

THE DAILY GLOBE

IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT NEWSPAPER ROW, COR. FOURTH AND MINNESOTA STS.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF ST. PAUL.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. Payable in Advance.

Daily and Sunday, per Month .50 Daily and Sunday, Six Months - $2.75 Daily and Sunday, One Year - $5.00

Daily Only, per Month .40 Daily Only, Six Months - $2.25 Daily Only, One Year - $4.00

Sunday Only, One Year - $1.50 Weekly, One Year - $1.00

Address all letters and telegrams to THE GLOBE, St. Paul, Minn.

EASTERN ADVERTISING OFFICE, ROOM 517, TEMPLE COURT BUILDING, NEW YORK.

WASHINGTON BUREAU, 1405 F ST. N. W. Complete files of the Globe are kept on hand for reference.

TODAY'S WEATHER. WASHINGTON, June 2.—Forecast for Wednesday: Minnesota: Fair, except showers in extreme northern portion; warmer in southern portion; cooler in northern portions; southerly winds; increasing southerly winds; warmer.

North Dakota: Fair, probably followed by local showers Wednesday evening; cooler in western portion; southerly to westerly winds. South Dakota: Fair; warmer in eastern, cooler in western portion; southerly winds. Montana: Fair in southern; local showers in northern; cooler in eastern portions; westerly winds.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS. United States Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Washington, June 2, 6:48 a. m. Local time, 8 p. m. 70th Meridian Time.—Observations taken at the same moment of time at all stations.

TEMPERATURES.

Table with 3 columns: Place, Temp., Place, Tem. St. Paul 70, Duluth 68, Huron 68, Bemidji 68, Wilton 68, Havre 68, Helena 68, Edinburg 68, Bedford 68, Prince Albert 68, Calgary 68, Medicine Hat 68, Qu'Appelle 68.

DAILY MEANS. Barometer, 30.14; thermometer, 62; relative humidity, 50; wind, southeast; weather, clear; maximum thermometer, 75; minimum thermometer, 33; daily range, 19; amount of rainfall in last twenty-four hours, 0.

RIVER AT 8 A. M. Gauge Danger Height of Reading. Line. Water. Change.

Table with 4 columns: Reading, Line, Water, Change. St. Louis 15, Davenport 15, St. Paul 39.

NOT SO FAST. While Mr. McKinley preserves the front-closed silence with which he has shut himself, Republican newspapers all over the country are endeavoring to palliate the unpleasant impression so created by iterating and reiterating the statement that their party has declared overwhelmingly for "sound money."

Mr. Teller and Mr. Vest and Mr. Stewart all claim as ardently to represent the cause of "sound money" as Mr. Carlisle or Mr. Sherman. All the platforms which are made this year, good standard, silver standard or straddle, will proclaim to the people with abounding emphasis that in their terms alone will be found the realization of "sound money."

It is fair, therefore, to analyze the claim made by Republican leaders and editors that the money question has already been settled in the election of delegates to St. Louis, and to see what foundation they find there for it.

The only statistics which they present consist of a table showing that the free silver vote amounts to eighty-four, and the non-committal or doubtful vote to ninety-two. The votes for "sound money" foot up 740. Now, this so-called sound money table simply includes the delegates from all those states which have failed to instruct their representatives to vote for the free coinage of silver.

There are among the delegates many who are directed, like those of New York, to declare for the present gold standard, there are also many, like those from Ohio, who stand on a platform that is neither fish, flesh nor fowl. To talk about the Ohio convention, or that of Illinois either, for that matter, as representing sound money sentiment is supremely ridiculous. To know where the Republican party stands on the financial question we would have to have a further classification of these 740 votes, showing how many of them are pledged outright for the maintenance of the present standard, and how many are in favor of some kind of financial compromise in the platform that would tend to hold the real sound money vote, without excluding the friends of free silver. When this analysis shall be made we are of the opinion that it will be found that the straddlers are not in an actual majority, there are at least enough of them, when combined with the outright free coinage men and the uncommitted delegates, to constitute a clear majority of the whole convention.

It will not work to attempt to throw dust in the eyes of the country in the fashion to which the Republican sense of party insecurity has compelled it to resort. The truth is that all the probabilities at present are in favor of a failure to declare at St. Louis for either the gold or the silver standard. It is more than likely that the performance of 1892 or something similar to it, will be repeated, and that the Republican party will stand this year, as then, for the perpetuation of distrust, the continuance of financial agitation, and another four years' period of public doubt and private misfortune, by an attempt to compromise between the two factions. It is not the outright advocates of unlimited and unconditioned free coinage whom the Republicans have to fear, it is the temporizers and compromisers, who, at this writing, appear to be in the majority. It is because they do seem to be in the majority that Mr. McKinley refuses to declare himself, waiting to see

In which direction the convention will jump, so that he may line his opinions up accordingly. In such a situation the Republican claim that the party has already declared for "sound money" is utterly without foundation in fact.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.

The new municipal administration was formally inaugurated yesterday, and started out in life with an abundance of good resolves and fair promises, which we hope will come to their full fruition.

The inauguration of Mayor Doran, which is longer than customary, follows what we have always regarded as an unfortunate and unnecessary precedent set by different presidents of the United States in their messages, referring to and commenting upon the condition and needs of all the several departments within their supervision, even although they might have no specific criticisms or recommendations to make.

So the message of Mayor Doran deals with a large variety of topics, including roads, bridges, sidewalks, lighting, schools, public library, health, fire and water departments, and others where he has nothing to say except to recapitulate the actually existing state of things, and to commend the interests in question to the consideration of the common council. All this could have been done in bulk in a few lines, to the gain of conciseness and force.

The message itself is a tribute to the excellent work accomplished by the Democratic administration, to which this is a successor. Mr. Doran refers in appropriate terms to the large reduction made in our city debt, and to the excellence of our administration as witnessed by the examination of the retrenchment committee. In a few particulars, however, he ventures criticisms which rest upon misinformation or misunderstanding of the situation in his own mind. His strictures upon the legal department are petty and ill-advised, while the statement that "political influence, rather than personal fitness, has, as a rule, been the test applied to applicants for positions" in the police department, is an unwarranted reflection upon a force whose efficiency and close application to duty are not open to question.

This is decidedly the most regrettable portion of the new mayor's utterances; since it indicates clearly, in connection with what follows, a purpose on the part of the new administration to do precisely that with which it charges its predecessors; namely, reconstruct the police force, to a large extent, on the basis of political influence and political affiliations.

Aside from this, the policy indicated by the new mayor is one which, if followed conscientiously and in sincerity, as we are prepared to believe that Mr. Doran intends, will commend itself to our citizens in general. Retrenchment and economy in all departments; the expenditure of sufficient money to make our school accommodations adequate; to put school buildings in good sanitary condition, and to broaden the educational system at the base at the expense, if necessary, of the apex; the collection of liquor licenses when they become due and the enforcement of the statutes regarding the traffic; together with a strict prohibition of wine rooms, gambling and the sale of liquor to minors, are in harmony with a policy which we are convinced is approved by the great body of citizens without any regard whatever to party.

The Republican administration is now fairly in charge of the affairs of St. Paul. We believe that Mr. Doran, as his head, intends to do his duty by the people consistently and conscientiously. He has an opportunity, by discarding the interested advice of scheming politicians and sinking the partisan in the citizen, to achieve such a reputation in St. Paul as can never come to him again in any station. He will receive from us a fair criticism; with praise and blame distributed according to his fidelity to those standards of public duty which are above party expediency and belong solely to good citizenship. Such misgivings as we have had, and still retain, rose not from anything personal to the new mayor's character or motives, but from a recognition of certain influences that were active in the late Republican campaign. Will Mr. Doran rise above them? Upon the answer to that question depends much for him and much for the people of St. Paul.

THE UNSPEAKABLE SENATE.

The senate continues to justify the judgment of its uselessness by adding proofs of its incapacity for mischievousness. If, indeed, that is not crediting it with too much intelligence; for it takes wit to be rogues. Stupidity would be a more accurate term. More likely, though, its actions are predicated on a variety of motives. Partisan that would inflict injury rather than promote measures that might reflect credit on an administration opposed by it; a fatuous stolidity of opinion on the financial question; factional spite of sundry Democratic senators against an administration refusing assent to their ideas of what is due to senatorial courtesy, all these may be the motives behind the acts that invite universal censure.

What is the simple business situation? Revenues less than outgo. No matter what the cause, that is the fact. Thirty millions short of expenses for this fiscal year. What, under such circumstances, would the manager, the board of directors, of any industrial concern do? If they set their business gait at the senatorial pace they would largely increase expenditures and refuse to adopt any measures for increase of revenue. If they did, though, they are not so stupid as to not know that they would speedily drive their establishment into the bankruptcy court, and a receiver would soon sit in their places. On the contrary, the first inquiry would be where can expenses be cut down, and, instead of enlarging outgo, there would be a shortening of sail. Sales would be crowded and collections pushed, enlarging revenue. Thus ordinary business men would

MANY JUNE BRIDES.

The marriage of Miss Marie Foley to W. H. C. Cochrane took place yesterday at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foley, 723 Selby avenue. The rooms were darkened and artistically lighted and were handsomely decorated with flowers and plants. Piano music accompanied the service, which was read by Father Lawler. The bride party consisted of Miss Agnes Mullen, of Chicago, the maid of honor, George Cochrane, of St. Paul, the best man, P. Foley and Helen A. Dojan, of Oak Park, Ill.

The bride wore a tan broadcloth going-away gown, her only jewel ornament being an exquisite turquoise ring, the bridegroom's gift. She carried a cluster of fragrant orchids. The maid of honor wore a blue crepe frock and carried in France roses. Miss Dolan's gown was of French organdie and was richly trimmed with American Beauty trimmings. Mrs. Foley wore black grenadine over heliotrope satin.

At the dinner following, two tables were laid, the guests being seated at the bride's table, the appointments of which were green and white, and twenty-five at a table decorated in pink and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane have gone to Yellowstone Park, where they will reside at 723 Selby avenue when they return.

Miss Ruth Worley, daughter of Mrs. Mary Griffin Worley, and Fred L. Breen were recently married by Rev. Father Buckley, of the St. Ann church, Mr. and Mrs. Breen will be at home at 415 Iglehart street after a short wedding journey.

A pretty cathedral wedding took place yesterday morning when Miss Katherine Gertrude Reardon was married to James J. Grathwohl, by Rev. Father Heffron. The service was attended by a mustering of guests, including Rev. Father Buckley, organist; A. P. Quessel, vocalist; and a quartette of Messrs. Gahan, Quessel, Soucay and Danz. The bride's gown was white organdie over pink silk. In her hair were white roses, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers. Her bridesmaid, Miss Helen Reardon, the maid of honor, wore white organdie over pink silk. Philip A. Grathwohl was best man, and Daniel Malley, of Egan users.

A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Reardon, 179 Fourteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Grathwohl have gone for a honeymoon to the Adirondacks, where they will be at home after June 30 at 288 Pleasant avenue.

Mrs. Maurice Auerbach, of 388 Summit avenue, gives a luncheon this afternoon for Mrs. Cochrane, Miss Agnes Mullen, and Miss Helen Reardon, the bridesmaids.

A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Reardon, 179 Fourteenth street.

Joseph McKibbin takes the Young Men's Club of Hope to Minnesota Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Stillman, the recent guest of Mrs. Horton, has returned to Quincy, Ill.

Mrs. Caroline Bancroft is home from Washington, D. C.

Negley Cochran, of Toledo, was an unexpected guest at the wedding of his brother, Witt Cochran, to Miss Nan Foley yesterday.

A party from St. Anthony hall will compose a bicycle party to Fort Snelling on Friday evening. Members of the younger society set will make up the party.

Mrs. T. J. Foley is home from Chicago.

The St. Paul School of Fine Arts held its annual meeting yesterday morning at Hotel Metropolitan, when the following directors were elected: Messrs. D. B. Young, D. A. Monfort, E. P. Sanborn, J. P. Gribben, D. H. Colville, G. R. Metcalf, C. J. A. Morris, E. H. Bailey, C. H. Bigelow, S. B. McConnell, F. D. Knapp, D. W. Young, G. E. Edwards, G. F. Benedict, George Thompson, T. D. Merwin, L. C. Gould, T. E. Dewitt, E. C. Stringer, Daniel Davies, H. W. Davis, A. J. Stone, T. G. Tompkins, D. C. Prouty, and Misses Nettie Clark, Wheelock, Sargent and Frazer.

From the above the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George R. Metcalf; first vice president, Mrs. George Thompson; second vice president, Mrs. J. Stone; secretary, Miss Helen M. Brack; treasurer, Mrs. D. F. Colville.

The annual report that the association would start the coming year with a balance of $1,000 was read by Mr. D. A. Monfort.

The association now numbers fifty-three members, both active and associate. There have been gifts of scholarships of twenty-five dollars each to four from the Monday Club and fifty dollars each to two from D. A. Monfort, one from ex-Gov. William R. Merriam, and one from Dr. Schiffman.

The total number of students enrolled was 1,000. The number of students who were absent during any one month was 85; the lowest 25; the highest 125. Under the instruction of Mr. Harwood and Mrs. Barber great progress has been made, as is shown by the fact that several students are now attending the highest class in the Art Studio League in New York, the foremost school of art in the country, upon examination of drawings made in the St. Paul School of Art.

The school will be reopened Oct. 1.

A social and parlor reception was given for the benefit of Bates Avenue church, at the charming home of Mrs. D. R. Hevener, yesterday afternoon, at 129 ladies park.

Bates Avenue and East Presbyterian churches were present. A short programme of music and recitations was given, Master Ted Jones, Master Jason Waite giving mandolin and guitar solos. The latter has a very delicate touch. Two pupils of Miss Ford's, Miss Pallison and Miss Gregory, recited, and Mr. Allen Krieger sang. The singing was led by Miss Krieger, Miss Katherine Waite, and Misses Waite and Krieger. The programme was admirably. He is the pupil of Prof. Brown, of this city. His refreshment was served on the completion of the programme, and a social time enjoyed by all.

A student's recital was given by the younger pupils of Miss Aspinwall yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Monfort, which constituted all but two members of the programme, was enjoyable, considering the ages of the pupils. Miss Aspinwall is evidently a thorough as well as artistic instructor. Her recital was given in the Tamphausen, given by Greve Oppenheim, was truly fine. He has talent amounting almost to genius. The selections were in almost every case classical—a pleasing exception to the rule being a reading by Miss Pearl Rosser, who was well rendered. The piece is pathetic, and Miss Rosser showed a marked aptitude for this phase of the work.

Miss Georgia Mary Bruvier and Arthur T. Jernegan were married yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Bauer, East Tenth street, by Rev. Father Arnett, of the French Catholic church.

Miss Louise Odella Metzger and John B. Bender were married yesterday at 9 o'clock in the morning at Assumption church, by Bishop Cotter, of Winona.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, at St. Michael's Catholic church, Joseph F. Gorman and Miss Mary B. Kelly were united in wedlock. Rev. P. O'Neill performing the ceremony. Miss Maggie Kelly, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and J. J. Daly was best man. The bride was attired in a stylish gray traveling gown and wore white roses.

Yesterday afternoon from 2 to 6, Mr. and Mrs. Gorman gave a reception to their friends at the home of the bride's mother, 54 Winifred street. They left last evening for a short wedding tour, returning about the 29th, when they will be at home at their future residence, 225 Conover street.

Mr. Gorman is a popular employe of Field, Schlick & Co., and the bride is one of West St. Paul's most charming young social leaders.

Miss Julia Rogers Baird, daughter of Maj. George William Baird, U. S. A., formerly of St. Paul, and George Davis Holmes were married yesterday in New England church, Chicago.

Preparations are in progress for a strawberry social, to be given on the evenings of

MONTH OF ROSES AND WEDDINGS IN URSHELDEN.

The marriage of Miss Marie Foley to W. H. C. Cochrane took place yesterday at 5 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Foley, 723 Selby avenue. The rooms were darkened and artistically lighted and were handsomely decorated with flowers and plants. Piano music accompanied the service, which was read by Father Lawler. The bride party consisted of Miss Agnes Mullen, of Chicago, the maid of honor, George Cochrane, of St. Paul, the best man, P. Foley and Helen A. Dojan, of Oak Park, Ill.

The bride wore a tan broadcloth going-away gown, her only jewel ornament being an exquisite turquoise ring, the bridegroom's gift. She carried a cluster of fragrant orchids. The maid of honor wore a blue crepe frock and carried in France roses. Miss Dolan's gown was of French organdie and was richly trimmed with American Beauty trimmings. Mrs. Foley wore black grenadine over heliotrope satin.

At the dinner following, two tables were laid, the guests being seated at the bride's table, the appointments of which were green and white, and twenty-five at a table decorated in pink and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane have gone to Yellowstone Park, where they will reside at 723 Selby avenue when they return.

Miss Ruth Worley, daughter of Mrs. Mary Griffin Worley, and Fred L. Breen were recently married by Rev. Father Buckley, of the St. Ann church, Mr. and Mrs. Breen will be at home at 415 Iglehart street after a short wedding journey.

A pretty cathedral wedding took place yesterday morning when Miss Katherine Gertrude Reardon was married to James J. Grathwohl, by Rev. Father Heffron. The service was attended by a mustering of guests, including Rev. Father Buckley, organist; A. P. Quessel, vocalist; and a quartette of Messrs. Gahan, Quessel, Soucay and Danz. The bride's gown was white organdie over pink silk. In her hair were white roses, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white flowers. Her bridesmaid, Miss Helen Reardon, the maid of honor, wore white organdie over pink silk. Philip A. Grathwohl was best man, and Daniel Malley, of Egan users.

A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Reardon, 179 Fourteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Grathwohl have gone for a honeymoon to the Adirondacks, where they will be at home after June 30 at 288 Pleasant avenue.

Mrs. Maurice Auerbach, of 388 Summit avenue, gives a luncheon this afternoon for Mrs. Cochrane, Miss Agnes Mullen, and Miss Helen Reardon, the bridesmaids.

A wedding breakfast followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Reardon, 179 Fourteenth street.

Joseph McKibbin takes the Young Men's Club of Hope to Minnesota Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Stillman, the recent guest of Mrs. Horton, has returned to Quincy, Ill.

Mrs. Caroline Bancroft is home from Washington, D. C.

Negley Cochran, of Toledo, was an unexpected guest at the wedding of his brother, Witt Cochran, to Miss Nan Foley yesterday.

A party from St. Anthony hall will compose a bicycle party to Fort Snelling on Friday evening. Members of the younger society set will make up the party.

Mrs. T. J. Foley is home from Chicago.

The St. Paul School of Fine Arts held its annual meeting yesterday morning at Hotel Metropolitan, when the following directors were elected: Messrs. D. B. Young, D. A. Monfort, E. P. Sanborn, J. P. Gribben, D. H. Colville, G. R. Metcalf, C. J. A. Morris, E. H. Bailey, C. H. Bigelow, S. B. McConnell, F. D. Knapp, D. W. Young, G. E. Edwards, G. F. Benedict, George Thompson, T. D. Merwin, L. C. Gould, T. E. Dewitt, E. C. Stringer, Daniel Davies, H. W. Davis, A. J. Stone, T. G. Tompkins, D. C. Prouty, and Misses Nettie Clark, Wheelock, Sargent and Frazer.

From the above the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George R. Metcalf; first vice president, Mrs. George Thompson; second vice president, Mrs. J. Stone; secretary, Miss Helen M. Brack; treasurer, Mrs. D. F. Colville.

The annual report that the association would start the coming year with a balance of $1,000 was read by Mr. D. A. Monfort.

The association now numbers fifty-three members, both active and associate. There have been gifts of scholarships of twenty-five dollars each to four from the Monday Club and fifty dollars each to two from D. A. Monfort, one from ex-Gov. William R. Merriam, and one from Dr. Schiffman.

The total number of students enrolled was 1,000. The number of students who were absent during any one month was 85; the lowest 25; the highest 125. Under the instruction of Mr. Harwood and Mrs. Barber great progress has been made, as is shown by the fact that several students are now attending the highest class in the Art Studio League in New York, the foremost school of art in the country, upon examination of drawings made in the St. Paul School of Art.

The school will be reopened Oct. 1.

A social and parlor reception was given for the benefit of Bates Avenue church, at the charming home of Mrs. D. R. Hevener, yesterday afternoon, at 129 ladies park.

Bates Avenue and East Presbyterian churches were present. A short programme of music and recitations was given, Master Ted Jones, Master Jason Waite giving mandolin and guitar solos. The latter has a very delicate touch. Two pupils of Miss Ford's, Miss Pallison and Miss Gregory, recited, and Mr. Allen Krieger sang. The singing was led by Miss Krieger, Miss Katherine Waite, and Misses Waite and Krieger. The programme was admirably. He is the pupil of Prof. Brown, of this city. His refreshment was served on the completion of the programme, and a social time enjoyed by all.

A student's recital was given by the younger pupils of Miss Aspinwall yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. A. Monfort, which constituted all but two members of the programme, was enjoyable, considering the ages of the pupils. Miss Aspinwall is evidently a thorough as well as artistic instructor. Her recital was given in the Tamphausen, given by Greve Oppenheim, was truly fine. He has talent amounting almost to genius. The selections were in almost every case classical—a pleasing exception to the rule being a reading by Miss Pearl Rosser, who was well rendered. The piece is pathetic, and Miss Rosser showed a marked aptitude for this phase of the work.

Miss Georgia Mary Bruvier and Arthur T. Jernegan were married yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Bauer, East Tenth street, by Rev. Father Arnett, of the French Catholic church.

Miss Louise Odella Metzger and John B. Bender were married yesterday at 9 o'clock in the morning at Assumption church, by Bishop Cotter, of Winona.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, at St. Michael's Catholic church, Joseph F. Gorman and Miss Mary B. Kelly were united in wedlock. Rev. P. O'Neill performing the ceremony. Miss Maggie Kelly, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and J. J. Daly was best man. The bride was attired in a stylish gray traveling gown and wore white roses.

Yesterday afternoon from 2 to 6, Mr. and Mrs. Gorman gave a reception to their friends at the home of the bride's mother, 54 Winifred street. They left last evening for a short wedding tour, returning about the 29th, when they will be at home at their future residence, 225 Conover street.

Mr. Gorman is a popular employe of Field, Schlick & Co., and the bride is one of West St. Paul's most charming young social leaders.

Miss Julia Rogers Baird, daughter of Maj. George William Baird, U. S. A., formerly of St. Paul, and George Davis Holmes were married yesterday in New England church, Chicago.

Preparations are in progress for a strawberry social, to be given on the evenings of

PROGRAMME FOR HAMLINE.

The following is the programme for the district convention of the W. C. T. U. to be held at Hamline university chapel, June 15 and 16:

Monday Morning—Fellowship meeting, led by Miss S. E. Bartholomew; roll call of officers, with resolutions, and a number of reports of executive committee, appointment of committees; address of welcome, Mrs. K. E. Webster; response, Mrs. Sylvia Avery, St. Paul; report of secretary, Mrs. W. R. Mandigo; report of treasurer, Miss Alice Bordwell; Stillwater; report of auditing committee; Bible reading, subject, "Our Power and Opportunity"; Mrs. A. V. Nichols; nonsectarian prayer, Mrs. C. C. Tracy, Stillwater.

Monday Afternoon—Executive committee meeting; praise service, conducted by Mrs. E. L. Richardson, White Bear; reading of discourses; report of Lewis and County Fair, Mrs. Gertrude Goggin, Stillwater; report of Ramsey county; Mrs. P. Teeple Moore; paper, "The Rights of Women in Minnesota Granted by Law"; Spindler; report of Ramsey county; introductions, announcements and adjournment.

Monday Evening—Gold medal contest, singing, prayer, contest, solo, awarding of medals, will offering, temperance dextology and benediction.

Tuesday Morning—W. C. T. U. prayer meeting, led by Mrs. S. J. Heal, Hamline; reading of minutes, practical suggestions by Mrs. J. A. Strayer, Hamline; prayer, Mrs. C. A. Cressy; "Sunday School Work"; Mrs. C. W. Leonard, Ramsey county; "Scientific Temperance Instruction"; Mrs. W. R. Mandigo; "Sabbath Observance"; Mrs. A. W. Nicholas; "Turley"; Mrs. P. L. Uley; "Mothers' Meetings"; Mrs. Hannah Seymour, Washington county; "Legislation and Petitions"; Mrs. M. F. Farnsworth, "State and County Fairs"; Mrs. G. H. Hazard; "Prison Work"; Mrs. A. C. McCurdy, Minnesota; paper, "Temperance in All Things"; Mrs. Hattie L. Higginson, South Stillwater; remarks by president, report of credentials, practical suggestions of officers, altar consecration service, self-denial offering, nontide prayer, Mrs. A. L. Jenks, Stillwater; basket luncheon.

Tuesday Afternoon—Opening hymn and prayer, experience meeting, subject, "What the W. C. T. U. Has Done for Me," conducted by Mrs. Alice Bordwell, Stillwater; reading of minutes, Greetings from New England; Mrs. H. A. Strayer, White Bear; Mrs. Anthony Park; Mrs. E. L. Memmenauer; children's hour, conducted by Mrs. May Brink, assisted by Mrs. F. B. Foltz, of Hamline; discussion, "Laws and County Fairs"; Mrs. K. Kenyon, Stillwater; "Pertaining to the Sale of Liquor"; Mrs. B. J. Bowsfield; "Pertaining to the Age of Consent"; Mrs. C. S. South; address, subject to be announced; reports of committees and miscellaneous business, introductions, adjournment.

Tuesday Evening—There will be an address by Miss Alice R. Palmer.

MR. BULLITT TALKS.

He is annoyed by recent Duluth reports.

John J. Bullitt Jr., of Duluth, brother-in-law and counsel to "Miss Kathryn Western," who claims to be the widow of Rich A. Gray, the Duluth millionaire, has been asked to come to St. Paul to see the shares of the estate, arrived in St. Paul last evening, and is at the Metropolitan hotel. When seen last night Mr. Bullitt said:

"I have been positively refused to say a word about this matter, further than to assert that my sister-in-law's claim is founded in law. That is to say, that she is the widow of Rich A. Gray. I now positively assert that Kathryn Western is not the widow of the libelous newspaper sensation sent out from Duluth, was legally married to Rich A. Gray in Hudson, Wis., in November, 1890. And I am prepared to prove that assertion before the probate court on the 8th day of this month."

"What of the statement that 'Mr. Rich and Miss Western' were 'not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story.'"

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."

"I will say now that I have never stated that they were not known to have met often in Duluth, and that they were not like the other statements in that newspaper story. It is a lie; an absolute and unqualified lie, like the other statements in that newspaper story."