

BULLETIN OF THE ST. PAUL GLOBE.

MONDAY, June 15. Weather for Today—Local Showers, Warmer. PAGE 1. Bradley Has Withdrawn. Antis Determined for Gold. Hubbard May Be Committeeman. PAGE 2. Activity at McKinley's Rooms. Convention all Cut and Dried. PAGE 3. Plans of Silverites for a Bolt. Fun Has Begun at St. Louis. News of Minneapolis. PAGE 4. Editorial. Pythian Memorial Day. PAGE 5. Apostles Take a Brace. Columbus Drops to the Bottom. Millers Again Defeat the Blues. Tigers Have a Losing Streak. Havana's Water Supply Cut Off. PAGE 6. Globe's Summer Tours. PAGE 7. Markets of the World. Wants of the People. PAGE 8. Exhibits for the State Fair. Bolshian Slavonic Picnic. Scocher's Victim Still Alive. Movement of Steamers. NEW YORK, June 14.—Arrived: La Gascoigne, Havre; Furusada, Glasgow; Spaandam, Rotterdam. Boston—Arrived: Catalonia, Liverpool. Glasgow—Sailed: Corsica, Philadelphia. Mobile—Arrived: City of Rome, New York. Glasgow—Sailed: Umbria, New York. Arrived: Galia, Boston. Havre—Arrived: La Bourgogne, New York.

FOR GOLD, NOT SOUND

ANTIS DETERMINED THERE SHALL BE NO GLITTERING GENERALITIES ON FINANCE.

HANNA'S CROWD WEAKENING.

THEY WOULD PREFER A MORE VAGUE DECLARATION TO HOLD SILVERITES.

IS IT MORTON OR MALPINE?

General Opinion That the New York Governor Will Yet Accept Second Place.

Special to the Globe. ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 14.—Considering that the city is on the eve of a Republican national convention, this has been a very orderly and quiet Sabbath. Perhaps it will get noisy later on, but the only real evidence of ill-humor I have seen so far is the fact that the Southern hotel, which is the Mecca, has extended its bar 150 feet and employed twenty extra barkeepers. The Windsor had to put on 100 feet to its bar when the Republican state convention met in St. Paul, and the bar extension here is not, as a national party, keeping pace with the Minnesota record.

The streets here have been quiet and not until to-night did any visiting clubs with brass band attachment arrive. The Philadelphia Quays club, 400 strong was the first to attract attention. Three McKinley clubs are due to-morrow, but as there is so much unanimity on the president, it is evident that the politicians do not propose to expend so much money on noise to work up an outside pressure as is usually the case. Reed forces are whooping it up at his headquarters with glee clubs and a pamphlet giving his financial record and, when not singing, they are damning Manley as a traitor.

Tom Platt is quite happy over what he considers the surrender on the part of the McKinley force in the New York contest. He called a meeting at the Southern hotel to-night, inviting representative men from all over the country to consider a financial plank. Pillsbury was invited from Minnesota. Platt was especially emphatic in insisting that the platform should use the word "gold" as defining what sound money means. The Hanna push do not want this, but those who have opposed McKinley and lost, now propose to make a stand in the last ditch for the word "gold." The Hanna crowd agree that they should not be unnecessarily offensive to the silver men and that they can be explicit enough without using so obnoxious a word. On the surface it looks as though for once they could not have things entirely their own way. The Minnesota delegation wants to go the whole figure and put the word "gold" in the platform. I think Platt, Reed and Quay men want this in part for revenge over their defeat so that they can claim if they did not make the president they made the platform. As McKinley has persisted that he stands on his record they propose to define what that record is to be in this campaign.

The only one likely to be given to silverites is declaration in favor of an international agreement, but until that time to declare plumply and unequivocally for gold and say gold so that there can be no mistake about it. The Hanna forces have been weak-portraits of McKinley and McAlpin. He may make quite a run if Morton does not come into the field. My own belief is he will and do not be surprised if the ticket reads McKinley and Morton. Otherwise McAlpin stands some chance. There are to be 2,000 boomers here to-morrow from Canton, O. The advance guard arrived to-night wearing big brass breast plates stamped with McKinley's likeness. The crowd is increasing with every train, but there is abundant room for all. There are comparatively few prominent men here as yet. Among those from Minnesota are Tom Lowry, Soren Listoe, St. Paul, and H. E. Haynes, of the Sleepy Eye Dispatch, E. H. McLeod, of Lesueur; C. Severance, of St. Paul; John Goodnow and Fred Brackett, Minneapolis. As a whole it is a dull affair as far as we have gotten. Too much unanimity. H. P. HALL.

REED BOOMERS ARRIVE. Fresh Impetus Given to the Maine Man's Chances.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—The Reed boom was given the first impetus that it has had during its ante-convention days. The arrival with every train of Massachusetts delegations with glittering badges and waving banners, gave the first real appearance of Reed's candidacy that has been seen. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who is to place Reed in nomination, has become the recognized leader of the Reed forces, and since his arrival has been trying to gather the scattered Reed forces and retrieve the losses that have occurred in the past. Mr. Lodge has visited several of the anti-McKinley leaders, calling upon Mr. Platt, Mr. Quay and members of the Iowa delegation. Chairman Littlefield of the Maine delegation, who will probably second Reed's nomination, has been for the big speaker. He has had the Reed headquarters formally opened, and tonight the delegation had a meeting in which steps were taken towards pressing the candidacy of Reed with all possible spirit. A large painting of Mr. Reed has been placed in the Reed headquarters, which are the rooms lately occupied by the national committee while considering the contested election cases. The Massachusetts delegation held a meeting and agreed to see McKinley cut a swath. The opportunity does not come often and the fact that no one can see Hanna, the great American boss, without first running the gauntlet of Merriam ought to make every loyal Minnesota Republican yell with delight over their reflected greatness.

GARRETT A. HOBART. (Delegate-at-Large From New Jersey and Candidate for the Vice-Presidency.)

Just before Pillsbury's special left Minneapolis he discovered that the painter had made the streamer read "Minneapolis for McKinley" instead of "Minnesota." He promptly tore off the banner and the train rolled into St. Louis with nothing to identify it save the beauty of the occupants of the cars. But everybody could tell by that where they came from. H. P. HALL.

AFTER BOUNTIES AGAIN. St. Louis, June 14.—California, Ne-

C. W. JOHNSON OF MINNESOTA, TEMPORARY SECRETARY.

Colonel Charles W. Johnson, who has been chosen temporary secretary of the republican national convention, has been a well-known citizen of Minnesota for a number of years. Though he now lives in Boston, he has property interests in Minneapolis and considers that city his home. He is 52 years old, and for a number of years was an active newspaper man, once being editor of the Minneapolis Tribune. In 1878 he was elected reading clerk of the senate and later became chief clerk, holding this position until four years ago. He was, when Senator Hill succeeded in dislodging him, secretary of the Minneapolis convention in 1882. Colonel Johnson has held many offices, but has not been active in politics for many years and is on good terms with prominent statesmen.

braska and Utah will urge the adoption of a declaration in favor of encouraging the beet sugar industry. National Committeeman M. H. De Young of California says that he expects this proposition to receive the support of all the states where cereals are produced, because the beet industry will give a crop paying $50 an acre where corn and wheat pay only $5 to $10. Last year California produced 40,000,000 pounds of beet sugar. The following is a draft of the plank to be proposed: The practicability of successfully growing sugar beets throughout the United States having been clearly demonstrated, we believe that the expansion of this industry will materially add to the wealth of our farmers and increase the value of our farming lands. And therefore we favor such a measure as will increase the production of domestic sugar up to the limit of producing all of the $125,000,000 worth of sugar now sent to foreign countries in payment for this indispensable article. We advocate sufficient protection to develop the national sugar industry. We favor adequate protection to any new industry which will help our agricultural classes. For instance, a national sugar industry.

MAY NAME HUBBARD

MINNESOTA DELEGATES CAN'T AGREE TO PLACE ONE OF THEMSELVES

ON NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

CONTEST FOR THE PLUMS IS VERY WARM—JEALOUSY OF MERRIAM.

DELEGATIONS GET IN LINE.

Today will Witness the General Organization Ready for the Convention.

Special to the Globe. ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 14.—The Pillsbury special with the Minnesota delegation arrived between 10 and 11 this morning. They found the Minnesota parlor on the third floor of the Southern tastefully decorated and delegates were much in evidence there during the day. Only about a third of the delegation stops at the Southern, but the hotel will be their resting place. On their way down to the national committee and members of the platform committee were much discussed, but nothing will be decided until the delegation meets at 10 to-morrow. Mr. Pillsbury sprung Gen. L. F. Hubbard as a compromise candidate for member of the national committee and it looks on-night as though that would carry. Mr. Pillsbury could have it himself, but he peremptorily declines with Goodnow and Thompson fighting for it, James Bixby is living in hopes and Bob Evans more than willing. Pillsbury thinks a compromise is good politics. This coming from Pillsbury will not be contested by Evans and his friends for another reason, for promising on a new man is that if either Thompson or Bixby win it would be a triumph. A good deal of jealousy has developed towards Merriam in the delegation. They think he has come down here early and impressed Hanna with the idea that he handles Minnesota and that he is a grand and powerful man and influence with the powers that be and are to be. There was talk on the train of not putting Merriam on the platform committee just to show Hanna and McKinley that there is some one else in Minnesota. This is really childish and when the delegation meets to-morrow it should be surprised if Merriam is not named for the committee on resolutions. They thought he would push for chairman of the platform committee, but now that they find Foraker is slated for that place it modifies them.

Merriam entertained Hanna at dinner at the St. Nicholas to-night. The delegation ought to be glad that one of their number is in the swim and call to mind the story of the man who was appointed corporal in a militia company. "Are we all corporals," said the proud children of the new militia chief. "Oh no," said the wife and mother as her bosom swelled with pride, "only your father and me." A general principle is like a general principle and it is the opportunity does not come often and the fact that no one can see Hanna, the great American boss, without first running the gauntlet of Merriam ought to make every loyal Minnesota Republican yell with delight over their reflected greatness.

Senator Lodge, who has been slated as the representative of Massachusetts, on the platform committee, will fight if necessary on a single gold standard. Should he fail to gain his point in the committee, he will take it up on the floor of the convention. He is quoted by members of the Massachusetts delegation as saying that he would demand a roll-call and vote, and place every one on record. He is said by fellow delegates to have made this announcement to Marcus Hanna today.

The Minnesota delegation arrived today. It has not yet organized, but it is expected that Charles A. Pillsbury will be chairman. Ex-Governor W. P. Merriam for member of the committee on resolutions, and probably Robert G. Evans, to be elected national committeeman. The Minnesota delegation is for McKinley and a gold declaration in the platform. Mr. Pillsbury has framed a resolution on reciprocity which he hopes to have made a part of the platform. Mr. Pillsbury was one of the witnesses before the ways and means committee when the subject of reciprocity was given hearing during the last session.

The Montana delegation are all here, with the exception of Representative Hartman. No organization has yet taken place, but it is probable either Senator Carter or Senator Mantle will be a member of the resolutions committee, and the other will be a member of the national committee.

The Texas delegation is in a rather chaotic state, owing to the contests from that state, and until it is known who will be seated, it will be impossible to forecast the action of the delegation on any point. The announced headquarters of the Texas delegation are at the Laclede, but so far they are not opened, and the delegates are scattered.

The Nebraska delegation met today and agreed upon the following: For national committeeman—John M. Thurston; for member of the committee on resolutions, General John C. Cowen; for chairman of delegation, J. W. Webster; for secretary, Mr. Doby; for vice-president of the convention, T. P. Lennard; for committee on resolutions, Peter Jansen, who favors declaration for gold standard; for member to notify the nominees, J. H. Bressler; for committee on organization, John T. Hummel.

The North Carolina delegates arrived tonight but will not meet for organization until tomorrow. Senator Pritchard will probably be chairman of the delegation or will go on the committee on resolutions. Senator Pritchard said that the Republicans of North Carolina were for protection and bimetalism. In the senate Mr. Pritchard always votes for silver. C. J. Harris says he is for "sound money" and thinks the delegation will favor a moderate plank against silver.

Nearly all members of the Pennsylvania delegation arrived today. The meeting of the delegation will be held tomorrow night. It is said that Gov. Hastings will be chairman of the delegation today. At this meeting Mr. Quay may be elected chairman, and E. C. Benton secretary. The matter of selecting a national committeeman was postponed until to-morrow. It is understood, however, that Henry Cabot Lodge will be the committeeman on resolutions. Curtis Guild, Jr., one of the delegates at large from Massachusetts was asked today for a statement of the attitude of the Massachusetts delegation regarding the financial plank of the Republican platform, and gave out the following: Massachusetts will simply demand that we tell the truth in our platform. Our circulating medium is gold and silver and paper, but our standard of value is and has been gold. It is no time for discussing generalities. Let us be honest with the friends of both gold and silver and say exactly what we mean. The free coinage of silver would prevent bimetalism. It means silver-mono-metalism. Massachusetts can never endorse a policy to reduce one half the value of the savings in our savings banks and half the wages of our operators. The Republican party has nothing to gain by attempting to conceal the fact that the present standard is gold and silver. Neutrality makes no converts; it invites deception. The Massachusetts delegation held a caucus today and agreed upon the following organization: Chairman, Eben Drayer, vice-president, William Whiting, secretary, C. E. Benton. The delegation will meet at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning for formal organization. Curtis Guild, Jr., is said to be the choice of the caucus for the first time. The Massachusetts delegation will send a solid vote. It was agreed that the delegation shall vote as a unit for president and platform, and probably for vice-president, but for the latter the delegation will have no choice unless Reed is either nominated or defeated. Mr. Guild stated that last night the Massachusetts delegates believed that the word gold would be put into the platform. He said that the informal gathering of Massachusetts men today was a threatened revolt against the re-election of Lyman to the national committee and the three McKinley delegates. Lyman is a strong Reed man, and the McKinley contingent oppose him for this reason, among others, professing to doubt his loyalty to McKinley in the campaign. The event of the Ohio man's nomination. Insinuations have come from the McKinley quarter that if the man be insisted upon, the delegates to have made this announcement to Marcus Hanna today.

SELECTING A VICE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE.

It is said that Gov. Hastings will be chairman of the delegation today. At this meeting Mr. Quay may be elected chairman, and E. C. Benton secretary. The matter of selecting a national committeeman was postponed until to-morrow. It is understood, however, that Henry Cabot Lodge will be the committeeman on resolutions. Curtis Guild, Jr., one of the delegates at large from Massachusetts was asked today for a statement of the attitude of the Massachusetts delegation regarding the financial plank of the Republican platform, and gave out the following: Massachusetts will simply demand that we tell the truth in our platform. Our circulating medium is gold and silver and paper, but our standard of value is and has been gold. It is no time for discussing generalities. Let us be honest with the friends of both gold and silver and say exactly what we mean. The free coinage of silver would prevent bimetalism. It means silver-mono-metalism. Massachusetts can never endorse a policy to reduce one half the value of the savings in our savings banks and half the wages of our operators. The Republican party has nothing to gain by attempting to conceal the fact that the present standard is gold and silver. Neutrality makes no converts; it invites deception. The Massachusetts delegation held a caucus today and agreed upon the following organization: Chairman, Eben Drayer, vice-president, William Whiting, secretary, C. E. Benton. The delegation will meet at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning for formal organization. Curtis Guild, Jr., is said to be the choice of the caucus for the first time. The Massachusetts delegation will send a solid vote. It was agreed that the delegation shall vote as a unit for president and platform, and probably for vice-president, but for the latter the delegation will have no choice unless Reed is either nominated or defeated. Mr. Guild stated that last night the Massachusetts delegates believed that the word gold would be put into the platform. He said that the informal gathering of Massachusetts men today was a threatened revolt against the re-election of Lyman to the national committee and the three McKinley delegates. Lyman is a strong Reed man, and the McKinley contingent oppose him for this reason, among others, professing to doubt his loyalty to McKinley in the campaign. The event of the Ohio man's nomination. Insinuations have come from the McKinley quarter that if the man be insisted upon, the delegates to have made this announcement to Marcus Hanna today.

It is said that Gov. Hastings will be chairman of the delegation today. At this meeting Mr. Quay may be elected chairman, and E. C. Benton secretary. The matter of selecting a national committeeman was postponed until to-morrow. It is understood, however, that Henry Cabot Lodge will be the committeeman on resolutions. Curtis Guild, Jr., one of the delegates at large from Massachusetts was asked today for a statement of the attitude of the Massachusetts delegation regarding the financial plank of the Republican platform, and gave out the following: Massachusetts will simply demand that we tell the truth in our platform. Our circulating medium is gold and silver and paper, but our standard of value is and has been gold. It is no time for discussing generalities. Let us be honest with the friends of both gold and silver and say exactly what we mean. The free coinage of silver would prevent bimetalism. It means silver-mono-metalism. Massachusetts can never endorse a policy to reduce one half the value of the savings in our savings banks and half the wages of our operators. The Republican party has nothing to gain by attempting to conceal the fact that the present standard is gold and silver. Neutrality makes no converts; it invites deception. The Massachusetts delegation held a caucus today and agreed upon the following organization: Chairman, Eben Drayer, vice-president, William Whiting, secretary, C. E. Benton. The delegation will meet at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning for formal organization. Curtis Guild, Jr., is said to be the choice of the caucus for the first time. The Massachusetts delegation will send a solid vote. It was agreed that the delegation shall vote as a unit for president and platform, and probably for vice-president, but for the latter the delegation will have no choice unless Reed is either nominated or defeated. Mr. Guild stated that last night the Massachusetts delegates believed that the word gold would be put into the platform. He said that the informal gathering of Massachusetts men today was a threatened revolt against the re-election of Lyman to the national committee and the three McKinley delegates. Lyman is a strong Reed man, and the McKinley contingent oppose him for this reason, among others, professing to doubt his loyalty to McKinley in the campaign. The event of the Ohio man's nomination. Insinuations have come from the McKinley quarter that if the man be insisted upon, the delegates to have made this announcement to Marcus Hanna today.

Chairman—C. E. Littlefield; national committeeman—Joseph H. Manley; resolutions and platform—Amos T. Allen; credentials—Forest Goodwin; permanent organization—Wm. Nash; vice-president of convention E. C. Burligh; rules and order or business John T. Davidson. The Arizona body are in a quandary over the selection of their committeeman. The national convention has awarded seats to both delegations without giving full recognition to each, neither delegation feels empowered to proceed to the election of men to fill these places. A joint meeting will be held for the purpose of arranging a compromise. Both delegations have been here for several days. The California delegation is expected to arrive to-morrow morning at 7:30. The delegation will have its headquarters at the Southern hotel. So far as is known, the California delegation has not yet designated their committeeman. Before leaving California they selected J. D. Spreckles as member of the national committee, to succeed Mr. De Young, but there will be an effort to reopen this matter on account of the

ARCHBISHOP RAIN, WHO MAY OFFER PRAYER AT ST. LOUIS.

be the subject of no small degree of speculation. When asked whether his name would be presented as a presidential candidate the senator replied that the matter had not been definitely determined, but that it would probably depend upon the wishes of the friends of other candidates than McKinley. Mr. Quay is in a somewhat embarrassing position. He has for some time realized the certainty in his opinion of Mr. McKinley's nomination and had advised that other candidates acquiesce to the inevitable and retire from the contest, but previous to arrival to this conclusion he had entered into an arrangement with the friends of other candidates to remain in the race. They are now disposed to hold him to his agreement. Hence he finds himself hesitating between his own inclination to get out of the way of the McKinley movement and a desire to comply with the wishes of his co-workers. A prominent member of the national committee asserted to-night that Mr. Quay was still urging upon the candidates the advisability of allowing the McKinley

BRADLEY OUT OF IT

KENTUCKY MAN HAS FORMALLY WITHDRAWN FROM THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE.

QUAY IN QUITE A QUANDRY.

HIS EARLY AGREEMENT TO STICK BY THE ANTIS PREVENTS HIS QUITTING THE RACE.

COLORED MEN DESERT TO REED.

Quite a Heavy Loss for McKinley's Reed Boomers Inaugurate the Maine Man's Campaign.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Gov. Bradley withdraws. Delegate Yerkes of Kentucky, received a telegram from Gov. Bradley to-day announcing that his name would not be presented to the convention. Gov. Bradley will arrive to-morrow morning to engage actively in the contest in behalf of a platform declaration for a gold standard.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 14.—Gov. Bradley and party left for St. Louis this evening. The action of the governor in attending the convention is construed to mean that his name will not be tendered to the national convention. D. Elliott Kelley, who was secretary of state at the convention which instructed for Bradley for president and who accompanied Gov. Bradley to St. Louis, said to an Associated Press reporter: "Gov. Bradley has assured me that he does not desire second place on the ticket, but if the nomination for vice president goes to the South, it should be tendered to Kentucky's governor, Gov. Bradley, with the Kentucky people, represents the culminating point of human greatness, and his well known views on the currency would serve to strengthen the ticket, should a man whose stand on that issue is not as strong as Bradley's be nominated for president. Bradley broke the solid South last fall and as McKinley's running mate, the once solid South would be permanently shattered this fall I believe that if Bradley is tendered the second place by acclamation he would accept it.

JOHN M. THURSTON, NEBRASKA. (Slated to be permanent Chairman.)

QUAY IN A QUANDRY. St. Louis, June 14.—Senator Quay's attitude in the convention continues to be the subject of no small degree of speculation. When asked whether his name would be presented as a presidential candidate the senator replied that the matter had not been definitely determined, but that it would probably depend upon the wishes of the friends of other candidates than McKinley. Mr. Quay is in a somewhat embarrassing position. He has for some time realized the certainty in his opinion of Mr. McKinley's nomination and had advised that other candidates acquiesce to the inevitable and retire from the contest, but previous to arrival to this conclusion he had entered into an arrangement with the friends of other candidates to remain in the race. They are now disposed to hold him to his agreement. Hence he finds himself hesitating between his own inclination to get out of the way of the McKinley movement and a desire to comply with the wishes of his co-workers. A prominent member of the national committee asserted to-night that Mr. Quay was still urging upon the candidates the advisability of allowing the McKinley

Continued on Third Page.