ORATORS OF THE U. DEFEATED IN THE INTERCOLLEGIATE CONTEST. MISSISSIPPI ON A RAMPAGE.

DESTRUCTION OF BARNS AND LOSS OF MILLIONS OF FEET OF LOGS IMMINENT.

ALDERMAN SNYDER HELD UP.

Highwaymen Pay Their Respects to the Council President—News of Minneapolis.

The universities of Iowa and Minnesota locked horns last evening in joint debate, the contest taking place in the chapel room of the library building at the local institution, before an audience of 200 students and instructors. The visitors won the debate, but are not entitled to all the honors, for the discussion was conceded to be the best ever heard at the university of Minnesota. The local speakers had the affirmative, and put up good arguments in favor of the question.

The Iowans were equally well prepared, and every proposition advanced by the affirmative was promptly met and refuted by the negative. In fact, the debate was lost on account of a failure of proof of the question. It was not as usual simply a balancing of arguments. Both sides evidently believed in the justice of their cause, and the treatment of opponents in every case was courteous and dignified. Minnesota won on Iowa ground last year, and now the situation is reversed, to the satisfaction of all.

The question discussed was stated by the chairman, Milton Davis, of the senior class, as follows: "Resolved: That it would be advisable for America to make a treaty with the Indians to organize and administer their own local government subject only to the constitutional power of the state should not be exercised in such a way as to interfere with the plain and obvious purposes of this measure."

The debaters were, for Minnesota—Sidney Phelps, E. F. McGinnis and L. T. Savage; for Iowa—C. G. Berling, T. J. Fitzpatrick and J. G. McAlvin, and the judges were Judge C. C. Brooke, Hon. F. C. Stevens and Gen. George R. Becker.

The debate was interesting and instructive, and, although the local speakers were not victorious, they were well heard. The subject is of great importance, and it is hoped that the result might easily have been in their favor.

MISSISSIPPI ON A RAMPAGE.

Loss of Millions of Feet of Logs Is Feared. The old Mississippi is on a tear again, and this time he threatens to do thousands of dollars damage to property before he settles down. He is now in a tearing rage, and is doing a fearful business.

Wednesday the river raised some three inches, and at 11 o'clock last night it was reported at the North side pumping station that the water had risen nearly two inches since 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The water is still coming up. It is stated that if another raise of eight inches should take place, there would be exciting times in the booms and under the bridges. The rise in the river will not be felt until the morning. Where the trouble will be with the boom companies along the Mississippi and Rum rivers. Telegrams were received yesterday by the Mississippi and Rum River boom company that at Little Falls serious trouble was expected. Pinned up in the booms along the two rivers there are 100,000,000 feet of lumber, and the terrible force and strain of the logs on the boom in resisting the flood cannot be estimated. If a chain breaks, and a log jam occurs, there will be few bridges left between this city and Little Falls.

A break of any extent occurs, thousands of logs will come racing madly for the lower river, and in all probability there will be a jam at St. Anthony falls, or above. The river is being watched with the closest attention, and warnings have been posted at different booms and towns to give warning the moment anything serious occurs. A scout went out last night along the river banks for several miles above the city, but at midnight no word had been received from him. The logging and lumber concerns have reinforced their booms with heavy chains, but even these may not withstand the terrific strain.

On the fact that the sawmills are also living in fear of a complete inundation. At the Washington avenue south bridge, the water line in places has reached very nearly to the rear ends of the cottages, leaving spaces of no more than a foot. The streamer Daisy could easily make its way a half-mile above the Washington avenue landing.

PLEASING TO PYTHIANS.

Two State Divisions Will Attend the Minneapolis Encampment. The Minneapolis Pythian reunion has risen to the dignity of an interstate encampment, in which the great states of Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and North and South Dakota will be represented by thousands of uniformed hosts.

Col. Fred Wheaton, upon the invitation of Brig. Gen. John C. Loper, of Des Moines, commander in chief of the division of Iowa, left last night for Oskaloosa to attend the meeting of the brigade officers which has been called in the Hawkeye city today. This gathering of the Iowa Knights is especially called in the interests of their common cause. This year, and already Minneapolis' headquarters has received assurances from the majority of the regiments of Iowa that their votes will be cast solidly for Minneapolis. So earnest have been the expressions that the presence of the Iowa brigade in the Flour City next September is a foregone conclusion, and there is scarcely a doubt but what the Oskaloosa meeting will ratify the action of the division officers.

Col. Wheaton will return home Saturday, but will leave Sunday for Chicago, where he will attend the meeting of the brigade officers of Illinois. The Illinois Sir Knights are overwhelmingly in favor of Minneapolis as the place for holding their encampment, and their expressions of good will for this city are as hearty as those of the Iowa Pythians. Gen. Barry, of Wisconsin, has promised to attend the Chicago meeting in company with Minneapolis representatives, and to use his influence in presenting the claims of this city.

HELD UP AN ALDERMAN.

Highwaymen Pay Their Respects to President Snyder. President Frederick B. Snyder, presiding officer of the city council, and acting mayor when Robert Pratt is out of town, has been held up at the point of the revolver by highwaymen. The deed was committed on Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, at the corner of Fourth street and Ninth avenue southeast, within a block or two of the president's own doorstep. He was so modest about the honor which had been conferred upon him by the highwaymen, that he kept the thing quiet all day yesterday and the rest of the fatal night, telling only the police of the incident. The president is minus a gold watch, chain and charm, worth in the neighborhood of $100. The three highwaymen have it. The team which did the work were past grand masters in their art. They are undoubtedly the same trio which held up a street commissioner the other night in North Minneapolis, and who have been operating all over the city for the

She beats the Massachusetts for defense and offense, and only needed the trial to prove that she can carry these powers at a speed greater than any of her former rivals. BEST SHIP AFLOAT

NEW WORLDS RECORD FOR BATTLE SHIPS ESTABLISHED BY THE OREGON. TWENTY MILES IN AN HOUR.

HAS NO RIVAL FOR SPEED IN HER CLASS IN ANY NAVY OF THE WORLD.

FOR DEFENSE OR OFFENSE.

As Powerful a Fighter as the Wonderful Massachusetts and a Little Faster.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., May 14.—On its official trial trip today, the battleship Oregon made a world-breaking record of 16.78 knots an hour, and gained a bonus of $175,000. The machinery ran smoothly from start to finish, and there was not the slightest accident.

On her official trial the Oregon covered 63 knots, the official government course, in 3 hours 40 minutes and 48 seconds, making the magnificent average speed for the time over the course of 16.78 knots, or 19.35 miles an hour. This speed places her in the very front rank of ships of her class in the navies of the world, beating the Massachusetts, which had a record of 16.15 knots, and the Indiana, with a record of 15.61 knots.

The big ship started over the line at 8:11 a. m. and reached Point Conception at 10 o'clock, making an average speed of 17.09 knots. Fifteen minutes and fourteen seconds were consumed in turning and an average of 18.3 knots was made on the return. She crossed the finish line at 11:54. The run both ways was 16.78 knots, with a maximum for six miles of 17.34 knots, while running under 160 pounds of steam pressure, the engines making 128 to 130 revolutions, with much less than the allowed air pressure. After the trial the Oregon went through maneuvers for three hours, all of which time she behaved beautifully. Irving M. Scott, president of the Union Iron Works, in speaking of the result, said: "The trial today makes the Oregon absolutely unrivaled among the ironclads of the world. She beats the Massachusetts for defense and offense, and only needed the trial to prove that she can carry these powers at a speed greater than any of her former rivals. The president said the conference was a gratifying exhibition of a wide public sentiment in favor of arbitration. In his message he had given utterance to his own views and was glad to have them sustained by the conference. What had been said concerning the issue which should bind together the English-speaking people had great force, and it was impossible to overestimate the potency and beneficial influence of concerted effort for peace by these two peoples.
