hall where the services were held was filled to its capacity. The commissioner was greeted with uproarious applause. In an interview after the meeting he said: "The army is going along just the way that it always was conducted. Ballington Booth was a good Salvationist, and I see no reason to change his plans. There may be some new developments in social schemes, however, I propose to spend my week in the study of the idea to deal with the poverty which exists in the cities, and we have no idea of making the army in America a colony to be overseen by England."
