

ST. PAUL SOCIAL.

Social life is very slow at present. Every one is busy preparing for the usual flight to sea shore and lake side resorts, and many have already departed. There does not seem to be any particular reason why people don't entertain. It is simply lack of interest and inclination. An occasional tea or luncheon breaks the monotony here and there.

Mrs. Eastman will be at home in June at Mahtomedi. Miss Katherine C. Jones, of St. Paul, and A. Foster, of St. Louis, will be married in the city on May 15. Miss Margaret Murnane and Neal Silke were married Wednesday at the cathedral by Father Heiron.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

Last Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Leonard were surprised at their home on Laurel avenue by a party of their friends in honor of Mr. Leonard's birthday. Progressive euchre was played. The prizes were won as follows: Ladies' head, Mrs. Mahew, gent's head, Mr. Mahew; John McHugh, gent's progressive; Mrs. McDonald, ladies' progressive. After the game supper was served, and music and dancing followed. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. George E. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. John McHugh, Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Maybaw, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly, Linnbach, Mary McLaughlin, Mrs. V. Leonard, Judge and Mrs. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Foley; Misses Rice, Miller and McLaughlin. A pleasant surprise party was given Friday evening for Frank Rapp in honor of his birthday at her home, 75 Rapp street. The following guests were present: Mesdames Timmes, Bolder and Hilder; Misses Emma Frost, Annie V. Rapp, Caroline Huetter, Amelia Timmes, Anna Venne, Magdalen Venne, Emma Brusche, Carrie Stumper, Anna Bach, Magdalen Kasendorf and Messrs. Timme, George Cremer, Adolph Reinecke, Otto Luetteg, Adolph Kotsch, Erwin Luetteg, Gus Schultz, Otto Schnepf, Louis Gant, John Rapp, Alexander Rapp. Dancing was indulged in.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Miss Lizette Smith at her residence, 223 Rice street, Thursday evening by a number of her young friends. Dancing, games and music were the features of the evening. Lunch was served at 10:30. Among those present were Misses Mary Ryan, Rita Doe, Mamie Linnbach, Mary McLaughlin, Mrs. Anna Venne, Virginia Canning, Jennie McLaughlin, Elnor Bagot, Eveline Doe, Uenice Julian, Annie Arnold, Mrs. E. W. Ames, McQuade, Nellie Devereux, Mamie O'Keefe and Lizette Smith; Messrs. James Devereux, Hugh McQuade, Robert Doe, James McManus, Charles Heenan, Arthur Pringle, John O'Keefe, Albert Verrill, Freddie Messing, Anthony Bzvan. One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the year party given by the young women of the Friends Church club, at Renner's hall, last Wednesday evening. The committee, consisting of Miss Thompson, Miss M. Gutzman, and Miss Oliver, performed their duties in a most perfect and precise manner. In fact, they were an ideal committee. Miss Bertoni, Miss Oliver and Miss Lemke assisted in receiving. Luncheon was served at midnight to about twenty-five couples, after which dancing was resumed. The next meeting of the club will take place at the home of Miss Oliver, of Fuller street.

A most delightful entertainment was given last week at the residence of Mrs. M. Holl, Hoffman avenue, by the Young Ladies' German Reading Club of Dayton's Block. The committee, consisting of Misses Holl, Mertens, Bremer, Naumann, Kuhl and Clara Seeger. A one-act comedy entitled "In Season" was most successfully given. Then followed tableaux—"Das Orakel," "Die Spanische Tancerin," "Gretchen an Spinnerin," "Die Madchen Kapelle." Miss Bieri also gave some selections on the piano. The evening closed with dancing.

A most enjoyable party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Drummond, 47 Litchfield avenue, Thursday evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. James Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. George McCree, Mrs. Brodie; Misses Queen Henderson, Olga Hennerson, Maud Johnson, Agnes Christenson, Maggie Dougherty, Minnie Conners, Lillian Danarac, Isabel Ide, Maud Preston; Messrs. LOOKING FORWARD.

The most pleasing of the spring entertainments yet announced is that to be given in the guild hall of Christ church on Thursday evening, May 2. A number of a grotesque and most graceful of the young misses of the city will appear in pretty costumes and will be the characters in a play of four acts, written by Mrs. Mary Officer, who modestly calls it a "skit," and in a fan drill which will here some years ago. The play is much applauded. The play is entitled "Our Club and its Aspirations" and will be given under the personal direction of Mrs. Officer. The young misses taking part are Miss Jennie Durhan, Miss Elsie Kopper, Miss Helen Palmer, Miss Julia McMichael, Miss Helen Palmer, Miss Mary McMichael, Miss Edith McMillan, Miss Evelyn Officer, Miss Helen Palmer. The very admirable talent of the lady who wrote the play is an assurance that it will be well worth seeing. The fan drill will be the second part and will be under the direction of "Captain" Miss Isabel Cooley, who will command Miss Officer, Miss Mary Saunders and Miss Florence Groff. The North Star Mission, of Dayton's Block, has kindly consented to assist on the occasion. The patronesses are Mesdames Edgerton, Timberlake, J. H. Schiller, E. N. George Armstrong, Spaulding, C. Carpenter, W. B. Bend, A. G. Langston, J. B. Blood, C. E. Mayo, William Dawson, Hunter, H. R. McMaisters, S. Bell-It's an easy matter for a girl to fall in love with a worthless man. Nell-Yes. But when she has to support him by taking in washing there's the rub.

fairs will get into print. When the boat club had its benefit some weeks ago, this young man procured two tickets for the affair for his mother, and as she was disappointed by a friend who had promised to accompany her, the extra ticket was left upon his hands. Now, the young fellow, like many another of his profession, is an ardent admirer of the fair sex, and it took him but a short time to fit himself to one of the large office buildings where a charming typewriter pounds out legal and illegal notices for a firm of well known lawyers. This same typewriter had some time before presented her reportorial admirer with her photograph, as typewriters are wont to do, and not knowing exactly how to account for the picture which he had placed over his dressing case, the young man of resources had informed his mother that the likeness was that of the society editor of the paper. Forgetful that fond mothers are ever observing where their sons' interests are at stake, the typewriter was carefully guarded to the theater and left in charge of a polite usher, who duly seated her aside her might-be mother-in-law, and the young man, congratulating himself upon his cleverness, wandered off looking for news. Well, it only took the fond mother about the length of one act to recognize the girl by her side as the original of the photograph, and, being talkative, as elderly ladies usually are, she immediately introduced herself, and inquired if this were Miss Dash. Of course, the typewriter was not Miss Dash, and didn't want to be Miss Dash, and, of course, there was a mutual explanation and a chill in the atmosphere until the end of the play, and the guileless young man of Newspaper Row has taboored typewriters.

MATRIMONIAL VENTURES.

Last Tuesday afternoon, April 28, at the home of the bride's parents, in Washaba, Minn., John H. Krch, of St. Paul, and Cora M. Baustman, of Washaba, were married. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. H. O. Harbach, of the Methodist church, was witnessed by only a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The groom was attended by George P. Krch, his brother, as best man, while Miss Elnora Chadwick acted as bridesmaid. After the ceremony the happy couple departed for St. Paul, where Mr. and Mrs. Krch will be at home to their many friends after May 6 at 40 West Seventh street.

Miss Daisy Swan and Charles Porter Eastman were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. B. Swan, 48 Dayton avenue, by Rev. Addison Moore, of Woodland Park church. Mr. and
