GOOD PREMIUM ON BONDS.

Bids Were Even Better Than Were Expected.

Bids were opened yesterday for the purchase of the $100,000 of school bonds recently authorized by the council. The following bids were received:

Blodgett, Merritt & Co., Boston, $104,275. E. H. Moulton, for Farmers and Mechanics' Savings Bank, Minneapolis, $104,000. Dietz, Dennison & Prior, Boston and Cleveland, $104,520.

This bid was afterward withdrawn by telegram. The members of the ways and means committee were very much pleased with the offers submitted, as the number and the premiums offered conclusively that Minneapolis paper is considered gilt edged in financial circles and is in good demand.

The big Hayes & Sons was accepted. The firm being allowed ten days to take the bonds.

Five double-fourth blazes. A single house located at Fourth street and Fifth avenue north, were partially destroyed by a fire which originated in a shed in the Wednesday morning. HOT DAY AT HAHA

BUT THE FLYERS, BOTH EQUINE AND HUMAN MADE GOOD TIME.

BIG DERBY WAS NOT RUN.

NOT ENOUGH STARTERS TO COMPLY WITH THE ASSOCIATION REGULATIONS.

PALM WINS IN THE HANDICAP.

Martin of St. Paul a Good Second-Fairman and the Swede Today.

The second day of the Minneapolis Driving club's summer meeting at Minnehaha track was a decided improvement in every way over the introductory occasion.

The extreme heat and the strong wind still blowing were discouraging factors as on the first day, but otherwise the climatic conditions were all that could have been desired, and there was a very noticeable increase in the attendance, fully twice the number of people being present than were on hand the first day.

The track was still a little slow but this did not prevent some first class exhibitions of sport and both bicyclists and horsemen, apparently, were in their element. All events passed off smoothly and the only thing to mar the pleasure of those present was the inability of the management to pull off the great derby, the 2:25 trot, three mile dash. Considerable disappointment was occasioned by this announcement but it could not be helped. There were five entries for this race and the trotting pair of the pupil Gus Hansen, with three starters could be found in no other event was accordingly postponed until today.

The other derby, the five-mile handicap for amateur cyclists, which excited fully as much interest as was manifested in the trotting race, was off on schedule time and was one of the most gamely contested events of the kind that have been seen on local tracks this season.

There were about 30 starters and 24 stuck it out to the finish. A spill in the fourth mile threw several riders out of the race and all of them were more or less bruised. Charles Hayes and Son, Cleveland, $103,250. E. H. Gay & Co., $104,700.

This bid was afterward withdrawn by telegram. The members of the ways and means committee were very much pleased with the offers submitted, as the number and the premiums offered conclusively that Minneapolis paper is considered gilt edged in financial circles and is in good demand.

NORTH DAKOTA CROPS.

Weather Not So Favorable to Most Kinds of Grain.

BISMARCK, S. D., July 1.—The weekly report of the weather and crop bureau is as follows: The weather conditions during the past week, while favorable for growth, have been injurious to the wheat in many localities. The hot weather during the day, followed by rain or heavy dew at night has caused considerable rust in the wheat. The outlook is to indicate a poor outlook. The earlier sown wheat has made such headway as to partially escape injury from this cause, and there will soon, and not infrequently, be a heavy yield, but the later sown grain does not fare so well, the young stools being reported as killed by rust, and some fields are turning yellow. Rice and oats still hold their own, and are making good headway, being in some places fifteen inches high, and heading out. Flax also is making good growth and some fields are reported as heading out. An immense yield, and in some sections cutting has commenced.

Davies as chairman and A. P. Peterson as secretary. The members were instructed to appoint a chairman for each county who is to obtain and forward lists of the sympathizers in their respective counties in general to the work in their districts. SHERIFF TELEGRAPHED HE WAS UNABLE TO CONTROL THE ANGRY CROWD.

WOMEN TOOK PART IN TROUBLE.

Drove the Non-Union Men From the Stone Quarries With Clubs and Threats.

BEEBA, O., July 1.—Over 100 shots were exchanged by deputy sheriffs and strikers this morning at the stone quarries at West View. No one was killed, so far as known. One striker had his leg broken in two places, and many have sore heads as the result of a hand to hand conflict.

While the strikers were at West View the women in overwhelming numbers drove the quarry men by storm and drove out the workers with clubs. The sheriff was at West View with all but a handful of his deputies, and in consequence the women had it all their own way. When the news reached that some of the strikers had been injured at West View, the women were beside themselves with rage, and were only kept in check by the large body of citizens hastily summoned from the village. The strikers refused to back down, and the women were repulsed and fell back to the woods. The men in the quarries are quitting for fear and by th impunctuality of their wives.

THE CAMEL

An Englishman's Witty Description of the Animal.

London News. The camel, be it once said, is an ever-ready beast. There is a great deal of him, but he is not for his size nearly so strong as the useful, unpretentious donkey. The camel's anatomy is so strangely conceived. His legs are attached to his great, unwieldy carcass with seemingly so little consideration for the uses to which (merely viewed as a beast) he might be expected to put them. And his neck and tall are so obviously disproportionate to the rest of him, and both so useless, that one cannot help but wonder how the camel is somehow incomplete, or owing to some mistake, was never finished off at all.

Even the qualities he possesses tend to strengthen one in this bewildering suspicion. For instance, he can kick himself violently in the—let us say the front of the back—with his foreleg. He does it constantly all the time, and again I must admit to an attempt to win the confidence of my favorite camel—my favorite because he is so much more to me than the others. I have wooed him with the soft note of my kourbach. I have tempted him with the thickest of mince, and I have even marked in tobacco smoke in his supercilious nostrils. And then, just as I have fancied I saw the light of sympathy dawning in his long-lashed eye, he has risen all of a sudden, and with a snarl that is almost in a frightful manner, disclosing a forest of green and broken teeth and gazing at me full, with more vindictive content than I have ever marked in any human eye, has kicked himself violently in the stomach and lain down again, as if he would say, "Now, go away and don't bother, like a good boy."

Then he can gnaw his own tail—his absurd useless little rag of a tail that isn't even worth biting. But he has an object worth living for. Or, again, he has, to be sure, seven stomachs, of which, vain beast, he is so inordinately proud (as though he had anything to do with it), that he is constantly fretting himself to show you, and blows it out from his great, ugly throat in a horrid, glittering, transparent bulb for you to admire. A more nauseating picture so powerfully demonstrated in the United States. In the congested East district of New York city thousands of people for a whole year, and the only state that furnishes the opposite side to the wretched side picture. There are Nebraska, Montana, Nevada, Arizona—40 more or less rich in natural resources, and only waiting for the hand of a man, to turn them to the use of the world. It is not the only country that is so affected.

It seems strange to think that in one single town there should be more people than in an entire country. Yet such is the case. Australia has a population of a little over 2,000,000, which falls short of that of the metropolis of the population of Australia and Canada combined. This can be set down in rough figures as follows:

London ..... 2,400,000 Canada ..... 5,000,000 Paris ..... 2,400,000 Australia ..... 2,000,000 New York ..... 1,600,000 8,000,000

Here we have three cities whose combined population exceeds that which is spread over an area nearly twice the size of Europe. Again, if we compare the little Kingdom of Belgium with the Dominion of Wales, a remarkable contrast is noticeable: Belgium—area, 11,573 square miles; population, 5,200,000. Canada—area, 3,835,647 square miles; population, 5,000,000.

From this it will be seen that Canada, although nearly 300 times the size of Belgium, contains a considerably smaller population. To take another contrast: The tract of land comprising Western Australia, which occupies an area of over 1,000,000 square miles, contains 50,000 people, while the inhabitants of the little island of Hongkong, which covers an area of 32 square miles, being only ten miles long and three broad, amounting to 1,000,000. It is to say, Western Australia, although nearly 300 times the size of Hongkong, contains one quarter the number of inhabitants.
