

OFFICE 29 SOUTH FOURTH STREET.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Boyd left for Europe last night.

Ensign Potter, of the Salvation Army, is dangerously ill at the home of Maj. Gifford, on Fifteenth street west.

W. B. Hammond will deliver an address this afternoon at 3 o'clock at 34 Washington avenue south, on "The Value of Labor Organization."

Stephen Regan fell from a Northern Pacific train Friday night and crushed his foot beneath one of the cars. He was taken to the city hospital.

The state board of pharmacy, which has been in session at the university during the week, examining candidates for registration as pharmacists and assistants, having completed its work has adjourned to these present.

A mass meeting will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Twenty-sixth and Girard avenues north, at which the single tax problem will be discussed. Among the speakers will be C. J. Buell, S. A. Stockwell and W. J. Gallagher.

The finance committee of the park board, after an examination of the books of the board, find the finances in a really better condition than had been expected, which will make it possible to do considerable more park work this year than was at first planned.

John Wenberg was arraigned in the municipal court yesterday morning on a charge of non-support, preferred by his wife, Martha. The judge continued the case for two weeks, and at the expiration of that time he was to report to the court what he had done for his wife and four children.

The board of Trade has called a public meeting, or such as are interested in seeing a reduction of city assessments, to be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Board of Trade room in Lumber Exchange. Several executive committees have already been held, where proposed action has been discussed. At the meeting Monday a fuller statement of facts will be submitted to those present.

The case of Henry Sella and Louis J. Dickman, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails, was continued yesterday morning before United States Commissioner Jodel. After a number of witnesses had been examined for the prosecution, Louis J. Sella, attorney for the defendants, secured a continuance until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Sella and Dickman were released in $5,000 bail.

The United Norwegian Lutheran church has applied to Attorney General Childs for a writ of quo warranto directed against the trustees of Augsburg seminary, Minneapolis, to show cause why they should not retire in favor of the new board elected by the church at its annual meeting. This movement precipitates an active fight for the possession of the seminary property, which has been confined to talk and newspaper controversy.

THE PRIZE DESIGN.

A Striking Effect for the Big Store Catalogue.

The accompanying illustration shows the design for the cover of the "Big Store" catalogue for this fall and winter. The design was made by Harry Curtis, and it won first prize. The lettering, the dress and the sun will be printed in red. The design will be printed on a fine tint paper, a lilac shade, this color being the trade mark of the "Big Store."

THE PRIZE DESIGN.

There were 25,000 copies of the catalogue circulated this fall.

TARTAR VERY FAST.

The Again Goes to the Front of Marie.

The Minnetonka Yacht club had a stiff wind for its race yesterday afternoon, and sailed over the course in fast time, 1:42:19, corrected, for the winner. There was no new story. Tartar won out easily, passing the home buoy three minutes ahead of second boat in, and in a matter of minutes on the second boat in her class. It is an oft repeated tale that the Beatrice won in class yesterday, but the Tartar was the victor since they entered the fleet. Both are this year's winners. Marie, the champion of last season, was beaten in her own wind yesterday, and not a doubt remains of the speed of Tartar. The Tartar was the victor in all sail set and every stitch drawing. Tartar led the fleet on the last round of the triangle and had everything her own way.

Child Psychology.

"Child Psychology in the University Summer School" is the course designed for teachers and students desiring a fundamental knowledge of what is hereditary in our life of movement, pleasure and pain, and what is acquired and how the acquisition progresses through experience. Special attention and much original material from the psychological diaries of two children will be given on pleasure and pain as the basis of child, and on the basis of the child's reasoning; also the latest research on the development of the child's brain (Plechsig's "Gehirn und Seele," Koller, Donaldson, etc.) as the basis of all our mental life. The literature of the subject will be thoroughly presented, together with some vital applications to pedagogy. The course will be one and a half hours, at 2:30 p. m., from July 25 to Aug. 21.

Bryan's Relatives There.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 25.—Unknown to the thousands present at the Populist and Silver convention, a number of the Bryan family sat through the exciting scenes enacted recently at convention hall. The party consisted of a number of the Bryan family, niece and two cousins of the Democratic presidential nominee. The entire family group were from St. Louis, Ill., and they were in St. Louis in time.

Ballot Law Block.

COLUMBUS, O., July 25.—A prominent state official said today that under Danna law passed last winter, the printing of the names of candidates under the Australian ballot is prohibited in Ohio. This will prevent fusion by Populists with Democrats. Democrats threaten to institute proceedings in mandamus.

NOT TO BE HELD TOGETHER.

AN ATTEMPT MADE TO PREVENT TRADING OF VARIOUS OFFICES.

EACH OF CANDIDATES MUST PAY FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF FINDING OUT Whether He's Popular With His Constituents.

The Republican city committee met at the Union League rooms yesterday afternoon and called the conventions for the nomination of city officers and aldermen upon the Republican ticket. The conventions will be held Aug. 25 at 10 o'clock a. m. The city convention will be held at Normanna hall, and the aldermanic conventions as follows: First ward, Germania hall, 1227 Main street, northeast; Second ward, wigwam, Oak street; Third ward, Durham's hall, Twentieth avenue, north; Fourth ward, Union League rooms; Fifth ward, old court house; Sixth ward, Danla hall; Seventh ward, at the new Republican club house; Eighth ward, Eighth ward relief hall; Ninth ward, Hagam's hall, Central avenue; Tenth ward, wigwam, Washington and Thirty-second avenue, north; Eleventh ward, Sherman hall, Franklin, near Fifteenth avenue, south; Twelfth ward, Wornley's hall, Minnehaha avenue, near Lake street; Thirteenth ward, Scandinavian club house, Nicollet and Thirty-seventh street.

The date set for the primaries is the evening before the convention, Aug. 24, the polls to be open the usual time. Two sets of delegates will be chosen, one for the city convention, and the other for the aldermanic.

The city committee was present in its entirety, with the exception of the member from the First ward, John Goodnow presided, and S. L. Trussell was secretary. Mayor Pratt and Comptroller Nye were present. There was a little discussion over the question of holding the aldermanic and the city convention at the same time, some of the members of the committee favoring the holding of the aldermanic conventions at the earlier hour and the city convention at 11 o'clock. This was opposed because to have two entirely separate sets of delegates for each of the conventions would prevent any attempts at trading one office off for another. The committee authorized the assessment of $10 against each aspirant for a city office or justice of the peace and $5 against all the aldermanic candidates, for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses.

recalled to the stage. He did not place Mr. Bryan in nomination, however. When Alabama was called, Gov. Kolb cried to Gen. Weaver, of Iowa, Gen. Weaver came forward formally placed Mr. Bryan in nomination.

Gen. Weaver said: "In that midnight discussion between Brutus and Cassius, concerning the contemplated battle at Philippi, Brutus urged that their cause was right, their legions brimful at the height, and ready to decline. Said he, 'There is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at a flood leads on to fortune; omitted, all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and miseries.'"

And then, in dramatic climax, he exclaimed: "On such a full sea are we now afloat, and we must go with the current when it swears or lures our ventures."

For twenty years we have been pleading with the people to espouse the sacred cause which is at stake in this campaign. We have constantly urged through good and through evil report, that our principles were more important than party associations; we care above all considerations of private fortune or the petty and feverish ambitions of men. We have thus far suited our action to our words. Through three presidential campaigns, stretching from 1872 to 1892, you correctly estimated the purposes of old party managers and events have sustained every specification in your indictment against them. We, the honest men within old party ranks were deceived, lured into ambush and betrayed. But not a single honest man has been taken by surprise. Your devoted efforts in largely due to the revival of economic learning in this country, which has enabled the democratic cause to stand on its own feet. Your work now promises much to mankind, and is about to break forth in complete and glorious industrial manhood. Though oft repulsed by the multitude, we would have liberated, though crucified in return for our kindness, yet through it all we have steadily confided in the righteousness of our cause and the final good sense of the people. We still believe that this nation has a mission to perform, which had men will not be permitted to destroy, and recent events indicate that the nineteenth century is not, after all, to close with the friends of freedom despondent in the West.

This country has recently witnessed a new Pentecost and received another baptism of fire. The recent convention of Chicago sounded a bugle call which can neither be misunderstood or go unheeded. In its patriotic utterances against him, we were away all middle ground, and opened the road to a formal and organic alliance. They not only made single issues, thank heaven, they have rendered it inevitable. From the very beginning of this organization has made party fealty subordinate to principle. We will never reverse ourselves and refuse to accept victory now so gloriously within our grasp. Shall we not stand with our own people, and reject 3,000,000 silver democrats and at least 1,000,000 silver republicans simply because they have taken the wrong side to come with an organized army fully equipped for battle? Let them have their own army that they may manifest their own spirit du corps. The field of glory is open to competitors who are fighting for the same principles.

The populists have already shown their prowess in many engagements during twenty years of struggle, and our allies can strike sturdier blows at plutocracy than can we; if they can scale the battlements of the gold power more gallantly than our old veterans and are able to plant their colors one foot nearer the citadel of the enemy than we can ourselves, let every populist cheer and support them in their heroic work. We will all march under the same flag, keep step to the same music, face the same foe, share in the same triumph, and our only aim will be not to be mistaken concerning the real issue involved in this struggle; with the gold standard, the fiat money, the bimetallic standard, no bonds and the government currency on the other.

People are asked to choose between endorsed idleness, debt, bankruptcy and despair on the one side, and an open door of opportunity under just laws and normal conditions on the other. The situation presents a choice between a nation that is to be a civilized nation, the conflict can neither be postponed nor avoided. In the name of the people, we demand that there be no time for dissensions nor party divisions. The supreme hour for action has arrived. If we would be victorious our attention must be given to the heroic man who dominated the Chicago convention.

No other prudent or desirable course would be wise to do so. If it is to be preserved, we would, in my judgment, be compelled to take the course which I am about to indicate. The silver democrats have lined up an organization. Now we have the populists, free silver republicans and the American silver party, all united from an emboldened, impetuous to the assault of the confederated gold power. After due consideration, we have decided to have passed every possible phase of the subject, I have failed to find a single good reason to justify us in planting this ticket in the field. The exigency of the hour imperatively demands that there shall be but one name on our ticket. Our guiding hand, I would nominate them outright and make them our own, and then share justly and rightly in their election. The situation is a striking verification of the old adage that the path of duty is narrow. Take the course of duty and all opposition will practically disappear in the Southern and Western states, and we can then turn our attention to other parts of the field. Take any other and you endanger the entire situation and strength the arm of our common adversary.

If you allow the present happy juncture to pass, all the heroic work of twenty years will be thrown to the winds. Our guiding hand will disappear in the momentous conflict just when it should be stretched forth to steady the arm of our common adversary. In the world that we are devoid of capacity to grasp great opportunities, and lacking in strength to resist prodigious emergencies. The people have a gallant champion in the field, who is leading a revolt against the plutocracy of the East.
