Dr. Ames is evidently running for governor so that his personal interest in the campaign will not lag.

Appropriately enough, the winning dark horse in the New York gubernatorial contest is named Black.

Andrew's spinal column failed at the last moment, and the north pole is safe from discovery by the balloon method.

If Mr. Hanna cannot teach Mr. McKinley that the tariff should be given a rest, the country will do it in its own good time.

Get your overcoat out of the pawnshop, put a blanket around your refrigerator and casually inquire the price of coal.

Mr. Watson's attention is called to the fact that Mr. Bryan in his speeches, never refers to the St. Louis Populist platform.

England's poet laureate is liable to break loose again now at any minute. The British gave the usurping sultan of Zanzibar a thrashing yesterday.

The announcement that over $10,000,000 in gold is on the way here from Europe is contradicted by the statement that anthracite coal has advanced in price.

Tom Reed appears to have a busy fall before him. He is running for congress and has been appointed referee for twenty-eight life insurance companies.

Over 130,000 tons of lead has been mined in this country in the last six months, an increase over last year of the same period of 25,000 tons. We have always had free coinage of lead, but several of the fellows who practiced it have been caught at it and sent over the road.

Geologists figure that Niagara falls will disappear in about five thousand years, and the water of all the great lakes flow into the Mississippi by way of the Chicago canal. Young couples intending to visit Niagara on their bridal tour should consider this a sufficient warning to them to hurry.

The Baroness Blanc got married the other day to a fellow named Waters, and as a penalty that matrimonial venture will hereafter be known as Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence Nicholson Riegel Blanc Ounderdonk Waters. She has names enough for two visiting cards.

A statistician has discovered that there are 125,000 horses roaming the prairies of Montana, North Dakota, Washington and Northern Idaho, which their owners do not know what to do with. It is an open question whether we ought to shoot the horse or eat him.

Indiana is not to be outdone by any other state in the Union in doing unique things. A preacher there who hasn't been doing much the past seven years except marrying people, has just held a sort of matrimonial reunion, attended by a large proportion of those whom he had united for better or worse.

The reception of Li Hung Chang in this country is going to be sufficiently cool to prevent his wailing his collar. He is not going to be taken to the White House, or even Buzard's bay, and fawned upon, but will be entertained in a private house in New York and sent on his way to Vancouver without any unusual ceremony.

KEYNOTE FROM BEN

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IN THE EAST OPENED BY EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON.

INTRODUCED BY DR. DEPEW.

FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE CROWDED CARNEGIE HALL TO HEAR THE ADDRESS.

ATTACK ON THE SUPREME COURT.

To Mr. Harrison's Mind It is the Most Serious Issue of the Year.

CARNEGIE HALL, NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—With the words of McKinley's letter of acceptance on nearly every tongue, ex-President Benjamin Harrison acted as the Eastern proxy of the Republican candidate tonight and struck the keynote of the eastern campaign, in an explanatory and careful speech, to 5,000 people. Half as many people as composed the audience were denied admittance because of lack of room. The enthusiasm was tremendous, and the many brilliant points were received with hearty applause. The audience was a distinguished one, and from the early hour when they cheered the band's interpretation of "America" displayed their patriotism in every possible way. Indeed, the vast audience arose and sang the national hymn with ardor. The decorations of the auditorium were entirely of the American colors. Flags were in many hands. Pictures of the Republican national candidate adorned the sides of the proscenium arch, which were festooned with silk bunting. The lower tiers of boxes were filled with beautifully dressed women and men in evening attire. Mrs. Harrison occupied one of the boxes with the family of Chauncey M. Depew. Col. and Mrs. Fred Grant were in another. Mrs. Edward Lauterbach and friends occupied the stage boxes, and such people of prominence as the nominee for lieutenant governor, Timothy S. Woodruff; Thomas C. Platt, John W. Vrooman, Lenox E. Quigg, Chairman Hanna, of the national committee, and nearly every Republican of prominence in the city.

In the matter of applause the audience was impartial and liberal, not making any favorites. The main part of the hall was filled early, and every well known arrival was cheered, from George Francis Train to the chief guest of the evening, Gen. Harrison, and his escort, John W. Vrooman and Colonel Platt. The cheering and applause amounted to an evanescence, the audience standing and cheering, waving hats, handkerchiefs and flags for fully five minutes. Mr. Depew and Dr. David Hill, of Rochester, the other orator of the evening, likewise received hearty congratulations. A vocal solo, descriptive of the march to the sea of Sherman, and then Dr. Depew stepped to the front of the platform. When the hearty applause had subsided, Dr. Depew, as chairman, began his remarks. He was unctuous, and sharp shafts of ridicule, which the audience enjoyed heartily. He said:

INTRODUCED BY DEPEW. This is an interesting and memorable meeting. It is the opening of the Republican campaign. There is a peculiar fitness in having the key note of the most important canvass sounded by one of the ablest and wisest of the country. It is prosperity, work and wages. The memory of his administration is a memory of peace, of industry, of progress, of the relief of the distress in which the country has since been plunged, and is full of hope and promise for the future.

In these days of folly, run mad, we calmly repeat the words of Harrison, who confidently says that the politics of sound money and the protection which then prevailed, will be again to the people of this country when the politics of sound money and the protection were better than they are now. Every school boy in America has declared, and every school boy in America has declared, that the politics of sound money and the protection which then prevailed, will be again to the people of this country when the politics of sound money and the protection were better than they are now.

Partisanship and patriotism can ordinarily declare it to be double measure or value. It is a matter of fact that the Republican institutions are the safer and that the Democratic institutions are the more dangerous. The great parties are striving for mastery, and each equally divided. Each can claim upon the national honor and the national credit, and each equally divided. Each can claim upon the national honor and the national credit, and each equally divided.

In this crisis, when the national honor, and all that involves to the business, employment and the prosperity of the country are at stake, it is not for the party to come with open arms to the assistance of the Democrats, but to stand more for their country than for an organization which has been temporarily seized by the tumultuous and evanescent forces of revolution, of communism, of anarchy and repudiation.

While we are fighting the platform which means of them, we find that upon it is placed a ticket with the name of a man, one tail wagging to fool the wage-earner in the farmer in the West and in the South. It was Abraham Lincoln who wisely said: "You can fool the people a certain time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time. Two millions of men marched to the front, and half a million of them laid down their lives to stamp out sectionalism, and make these United States a united country. This effort to array one section against another will appear to prejudice and ignorance, but it is not for the intelligence and patriotism of the people that each section will affect the solidity, the loyalty, the are one people and that our greatness is in our oneness. There are no classes, thank God, in this country. There are no castes, thank God, in this country. There are no humbly but in this country. Every president since Washington has come from the people, and every president since Washington has come from the people, and every president since Washington has come from the people.

At Albany Mr. Bryan spoke sneeringly of the confidence man, evidently meaning that the gold standard is the "confidence man" and the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 industrial and financial prosperity and business. This gold confidence man who has been governing this country since the number of our national debt, has more than doubled the number of our ways and telegraphs and nearly doubled the number of our railroads, and has increased employment for seventy millions of people to live better than thirty millions did before; has increased the number of our advanced wages and decreased the cost of living. What has the free coinage of silver confidence man done simply which makes of what he will do? Let the distressed farmer and the unemployed millions of the United States answer at the ballot box.

Disipline of the Republican party. (Applause.) A voice: "Nobody going out." This reference to the Bryan meeting in Madison Square garden was greeted with prolonged applause and laughter. The Republican party fronts the destruction of the gold standard, the destruction of the enemies of sound money. It will fight, however, without covering any of the glorious motives and principles which underlie the banner. (Applause.) When the house is on fire, it is not the time to discuss the principles that are to be the present domestic situation—the tenant on the top floor ought not to set on fire the building below.
