BLUES' HOPES HIGH

YALE MEN AT HENLEY IN THE BEST OF FORM AND SPIRITS.

LANGFORD MUCH PLEASED.

ST. PAUL OARSMAN SAYS HE NEVER FELT FITTER IN HIS LIFE.

MANY FRIENDS ALREADY MADE.

Yale Boys Much More Popular Than Were the Crew That Came From Cornell.

LONDON, June 20.—The quiet, gentlemanly behavior of the Yale men at Henley in the splendid physique have created the most favorable impression upon all who have seen them. They are already great favorites and the comments of the press are of the fairest and kindest description.

A notable exception is Sir George Norton's Daily Courier which is to-day full of sneers. It says to-night for instance:

"The Cornell men claimed that their defeat was due to their being drugged. This year's crew comes of a higher social class; but it must be supposed that they are the social equals and speedier than Harvard. If the Yale men are beaten, as is very possible, they are not likely to take their defeat as pleasantly as Harvard would."

The New College and Leander crews are working hard at Oxford. New College has a formidable eight of which J. Doanop of Albany, N. Y., who was bow of the Oxford crew which defeated Cambridge in the historical race on Thames this year, is a member.

The Yale crew having had almost a week's work at Henley, it will be gratifying to their friends to learn that they are in the best of health and speedily improving. Bob Cook is perfectly satisfied and content.

After the work of the oarsmen today, Mr. Cook said: "The men are in superb condition. They have not been in the least affected by the change of climate. Myself, our short quick stroke, which the press critics and can say that it is as long as the stroke we employ in the races in America. I have found it necessary to give the men severe work and therefore I made them pull fast. The crew do not seem in the least different from the same crew and it fully as fast."

George Langford, the stroke in the Yale crew remarked: "Instead of finding the climate enervating I think it is bracing. I never felt better in my life." and with a "Three-way" and Messrs. Baird and Rodgers coincided.

"From my seat in the boat" said Capt. Trevelyan, "I could see the pace and we can row as fast here as over an American course."

T. L. Clark, the coxswain, said: "The boys are pulling wonderfully well and are improving their stroke."

D. A. Wauchop, the stroke of the Trinity hall crew said: "They

and infinitely superior to the Cornell men. I was a member of the Trinity hall crew which helped to beat Cornell and was gratified to find that these Yale men are gentlemanly and are better in work and manner. Their stroke is handsome and even, but I should like to see their strength put into the finish and have them dip a little deeper."

This morning was dull and cloudy with occasional sprinkles of rain. The Yale crew was up early and mustered at the boat house by 10 o'clock. All were in the condition. Trinity hall occupied the same boat house as the Americans, and when the latter entered their shell, the English crew crowded near to the water in order to watch the start. The bridge was lined with spectators and the Yale crew was accompanied by Armstrong, who rode a bicycle. The start was made with a 24 stroke, which was increased when nearing the island. A strong wind was blowing and the water was rough.

Owing to the weather conditions the Yale crew hugged the Berks shore. The coxswain was gratified to see the dip deeper and keep their blades buried. Bob Cook was terribly in earnest and frequently shook his riding stick and shouted to the oarsmen, crying:

"Langford, keep your oar down." "No, 3, you are very slovenly." etc.

Later the crew went behind Temple Island, where Mr. Cook exercised them on the fine points in short stretches.

Mayor Simmons, of Henley, claims that the Yale men have wonderfully improved with the start. They are not their stroke is much longer than at first and that on account he hopes for the best, and especially as the Americans are feeling well and are pleased with their own work.

The experts have also been carefully watching Mr. McDowell. One of them said: "He is a strong man, sits his boat well and uses his legs so as to secure the best results from the leg work. But I do not think his style as good as that of Guinness or Nickalls."

Mr. McDowell says he is delighted with the courtesy shown him by the Henley officials.

The Yale men have been invited to lunch with Frank Crisp, of Friar Park, Oxford, a family of the Henley club, towards they will be the guest of Mr. Cooper, secretary of the regatta committee, who will take them on a steam launch to the river.

Wm. Waldorf Astor to-day, with a house party consisting of Ladies Broderick and Churchill, Lord and Lady Talbot, Lord and Lady Cranbourn, Lord Charteris, Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt and Col. Oliphant came up the river from Clevedon and visited the Yale boat house.

SEASON ENDING.

The Ascut races have emptied the metropolis of a majority of its fashionable population during the week. The mercury struggled up to the vicinity of 80 during the greater part of the time, a very exceptional showing for this city, and there were many sunbathers and prostrations from the heat reported. The Ascut meeting was an unusual success as a fashionable function in spite of the restriction imposed by the queen out of respect to the late Prince of Wales.

The weather permitted the brightest and lightest costumes and the princess of Wales, with her daughters and a large party, were on the royal stand and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who has been staying at Cliveden with Mr. William Waldorf Astor, and numerous other members of the royal family, were present, but not one of the royal party went into the so-called royal enclosure.

Advices from Berbera, dated May 25, say that Prof. D. G. Elliot, of the Field Columbian museum of Chicago, who had been for three weeks provisionally on the Nile, and at the foot of the Gola mountains, secured two specimens of sub-tropical animals for the return, and he was forming a large caravan with him to penetrate into the interior. The professor had already obtained five specimens of the wild ass, gazelles, hyenas and baboons, and was going first to Toya plain and then via Horghela and Milla to the Webo river, where the members of the American expedition were well when these advices left Berbera.

George Foster, the known member of parliament and British commissioner to the Ascut races, and at the commissions at Washington in the same year and in Paris in 1894, is to take a party of five to the Nile, and will be in his yacht, to witness the eclipse. The party will then search for the Nansen expedition.

The party will then search for the Nansen expedition.

Queen Victoria is expected to arrive at Windsor on Tuesday, and the old castle is being made as bright as possible in anticipation of her return from Scotland.

The number ladies who visit the houses of commons, and Sir Henry Fowler, member for South Devon, has made a formal proposal to limit the members to two visitors for each member daily. The present average is about five for each member per day, and the tea parties are becoming a serious item of expense for those who receive the fair visitors.

TROUBLE IN ITALY.

A letter from an Englishman who has long been a resident in Italy is published in the Truth and gives a serious picture of the situation of affairs there. He says that a revolution is only a question of time, and that the taxes are 80 per cent on all incomes, and that the starving state of the peasantry and the lower classes is a matter of course.

The rich before the revolution, in Gardinia, the children on grass and weeds by the roadside, and in all parts there are deaths from starvation and disease.

Tuscany, it appears, are in open revolt and everywhere the men and women are reduced to a state of starvation and misery.

Great preparations are being made at the army house, Finsbury, this city, where the heads of the ancient and honorable artillery company of London are situated, for the reception and entertainment of their comrades.

The prince of Wales, who is captain general and colonel of the London company, is taking a very great interest in the visit of the Massachusetts artillery company, which obtained from the government permission for the American visitors to enter this country as an armed force.

It is noteworthy that this company will be the first military body to come to England from the United States, and that it will parade the streets of London fully armed, as when passing through their own city.

The summer styles of neckwear are of a pronounced pattern, and the bowties are a striking array of color. Among the many patterns are the narrow black lines. Others of the sailor-knot type are reddish brown color.

The new musical comedy, "On the March," will be produced at the Lyceum theatre on Monday night next. It is by W. Yardley, B. Stephenson and Cecil Gray, and will be the public under the management of Cliss Graham.

A Harvey James has written a comedy entitled "Walter M. Skillmore," which will be produced in this city early next autumn. It is in three acts, and dedicated to Mark Twain, with whom Mr. James traveled in India.

Frederic Austin, the poet laureate, will unveil a statue of Robert Burns at Irvine, on the occasion of the centenary, in July, of the death of the Scotch poet.

TORE HAIR FROM HER HEAD.

The Pain Inflicted by Inflammatory Rheumatism. It Destroyed the Use of One Leg and Nearly Drove the Patient Crazy.

From the time when man first peopled the earth, down to the present day, the mystery of pain has filled all hearts with wonder and terror.

What is its nature, what are its causes, why it is permitted and what its uses are in the great economy of nature? All these questions man has asked himself, and of one another, and sometimes they fancy that they have found partial solutions of this great problem.

Many ways of relieving physical suffering have been devised, cunning minds have assisted tender hearts in bringing aid to the afflicted, all the vast resources of nature's laboratory have been pressed into service, to the end that tortured bodies might have succored from anguish, and know the peace that only health and a clear conscience can bring.

Such an one is Mrs. Kittle Baker, of Lebanon, N. Y. Mrs. Baker, an attractive woman between forty and fifty years of age, tells a sad tale of most agonizing pain endured through weary months, and of final relief and cure through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

She was ill for more than a year, suffering from a disorder which resulted in the utter loss of the use of one leg. She became entirely helpless, inflammatory rheumatism set in, and for four months Mrs. Baker was unable to put her foot to the floor.

Her husband had been beside her so great that she tore her hair from her head, in moments of frantic agony, and it became necessary to watch her most carefully, lest she should hurt herself with pain, she should carry out her expressed desire and put an end to an existence which had become one prolonged torture.

When she had taken four pills her nurse noticed a change for the better in her condition, and in an incredibly short space of time she was able to stand upon her feet once more. Then to wait upon herself a bit. Then to do a little work occasionally, and in a year's time Mrs. Baker, a well and grateful woman, is the mistress of a farmer's household, caring for the milk of a large herd of cows, attending to the needs of a family, and finding her strength adequate to the performance of all the duties pertaining to such a position. She cannot too heartily praise the bridegroom who carried her over a renewed lease of life, toward health and happiness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to women, such as depression, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of the system. Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. J. C. Williams, Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

LIGHTED BY FIRE BALLS.

Extraordinary Phenomenon Witnessed on Board an Ocean Vessel. Philadelphia Record.

One of the most unique electrical storms at sea, which probably seemed a cargo of Spanish iron ore passed through it, was experienced by the British steamship Mercedes, which arrived at this port yesterday from Bilbao.

On the 14th of the Mercedes, states that the passage was one of the most trying experiences of his life. The rolling and lurching of the vessel in the storm, and the fury of the gales were terrific in the vicinity of 25 degrees longitude. Only the heroic work of the crew saved the vessel, as all the shipping men about the marine exchange yesterday agreed.

The oldest of all the obelisks is the beautiful one of rose granite which stands alone among the green fields on the banks of the Nile not far from Cairo. It is the gravestone of a great city which has vanished and left only this relic behind.

That city was Bethshemes of Scripture, the famous On, which is memorable to all Bible readers as the residence of the priest of On, Puthorah, whose daughter, Asenath, Joseph married. The Greeks called it Heliopolis, the city of the sun, because there the worship of the sun had its chief center and its most sacred shrine. It was the seat of the most ancient university of the world, to which youthful students came from all parts of the world to learn the occult wisdom which the priests of On alone could teach.

Thales, Solon, Eudoxus, Pythagoras and Plato all studied there; perhaps Moses, too. loose from its fastenings and swept overboard, leaving a hole in the vessel's deck through which the water ran into the cargo. In its course it carried away the main topmast, which was also of iron; part of the flying bridge, the after winch, and part of the deck fittings. The decks were flooded with tons of water, the ship rolled at an angle of 70 degrees and the sea broke in all directions, filling the cabin and the officers' quarters.

subsidized, when the electrical fire appeared in all directions. It hung in big balls for two nights from the masts and fore and aft stays, and practically turned night into day. As the big fire balls came together, they would burst with a loud report upon the vessel and disappear. Under this light at night such temporary repairs were made as were deemed necessary to reach port.
