

THE DAILY GLOBE

IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT NEWSPAPER ROW, COR. FOURTH AND MINNESOTA STS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Payable in Advance. Daily and Sunday, per Month $5.00. Daily and Sunday, Six Months $27.75. Daily and Sunday, One Year $50.00.

Address all letters and telegrams to THE GLOBE, St. Paul, Minn.

EASTERN ADVERTISING OFFICE, ROOM 517, TEMPLE COURT BUILDING, NEW YORK.

WASHINGTON BUREAU, 1406 F ST. N. W. Complete files of the Globe always kept on hand for reference.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Forecast for Saturday: For Minnesota—Fair in the south-east, local rains in northwest portions; south-westerly winds.

For Wisconsin—Generally fair; slightly warmer; light easterly winds.

For the Dakotas—Partly cloudy weather; probably local showers; warmer in eastern portion; southerly winds.

For Montana—Partly cloudy weather; probably local rains in northern portions; cooler in northern portions; westerly winds.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

United States Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, May 22, 8:48 p. m. Local time, 8 p. m. 75th Meridian Time—Observations taken at the same moment of time at all stations.

TEMPERATURES.

Table with columns: Place, Temp. Place, Temp. St. Paul, 62. Duluth, 42. Huron, 42. Bismarck, 56-66. Winona, 56-64. Mankato, 56-64. Eau Claire, 56-64. Madison, 56-64. Janesville, 56-64. Beloit, 56-64. Rockford, 56-64. Peoria, 56-64. Quincy, 56-64. St. Louis, 56-64. Chicago, 56-64. Detroit, 56-64. Cleveland, 56-64. Columbus, 56-64. Indianapolis, 56-64. St. Paul, 62.

DAILY MEANS.

Table with columns: Barometer, 30.15; thermometer, 59; relative humidity, 69; wind, northeast; weather, partly cloudy; maximum thermometer, 69; minimum thermometer, 49; daily range, 20; amount of rainfall in last twenty-four hours, 0.

A FOOLISH THEORY.

Time out of mind parties have been beaten because they took their stand upon platforms and principles based upon the thought, without regard to the opinions of their own members, that they would draw votes from the opposition. This seems to be, indeed, a ruling idea in the politics of today.

When the others are closed it will be found that the Democracy, by this policy, has not only lost thousands of voters, but has disgusted and disheartened thousands that have always been true to it, so as to require years of careful reorganization and rebuilding before the Democratic party will be itself again.

The consequences of this policy are disappointing and destructive. The body of the party itself, seeing the leaders apparently drifting away from fundamental principles, and hunting constantly for some new thing to advocate, lose their attachment and their enthusiasm. They no longer recognize the party to which they have been so earnestly devoted, and either stay away from the polls altogether or vote the ticket perfunctorily and with misgivings.

CANT, SNIVEL AND HYPOCRISY.

It is a humiliating spectacle which the Democratic party of the sound and prosperous state of Iowa will enact at Dubuque today. Think of one of the great political organizations, in a state which has always been esteemed as sound as New York or Massachusetts, resolving in favor of a heresy which means 60-cent dollars, inflation of currency and depreciation of wages.

There was a time, not so many years ago, when both the great parties in this country were engaged in almost every state in making elaborate straddles on the question of regulating the liquor traffic. There was at that time, as there is now, a Prohibition party.

with one hand, while with the other they offered to the liquor interest a practical immunity. While the agitation lasted the result was to bring demoralization, particularly to the Republicans, who were the most anxious to straddle, in the pretty nearly half the states of the Union.

The familiar process is now being repeated in the case of the movement for the free coinage of silver. If that change in our monetary system were ever to be brought about in this country, which it certainly never will be, it would come through the agency of a free silver party.

It becomes, therefore, a simple problem in subtraction to show what the effect must be upon the Democratic vote of any declaration that leads to free silver. It will drive away the gold standard Democrats. It will not bring in a corporal's guard of free silver men who would otherwise vote a different ticket.

This is not a mere hypothesis. It is a fact, proved by all political history, and reinforced by recent experience. The free silver men carried the state convention of Missouri with a whirl. There was no opposition to them. They went on the assumption that they would gather in the free silver Republicans and Populists, and restore the weakened party strength by a massing of the vote.

It was even claimed that there were 50,000 Republicans in Missouri who would vote the Democratic ticket on a free silver platform. The thing has been done and the returns are called for. The St. Louis Republic, which is not itself hostile to free coinage, has called for proofs that since the convention outsiders have been brought in by the free coinage declaration.

Not a single instance of any such conversion appears. Despite the enormous claims that have been made, not a Republican has been discovered in that state who is going to support Democratic candidates on the financial issue. Further than that, it is perfectly obvious that if there is a ticket placed in the field by the straight free silver party, it will not only receive all the votes of those who would naturally go to it, but it will draw very largely from the Democratic voting strength.

A number of men whose Democracy has yielded to financial misbelief will go one step further, and cast in their lot with a party which can claim, fitly, to represent more distinctly and faithfully than any other the one issue which, in their minds, overshadows all others.

When the others are closed it will be found that the Democracy, by this policy, has not only lost thousands of voters, but has disgusted and disheartened thousands that have always been true to it, so as to require years of careful reorganization and rebuilding before the Democratic party will be itself again.

On April 23, 1891, after the preliminary drubbing his party received in the preceding congressional elections, and when, satisfied that the country would stand no such nonsense as McKinleyism, his managers were casting about for some new issue, Mr. Clarkson, just elected president of the League of Republican Clubs, was in Boston on his way to Europe. He was "in a talkative mood" when he met the agent of the Associated Press, and he proceeded to impart to him his "views." After locating the seat of Republican power in the West, he assured the reporter that "its people will never consent to see the treasures of this country dwarfed to what is called the 'gold basis' as a standard of values."

BOB EVANS' SHOES

Several ambitious Republicans would like to try them on. They would wear them himself. Preliminaries to a pretty contest for the national committee. Bryant figures for Clapp. E. P. Barham's name may be presented in the State Democratic Convention.

AN OLD FABLE RECALLED.

The ancient fable of the man who terrified his companions by shouting that a wolf was pursuing him, and laughed at their discomfiture when they came to his rescue, and who was actually devoured by the wild beast later on because those who might have saved him thought that his distress was mere simulation, is recalled forcibly by the character of the opposition to Mr. McKinley's nomination.

It is nothing less than a fight for the position now held by Bob Evans, as national committee man. Evans is one of the delegates at large to the national convention, and through this fact, coupled with a large personal acquaintance in the state, he hopes to be able to hold the job for the next four years.

Ev-Gov. Merriam is also being mixed up in another story, to the effect that he is ambitious to succeed Bob Evans himself. The fact is that Mr. Merriam's many bids to Ohio and his hobnobbing with McKinley. People who talk of it say the Minnesota leader would not take a cabinet position if it were tendered him; but he does very much to the contrary.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Merriam enters the lists for the place. In conversation yesterday with a Globe reporter Fred Bryant admitted that he thinks Mr. E. Clapp will be the majority in the Ramsey county Republican caucus to elect delegates to the state convention.

That this is so was indicated by a particularly bitter attack on W. R. Merriam in the Minneapolis Journal of Thursday evening. The writer predicted dire results if the ex-governor should be successful in the schemes he is alleged to have on foot.

Hon. Daniel Shell was in town yesterday strictly on business, as he said. He would not talk politics, except in a round about way, but it was easy to see that Dan expects Gov. Clough for the gubernatorial nomination to the state convention.

WITH INTENT TO AMUSE.

Stranger—Well, boys, how did the game go today? Boys—We lost. Stranger—What have you got in that bundle? Boys—The Empire—Buffalo Times.

Passenger on a branch line, to guard—Say, why does the engine always set up such a piteous howl at this particular spot? Guard—Ah, it was here the engine-driver first met his wife—London Punch.

BUMPS AND HYPNOTISM.

The St. Paul Phrenological society held its regular weekly meeting last evening in Central hall block. The subject under discussion was "Hypnotism in its Relation to the Conformation of the Subject's Head."

BOB EVANS' SHOES

Several ambitious Republicans would like to try them on. They would wear them himself. Preliminaries to a pretty contest for the national committee. Bryant figures for Clapp. E. P. Barham's name may be presented in the State Democratic Convention.

AN OLD FABLE RECALLED.

The ancient fable of the man who terrified his companions by shouting that a wolf was pursuing him, and laughed at their discomfiture when they came to his rescue, and who was actually devoured by the wild beast later on because those who might have saved him thought that his distress was mere simulation, is recalled forcibly by the character of the opposition to Mr. McKinley's nomination.

It is nothing less than a fight for the position now held by Bob Evans, as national committee man. Evans is one of the delegates at large to the national convention, and through this fact, coupled with a large personal acquaintance in the state, he hopes to be able to hold the job for the next four years.

Ev-Gov. Merriam is also being mixed up in another story, to the effect that he is ambitious to succeed Bob Evans himself. The fact is that Mr. Merriam's many bids to Ohio and his hobnobbing with McKinley. People who talk of it say the Minnesota leader would not take a cabinet position if it were tendered him; but he does very much to the contrary.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Merriam enters the lists for the place. In conversation yesterday with a Globe reporter Fred Bryant admitted that he thinks Mr. E. Clapp will be the majority in the Ramsey county Republican caucus to elect delegates to the state convention.

That this is so was indicated by a particularly bitter attack on W. R. Merriam in the Minneapolis Journal of Thursday evening. The writer predicted dire results if the ex-governor should be successful in the schemes he is alleged to have on foot.

Hon. Daniel Shell was in town yesterday strictly on business, as he said. He would not talk politics, except in a round about way, but it was easy to see that Dan expects Gov. Clough for the gubernatorial nomination to the state convention.

WITH INTENT TO AMUSE.

Stranger—Well, boys, how did the game go today? Boys—We lost. Stranger—What have you got in that bundle? Boys—The Empire—Buffalo Times.

Passenger on a branch line, to guard—Say, why does the engine always set up such a piteous howl at this particular spot? Guard—Ah, it was here the engine-driver first met his wife—London Punch.

BUMPS AND HYPNOTISM.

The St. Paul Phrenological society held its regular weekly meeting last evening in Central hall block. The subject under discussion was "Hypnotism in its Relation to the Conformation of the Subject's Head."

BOB EVANS' SHOES

Several ambitious Republicans would like to try them on. They would wear them himself. Preliminaries to a pretty contest for the national committee. Bryant figures for Clapp. E. P. Barham's name may be presented in the State Democratic Convention.

AN OLD FABLE RECALLED.

The ancient fable of the man who terrified his companions by shouting that a wolf was pursuing him, and laughed at their discomfiture when they came to his rescue, and who was actually devoured by the wild beast later on because those who might have saved him thought that his distress was mere simulation, is recalled forcibly by the character of the opposition to Mr. McKinley's nomination.

It is nothing less than a fight for the position now held by Bob Evans, as national committee man. Evans is one of the delegates at large to the national convention, and through this fact, coupled with a large personal acquaintance in the state, he hopes to be able to hold the job for the next four years.

Ev-Gov. Merriam is also being mixed up in another story, to the effect that he is ambitious to succeed Bob Evans himself. The fact is that Mr. Merriam's many bids to Ohio and his hobnobbing with McKinley. People who talk of it say the Minnesota leader would not take a cabinet position if it were tendered him; but he does very much to the contrary.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Merriam enters the lists for the place. In conversation yesterday with a Globe reporter Fred Bryant admitted that he thinks Mr. E. Clapp will be the majority in the Ramsey county Republican caucus to elect delegates to the state convention.

That this is so was indicated by a particularly bitter attack on W. R. Merriam in the Minneapolis Journal of Thursday evening. The writer predicted dire results if the ex-governor should be successful in the schemes he is alleged to have on foot.

Hon. Daniel Shell was in town yesterday strictly on business, as he said. He would not talk politics, except in a round about way, but it was easy to see that Dan expects Gov. Clough for the gubernatorial nomination to the state convention.

WITH INTENT TO AMUSE.

Stranger—Well, boys, how did the game go today? Boys—We lost. Stranger—What have you got in that bundle? Boys—The Empire—Buffalo Times.

Passenger on a branch line, to guard—Say, why does the engine always set up such a piteous howl at this particular spot? Guard—Ah, it was here the engine-driver first met his wife—London Punch.

BUMPS AND HYPNOTISM.

The St. Paul Phrenological society held its regular weekly meeting last evening in Central hall block. The subject under discussion was "Hypnotism in its Relation to the Conformation of the Subject's Head."

BOB EVANS' SHOES

Several ambitious Republicans would like to try them on. They would wear them himself. Preliminaries to a pretty contest for the national committee. Bryant figures for Clapp. E. P. Barham's name may be presented in the State Democratic Convention.

AN OLD FABLE RECALLED.

The ancient fable of the man who terrified his companions by shouting that a wolf was pursuing him, and laughed at their discomfiture when they came to his rescue, and who was actually devoured by the wild beast later on because those who might have saved him thought that his distress was mere simulation, is recalled forcibly by the character of the opposition to Mr. McKinley's nomination.

It is nothing less than a fight for the position now held by Bob Evans, as national committee man. Evans is one of the delegates at large to the national convention, and through this fact, coupled with a large personal acquaintance in the state, he hopes to be able to hold the job for the next four years.

Ev-Gov. Merriam is also being mixed up in another story, to the effect that he is ambitious to succeed Bob Evans himself. The fact is that Mr. Merriam's many bids to Ohio and his hobnobbing with McKinley. People who talk of it say the Minnesota leader would not take a cabinet position if it were tendered him; but he does very much to the contrary.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Merriam enters the lists for the place. In conversation yesterday with a Globe reporter Fred Bryant admitted that he thinks Mr. E. Clapp will be the majority in the Ramsey county Republican caucus to elect delegates to the state convention.

That this is so was indicated by a particularly bitter attack on W. R. Merriam in the Minneapolis Journal of Thursday evening. The writer predicted dire results if the ex-governor should be successful in the schemes he is alleged to have on foot.

Hon. Daniel Shell was in town yesterday strictly on business, as he said. He would not talk politics, except in a round about way, but it was easy to see that Dan expects Gov. Clough for the gubernatorial nomination to the state convention.

WITH INTENT TO AMUSE.

Stranger—Well, boys, how did the game go today? Boys—We lost. Stranger—What have you got in that bundle? Boys—The Empire—Buffalo Times.

Passenger on a branch line, to guard—Say, why does the engine always set up such a piteous howl at this particular spot? Guard—Ah, it was here the engine-driver first met his wife—London Punch.

BUMPS AND HYPNOTISM.

The St. Paul Phrenological society held its regular weekly meeting last evening in Central hall block. The subject under discussion was "Hypnotism in its Relation to the Conformation of the Subject's Head."

STRIKE WAS SHORT

AND STAY OUT FOR A DAY. LAST EVENING, HOWEVER, THEY ALL RETURNED TO THEIR USUAL PLACES. RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM. Policy Instituted by the Consolidated Lighting Companies the Cause of the Strike.

If it were not for the fact that "the best laid plans of mice and men oft go awry," and also the fact that it is near the time for a full moon, the streets of St. Paul would have been enshrouded in darkness, and the interior of many stores would have resembled a large stack of black cats, for there was a strike of the operators in the employ of the St. Paul Gas company yesterday, which for a time threatened to shut down the plant.

The strike was not of long duration, however, nor were there any serious consequences, though the company was sufficiently perturbed to notify the police authorities that there might be trouble, and Officer Murnane did special duty at the power house all yesterday afternoon. There was no necessity for his presence, though, and the strikers all returned to work on the 5 o'clock relief last evening.

The strike was brought about by the resignation of Supt. Walter Snow, who has had charge of the gas company's plant for the past eight years. It is not known what caused Mr. Snow to resign his position, but it is understood that his action was pursuant to a request from his employers. Some time ago the Edison Electric Light and Power company and the St. Paul Gas company were consolidated, and George H. Finn, formerly manager of the Edison company, appointed manager of both plants. A system of retrenchment was inaugurated, which, it is said, contemplated the removal of Mr. Snow, and yesterday he took time by the forelock and tendered his resignation. Supt. McClelland, of the Edison company's plant, and in charge of the gas company's plant, and all other employees, some thirty in number, including Chief Engineer Moffat, the firemen, the men, "trimmers" and the others, left their places at noon.

In the meantime Manager Finn had been hustling around for men to take the strikers' places. He recruited an emergency force at the Edison company's plant, and also secured several men from the Brush Electric company, of Minneapolis, so that when the 1 o'clock whistle blew the machinery was running as usual.

There appeared to be no other reason for the strike than that the men resented the removal of Mr. Snow; but, nevertheless, when offered an opportunity to resume their positions, they refused to do so, and stood about the plant, sipping and sipping cover after cover of the company's patronage, which would not be able to receive satisfactory service at the hands of the new crew.

About 3 o'clock the men began to realize how ill-advised had been their move, and concluded to call upon Crawford Livingston, president of the company, to see what terms could be made regarding their reinstatement. The men were told that if they reported at 5 o'clock they would be given their old places, and last night the plant was again manned by the old crew.

The St. Paul Globe of last Sunday was a beauty—no mistaking that. The article on the third page telling how a big newspaper "sifted" had been their move, and concluded are fine. The Globe is even better than ever. It is always up to date, and is a credit to the city. The St. Paul Globe is to be congratulated on its new head. It looks ten times more efficient.—St. Croix Republican.

MARKET HOUSE SALE.

Labor Assembly Names a Committee to Investigate the Question. Secretary McKean, representing one of the committee endeavoring to get the sentiment of the taxpayers of St. Paul on the disposal of the Market House, and the erection of a library building, appeared before the trades and labor assembly last evening in favor of selling the property as soon as a reasonable price could be secured.

The delegates to the convention of the state federation of labor, Minneapolis on the 14th of June from the assembly are J. F. Krieger, Harry Franklin, Ed. B. Lott, Ed. Christopherson and H. W. Dennett. It was shown that the term of James Morrow as a representative from the assembly before the chamber of commerce had expired, and it was voted to present the name of Louis Nash as labor's representative in place of Mr. Morrow.

It was also decided to establish a reading room and library at the Labor halls, and Harry Franklin, J. Krieger, C. H. Bonn, J. L. Hughes, H. Dennett, J. F. Pamphus were appointed to secure suitable books and papers. The bill was chosen a member of the executive board to fill a vacancy.

It was also decided to establish a reading room and library at the Labor halls, and Harry Franklin, J. Krieger, C. H. Bonn, J. L. Hughes, H. Dennett, J. F. Pamphus were appointed to secure suitable books and papers. The bill was chosen a member of the executive board to fill a vacancy.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

BOB EVANS' SHOES

Several ambitious Republicans would like to try them on. They would wear them himself. Preliminaries to a pretty contest for the national committee. Bryant figures for Clapp. E. P. Barham's name may be presented in the State Democratic Convention.

AN OLD FABLE RECALLED.

The ancient fable of the man who terrified his companions by shouting that a wolf was pursuing him, and laughed at their discomfiture when they came to his rescue, and who was actually devoured by the wild beast later on because those who might have saved him thought that his distress was mere simulation, is recalled forcibly by the character of the opposition to Mr. McKinley's nomination.

It is nothing less than a fight for the position now held by Bob Evans, as national committee man. Evans is one of the delegates at large to the national convention, and through this fact, coupled with a large personal acquaintance in the state, he hopes to be able to hold the job for the next four years.

Ev-Gov. Merriam is also being mixed up in another story, to the effect that he is ambitious to succeed Bob Evans himself. The fact is that Mr. Merriam's many bids to Ohio and his hobnobbing with McKinley. People who talk of it say the Minnesota leader would not take a cabinet position if it were tendered him; but he does very much to the contrary.

It is not unlikely that Mr. Merriam enters the lists for the place. In conversation yesterday with a Globe reporter Fred Bryant admitted that he thinks Mr. E. Clapp will be the majority in the Ramsey county Republican caucus to elect delegates to the state convention.

That this is so was indicated by a particularly bitter attack on W. R. Merriam in the Minneapolis Journal of Thursday evening. The writer predicted dire results if the ex-governor should be successful in the schemes he is alleged to have on foot.

Hon. Daniel Shell was in town yesterday strictly on business, as he said. He would not talk politics, except in a round about way, but it was easy to see that Dan expects Gov. Clough for the gubernatorial nomination to the state convention.

WITH INTENT TO AMUSE.

Stranger—Well, boys, how did the game go today? Boys—We lost. Stranger—What have you got in that bundle? Boys—The Empire—Buffalo Times.

Passenger on a branch line, to guard—Say, why does the engine always set up such a piteous howl at this particular spot? Guard—Ah, it was here the engine-driver first met his wife—London Punch.

BUMPS AND HYPNOTISM.

The St. Paul Phrenological society held its regular weekly meeting last evening in Central hall block. The subject under discussion was "Hypnotism in its Relation to the Conformation of the Subject's Head."

STRIKE WAS SHORT

AND STAY OUT FOR A DAY. LAST EVENING, HOWEVER, THEY ALL RETURNED TO THEIR USUAL PLACES. RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM. Policy Instituted by the Consolidated Lighting Companies the Cause of the Strike.

If it were not for the fact that "the best laid plans of mice and men oft go awry," and also the fact that it is near the time for a full moon, the streets of St. Paul would have been enshrouded in darkness, and the interior of many stores would have resembled a large stack of black cats, for there was a strike of the operators in the employ of the St. Paul Gas company yesterday, which for a time threatened to shut down the plant.

The strike was not of long duration, however, nor were there any serious consequences, though the company was sufficiently perturbed to notify the police authorities that there might be trouble, and Officer Murnane did special duty at the power house all yesterday afternoon. There was no necessity for his presence, though, and the strikers all returned to work on the 5 o'clock relief last evening.

The strike was brought about by the resignation of Supt. Walter Snow, who has had charge of the gas company's plant for the past eight years. It is not known what caused Mr. Snow to resign his position, but it is understood that his action was pursuant to a request from his employers. Some time ago the Edison Electric Light and Power company and the St. Paul Gas company were consolidated, and George H. Finn, formerly manager of the Edison company, appointed manager of both plants.

In the meantime Manager Finn had been hustling around for men to take the strikers' places. He recruited an emergency force at the Edison company's plant, and also secured several men from the Brush Electric company, of Minneapolis, so that when the 1 o'clock whistle blew the machinery was running as usual.

There appeared to be no other reason for the strike than that the men resented the removal of Mr. Snow; but, nevertheless, when offered an opportunity to resume their positions, they refused to do so, and stood about the plant, sipping and sipping cover after cover of the company's patronage, which would not be able to receive satisfactory service at the hands of the new crew.

About 3 o'clock the men began to realize how ill-advised had been their move, and concluded to call upon Crawford Livingston, president of the company, to see what terms could be made regarding their reinstatement. The men were told that if they reported at 5 o'clock they would be given their old places, and last night the plant was again manned by the old crew.

The St. Paul Globe of last Sunday was a beauty—no mistaking that. The article on the third page telling how a big newspaper "sifted" had been their move, and concluded are fine. The Globe is even better than ever. It is always up to date, and is a credit to the city. The St. Paul Globe is to be congratulated on its new head. It looks ten times more efficient.—St. Croix Republican.

MARKET HOUSE SALE.

Labor Assembly Names a Committee to Investigate the Question. Secretary McKean, representing one of the committee endeavoring to get the sentiment of the taxpayers of St. Paul on the disposal of the Market House, and the erection of a library building, appeared before the trades and labor assembly last evening in favor of selling the property as soon as a reasonable price could be secured.

The delegates to the convention of the state federation of labor, Minneapolis on the 14th of June from the assembly are J. F. Krieger, Harry Franklin, Ed. B. Lott, Ed. Christopherson and H. W. Dennett. It was shown that the term of James Morrow as a representative from the assembly before the chamber of commerce had expired, and it was voted to present the name of Louis Nash as labor's representative in place of Mr. Morrow.

It was also decided to establish a reading room and library at the Labor halls, and Harry Franklin, J. Krieger, C. H. Bonn, J. L. Hughes, H. Dennett, J. F. Pamphus were appointed to secure suitable books and papers. The bill was chosen a member of the executive board to fill a vacancy.

It was also decided to establish a reading room and library at the Labor halls, and Harry Franklin, J. Krieger, C. H. Bonn, J. L. Hughes, H. Dennett, J. F. Pamphus were appointed to secure suitable books and papers. The bill was chosen a member of the executive board to fill a vacancy.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

The following has been presented to Mayor-elect Doran: M. N. Goss announced yesterday that he had selected J. N. Mounts as his secretary as chief of police, so the Globe's announcement of the fact has been verified.

THE DAILY GLOBE

IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT NEWSPAPER ROW, COR. FOURTH AND MINNESOTA STS.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Payable in Advance. Daily and Sunday, per Month $5.00. Daily and Sunday, Six Months $27.75. Daily and Sunday, One Year $50.00.

Address all letters and telegrams to THE GLOBE, St. Paul, Minn.

EASTERN ADVERTISING OFFICE, ROOM 517, TEMPLE COURT BUILDING, NEW YORK.

WASHINGTON BUREAU, 1406 F ST. N. W. Complete files of the Globe always kept on hand for reference.

TODAY'S WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Forecast for Saturday: For Minnesota—Fair in the south-east, local rains in northwest portions; south-westerly winds.

For Wisconsin—Generally fair; slightly warmer; light easterly winds.

For the Dakotas—Partly cloudy weather; probably local showers; warmer in eastern portion; southerly winds.

For Montana—Partly cloudy weather; probably local rains in northern portions; cooler in northern portions; westerly winds.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.