

TIGERS DIED HARD.

THEY MAKE A HOT FIGHT BUT LOSE IT, SEVEN TO FIVE.

EIGHT SUCCESSIVE GAMES

HAVE NOW BEEN WON BY THE APOSTOLIC AGGREGATION OF HITTERS.

MINNEAPOLIS IS SHUT OUT.

Despised Gold Bugs Win a Glorious Victory—Milwaukee Throws Hoosiers Down.

St. Paul 7, Detroit 5. Grand Rapids 3, Minneapolis 0. Kansas City 6, Columbus 3. Milwaukee 5, Indianapolis 3.

Table with columns: Team, Played, Won, Lost, Per Cent. Rows include Indianapolis, St. Paul, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Grand Rapids, Columbus.

GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TODAY. Detroit at St. Paul. Grand Rapids at Minneapolis. Columbus at Kansas City. Indianapolis at Milwaukee.

Will Mr. James Manning, of Kansas City, call at the Globe to be office and receive an apology?

Kansas City has not the dirtiest ball players in the Western League.

Detroit may flout that distinction in lieu of the pennant, Free Press cut and other trophies that the whilom leaders fully expected to corral during the dog days.

Manager Vanderbeck ought to take his pets out to the town pump and wash their uniforms. Then while they are waiting for the clothes to dry, he might whisper it to them that dirty ball does not pay.

Nicholson, the Tiger's second baseman, is foremost of the team—in the batting order. He also has a cute little trick of blocking men off second base and then trying to force their ribs apart with the ball. Mr. Nicholson tried this yesterday afternoon, and when he substituted another who tried to mastication of his supper, two of his teeth had left their accustomed haunts and were being carried in his trousers' pocket to remind him that he is less handsome but more experienced than he was yesterday morning.

Burnett, who plays center field, right field or any other place, is deserving of special mention. He knocked Bert Inks off first base into the sand, face down, as a sort of playful way of reminding him that the tigers come from the jungle and could eat him up when it came to pugilism, even if they couldn't show him that he is deserving of special mention. He was south-paw against south-paw in yesterday's game and the man that came from the farthest south won. His name is Inks. He has not always lived South. At one time he prodded the lethargic burro on the plains of the Little Misssippippi, cultivating under the North Dakota sun a most luxuriant crop of curly hair, fit either for foot ball or piano playing. But he became a pitcher. He is a pitcher. In six of their nine innings yesterday the Tigers were without that most necessary of ball game known as a safe hit. In the three innings that followed, they accumulated but eight, and one of these came on a bad decision of the umpire, when the side should have been out.

Bobby Gayle was Detroit's twirler. Bobby had two of the local team out in the first inning, and another who crowd knew the game was on, but Kraus, who reappeared in the game very opportunely, hit a nice two bagger and George and Burns found him for singles. That scored Kraus, and George may have scored had he not been blocked off by Nicholson and put out. This did not tend to make Nicholson very popular, and was but the preparation for the hostilities later.

Nicholson led off for Detroit with a two-bagger to right. Stallings hit the ball hard, but George, who advanced Nicholson, who then scored on Gillen's single. Whistler made a safe hit too, but two of them died. The game was a tie, and that made hostilities ever so much more ready.

Neither side got a man to first base in the second and the crowd began to growl. In the third inning the Tigers got a base on balls, George, however, forced Kraus out, and it was left to Stallings to get the ball. O'Rourke, Tim threw the ball to first, but Stallings slid in. It was a close decision, but Umpire O'Day called the Detroit captain out, and there was some talk over that. The Dugan hit another hot one to O'Rourke and reached first safely, only to be caught between first and second on what Stallings claimed was a balk by Inks. The umpire, however, did not allow. Burns hit safely in the fourth, but that was as far as any Apostle got in the inning and one base farther than Detroit could get. It was still a tie, by the way.

Inks went out on a foul fly to Trost, but Gayle gave O'Rourke a base. Nicholson gave O'Rourke a life, and Kraus safely filled the bases. George drove the ball toward Nicholson, and it reached him about the same time that Kraus did on his way to second. There was a mix-up in which Nicholson lost two teeth and the ball bounded almost across the diamond. Nicholson claimed that it was Kraus' cause of his teeth becoming detached from their previous location. O'Day allowed as how that was right, and called Kraus out for interference, putting O'Rourke back on third and Glasscock on second. That gave an opportunity for another wrangle, and made everybody on each side a little madder than he had been before. There were three on base when Burns sent a fly to Burnett and all were dead to the world, with the score a tie.

Trost then found Inks for a nice single, and Niland lined the ball over the fence away beyond the advertise-ing hat. That made the score three to one. Gayle hit a hard one through O'Rourke's best, and Nicholson sacrificed. Stallings gave Shugart a chance which the short stop did not accept, and Dungan flew out to George. Gillen hit down the left foul line, and O'Rourke got the ball, and touched the base, which would have retired the side had not the umpire decided that it was a foul. Thus revived, Gillen lined out to George. Gayle scored. A wild pitch scored Stallings, making two runs after the side should have been out. Whistler flew to Shugart and the locals came in.

Pickett hit a hard one and was safe. Shugart sent a fly which Dungan caught after a nice run. Spies also went to left through a good place. O'Rourke lined it out, and Inks sent a safe one and Glasscock singled, as did Kraus. Nicholson was waiting for Kraus, and when the little fellow ran over second on George's single to center, Nicholson gave Gayle the tip to stop the throw to the plate. Glasscock and got the ball back to second for Kraus. The ball came sliding with Niland on second and Kraus sliding in. O'Rourke's net, which was in the way, posed as to effectually prevent Frank from reaching the base. When Kraus got up Nicholson knocked him down, and they were squaring off for fight. Glasscock's relation to the umpire, a place of shelter, Umpire O'Day parted the fighters, and Comiskey rushed in from first and seized Nicholson by the throat, ending the battle. The umpire put both Kraus and Nicholson out of the game and declared Kraus out, which made another howl. However, the locals had scored five and were now one run ahead.

Inks settled down and struck out Burnett which made the latter mad and probably accounted for his malicious display in the ninth inning. Trost and Niland could not hit the ball out of the base lines.

Pickett got a base on balls and Shugart hit an easy one to Fifeild, second, and O'Rourke, must have hit, and both were safe. Spies hit to Whistler, who wanted to cut Shugart off at second. This time the ball hit Shugart in the back, and the bases were full with no one out. Gayle struck out Mullane and O'Rourke, and Glasscock forced Shugart out at third. Detroit failed to get the ball out of the diamond again.

Gillen's throw gave Burns first base after two were out, but no one scored. In the field it was Shugart's inning. He first took a fly and then a ball to center, and then he hit the hot one, which Jack stopped, but fell down in doing so. Shugart came to the rescue in an instant and about the time it looked like a safe hit, Shugart hit the ball and the pitcher disengaged, outstretched mitt. It was a quick play and was roundly applauded.

Shugart then came to bat and put the ball in the left fence close to the foul line for two bases. Spies struck out. Inks bunted, and Gayle thought the ball was going to roll foul. It finally rested about six inches in front of the pitcher, who stepped over it. He was but "playing possum," however, for when Spies stepped off second, Gayle threw the ball quickly to Fifeild, but not quite quick enough. O'Rourke struck out again, and Glasscock forced Inks out. Then he and Spies tried the double steal, but they caught Spies at the plate.

Two runs would have tied, but Burnett hit a hard one to Glasscock, who dropped it. Inks covered the bag, and was on it when Burnett came up bunting, and pushed him headlong into the sand. Trost gave O'Rourke a chance and went out, and Liland sent a foul fly to Glasscock.

The score was the same as on Saturday. St. Paul, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. O'Rourke, 2b..... 5 1 1 0 4 0 0 Glasscock, 1b..... 5 1 1 12 3 0 0 Burns, c..... 5 0 2 0 0 0 0 Shugart, ss..... 5 1 1 2 3 1 0 Spies, 3b..... 5 2 2 0 0 0 0 Mullane, rf..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Totals..... 43 7 16 27 14 2

Detroit, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. Nicholson, 2b..... 2 1 1 2 3 3 1 Stallings, 1b..... 4 1 1 1 1 0 0 Dungan, cf..... 4 0 2 1 1 0 0 Gillen, 3b..... 4 0 2 1 3 1 0 Burnett, rf..... 4 0 0 2 0 0 0 Trost, c..... 4 1 1 5 0 0 0 Gayle, p..... 3 1 1 0 1 0 1 Fifeild, 2b..... 1 0 0 2 1 0 0 Totals..... 34 5 8 26 16 4

*Kraus out for interference.

St. Paul, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. O'Rourke, 2b..... 5 1 1 0 4 0 0 Glasscock, 1b..... 5 1 1 12 3 0 0 Burns, c..... 5 0 2 0 0 0 0 Shugart, ss..... 5 1 1 2 3 1 0 Spies, 3b..... 5 2 2 0 0 0 0 Mullane, rf..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 Totals..... 43 7 16 27 14 2

Earned runs, St. Paul 7, Detroit 3. Two base hits, Kraus, Shugart, Nicholson; home run, Niland; sacrifice hit, Nicholson; stolen base, Burns. Errors, Burns, Nicholson, O'Rourke; by pitcher, by Gayle 1; struck out, by Inks 3; by Gayle 3; left on base, St. Paul 3; Detroit 3. Time of game, 2:35; umpire, O'Day.

MILLERS SHUT OUT. Worse Disgrace Than That Famous Sunday Game in St. Paul.

Grand Rapids 3, Minneapolis 0; and Minneapolis was lucky to get that much out of the Browns and the Minneapolis game was one of those games that is better than any other game of the season. The Grand Rapids team is giving the best general exhibition of ball playing that has been seen here for a long time, not excepting St. Paul, and yesterday the aggregation put up a marvelous game. If you don't believe it ask Ben, the pitcher, who occupied a seat in the scorer's box.

Any game where both teams together make but three runs, ten hits and one error, is a fine game of ball, and that was the situation yesterday. McFarland, the Chicago league club pitcher, showed himself to be a master of his profession. He allowed the Millers but three little singles, and he was backed by perfect fielding. Hutchison pitched a fine game, being touched up for but seven safe ones, but one of these was a home run and three other bobbles.

But twenty-seven Millers went to bat during the game, which is practically a record for Mr. McFarland. In two cases Minneapolis players reached the third bag, but they never went any farther than that post. Connors, who was not and Straus were the only ones to find the ball at all, and they each have a little single scored up to them. Straus came out of the scrimmage well, though, as he went to first on balls once, sacrificed another time and made a hit, thus keeping his batting average from sinking.

The visitors did not discover what they could do until the third inning. Then McBride put the ball over the right field fence for a home run. Wilnot was sorry, but told Hutchison how much worse it might have been had there been any one on the bases. He never dreamed that that insignificant run would be sufficient to win the game. In the sixth inning, after two men were out on Ball's double play, Gettinger hit into left field for two bases. Mills sent the ball into right field for two sacks, scoring Gettinger, of scores. In the seventh inning Camp hit into right field. McFarland advanced him a base with a sacrifice and Gillis brought him in with a double, the ball going into left field. The score was 3 to 0.

Table with columns: Team, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. Rows include Minneapolis, Grand Rapids, Milwaukee, Kansas City, St. Paul, Detroit.

Grand Rapids, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. McBride, cf..... 4 1 1 1 1 0 0 Gillis, 1b..... 4 0 2 1 1 0 0 Smink, c..... 4 0 2 1 1 0 0 Carney, 1b..... 4 0 0 14 1 0 0 Gettinger, rf..... 4 0 0 9 0 0 0 Mills, 2b..... 4 0 0 14 4 0 0 Wheeler, cf..... 4 0 0 8 4 0 0 McFarland, p..... 2 0 0 0 2 0 0 Totals..... 28 3 7 27 16 0

Minnesota, A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. Grand Rapids..... 3 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 Milwaukee..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 Kansas City..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 St. Paul..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 Detroit..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0

Spelled Broken. Hoosiers at Last Lose a Game to the Brewers. MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 13.—The Brewers won an exciting game from the Hoosiers today, and they were the victors, earning four runs in the first inning. Score: Milwaukee..... 4 0 0 0 1 0 0 0-3 Indianapolis..... 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-3 4 1 Batteries: Baker and Spear; Cross and Buckley.

BLUES WIN AGAIN. KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13.—Today's game was evenly played and without special feature, Kansas City won by bunting hits in the fourth inning. Score: Kansas City..... 2 0 0 4 0 0 0 0-5 Columbus..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 2 0-3 10 2 Batteries: Callahan and Blanford; McGreevy and Hassamer.

NATIONAL LEAGUE. Colonels Not Up to the Pace Set by Orioles. Played. Won. Lost. Per Cent. Cincinnati..... 45 31 24..... .560 Baltimore..... 44 24 20..... .545 Cleveland..... 47 44 23..... .657 Boston..... 49 40 29..... .570 Chicago..... 49 37 32..... .536 Pittsburgh..... 49 37 32..... .536 Brooklyn..... 42 34 38..... .473 Philadelphia..... 46 31 35..... .470 Washington..... 46 31 35..... .470 New York..... 47 28 44..... .413 St. Louis..... 45 29 44..... .400 Louisville..... 45 16 64..... .242

GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TODAY. Philadelphia at Chicago. Brooklyn at Detroit. St. Paul at New York at Cleveland. Baltimore at Louisville. Boston at Washington at St. Louis.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 13.—After the first inning the Colonels could not touch Hemming. The Orioles hit Frazer twice, Miller started to catch the ball, but was struck in the eye by a thrown ball in the first inning and had to retire. He will be out of the game for several days. Attendance, 1,200. Score: Baltimore..... 2 0 2 0 0 2 5 1-7 R.H.E. Louisville..... 5 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-5 6 5 Batteries: Hemming and Clark; Frazer, Miller and Wilson.

BEATEN BY GIANTS. CLEVELAND, O., July 13.—Cleveland played a very poor game. In Cleveland's half of the fifth the umpire called the game on account of rain. Attendance, 1,000. Score: Cleveland..... 0 0 1 0 1 0 5 0 R.H.E. New York..... 0 0 1 0 0 4 2 5 9 Batteries: Cuddy and Zimmer; Sullivan and Wilson.

TERRIFIC BATTING. CHICAGO, July 13.—Delahanty's terrific batting was the feature of today's game and probably saved his team from a coat of whitewash. He hit three home runs. At bat five times, he lined out a single and four clean home runs, scoring seven of his team's runs. He played well in the field. Attendance, 1,100. Score: Chicago..... 1 0 4 0 4 0 0 0-5 R.H.E. Philadelphia..... 2 1 0 0 3 0 1 0-3 9 1 Batteries: Terry and Kittredge; Garvin and Clement.

SLUGGING STREAK ON. PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 13.—Lyon's errors and a batting streak of the Boston's in the eighth inning, which was the only feature was Ely's phenomenal shot and throw to first of Bergen's hot liner. Attendance, 1,300. Score: Pittsburgh..... 2 0 1 0 2 0 0 0-4 R.H.E. Boston..... 2 0 1 0 2 0 0 0-4 8 3 Batteries: Killen and Suggen; Sullivan and Bergen.

CLOSE CONTEST. CINCINNATI, O., July 13.—Cincinnati won a rather close game from Brooklyn today by bunched hitting. The only error of the game was made by the pitcher, who allowed some into a run. Payne took Kennedy's place in the box at the beginning of the fifth inning. Attendance, 2,700. Score: Cincinnati..... 3 0 1 2 0 1 0 0-7 11 1 Brooklyn..... 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-2 8 2 Batteries: Fisher and Vaughn; Kennedy, Payne and Grim.

TWELVE-INNING GAME. ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 13.—A twelve-inning game between the Browns and Senators, resulting in a victory for the former by a small margin. It was a pitcher's battle, and the Browns were well supported. Attendance, 1,000. Score: St. Louis..... 11 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 1-5 9 2 Washington..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-4 2 2 Batteries: Hart and McFarland; McJannet and McGuire.

QUICK RECONSTRUCTION. Winona Baseball Team and Manager Let Out—New Team Hired. Special to the Globe. WINONA, Minn., July 13.—The Winona Baseball team held an important meeting this morning at the Hotel Winona. New officers were elected as follows: President, S. E. Carbell; After, H. J. Furmham; secretary and treasurer, H. J. Grabow; directors, S. E. Livermore, Gus Hart and E. K. Carbell. After the election of officers the association proceeded to divide into business and accomplished a remarkable record. The members of the Winona team no doubt think a whirlwind struck that session. The team was disbanded, and the members were given their discharges, to take a vacation. The offer of Capt. Messery, of the Mankato line, was accepted. It was the effect that the entire Mankato line be brought to this city as Winona's representative nine for the future, and at once take up the dates and work left vacant by the discharge of the present team. On Saturday and Sunday the Winona will play the Fort Snelling nine here in their initial games. The Fort boys will come by boat and bring the fort band with them.

LAST CHANCE TILL AUGUST. Detroit Must Win Today or Not at All. St. Paul and Detroit will play their last game of the present series at Aurora park this afternoon. Denver or Millard will pitch for the home team, and Fifeild or Egan will be the visitors. The Tigers have not a game on St. Paul grounds this season, and they are making a determined fight, as they showed yesterday. Stallings, who has been back in the game again, puts the team in a better shape than it has yet been in the trip.

Tomorrow Columbus comes. It is a singular fact that in each of the recent Detroit games, St. Paul has had thirteen men left on base. Glasscock was the first man in the home team, if not in the league, to make 100 runs this season. Stallings pulled down a beauty from Pickett's bat in the fourth inning. Tommy Niland made a fine left-hand stop that cut off two runs.

O'Day gave the Tigers two runs in the fifth. The ball that he heaved a foul on Gillen did not go outside the line until it passed third base. Pickett and Shugart got together on Whistler's hot one in the eighth. Some day Burnett will push some one into the field with the "Tiger's" sign logo. Mullane and Johnson's joke together Saturday night at Nick Weller's. Johnson threw something at Tapp's head and it went through a plate glass window. Johnson was not of the "Tiger's" party, nor even a uniform. Mullane was the only Apostle who did not hit safely, and he was only up once. As between Kraus and Nicholson there is only one guess as to which is the more quiet and orderly ball player. Niland came in for a fno yesterday. The Tigers were so sloppy that Gayle and Trost got to fighting before the end. Manager Vanderbeck is not with the Detroit team this trip. Pitcher Wolverton has developed into a catcher. Thursday he caught a good game at Columbus, and also hit the ball hard. He is a young fellow, and has a smash-up chain broke. In fact, the turn Parker's Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. This brought all seven big guns together in the final. Parker set the pace to the quarter, but he was overtaken by the other two. Cooper was forced out, and in spite of a three-beat, with interest centered. There were thirty-six entries, and it was run in three heats, with three to qualify. The first heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E. C. Johnson. The second heat was won by Cooper, Schrein and E.