FIELDING & SHEPLEY MUST RE-MOVE COMMISSION HOUSE GARBAGE.

COMMITTEE TALKS IT OVER.

THINKS THAT IT IS UNJUST THAT SUCH IS THE CASE.

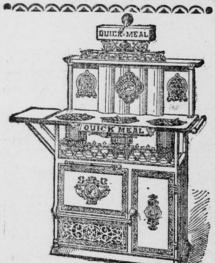

MARCH BILL HAS BEEN HELD UP.

The Contractors May Be Furnished Relief by the Council-Will Do the Work.

The joint committee on garbage held a protracted session yesterday afternoon, which was devoted to considering the complaints of the commission houses against Fielding & Shepley, the garbage contractors, who have refused to collect the garbage from the commission stores. In consequence of this refusal Health Commissioner Stone declined to audit the bill of the contractors for the month of March, which amounts to $1,227.08. The situation was recently set forth in the Globe.

the firm of Fielding & Shepley, stated his position in the matter. "When we signed the contract," said Mr. Shepley, "we did not understand that it called for the removal of garbage from the commission houses.'

The specifications and contract were thereupon produced. Upon examining them, the committee found that they required the contractors to remove all garbage, dead animals, offal, etc., from every place within the city of St. Paul, and that commission houses were not excepted or excluded. The members of the committee all agree that it was not right; in fact, that it was outrageous, to make the city's contractor collect and haul away garbage from the commission houses, which produce such excessive quantities of it in their daily business, but in the face of the contract, the committee could' see no way for

Mr. Robb said the garbage contractor ought not to be required to collect from the ommission houses over a barrel of garbage a day from each day.

Chairman Johnson then sent for Assistant Corporation Attorney Phillips for the purpose of ascertaining whether the council could modify the contract with the consent of the contractors. Mr. Phillips informed the committee that the council might mod-ify the contract in case nobody objected, but that any taxpayer could, if he chose, through the aid of the courts, enjoin the council from making any change in the contract at this stage, as such a proceeding would be contrary to the charter.

A resolution correcting the contract might be passed on the ground that it was not in accordance with the intentions of the par-ties, but no alteration of the specifications could be made under any circumstances. A motion to approve the March bill of the ontractors was lost by a tie vote. Mr. Shepley thereupon stated that he stood ready to remove the garbage now accumulated at the various commission houses, provided the committee thought that his contract required him to do so. This was satisfactory, and the matter was referred back to the board of aldermen, and in the meantime if the contractors remove the garbage the March bill will be audited by Dr. Stone and allowed. Then the council will decide whether the contrac tors shall collect all the garbage from the commission houses or whether the contract can be modified so as to limit the amount of garbage per day that must be collected by the city's contractor from the commission

SCHOOLS HARD PRESSED.

April Term Brings a Large Influx of Pupils. Since Easter there has been another influx of children into the public schools, and the enrollment for April promises to exceed that of March by several hundred. With this pressure comes the demand for more room and more teachers, the pressure in some localities being severe. It is likely that at its next meeting the board will take some action in regard to an annex for the Willis A. Gorman school, which is one of the most crowded, and, as far as possible, new expedients will be resorted to to relieve the pressure in other

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH_WANTS TO START A BACTERIOLOGI-CAL LABORATORY

IN CONNECTION WITH THE "U."

BELIEVED THAT THE TWO COULD WORK TOGETHER WITH MUCH ADVANTAGE.

DOMESTIC ANIMALS! DISEASES.

Believed That These Carry Much Trouble and Ill-Health to Their Human Neighbors.

The state board of health yesterday practically decided to push the projected bacteriological laboratory of the state as vigorously as its resources will allow. The board met in the governor's rooms vesterday forein the absence of the president. Dr. Staples of Winona. There were present Secretary Hewitt and Drs. Millard, Westbrook and Bracken. The discussion was precipitated by the paper which the secretary read, in which he dwelt on the prevalence of infectious disthe spread of infection through them. The subject of tuberculosis in cattle was especially referred to, although the possibility of the transfer of disease by household pets was not overlooked. The former danger, however, was the one which received the greatest part of attention, and it was the unanimous opinion in the discussion that followed that the health authorities needed better facilities for bacteriological investigation perhaps as much as anything else. It was decided to work as far as possible, in connection with the laboratory at the state university, and it is proposed that the state board of health shall establish its laboratory, when it does, so that the two can work in unison. There is little bacteriological investigation being done in Minnesota; none, in fact, except what is done at the university, and some private work done by specialists under many difficulties and this latter branch the public health does not always receive the benefit of. Especially is this work in harmony with that which has recently so fully occupied the board. the analysis of city water supplies, and the advantage of such research to the board can scarcely be overestimated, in the opinion of the physicians who compose the board.

The present work of investigation and prevention of the spread of tuberculosis among cattle was referred to and highly praised, although regret was expressed that the condition of public affairs now prohibited the pushing of this work in parts of the state remote from the Twin Cities as might be wished.

Dr. Westbrook, who is the newest member of the board, is a member of the faculty at the university, and assured the other members of the board that he would do all in his power to assist the board with researches at the university laboratory. He is especially interested in the bacteriological work, having made it a specialty, and much of the actual investigation devolves upon him.

The recent epidemic of diphtheria at St. John's college, Abbatsford, Stearns county, was alluded to in the paper of Dr. Hewitt, but no detailed comments were made. The situation is not considered especially dangerous there, the scare having reached its height some little time ago.

MISTAKES OF CUPID.

Two Persons Successful in Actions for Divorce.

The divorce mill ground its usual daily grist yesterday. Judge Egan separating two couples, and a complaint being filed in another case. The plaintiff in the latter case is Magdelene Schaid, who seeks a divorce from her husband John, on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment and immoral conduct, naming Josephine Hoffman in the complaint. Aside from this she says he frequently beat her, making her bleed and knocking out a tooth on one occasion and blacking her eyes on another, finally driving her away from home. The plaintiff is thirty-six and the de-fendant forty-one years of age. They were married here in 1893. They have no chil-

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL.

Richardson's Attorneys Base It on the Court's Actions.

The attorneys for H. K. Richardson, the ecretary of the Snow-Church company, who was recently convicted of grand larceny in the first degree, yesterday filed formal tice of a motion for a new trial, in which they claim, as the principal ground for demand-ing a new trial, the conduct of Judge Willis while the trial was in progress. They allege that he discussed the case with the jurors in other than his judicial capacity as trial judge, coming down out of the bench and explaining to them certain things in a not required by his duties as judge. These allegations are to be supported by an affidavit to be filed by Attorney Durment when the motion comes up for argument on Saturday next.

The facts in the case were referred by the state de-partment to John Ogden, of Minneapolis, formerly superintendent of public instruction of the state of North Dakota, and Prof. Ogden's

There was no new turn in the Anoka inmatter yesterday. Attorney General Childs has reported to Auditor Dunn that there is at least a technical effect in the transfer papers of the Woodbury site, and the auditor has sent them back for cor-rection. It is not insisted that the defect is a vital one, but on account of the con-troversy which has been made by the Hastings people it is desired, and Auditor Dunn insists, that the title be perfect before he will sign the warrant for $15,000, the purchase price fixed by the commission.

Jury Couldn't Agree.

The jury stood nine for the defendant to three for the plaintiff almost from Bishop's Suit Fails.

In the case of Charles H. Bishop against John T. Smith and Anton Miesen, the jury, yesterday, returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, it having been proven that Bishop was the aggressor and Smith was simply de-fending himself in the encounter, out of which the action grew. Bishop got the worst of it by a great majority, and then brought suit for damages.

Officer Murphy Makes Two Sorties on Norris Street.

Walter Gould, aged sixteen, who, but for the wanderings of his ancestors, might this day be an African prince, wearing sunshine and ostrich plumes, and Calvan Keely, whose family are from England, before or after the Mayflower, were arbitrating their international differences over a game of craps in the "Bad Lands," at Temperance and Norris streets, yesterday afternoon, when the negotiations were broken off by Officer Murphy. Not realizing the peaceful symbolism of their dice box, the patrolman arrested the contrast-ing boys for disorderly conduct. The police court will entertain today the high contracting parties to the interrupted treaty.

The Misses Minnie Smith, Mary Cavanaugh and Bessie Clark were enjoying an afternoon tea when the same Officer Murphy intruded an objection. He said that the "Bad Lands" cus-tom at an afternoon tea of drinking beer out of a pitcher and dancing on the tea table were contrary to every manual of polite etiquette for sale on East Seventh street.
