MOVEMENTS OF STEAMSHIPS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Arrived: La Normandie, Havre; Otdam, Rotterdam; Michigan, London. GIBRALTAR—Sailed: Fulda, from Genoa to New York. QUEENSTOWN—Sailed: Umbria, New York. AUCKLAND—Sailed: Alameda, San Francisco.

Has the Apostolic ovation committee gone to sleep? There's nothing shady about old Sol's work for the past week.

Mr. Hanna forgot to stay in Canton to help entertain Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Watson is the early bird, but Sewall still has designs on the worm.

Dispatches from Providence indicate that relations in the Rubber trust are stretched.

England is at odds as to what constitutes a model town. Perhaps John Bull is no judge.

Hot winds are drying up Kansas, and Ingalls has not delivered a speech this week, either.

Snow, applied with slight friction, is the best remedy in the case of frozen ears and fingers.

For a man who prides himself on not drinking, Mr. Bryan indulges in a good deal of Pop.

The mere mention of Indianapolis gives Mr. Bryan cold chills all up and down his spinal column.

Chairman Jones, rumor says, is to be deposed. Unusually good health that wears a crown of thorns.

The law of nature that heat expands may be all right, but it certainly does not apply to stocks.

With the amount of starch there is in potatoes it can be expected that Pinigree will put up a stiff campaign.

Mr. Bryan makes an error in throwing up his job as editor. His chances for the one he is after are too uncertain.

A lady bicyclist has covered ten centuries in ten days. Most women hate to acknowledge a year for every 365.

It is time for Mr. McKinley to ask Li Hung Chang's advice on how to defend Canton from the approaching enemy.

Invitations to pumpkin shows begin to pour in on Mr. Bryan. Dime museum managers are not making any bids yet.

The women who threw roses at Pinigree had no idea of the fitness of things. Potato vines would have been the thing.

All sorts of novelties have been introduced into the presidential race, but no one seems to have thought of a pacemaker.

Of course, it would be a calamity if Old Sol were to strike, but there is really no necessity for his working overtime so.

After Bourke Cockran has replied to his New York speech, the Demo-Pop candidate will know how it feels to step on a live wire.

Before the campaign is over Mr. Bryan seems likely to get his cross of gold where it was once fashionable for women to wear them.

If Mr. Towne stays too long in Michigan he may find that it is not always the man who is silent who accumulates the largest pile of saved wood.

Kissing another man's wife is all right—if she doesn't object—says a New Jersey judge. That judge talks as if he had had experience as to the consequences if she does object.

Warrensburg, Mo., has a street car line on which cars run once a month, and the business man when importuned by his wife not to stay out late, promises to take the first car home.

Large families are becoming more fashionable in the East. A Hartford man has forty-one children, while a New York man has just been sent to the Zombs for having fourteen wives.

DEATH WINDS IT UP

SUCCESSFUL AND HONORABLE CAREER OF ALONZO J. EDGERTON TERMINATED.

DIED SUDDENLY IN DAKOTA.

WAS ACTIVE IN THE COUNCILS OF THE MINNESOTA REPUBLICANS FOR YEARS.

U. S. SENATOR FOR A SHORT TIME.

Held Several Positions of Importance Before Leaving This State—Honored in Dakota.

Word was received in this city, yesterday morning, of the sudden death of Judge Alonzo J. Edgerton, at his home in Sioux Falls, S. D. Although he had been in failing health for some time, the announcement of the end was a shock to the relatives and many friends of the deceased in this city.

ALONZO J. EDGERTON.

For several years past Judge Edgerton had been a sufferer from Bright's disease, and at times was incapacitated for his duties on the bench. Last fall he made a trip to Deadwood, and caught a severe cold, aggravating his malady, and he was ordered South by his physicians in the early winter.

While in Florida he suffered a relapse, and for some time his life was despaired of. But careful treatment and a vigorous constitution enabled him to overcome the weakness that threatened to end fatally at that time, and he made the return trip to the North-west in comparative comfort.

The fresh and invigorating atmosphere of Sioux Falls acted as a tonic far more stimulating than physician's treatment and Judge Edgerton improved in health so that he was enabled to resume his duties. All summer he had been vigorous and active, and while he knew that the end was not far off, and that the malady had marked him for an early victim, yet he was confident that many months of active and useful service were yet to be his. Only last Friday he wrote to his son, George B. Edgerton, assistant state's attorney general in this city, that he was enjoying unusually good health. For this reason the announcement of his death came as a surprise and shock to all who knew him.

Judge Edgerton came of sturdy Eastern stock, and the blood of Revolutionary ancestors flowed in his veins. Born in Rome, N. Y., in 1831, he experienced the hardships incident to the life of the young men of the nation. The hardships of his youth developed that sturdy independence and self-reliance that were marked traits of the man in later years. He had the rare good fortune to receive his early education in the academy at Lowville, N. Y., and later went to the Wesleyan university, at Middletown, Conn. He graduated from this institution in 1858, and the same year was married to Miss Sarah Curtis, a native of Middletown.

After a year of study at the law, he sought their fortunes in the South. They went to Mississippi, where young Edgerton taught school for a year, and then, seeking a better climate, with his wife he removed to Illinois where they remained until their emigration to Minnesota in the spring of 1855. They located at Mantorville, where Mr. Edgerton was admitted to the bar and began the practice of law. The young man took an active interest in the affairs of the community and neighborhood in which he lived, and soon made his mark as a man of ability and promise.

In 1859 he was chosen to represent the thirteenth senatorial district of the state in the Republican party. Gov. Ramsey was chosen chief executive at the same election. In 1862, at the commencement of the Indian troubles in the state, Mr. Edgerton organized a company of militia, which was afterwards made Company B, of the Tenth Minnesota Infantry Volunteers. Capt. Edgerton saw active service in the South, and was distinguished to conquer the rebellious and murderous Sioux. After returning to the state the regiment was ordered to the close of the war was mustered out as a colonel with the brevet rank of brigadier general.

Returning to Mantorville he resumed the practice of his profession and, although not seeking or holding office, was active in forwarding the principles of the Republican party, to which political faith he was converted soon after the war broke out, and when the name of Lincoln and freedom became synonyms for Republicanism. Soon after the election of Gov. Austin, that official appointed Mr. Edgerton railroad commissioner, and he was the first to hold the office and title in the state. This appointment was made Jan. 10, 1872, and his term was for four years. On his retirement from the office of railroad commissioner Mr. Edgerton was again elected to the state senate. This was the nineteenth assembling of the state body, and among his colleagues in the senate were Michael Doran, J. B. Gillilan, Ignatius Donnelly, Knute Nelson, now United States senator, and Jas. G. W. Wakefield. Over in the house "Farmer" John L. Gibbs was representing the Fifth district. In March, 1881, Senator Edgerton retired from the United States senate to become secretary of the treasury under President Garfield. Gov. Pillsbury immediately appointed Mr. Edgerton to fill the unexpired term and he held the office until the December following, when Mr. Windom, having retired from the cabinet after the tragedy that made a president of Vice President Arthur, was re-elected to represent the state in the United States senate for the short term. Again Mr. Edgerton retired to his home at Mantorville, and resumed active life in his profession.

In December, 1881, he was appointed chief justice of Dakota. He then removed with his family to Yankton and served as chief justice for four years.

Special to the Globe. ST. CLOUD, Minn., Aug. 9.—A terrific wind storm, accompanied by a heavy fall of rain, struck this city at noon today and did considerable damage. Roofs were blown off, awnings torn off and many shade trees were demolished by the fierce wind that raged for about half an hour. The large warehouse of Grimaldo Gregory, located near the Great Northern car yard, filled with wagons, buggies and farm implements, was blown down. The tin roof on the mill of the George Tleiston Milling company was torn off and the roofs of the Great Northern car repair shops were also damaged. A coal heaver working for the Northern Pacific was caught by the storm and carried several hundred feet, but escaped without serious injury. Small buildings all over the city were blown down and many windows were broken.

The storm came up from the southwest and approached with such rapidity that many people were unable to reach their homes. The storm came from the same direction as the cyclone did ten years ago, and hundreds of people all over the city sought refuge in their cellars.

The storm also struck Sauk Rapids and raged with even greater fury in that village. Many small buildings were blown down. As near as can be learned at this hour no one was seriously injured.

Accurate reports from the country have not yet been received, but the indications are that corn and wheat and oats that have not yet been cut were greatly damaged.

Special to the Globe. BALDWIN, Wis., Aug. 9.—One of the most ancient and oldest storms that have passed over this town, the cyclone, was mostly all blown over in the vicinity. The damage will be very large.

Special to the Globe. LINDSTROM, Minn., Aug. 9.—A wind storm almost cyclonic in its proportions broke upon this village about noon, scattering signs and loose articles, but doing no serious damage. There were a number of city people out on the lake at the time who were driven ashore before the gale. It is not believed any lives were lost.

TWO VICTIMS AT KANSAS CITY. Death Record From Heat Causes Was Light. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 9.—Since Monday last a terrific heat wave has prevailed in Kansas City and vicinity. The maximum temperature today, as reported by the United States bureau, was 97, which is the lowest mark in the history of the city. Monday last, when 97 was reached, on Friday heat was recorded at 102, but the extreme heat was recorded on Saturday night, when the weather bureau reported 103. Not usually hot, but the weather has been unusually hot and the heat wave, attributed to the heat wave, is directly attributable to the heat wave. Heated Mirro, chef at the Kansas City club, was driven ashore yesterday by the following day, and died on the following day. The death rate during the week has been high, but there have been only two fatalities directly from sunstroke. The two cases mentioned are the only cases in which the heat wave has prevailed most of the time during the week, affording considerable relief.

MILWAUKEE WIND SWEEP. Many Buildings Unroofed by a Mid-Night Storm. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 9.—A wind storm of cyclonic nature struck Milwaukee at midnight tonight, blowing away the roofs of many buildings, and doing considerable damage. The storm came from the west, and the violence is believed to have caused heavy damage in the rural districts. A number of boats were on the bay, but it cannot be learned tonight that there has been loss of life.

Ravages of Army Worms. LANGFORD, S. D., Aug. 8.—The dreaded army worm, which appeared in this county, six miles south of here, and the millet is being destroyed, and corn has suffered to some extent. The army worm is the larva of Thomas Lema and was completely stripped in less than a day.

Bryan Wanted at a Pumpkin Show. Special to the Globe. WINONA, Minn., Aug. 9.—The management of the Galeville fair has written to Democratic Presidential Nominee Bryan and asked him if he would be present to speak at their celebration which opens the fair on Friday. He has received a reply that he is in the hands of the national committee and if they can make arrangements with this body he will come.

Want Snow on the Beach. Special to the Globe. WINONA, Minn., Aug. 9.—The Democratic convention of the Third judicial district, consisting of Winona, Wabasha and Olmsted counties, was held at Galeville, Minn., on Friday. Mr. Snow, of Winona, was the unanimous choice for judicial nominee. Mr. Snow was not present at the convention, but he has been gone by has been major of the city and ever a prominent Democrat and citizen.

WIDOW DEMANDS HER PROPERTY. DAWSON-SCOTT Tragedy Revived in a New Form at Des Moines. DES MOINES, Aug. 9.—Clara Dawson-Scott, the pretty widow of Walter Scott, who was murdered in Des Moines last Christmas by her father, caused a sensation yesterday by walking into the sheriff's office and asking to have a form of an original notice given her. She then proceeded to make out a demand upon her mother, Mrs. S. R. Dawson, for three wine glasses, three olive mugs, an arithmetic, a song book, a picture and several other equally valuable articles which she claims belong to her, but which her mother is retaining at her home. She then sent notice to her mother that, unless they were turned over, she would have a real original notice sent her and begin suit for the possession of her property. Mrs. S. R. Dawson sent back word that they were not worth fifty cents altogether and that she could have them at any time. She claims that her daughter is now trying to persecute her, after succeeding in driving her father to the penitentiary for ten years. The death of Walter Scott grew out of his visit to the Dawson home to get Clara's clothes.

UNLUCKY ST. PAUL. Pacific Steamer of That Name Goes Ashore. MONTEREY, Cal., Aug. 9.—The Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer St. Paul went ashore at Point Pinos early this morning, and will probably be a total wreck. There were about fifty passengers on board, but all were landed safely and no lives were lost. There was a dense fog at the time, and it is supposed the captain lost his bearings. The St. Paul can be seen from San Francisco and San Pedro, carrying freight and passengers, and was on her way up from San Pedro to San Francisco by train.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 9.—The steamer Albatross left this morning to go to the assistance of the wrecked steamer St. Paul.

LONG DEATH ROLL

FIFTY OR MORE PEOPLE SUCCUMB TO THE HEAT IN NEW YORK CITY.

FIFTEEN DEAD IN CHICAGO.

HOT WAVE FELT IN ALL ITS FURY THROUGHOUT THE EAST.

HUNDRED CASES IN ST. LOUIS.

Of Which Nineteen, During the Past Week, Prove Fatal—At Other Points.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Fifty persons died in the Greater New York district today as a result of the extreme hot weather. Over 100 cases of prostrations have been reported in the territory embracing New York city, Brooklyn and Staten Island. A number of these cases, the physicians believe will prove fatal.

In this city alone forty persons are known to have perished because of the extreme high temperature. The list of persons who suffered from sunstroke and who are now at their homes or at the hospitals in charge of the physicians will reach seventy.

The sixth day of the death dealing weather did not reach by one degree the maximum temperature of several of the preceding days, the highest point being reached by the official mercury being 91 degrees. At 11 o'clock tonight there was a heavy local storm and the temperature dropped five degrees in about ten minutes. The wind blew forty-six miles an hour during the storm. The storm seemed to have little effect upon general conditions and soon after it ceased the mercury commenced to rise once more.

The police reported the following deaths today in which the extreme heat is supposed to have been the real or contributing cause: JOHN BOHREN, 62, CHRISTIAN TOMWARDEN, 43, WM. LANGHEIN, 40, ETHEL MOORE, fifteen months, WM. GROSS, 7 months, WM. CONNELLY, 25 years, EUGENE CORCORAN, 40, T. FINLEY, 32, MICHAEL SHEEHAN, 34, LOUIS MCGRATH, 48, DANIEL HURLEY, 38, DENNIS SULLIVAN, JOHN BOHREN, 62, MARTIN DOOLEY, 35, ARTHUR KEBON, JOHN FAGY, thirty-five, MARY M'GANN, 55, MARY SLEVIN, 55, JOHN BOHREN, 62, W. A. BRICKLEY, JOHN FARRELL, 64, MICHAEL SHEEHAN, 34, DAVID ATWATER, 48, WALTER HERRITT, 48, CHARLES HERRITT, aged seventy-five, MRS. MARY SKRUYE, sixty, CHARLES KARR, fifty-three, THOMAS HERRITT, 62, ADAM WELCH, forty-six, HALL STELLER, JOHN BOHREN, 62, MRS. MARY SMITH, thirty years, L. SOMMERS, JOHN BOHREN, 62, TWO UNKNOWN MEN.

A number of fatal cases of sunstroke have been reported from Brooklyn. JOHN Egan, aged 35, died this morning, the result of heat. Daniel S. Kelly was found dead in his room on Hudson street. His death is said to have been due to heat exhaustion. Martin J. Ruth, aged 42, died at his home from an ambulance, called to remove him to a hospital, could reach him. Henry J. Clinton, aged 32, was attending a meeting of the Holy Name society today when he was overcome by the heat, and fell from his chair and died.

JOHN ARNOLD, aged Debos, Edward O. Ostrander and "Joe," a German laborer employed at Hauck's brewery. Half a dozen cases of serious prostrations from the heat were also reported. Mrs. Mary Habel, aged 45, died in Jersey City today of heat prostration. Ten additional cases of sunstroke, some of which may prove fatal, were reported.

Hot in the Ohio Valley. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 9.—The Enquirer's special report extreme heat throughout Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana today. There were two deaths from sunstroke in the city, one at Gallion and one at Massillon, three serious prostrations at Lima, O., and one at Versailles, Ky., today.

One Fatality at Memphis. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 9.—There was one fatal prostration from sunstroke today. J. P. Bishop, manager of a heading establishment, succumbed at noon and died two hours later.

Horses Suffer Greatly. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 9.—The maximum temperature today in this city was 98, and the average for the past four days has been over 95. There was but one death today, but mortality among horses was never so great in this city, the dead animal contractors having great difficulty in removing the carcasses promptly.

Struck Down by Heat. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 9.—John Kuefer, inspector of sewer works, died today from the effects of the heat. Kuefer fell down while on duty in the open sun yesterday afternoon, the thermometer registering 88 in the shade.

Hottest in Years. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 9.—Today was the hottest day for several years in this city. The thermometer registered 98 degrees in the shade.

JAPAN AND GERMANY AGREE. Commercial Treaty Approved and Signed. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 9.—According to mail advices received from the Orient today the commercial treaty between Japan and Germany has been approved by the privy council. The exchange of ratifications and the subsequent publication of the treaty are expected to take place within sixty days. While the terms of treaty are not known, it is believed that Japan has conceded to Germany in the way of commercial privileges to German residents in Japan more than it conceded to Great Britain in the treaty made with the British government some time ago. Advices from Berlin are to the effect that a commercial treaty has been ratified between China and Japan.

DEATH IN THE STORM. Three Yachtsmen Are Drowned at Detroit. DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 9.—A heavy wind and thunder storm which swept over the city this evening, resulted in the drowning of at least three men in the Detroit, and several yachtsmen had extremely narrow escapes after sailing of their craft. Two others were drowned during the afternoon from other causes.

Neil Powers was rescued after swimming nearly a mile from a capized boat. Jeff Judd and a stranger, who were with Powers, were drowned. The capsizing of the yacht Corsair caused the drowning of Frank Hughes. The others of the crew were rescued. William J. Powers, captain of the yacht Alberta this afternoon. The harbor master and other searchers for Talmer's body were later capized and saved only after a long struggle. John Heike Jr. was drowned while swimming near Peche Island.

RAIN BRINGS RELIEF. Cooler Weather for a Time in Pittsburg. PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 9.—Thomas Edwards, a city employe, died at the South side hospital at 1 o'clock this morning in terrible agony as a result of sunstroke. Edwards' death makes two fatalities during the week. Within the same period there were four prostrations.

The thunder storm this evening was a happy relief from as hot a day as this summer has produced. For the second time the thermometer registered 93 degrees, the first time being last Thursday afternoon.

Had it not been Sunday when most men are idle, many heat prostrations must have resulted. No case of sunstroke was reported during the afternoon.

From 7 to 8 o'clock there was a fall of 15 degrees in the temperature. At the same time the thermometer rose rapidly, the atmosphere became pure and bracing and the spirits of humanity rose.

THREE STRICKEN BY HEAT. The Mercury Rises to 93 in Cleveland. CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 9.—The heat has been intense here today. At 7 o'clock this morning the mercury stood at 80, and at 2 p. m. it rose to 93, and at 7 this evening it was still at 88. Three prostrations were reported today. The victims were: Robert J. Wales street, aged thirty-six years, who is dead. Frank Bragna, of Broadway, who is unconscious, and William W. Kaiser, of Champlain street, aged thirty-seven, who is unconscious, but may recover.

Fitzgerald and Strauss were employed in a blast furnace when stricken. During dress parade at the national guard encampment this afternoon fifty militiamen were prostrated by the heat. All the men will recover.

HEAT CAUSING STORMS. Wind and Rain in Eastern Nebraska. OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 9.—A terrible storm is raging in Omaha and Eastern Nebraska tonight. This is the climax of a series of terrible storms, and the thermometer has fluctuated on both sides of the hundred mark nearly all the time. Though the humidity has been something awful and a number of prostrations have occurred, no fatalities have resulted. The mercury was close to 98 all day, but tonight has dropped below 90 as a result of the storm.

STILL SCORCHING. Numerous Prostrations in Chicago Yesterday. CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Again today the sun scorched this city and the records of death and prostrations will approach those of yesterday. The fatal cases of sunstroke up to 1 o'clock numbered 15, while several others were not expected to live. The prostrations of over thirty persons were reported, and thirty. Many people were mentally affected and on one of the bridges the police had a hard struggle with a crowd of gladiators who attempted to throw people in the river. The heat had made him crazy.

Hottest Known in Arkansas. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 9.—The long continued drought in the immediate vicinity was broken by a light rain this afternoon. The temperature, which for the past ten days has ranged above 90, fell to 74, and the indications are that there will be more rain before morning. During the past week the weather has been almost unbearable here since the establishment of the local weather bureau, the temperature in the Little Rock record station the highest in the United States. Twelve or fifteen fatal prostrations have occurred.

Cooler in Beertown. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 9.—Ninety was the highest point touched by mercury today, a heavy rain lowering the temperature several degrees and causing a break in the five days of the hottest weather Milwaukee has experienced since the beginning of the season. It was reported today. During the week the death rate in the city has more than doubled, physicians say, to the extreme heat. Fatal cases of sunstroke in the city and vicinity number eight to date.

Boston Scorching. BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 9.—After a week in which the east wind played a promising part in keeping down the heat, Boston was treated to a scorching day. The day was hot and uncomfortable for the summer. The thermometer, which was at dawn 70, rose rapidly until 2 o'clock when it reached 92, and two hours remained above 90. The heat this evening is still oppressive, and is severely felt in the crowded tenement districts in the North and West ends of the city. But few prostrations were reported.

Three Deaths in Newark. NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 9.—The hot weather today was responsible for the death of three persons in this city. John Zabo, a Polish Outreiter and "Joe," a German laborer employed at Hauck's brewery. Half a dozen cases of serious prostrations from the heat were also reported. Mrs. Mary Habel, aged 45, died in Jersey City today of heat prostration. Ten additional cases of sunstroke, some of which may prove fatal, were reported.

Hot in the Ohio Valley. CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 9.—The Enquirer's special report extreme heat throughout Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana today. There were two deaths from sunstroke in the city, one at Gallion and one at Massillon, three serious prostrations at Lima, O., and one at Versailles, Ky., today.

One Fatality at Memphis. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 9.—There was one fatal prostration from sunstroke today. J. P. Bishop, manager of a heading establishment, succumbed at noon and died two hours later.

Horses Suffer Greatly. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 9.—The maximum temperature today in this city was 98, and the average for the past four days has been over 95.
