

ations of his being a criminal I would not have done that.

Speaking of the report that Appleyard was not admitted to Miss Brown, Judge Willis says he is as positive as it is possible for a man to be without having absolute proof of it.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES.

The contract for the addition to the Northern Pacific headquarters has been awarded to the Butter Brothers company.

Charles Alberts, a dog catcher, working in the Sixth ward, was badly bitten yesterday by a dog he was attempting to capture.

Maj. Rukard Hurd, of the governor's staff, yesterday presented Adjutant General Muehlberg with a model of the United States coat-of-arms.

Maj. Rukard Hurd, of the governor's staff, has presented to the adjutant general a handsome model of the United States coat-of-arms.

The minstrel performance last evening at Combs was very entertaining and much appreciated by the large crowd which gathered to hear it.

Charles G. Smith, the West side harness maker, died at his residence, 674 East Fairfield avenue, yesterday of Bright's disease.

Judge Otis has made an order in the case of Soren N. Sorenson et al. vs. C. W. Rodman which he will collect for the order to show cause, without prejudice.

Gov. Clough has issued an order compelling the members of the national guard to do the state of their own volition and the amount of good work done at the Lake City encampment this year.

Caroline E. Barry has applied for a divorce from Thomas M. Barry on the grounds of desertion. She is 38 and he is 35, and they were married in St. Paul, Feb. 9, 1893. He deserted her March 7, 1895.

Louis Spetzer, who has been in the employ of J. A. Wood, was charged with appropriating $100 from the workhouse yesterday for ninety days. Lewis was charged with appropriating $100 from the workhouse for the same purpose.

St. Mary's Catholic church of Bechny, in the county, will entertain in the office of the secretary of state yesterday. The incorporators are Archbishop Ireland, Vicar General Hall, Rev. Fr. O'Connell, Rev. Fr. Martin Stepha and Charles Zaid, of the parish.

Some months ago Lucas Johnson stole a music box and an overcoat from Thomas Anderson. Johnson went into the woods in the vicinity of the Bethel, Anderson told Judge Orr the circumstances yesterday and the result was that Johnson will remain at the workhouse for the next two years.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

Mrs. Wm. Scanlan, aged 35, was yesterday committed to the asylum for the insane at Rochester, on complaint filed by neighbors that she was continually making insinuations which they thought could emanate only from a diseased mind.

NO SILVER HERESY

ST. PAUL GERMAN-AMERICANS TAKE THE STAND FOR SOUND MONEY.

SOME SENSIBLE SPEECHES

SUBSTANTIAL CITIZENS REVIEW FINANCIAL LEGISLATION OF THE PAST.

FREE COINAGE MEANS DISASTER. Pertinent Resolutions Are Adopted—Plans Made for Permanent Organization.

About one hundred German-Americans, representative of all parties, who believe in sound money, held a most fruitful meeting at Mozart hall last evening.

Dr. Schrader was in the chair, and at the outset, the committee named at the last meeting to select permanent officers, reported. Their report was adopted, and the following gentlemen were elected unanimously:

President—Dr. E. Schrader. Secretary—A. Schaedlich. Treasurer—Peter J. Kuehn. Vice Presidents—Otto Kuehn, Theo. Sander.

Executive Committee—First ward, J. J. Bieghauer; Second, Fred Heinrichs; Third, Sam. Lowenstein; Fourth, Gen. Oscar Malross; Fifth, Leo G. Bremner; Sixth, Otto Treibel; Seventh, Dr. Hahn; Eighth, Bernhardt; Ninth, Col. J. Bohlstedt; Tenth, H. W. Schutte; Eleventh, Adam Bohlund; Twelfth, Julius Schroer; Thirteenth, Bear, Carl, St. Paul; Fourteenth, Frank Layer.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

Dr. Schrader, in extending thanks for his election, sought to impress upon his hearers the absolute necessity of standing together in patriotic effort for the preservation of the credit and standing of the country.

Albert Schaeffer was called for, but Mr. Schaeffer presented Gen. Oscar Malross to speak in his place. Gen. Malross was adjutant general of Minnesota in war times, and has evidently studied the question of national finances to good purpose.

WILL BE HISTORIC

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S BASE BALL GAME FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE G. A. R.

SOME PLANS FOR THE GAME.

IT WILL BE THE FATS AGAINST THE LEANS AND WILL BE GOOD.

MAYOR DORAN CHIEF OF STAFF.

Meeting of the G. A. R. Invitation Committee—Progress of the Preparations.

While the citizens of St. Paul have met the demands upon them to properly care for and entertain the coming Grand Army encampment with their accustomed liberality, the event is only one month in the future, and it is necessary to secure many thousand dollars more.

The committee named at the sound money conference of Democrats held last week in St. Paul, and including Judge Flanagan, Dr. Hahn, C. W. Rodman, J. J. McCafferty, Ernest Schrader and W. C. Read, have selected the following state central committee, consisting of a chairman and secretary and two members from each congressional district:

Chairman, Robert A. Smith, of St. Paul; secretary, Fred H. Doran, of St. Paul; first district—John Ludwig, Winona; second—John Rodewig, Duluth; third—J. C. Pierce, Red Wing; T. H. Quinn, Fairbault; fourth—Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul; J. C. McCarthy, Stillwater; fifth—George H. Pradridge, Judge Ueland, Minneapolis; sixth—E. P. Alexander, Jr., Duluth; Theodore Bruener, of St. Paul; seventh—J. E. O'Brien, Crookston; Chauncey Baker, Ferguson Falls.

The committee named at the sound money conference of Democrats held last week in St. Paul, and including Judge Flanagan, Dr. Hahn, C. W. Rodman, J. J. McCafferty, Ernest Schrader and W. C. Read, have selected the following state central committee, consisting of a chairman and secretary and two members from each congressional district:

Chairman, Robert A. Smith, of St. Paul; secretary, Fred H. Doran, of St. Paul; first district—John Ludwig, Winona; second—John Rodewig, Duluth; third—J. C. Pierce, Red Wing; T. H. Quinn, Fairbault; fourth—Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul; J. C. McCarthy, Stillwater; fifth—George H. Pradridge, Judge Ueland, Minneapolis; sixth—E. P. Alexander, Jr., Duluth; Theodore Bruener, of St. Paul; seventh—J. E. O'Brien, Crookston; Chauncey Baker, Ferguson Falls.

They organized the following executive committee: Chairman Smith and Secretary How, ex-officio; Crawford Livingston, St. Paul; John C. Oswald, Minneapolis, and J. Adam Bede and Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul.

Hon. A. R. Kelfer awarded diplomas to 21 graduates of the St. Paul Commercial college, at an evening, at the exercises held in Assessor's hall, Boonish, the president of the college, has been a resident of this city for seven years, coming to St. Paul from St. Louis where he was successful in one of the colleges of that city. Mr. Boonish is a graduate of the class of '60, of the Holy Cross college, of Worcester, Mass., and was a war correspondent during the rebellion. Since coming to St. Paul, he has graduated 400 students from his school. The hall was packed beyond the doors last evening with former and present students of the school, and an interesting programme was given. Hon. W. P. Murray was present and made an address and the president, in his address, spoke words of congratulation to the class on the success of the members, due to their devotion to study, regular attendance, etc. He spoke of the life before them and wished them success in their business ventures and hoped they would enter that life full of energy and ambition. He said that no doubt they would meet with many disappointments, but he urged them to persevere and be as steady and good in their habits as they have been in their studies. A well selected programme was given by the Troubadour male quartette, Miss Laura Rank, John Thornquist and Mr. and Mrs. O. Lienna. The class was composed of the following: G. Cederberg, B. Cohn, F. Conhalm, W. Dyer, A. Davern, H. L. Ernst, F. Gerlich, J. Gruber, H. Hansen, G. Hanson, E. Hamson, J. M. McElroy, A. Messersmidt, J. McCauley, William Reuter, Annie Synnech, J. Shannon, E. Salberg, H. Spangenberg, H. Tallmadge.

STEBBINS MUST PONY UP. Judge Orr Instructs Him to Support His Family.

Henry B. Stebbins was before Judge Orr yesterday charged by his wife, Ann F. Stebbins, with non-support. Mrs. Stebbins is a married woman testified to the treatment and neglect of the husband and father. According to the statements of the daughter there was another woman in the case and this caused the neglect. Stebbins pleaded to the court that he had for some time refused to support his wife for the reason that he was of the opinion that she had been seduced and settled with her. He is employed as a carpenter by T. L. Blood and earns $21 per week. Recently he brought divorce proceedings against his wife, but she has refused to accept them. Judge Orr decided that Stebbins would be about the right amount for Stebbins to contribute towards the support of his wife and continued the case before Judge Orr. Stebbins, who had offered the amount was not paid he would send him to the workhouse.

GLEASON IS PRESIDENT. Typographical Union No. 30 Holds Its Annual Election.

The annual election of officers of Typographical Union No. 30 was held yesterday. The polls were open from noon to 8 p. m., and the members of the union cast twenty-five more votes than were cast at the last election. The officers elected were: President—G. W. Deacon. Vice President—G. W. Deacon. Recording Secretary—James Woodbury. Executive Board—D. De Long, P. D. Neff, T. Howard, D. L. Long, W. J. Evans, W. Walgia.

TRADE ASSOCIATION. Delegates—T. F. Prindle, Evans Franklin, P. Laskie, C. H. Prindle, W. W. Deacon. Delegates to I. T. U.—P. J. Geraghty, T. F. Thomas.

COLEMAN BOVVER. Uncle Sam's Grand Jury Will Hear the Case.

R. D. Coleman, the story of whose alleged attempt at swindling was told in yesterday's Globe, is still resting in the county jail. Together with his wife, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Spencer yesterday. Attorney Frank Booth, of Minneapolis, represented Coleman, and District Attorney Stringer prosecuted. It was stated by Inspector Farrell and Detective Werrick that Coleman had admitted most of his representations to Mrs. Fitzgerald were false.

A motion picture was shown, and an effort to prove that Coleman had not used the mails for fraudulent purposes, and really intended to go to Mexico to employ in the plumbing business, did not convince the commissioner. Coleman was held to the Hennepin grand jury, which meets in September. The woman was permitted to go on her own recognizance.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE. The Real Estate Exchange held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, but nothing of importance was transacted. The matter of the annual convention of the American Real Estate Association was brought up informally, but no action was taken.

WILL BE HISTORIC

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S BASE BALL GAME FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE G. A. R.

SOME PLANS FOR THE GAME.

IT WILL BE THE FATS AGAINST THE LEANS AND WILL BE GOOD.

MAYOR DORAN CHIEF OF STAFF.

Meeting of the G. A. R. Invitation Committee—Progress of the Preparations.

While the citizens of St. Paul have met the demands upon them to properly care for and entertain the coming Grand Army encampment with their accustomed liberality, the event is only one month in the future, and it is necessary to secure many thousand dollars more.

The committee named at the sound money conference of Democrats held last week in St. Paul, and including Judge Flanagan, Dr. Hahn, C. W. Rodman, J. J. McCafferty, Ernest Schrader and W. C. Read, have selected the following state central committee, consisting of a chairman and secretary and two members from each congressional district:

Chairman, Robert A. Smith, of St. Paul; secretary, Fred H. Doran, of St. Paul; first district—John Ludwig, Winona; second—John Rodewig, Duluth; third—J. C. Pierce, Red Wing; T. H. Quinn, Fairbault; fourth—Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul; J. C. McCarthy, Stillwater; fifth—George H. Pradridge, Judge Ueland, Minneapolis; sixth—E. P. Alexander, Jr., Duluth; Theodore Bruener, of St. Paul; seventh—J. E. O'Brien, Crookston; Chauncey Baker, Ferguson Falls.

The committee named at the sound money conference of Democrats held last week in St. Paul, and including Judge Flanagan, Dr. Hahn, C. W. Rodman, J. J. McCafferty, Ernest Schrader and W. C. Read, have selected the following state central committee, consisting of a chairman and secretary and two members from each congressional district:

Chairman, Robert A. Smith, of St. Paul; secretary, Fred H. Doran, of St. Paul; first district—John Ludwig, Winona; second—John Rodewig, Duluth; third—J. C. Pierce, Red Wing; T. H. Quinn, Fairbault; fourth—Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul; J. C. McCarthy, Stillwater; fifth—George H. Pradridge, Judge Ueland, Minneapolis; sixth—E. P. Alexander, Jr., Duluth; Theodore Bruener, of St. Paul; seventh—J. E. O'Brien, Crookston; Chauncey Baker, Ferguson Falls.

They organized the following executive committee: Chairman Smith and Secretary How, ex-officio; Crawford Livingston, St. Paul; John C. Oswald, Minneapolis, and J. Adam Bede and Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul.

Hon. A. R. Kelfer awarded diplomas to 21 graduates of the St. Paul Commercial college, at an evening, at the exercises held in Assessor's hall, Boonish, the president of the college, has been a resident of this city for seven years, coming to St. Paul from St. Louis where he was successful in one of the colleges of that city. Mr. Boonish is a graduate of the class of '60, of the Holy Cross college, of Worcester, Mass., and was a war correspondent during the rebellion. Since coming to St. Paul, he has graduated 400 students from his school. The hall was packed beyond the doors last evening with former and present students of the school, and an interesting programme was given. Hon. W. P. Murray was present and made an address and the president, in his address, spoke words of congratulation to the class on the success of the members, due to their devotion to study, regular attendance, etc. He spoke of the life before them and wished them success in their business ventures and hoped they would enter that life full of energy and ambition. He said that no doubt they would meet with many disappointments, but he urged them to persevere and be as steady and good in their habits as they have been in their studies. A well selected programme was given by the Troubadour male quartette, Miss Laura Rank, John Thornquist and Mr. and Mrs. O. Lienna. The class was composed of the following: G. Cederberg, B. Cohn, F. Conhalm, W. Dyer, A. Davern, H. L. Ernst, F. Gerlich, J. Gruber, H. Hansen, G. Hanson, E. Hamson, J. M. McElroy, A. Messersmidt, J. McCauley, William Reuter, Annie Synnech, J. Shannon, E. Salberg, H. Spangenberg, H. Tallmadge.

STEBBINS MUST PONY UP. Judge Orr Instructs Him to Support His Family.

Henry B. Stebbins was before Judge Orr yesterday charged by his wife, Ann F. Stebbins, with non-support. Mrs. Stebbins is a married woman testified to the treatment and neglect of the husband and father. According to the statements of the daughter there was another woman in the case and this caused the neglect. Stebbins pleaded to the court that he had for some time refused to support his wife for the reason that he was of the opinion that she had been seduced and settled with her. He is employed as a carpenter by T. L. Blood and earns $21 per week. Recently he brought divorce proceedings against his wife, but she has refused to accept them. Judge Orr decided that Stebbins would be about the right amount for Stebbins to contribute towards the support of his wife and continued the case before Judge Orr. Stebbins, who had offered the amount was not paid he would send him to the workhouse.

GLEASON IS PRESIDENT. Typographical Union No. 30 Holds Its Annual Election.

The annual election of officers of Typographical Union No. 30 was held yesterday. The polls were open from noon to 8 p. m., and the members of the union cast twenty-five more votes than were cast at the last election. The officers elected were: President—G. W. Deacon. Vice President—G. W. Deacon. Recording Secretary—James Woodbury. Executive Board—D. De Long, P. D. Neff, T. Howard, D. L. Long, W. J. Evans, W. Walgia.

TRADE ASSOCIATION. Delegates—T. F. Prindle, Evans Franklin, P. Laskie, C. H. Prindle, W. W. Deacon. Delegates to I. T. U.—P. J. Geraghty, T. F. Thomas.

COLEMAN BOVVER. Uncle Sam's Grand Jury Will Hear the Case.

R. D. Coleman, the story of whose alleged attempt at swindling was told in yesterday's Globe, is still resting in the county jail. Together with his wife, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Spencer yesterday. Attorney Frank Booth, of Minneapolis, represented Coleman, and District Attorney Stringer prosecuted. It was stated by Inspector Farrell and Detective Werrick that Coleman had admitted most of his representations to Mrs. Fitzgerald were false.

A motion picture was shown, and an effort to prove that Coleman had not used the mails for fraudulent purposes, and really intended to go to Mexico to employ in the plumbing business, did not convince the commissioner. Coleman was held to the Hennepin grand jury, which meets in September. The woman was permitted to go on her own recognizance.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE. The Real Estate Exchange held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, but nothing of importance was transacted. The matter of the annual convention of the American Real Estate Association was brought up informally, but no action was taken.

WILL BE HISTORIC

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S BASE BALL GAME FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE G. A. R.

SOME PLANS FOR THE GAME.

IT WILL BE THE FATS AGAINST THE LEANS AND WILL BE GOOD.

MAYOR DORAN CHIEF OF STAFF.

Meeting of the G. A. R. Invitation Committee—Progress of the Preparations.

While the citizens of St. Paul have met the demands upon them to properly care for and entertain the coming Grand Army encampment with their accustomed liberality, the event is only one month in the future, and it is necessary to secure many thousand dollars more.

The committee named at the sound money conference of Democrats held last week in St. Paul, and including Judge Flanagan, Dr. Hahn, C. W. Rodman, J. J. McCafferty, Ernest Schrader and W. C. Read, have selected the following state central committee, consisting of a chairman and secretary and two members from each congressional district:

Chairman, Robert A. Smith, of St. Paul; secretary, Fred H. Doran, of St. Paul; first district—John Ludwig, Winona; second—John Rodewig, Duluth; third—J. C. Pierce, Red Wing; T. H. Quinn, Fairbault; fourth—Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul; J. C. McCarthy, Stillwater; fifth—George H. Pradridge, Judge Ueland, Minneapolis; sixth—E. P. Alexander, Jr., Duluth; Theodore Bruener, of St. Paul; seventh—J. E. O'Brien, Crookston; Chauncey Baker, Ferguson Falls.

The committee named at the sound money conference of Democrats held last week in St. Paul, and including Judge Flanagan, Dr. Hahn, C. W. Rodman, J. J. McCafferty, Ernest Schrader and W. C. Read, have selected the following state central committee, consisting of a chairman and secretary and two members from each congressional district:

Chairman, Robert A. Smith, of St. Paul; secretary, Fred H. Doran, of St. Paul; first district—John Ludwig, Winona; second—John Rodewig, Duluth; third—J. C. Pierce, Red Wing; T. H. Quinn, Fairbault; fourth—Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul; J. C. McCarthy, Stillwater; fifth—George H. Pradridge, Judge Ueland, Minneapolis; sixth—E. P. Alexander, Jr., Duluth; Theodore Bruener, of St. Paul; seventh—J. E. O'Brien, Crookston; Chauncey Baker, Ferguson Falls.

They organized the following executive committee: Chairman Smith and Secretary How, ex-officio; Crawford Livingston, St. Paul; John C. Oswald, Minneapolis, and J. Adam Bede and Dr. Ernst Schrader, St. Paul.

Hon. A. R. Kelfer awarded diplomas to 21 graduates of the St. Paul Commercial college, at an evening, at the exercises held in Assessor's hall, Boonish, the president of the college, has been a resident of this city for seven years, coming to St. Paul from St. Louis where he was successful in one of the colleges of that city. Mr. Boonish is a graduate of the class of '60, of the Holy Cross college, of Worcester, Mass., and was a war correspondent during the rebellion. Since coming to St. Paul, he has graduated 400 students from his school. The hall was packed beyond the doors last evening with former and present students of the school, and an interesting programme was given. Hon. W. P. Murray was present and made an address and the president, in his address, spoke words of congratulation to the class on the success of the members, due to their devotion to study, regular attendance, etc. He spoke of the life before them and wished them success in their business ventures and hoped they would enter that life full of energy and ambition. He said that no doubt they would meet with many disappointments, but he urged them to persevere and be as steady and good in their habits as they have been in their studies. A well selected programme was given by the Troubadour male quartette, Miss Laura Rank, John Thornquist and Mr. and Mrs. O. Lienna. The class was composed of the following: G. Cederberg, B. Cohn, F. Conhalm, W. Dyer, A. Davern, H. L. Ernst, F. Gerlich, J. Gruber, H. Hansen, G. Hanson, E. Hamson, J. M. McElroy, A. Messersmidt, J. McCauley, William Reuter, Annie Synnech, J. Shannon, E. Salberg, H. Spangenberg, H. Tallmadge.

STEBBINS MUST PONY UP. Judge Orr Instructs Him to Support His Family.

Henry B. Stebbins was before Judge Orr yesterday charged by his wife, Ann F. Stebbins, with non-support. Mrs. Stebbins is a married woman testified to the treatment and neglect of the husband and father. According to the statements of the daughter there was another woman in the case and this caused the neglect. Stebbins pleaded to the court that he had for some time refused to support his wife for the reason that he was of the opinion that she had been seduced and settled with her. He is employed as a carpenter by T. L. Blood and earns $21 per week. Recently he brought divorce proceedings against his wife, but she has refused to accept them. Judge Orr decided that Stebbins would be about the right amount for Stebbins to contribute towards the support of his wife and continued the case before Judge Orr. Stebbins, who had offered the amount was not paid he would send him to the workhouse.

GLEASON IS PRESIDENT. Typographical Union No. 30 Holds Its Annual Election.

The annual election of officers of Typographical Union No. 30 was held yesterday. The polls were open from noon to 8 p. m., and the members of the union cast twenty-five more votes than were cast at the last election. The officers elected were: President—G. W. Deacon. Vice President—G. W. Deacon. Recording Secretary—James Woodbury. Executive Board—D. De Long, P. D. Neff, T. Howard, D. L. Long, W. J. Evans, W. Walgia.

TRADE ASSOCIATION. Delegates—T. F. Prindle, Evans Franklin, P. Laskie, C. H. Prindle, W. W. Deacon. Delegates to I. T. U.—P. J. Geraghty, T. F. Thomas.

COLEMAN BOVVER. Uncle Sam's Grand Jury Will Hear the Case.

R. D. Coleman, the story of whose alleged attempt at swindling was told in yesterday's Globe, is still resting in the county jail. Together with his wife, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Spencer yesterday. Attorney Frank Booth, of Minneapolis, represented Coleman, and District Attorney Stringer prosecuted. It was stated by Inspector Farrell and Detective Werrick that Coleman had admitted most of his representations to Mrs. Fitzgerald were false.

A motion picture was shown, and an effort to prove that Coleman had not used the mails for fraudulent purposes, and really intended to go to Mexico to employ in the plumbing business, did not convince the commissioner. Coleman was held to the Hennepin grand jury, which meets in September. The woman was permitted to go on her own recognizance.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE. The Real Estate Exchange held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, but nothing of importance was transacted. The matter of the annual convention of the American Real Estate Association was brought up informally, but no action was taken.

WILL BE HISTORIC

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S BASE BALL GAME FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE G. A. R.

SOME PLANS FOR THE GAME.

IT WILL BE THE FATS AGAINST THE LEANS AND WILL BE GOOD.

MAYOR DORAN CHIEF OF STAFF.

Meeting of the G. A. R. Invitation Committee—Progress of the Preparations.

While the citizens of St. Paul have met the demands upon them to properly care for and entertain the coming Grand