WITHOUT A PRAYER.

Convention Opened Without the Customary Invocation.

At 10:55 when Chairman White indicated his desire that the convention should come to order not more than two-thirds of the delegates were in attendance. In the West gallery, which directly faces the platform, were seated one-third of the space was occupied, and in the north and south galleries there was but a small sprinkling of people.

Sewall Presented by Delegate Burke of California. William R. Burke, of California—"What I shall say to you at this juncture, I know in one respect will come to you in the East for your candidate. I will nominate a man who was once a gold man, but who saw the error of his way; and I propose to you, my friends, to make a man who will stand with you in the East for your candidate."

"COLD WATER" MARSTON.

He Offered the Name of McLean of Ohio. E. W. Marston, of Louisiana, claimed the attention of the chair. As soon as he arose, cries of "water, water," were heard in different parts of the hall, and there was some laughter and cheering as he marched to the platform.
