MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 12.—Two games were played by the Brewers and Apostles today and each won one.

In the seventh inning of the first game Billy George and Empire Snyder all came to blows, and George was put out of the game and off the grounds.

A few minutes later Stratton was hit by a pitched ball, but he was not allowed to take his base.

An argument followed and the game was finally given to Milwaukee by a score of 9 to 0.

The second game was won by St. Paul by a pretty finish. Up to the seventh inning in the first game the visitors could not do anything with the pitching of Jones, and were not in the game.

One run was the best they could make and there was little possibility of their getting more from the way in which Jones was shooting them over the plate, as six hits were all they could get, and they were scattered.

Mullane was hit at the right time by the local men, and their runs were secured after hard work.

Both teams played well in the field and also ran bases well. The score:

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Today's game between the Reds and Colts was one full of excitement and always constant wrangling.

McFarland, from the time the first ball was pitched, the game was called in the eighth inning by Mullane. Stratton and Glasscock, Spear and Hartman; umpire, Snyder; time of game, 1:40.

THE SECOND GAME.

After a rest of five minutes the second game was started with Retzger in the box for the Brewers and Denzer for the visitors.

It was a pretty struggle and a battle between the pitchers from the start, and Retzger lost his own game. It happened in the tenth inning. There were two men out and one on third base.

The next batter made a bunt to Retzger, which, if he had caught, would have retired the side. Instead he dropped the ball and in his anxiety to get hold of the sphere he fumbled it all the more.

When he finally succeeded in getting it the men were safe on base. Then Conkley substituted Pickett for Stratton and he made a hit, bringing in the winning run.

The game abounded in brilliant playing. Milwaukee secured the first on a base on balls and White's double; two were made in the fourth on a base on balls, an error by Kraus and a double by Spear. That was the end of the run getting. St. Paul scored one in the first on a base on balls, a passed ball and a single. Another was made in the fourth when Glasscock struck the ball over the fence for a homer. The tie was made in the ninth on a two-bagger and a single. Then came the tenth and all was over.

The pitching of Denzer was a feature. He was steady at all times and had great speed. He allowed the Brewers only five hits, one of which was a scratch.

BLUES SHUT OUT.

Prettiest Game of the Season Played at Kansas City.

Special to the Globe.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12.—When the Millers reached Kansas City, Wilnot said he expected to take three straight, but Manning laughed at him.

It was Wilnot's turn to laugh today, for not only did his team make it three straight, but gave the Blues their first shut out of the season after a close and extremely exciting contest by the score of 1 to nothing.

The Blues threw away the game by miserable base running, having good chances for runs in five of the nine innings, which they failed to improve, no less than three different times, where a sacrifice hit would have won the game for the Blues. It was not forthcoming and the batters perished on easy fly balls in trying to hit it out of the lot.

The fielding of both teams was simply perfect, not a mistake of any kind being made on either side. Hutchison gave two bases on balls to Callahan and not allow anyone to reach first except on hits; a fine throw from right field

TO ST. LOUIS CITY AUTHORITIES TO WHOM THE MYSTERIOUS NOTE REFERRED.

The Police are just now engaged in guessing whether the Lon Nicholds really jumped into the Mississippi river with the intention of committing suicide or whether some one for a joke signed his name to a note stating that fact.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Armstrong, living at 51 West Fifth street, called at police headquarters with a note which read as follows:

St. Paul, Aug. 8, 1896.—Without home or friends and seeking for a position for many months, I take this means of ending a precarious existence. Should this be found search for my body at or near the Omaha railroad bridge and notify John J. Millar, V. S., Sioux City, Mo. Yours in death, Lon Nicholds.

The note, written in a plain legible hand on a piece of paper on one side of which was what looked like a blood stain, was found in a bottle on Tuesday afternoon near Red Rock.

The finder of the message was Edward G. Perine, who lives at that place, and he sent the note to the St. Paul police yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Perine Armstrong, who came to St. Paul.

A man in an explanatory letter that he had found the bottle floating in one of the wing dams near Red Rock, and thinking that perhaps the man who wrote it had a family or friends, who would be searching for him, concluded to have the police make an investigation.

Chief Goss, in speaking about the supposed suicide, said he hardly thought there was anything to the incident. He had recently been put to some trouble by a letter found in a bottle which purported to give information about a man who intended jumping in the river, and he was of the opinion that the letter was a fake.

He said, however, that he would communicate with the authorities of Sioux City and ascertain what he could about Nicholds, and also the man who was to be notified in case the body was found.

The name of Lon Nicholds does not appear in the directory, and a telegram sent to Sioux City last evening making inquiries concerning Nicholds and Millar brought the following information:

"Dr. John J. Millar, V. S., is not in the city, but none of his associates or employees know or ever heard of Lon Nicholds. He is not known to the police or the sheriff's force and his name has not appeared in the directory."

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Young Cyclist Caught Up by a Street Car Fender.

John Hanson, a young visitor to the city, had an exciting experience yesterday and considers himself extremely lucky that he was not injured.

Hanson was riding his bike across the Wabasha street bridge behind an electric car. He concluded that he could not get his bike over the railing in the rear of the car and turned out intending to scorch ahead. As he did so, and without noticing it, there was a car coming in the opposite direction from which he was going.

There was a "student" as the motorman called him, in charge of the car. The old motorman who was breaking in the new man saw the danger to the bicyclist was in, and grasping the lever he turned off the current and set the brake. The basket-shaped fender, however, struck Hanson's bike and lifted it and the rider in the air. The motorman leaned over the front of the car and grasping Hanson by the collar, held him on the cowcatcher until the car was stopped at a standstill.

It was pretty work, and, strange to say, neither Hanson nor his bike was at all injured.

Mrs. Charles B. Wagner Thrown Out and Hurt.

Mrs. Charles B. Wagner, residing at 205 Grand street, was seriously injured last evening as the result of a runaway accident on the West side. Mrs. Wagner, with an infant baby and a son five years old, was helped into a rig owned by her husband who is employed by the R. C. Libbey Lumber company on Fairview avenue. Mr. Wagner, after having seated his family in the wagon, threw his rubber coat into the rear of the vehicle. This scared the horse, who started off at a rapid gait and at Fairview and Indiana avenue the wagon struck the crosswalk and slewed, throwing Mrs. Wagner, the baby, and the little boy to the ground. The lad and the infant were not injured by the accident, but Mrs. Wagner was not so fortunate, and was painfully cut about the head. Her injuries, however, are not considered serious.

ESCAPED FOREST FIRES.

Gen. Andrews Thinks the State Can Congratulate Itself.

Gen. C. Andrews, chief fire warden of the state, is congratulating the state on its immunity from forest and prairie fires during the present season.

Gen. Andrews says that the establishment of his office and the appointment of assistant wardens in all townships has had the effect of lessening danger to state property from these sources. While it is true that the season has been favorable, owing to unusually heavy rainfalls in the state, it is also true that the close watch
