MINNEAPOLIS.

THE MINNEAPOLIS OFFICE OF THE DAILY GLOBE HAS BEEN REMOVED TO 29 SOUTH FOURTH STREET. MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Col. T. D. Vroom, inspector general of Chicago, will conduct the annual inspection of the military department of the university, Tuesday afternoon, at 12:45.

E. D. Scott, former proprietor of the Oak Grove house, at Cedar Lake, died at the city hospital Friday of congestion of the brain. He leaves a wife and three sons.

Hugh Boyle, who was thought to be implicated with Haugerson, the man shot by Officer Dugan, was arraigned before Judge Kerr Friday and ordered out of town.

The police have been requested to arrest John Lee, who escaped from the jail at Henderson, Minn., Friday night. Lee is of medium size, dark complexion, thirty years old and has dark mustache.

Mrs. Arthur M. Vankirk and Mrs. J. R. Martin were thrown from their buggy near Lake Harriet. The horse became frightened just as it was crossing the bridge over the electric tracks. Both ladies were injured, but not seriously.

The first half of this week at the Bijou will be given over to the initial production in this city of "The Wicklow Postman," an Irish comedy-drama, which was produced with strong success in New York city.

The cast is headed by Eugene O'Rourke, an actor of considerable talent.

A horse belonging to Joseph Rohlschek, the clothier, was driven away from Hennepin avenue and Third street Friday afternoon. The man who was seen driving the horse, a buggy, answers to the description of the man who has been doing considerable foraging about town. The police are looking for him.

For four nights and a popular-prize matinee, commencing this evening, the Metropolitan will have one of the most delightful attractions of the season in the engagement of that skilled musical organization known as Clara Schuman's Ladies' orchestra. Every artist in the company is said to be a finished musician.

Workmen Entertain. The Lyceum theater presented a very pretty appearance last evening, decorated with flags and banners. The occasion was the entertainment given by the A. O. U. W. and the D. of H. The programme was of a decidedly varied character, and included numbers by some of the best talent of the city and a short one-act comedy. The opening was a selection by the Masonic quartette, which, as usual, received an encore. The next number was a recitation by Mrs. Julia E. F. Lobdell entitled "The Message." A pleasing feature of her number was the introduction of low music during the latter part, which swelled gradually as she gave the dramatic finish.

The most novel number of the programme was a selection by H. H. Stone, depicting the tones of his instruments were like those of a violin and piano blended together in perfect harmony.

Second Body Recovered. Martin Spencer and son, of Oteago, Minn., were drowned in the Mississippi, near their home, April 24. Thursday the body of the father was recovered at Anoka, and yesterday that of the son was taken from the water two miles above Shingle creek, it having been in the river sixteen days. The body was discovered by a young man who had followed the river in search of it since the drowning. Coroner Kistler was called to the scene, and ordered the removal of the body to Wright county, there to be disposed of by the authorities.

Resuming Work on the Reservoir. Next Monday morning the big hole which marks the place where the city's great reservoir is to be located will be filled with hundreds of men and teams, and the work of completing the vast enterprise will be resumed after a vacation of about six months. There still remains much to be done in the way of excavation and making the embankments. About 40,000 yards will have to be handled, and this will require about six weeks. It will not be necessary to wait until this is completed in order to lay the sheathing stone and the concrete, but this branch of the work will be inaugurated at once. There are sufficient funds on hand for prosecuting the operations in a vigorous manner for several months.

HORSE SHOW ENTRIES. They Will Close Next Monday—The Features This Year. Entries to the Minneapolis horse show close on Monday, and parties desiring to exhibit their turnouts should have their horses named by Monday evening. For every style of equipage and all classes of horses liberal prizes are offered, and the show promises to far excel the excellent exhibition made last season.

The carriage and coach horse exhibit should be the best ever made in the Northwest, and the pony division for the Shetland class will undoubtedly receive a large entry. In the saddle classes there will be a fine display of horses, as many of the very best horses in the country will be shown.

A special feature of the show this season will be the floral exhibit, several of the local florists having designs made up with a view of capturing the big silver cup offered for the best display in that division. For the best delivery turnout a rich prize is offered, and in this class great competition is expected. Many attractive turnouts will be shown, and the exhibit will be enhanced this season by the club show and drill by the cycle club. A rich musical programme will be given by a military band during the entire show, and everything now points to a grandly successful exhibit. Entry blanks and information regarding the show can be obtained of R. F. Jones, secretary, No. 55 Fourth street south, Minneapolis.

Ballington Booth Coming. Paul Humphreys, who is at the head of "God's American Volunteers" in this city, has received a telegram from Commander Ballington Booth, saying that Maj. Fielding and himself will visit Minneapolis Saturday night, May 16; Sunday morning, May 17, St. Paul; Sunday afternoon, Minneapolis. A special meeting was held Friday evening after the services, and it was decided to secure the Lyceum theater for the Saturday evening meeting. The place of the Sunday afternoon meeting will be decided later. The volunteers are continuing to hold regular meetings at 104 Hennepin avenue, and report good progress.

Long and Busy Life Ended. James A. Gilbert died yesterday at his residence, 2219 Twenty-fourth avenue south, of gastritis, age, seventy-two years. Mr. Gilbert was born at Toronto, Canada, in 1824, and came to Minneapolis in 1888, and had charge of the car department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad until 1884. He leaves a wife and seven children. Funeral will be held from his late residence Monday afternoon, at 2 p. m.

The Twin City branches of the American Type Foundry Company are established in the efficient management of Mr. J. E. Brandt, and in Minneapolis at 113 First avenue south, with Mr. C. C. Webster in control.

Fewer Acquitted. The jury in the case of the state against Walter Fewer charged with assaulting Officer John Thompson with intent to kill, brought in a verdict of not guilty this morning, and Fewer was released. The jury had been out all night. This was the second trial of the case, the former trial resulting in a disagreement. Fewer is still under bonds under the second indictment charging him with assault on Officer Oberg.

Waltbrecht Will Recover. Carl Waltbrecht, who attempted to commit suicide Friday evening by shooting himself in the head, at his home 61 Hoag avenue north, is expected to recover from the effects of the injury. His condition yesterday was greatly improved, and his attendants anticipate no unfavorable results.

Ames Is Made Cashier. Fred W. Ames was yesterday appointed cashier at the postoffice by Postmaster Holbrook, out of a field of thirty. T. J. Buxton made a hard fight for the position, but Mr. Ames had the endorsement of a large number of the leading business men of the city.

The Creamery Buffet. Formerly the Creamery Restaurant, 252, 254 First avenue south, Minneapolis, has been remodeled with elegantly furnished dining rooms up stairs for the general public and private dinner parties. Everything first-class. The patronage of the public solicited.

Buxton on Ball Again. Sheriff Holmberg yesterday released from custody his federal prisoner, Junot D. Buxton, a bond for his behavior in the sum of $2,500 having been furnished by E. E. Austin; William Liggett and Ezra W. Goddard.

FLETCHER PASSES INSPECTION. The Congressman Appears Before the Veterans and Tells of His Pension Work.

The sound-money Democracy, of Minneapolis, a club of which was organized a week ago and of which Judge Ueland is president, and Alfred Shirlock is secretary, held an open meeting last evening at the rooms of the Hennepin Democratic league, and listened to a scholarly and extremely practical talk on the money question by Prof. W. M. West, of the university.

The carriage and coach horse exhibit should be the best ever made in the Northwest, and the pony division for the Shetland class will undoubtedly receive a large entry. In the saddle classes there will be a fine display of horses, as many of the very best horses in the country will be shown.

NERVE RESTORER.

A Natural Remedy for Diseases of the Nervous System—Fifteen Years an Invalid.

J. W. Draper, of Gainesboro, Tenn., writes: "For fifteen years previous to our marriage my wife had been a constant sufferer, never able to do the slightest work. Many times, when she attempted to do some little thing, she was compelled to take a rest. When we were married she said she could not live six months. Her nervous system was deranged from the drugs and strong medicines she had been obliged to take; but, notwithstanding all this, after a course of Pe-ru-na, she was wonderfully improved, until now she is the very picture of health, doing her own housework and cooking for several boarders besides."

Pe-ru-na is a natural and efficient nerve tonic. It strengthens and restores the activity of every nerve in the body. Through the use of Pe-ru-na the weakened or over-worked nervous system regains its natural strength and the blood vessels begin to regulate the flow according to nature's laws. Congestions immediately disappear. It is through its operation upon the nervous system that Pe-ru-na has secured such a world-wide reputation as a sure and reliable cathartic cure.

THE CHILDREN'S MITE.

It Is to Be Sent to Relief of Armenians—$455.73 Subscribed.

Two men staggering beneath the weight of a wooden chest and its contents walked into the mayor's office yesterday afternoon. They deposited their burden on the floor behind the rail. It gave forth a metallic clink as one end fell to the floor.

"What have you in that box?" asked Secretary Forbes. "Why, I believe there's a little money in it," said one of the men, cautiously. "It comes from the school children, under direction of Supt. Jordan."

Secretary Forbes opened the box, and for a moment he was almost as surprised as Monte Christo is said to have been upon a certain occasion. There, before his very eyes, was a box full of coin, and in the glitter of the sunlight it looked like gold. A good part of it was copper. A note fluttered on top. Mr. Forbes opened it and read: "To the Armenian relief committee for the benefit of the Armenian sufferers. From the school children of Minneapolis."

Mrs. Anna Kreidt, the stenographer, put aside her usual duties, called in Inspector Joe Ryan to help her, and commenced counting the treasure. After the nickels and pennies, which made up the pile, had been sorted together by themselves, Miss Kreidt brought her expert accountant faculties to bear, and after two or three hours' work she informed the interested on-lookers that the school children of Minneapolis, in scarce a week's time, had raised $455.73 through popular subscription, and in pennies and nickels at that. It now reposes in the mayor's safe, and will be sent on to the relief committee as soon as possible.

BASE BALL BRIEFS.

It seems that the name of Indianapolis' clever little twirler is not spelled as though he were Pythias' partner, but is Damman.

Minneapolis rooters have nicknamed Tony Mullane Svengali. This curvies hypnotize the Flour City hitters.

Columbus thinks as much of its amateurs as of its professionals.

Louisville has traded Outfielder Wright and catcher Eddie Boyd, drafted from St. Paul, to Pittsburgh; Billy Glingman, who was with Milwaukee in 1914.

It looks very much as though Fred Roof would have to have a rest. His arm is again in bad shape, and nothing but hot weather will mend it. This is unfortunate, but Roof's work after his arm gets good will more than make up for his loss now.

Jimmy Manning may have another phenom to sell to the league next season. Bevis, the young pitcher he picked up in Kansas City, is doing such excellent work that Manning believes he has a great find—Several Exchanges.

Ban Johnson may be along in a few days.

Milwaukee is kicking because Pitcher Barnes does not back up first base as it thinks he should.

The Philadelphia batting order has been changed. Instead of Sullivan leading, Nash now takes the honor.

The Senators are economical in the use of base balls. Three balls a game on an average are used in a game in Washington.

Pitcher Maul and Jack Crooks will join the Washingtons at Pittsburgh. It is said that Maul's pitching arm is again in good shape.

McClosky is willing to wager that Louisville doesn't finish the season in the twelfth place.

Baltimore bleacher patrons want an awning.

Kansas City predicts that Detroit's winning streak will end May 19, when the Tigers meet the Blues.

Anson is reported to have made a phenom deal to get Fielder Flynn, who took Wilcox's place. He is said to be a terror with the stick.

Kansas City fans have made a vow to give Umpire McDermott a warm reception if he ever makes another appearance in Kansas City.

Ex-Ball Player Frank A. Harris, who was under sentence of death at Joliet, has had his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life by Gov. Altgeld.

Artie Latham wears a sweater on his throwing arm and hand to cover a scar at the elbow. Von der Ahe has promised him that he may play again as soon as that member is toasted to a proper St. Louis brown.

"Instructor in base ball" is the latest appointment at Harvard. Tom Bond, the old league player, who has been coaching the 'varsity nine, has received the appointment of that chair. He is now at the service of any student of the university who desires to learn the national game.

Anson has always played base ball as a true sportsman. He has always preserved his integrity. Never in his long, and at times, successful career has he ever played to the galleries or appealed for support of his team on the grounds of local pride when his ball play-

Learned Medics Find a Disease Germ in Cycling.

Since bicycling has become so popular, the doctors have discovered various new ailments and injurious effects that result from riding. The latest investigation by a French physician has resulted in finding that cyclists are subject to the "vibratory habit," says the New York Journal.

Unknown to themselves, they develop a general vibratory condition of the body. They become like a human tuning fork, which vibrates at high tension.

The disease is a kind of intoxication for movement that is shown in an unconscious, or semi-conscious, hearing of the body, which becomes especially plain when great steadiness is called for, as for instance, in sitting for a photograph. It is shown also in an over-desire for rapidity of motion, as if it were necessary at every moment to overcome time and curtail distances by labor of an extreme kind. The constant impression given is that the sufferer from this general vibratory condition of the body must jump on his wheel and be off, although the weather and circumstances are not opportune for riding. The whole manner bespeaks haste, although there is not the slightest occasion for it.

WITH THE HORSES.

Ed Geers drove Robert J. a mile last week

"The pitcher was allowed to deliver nine unfair balls to the batsman before the umpire could call every unfair ball delivered. The position of the pitcher, viz. the 'box' was six feet square, and the front line was distant from the home-plate only forty-five feet. When the batsman took his position he had to call for either a 'high ball,' a 'low ball' or a 'fair ball.' The ball being a ball between the high and not lower than a foot from the ground. After two strikes had been called, the umpire had to warn the batsman once before calling the third strike, thus allowing him four 'good balls' to strike at.

"A singular feature of the rules was that the umpire was prohibited from entering the diamond field of play while the ball was in play. Just contrast this code of playing rules of twenty years ago—how greatly in advance of the code of 1860—with the rules of 1886, and one can readily perceive how the game has been improved."
