

THE DAILY GLOBE

IS PUBLISHED EVERY DAY AT NEWSPAPER ROW, COR. FOURTH AND MINNESOTA STS.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF ST. PAUL.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Payable in Advance. Daily and Sunday, per Month $5.00 Daily and Sunday, Six Months $27.50 Daily and Sunday, One Year $50.00

Address all letters and telegrams to THE GLOBE, St. Paul, Minn. EASTERN ADVERTISING OFFICE, ROOM 401, TEMPLE COURT BUILDING, NEW YORK.

TODAY'S WEATHER. WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Forecast for Friday: Minnesota—Fair, warmer; southerly breeze.

Table with columns: Place, Temp., Place, Temp. Includes cities like St. Paul, Duluth, Bismarck, etc.

Barometer, 30.28; relative humidity, 64; weather, clear; maximum thermometer, 76; minimum thermometer, 56.

A HEAVY RESPONSIBILITY. If, by any possibility, the candidates of the Chicago convention should be elected this year, and their silver policy be put into effect in this country, the responsibility for such event is already definitely fixed.

The issues that have brought us together, that have been working for sound money and McKinley for the last two months, Republicanism and the Republican press, up to and including the present, have been full of consideration and gratitude to the Democrat who was considered enough to help their party's cause.

This gentleman expresses only what patriotic and self-respecting Democrats feel more and more sensibly every day. It seems as if the whole Republican party had gone insane at this juncture, and that it is willing to sacrifice not only its own chances of success, but public honor and the future interests of this country to the reckless satisfaction of its spleen.

Take McKinley's letter of acceptance and the speeches that he has been making at Canton, for instance. Of course, if the man really believes in the efficacy of the protective system, as we assume that he does, there is no objection to the free expression of opinion on his part, any more than on that of a free trader or a free silviteer, or any other man.

Take McKinley's letter of acceptance and the speeches that he has been making at Canton, for instance. Of course, if the man really believes in the efficacy of the protective system, as we assume that he does, there is no objection to the free expression of opinion on his part, any more than on that of a free trader or a free silviteer, or any other man.

Take McKinley's letter of acceptance and the speeches that he has been making at Canton, for instance. Of course, if the man really believes in the efficacy of the protective system, as we assume that he does, there is no objection to the free expression of opinion on his part, any more than on that of a free trader or a free silviteer, or any other man.

Take McKinley's letter of acceptance and the speeches that he has been making at Canton, for instance. Of course, if the man really believes in the efficacy of the protective system, as we assume that he does, there is no objection to the free expression of opinion on his part, any more than on that of a free trader or a free silviteer, or any other man.

Take McKinley's letter of acceptance and the speeches that he has been making at Canton, for instance. Of course, if the man really believes in the efficacy of the protective system, as we assume that he does, there is no objection to the free expression of opinion on his part, any more than on that of a free trader or a free silviteer, or any other man.

in their references to Democratic leaders and their party. It can be said today without a question that, while with one side of its mouth the Republican party is defending sound money, with the other it is driving away sound money advocates by bespattering them with falsehood and abuse.

There is one portion of the speech of acceptance by Mr. Lind, addressed to the Populist party convention, which must call down the sharpest condemnation from every lover of his country and his kind.

There are but two positions intelligible to us with regard to legal tender paper. One is that it confers upon the substance made legal tender, whatever it may be, the full actual value named in the stamp, and the other is that it cannot confer any value whatever.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

ed States alone must be futile. As to "creating conditions out of which may come increased values," we tried that little business in 1890, when we legislated to increase the value of silver by purchasing the entire annual output of the United States, and silver fell heavily and continuously as a result.

Our correspondent has placed emphasis more than once upon what he calls the "implied promise" of the government to keep the silver dollar as good as the gold dollar. He ought to be well enough informed to know that this promise is not only implied, but positively expressed in two different statutes.

That upon demand of the holder of any of the treasury notes provided for by the secretary of the treasury, under such regulations as he may prescribe, redeem such notes in gold or silver coin at his discretion; it being the established policy of the United States to maintain the two metals on a parity with each other upon the present legal ratio, or such ratio as may be provided by law.

There are but two positions intelligible to us with regard to legal tender paper. One is that it confers upon the substance made legal tender, whatever it may be, the full actual value named in the stamp, and the other is that it cannot confer any value whatever.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

earnest and zealous as the others, are less able to gauge the strength of the sound money sentiment elsewhere, because our own state took the lead. The conference of sound money Democrats in St. Paul assembled at so early a date that, although its strength and enthusiasm was a surprise, it was hardly possible to measure from the size of its following among the people.

The National Democratic party steps upon the stage fully equipped for the fray, and with a complement of voters in its ranks such as no new party has ever possessed in its first appearance before the voters of the country.

There are but two positions intelligible to us with regard to legal tender paper. One is that it confers upon the substance made legal tender, whatever it may be, the full actual value named in the stamp, and the other is that it cannot confer any value whatever.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

There are a few good things in Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance, and by all odds the best of them is his happy quotation from Washington, in which the founder of this republic warned the people for all time to come against that familiar art of the demagogue, centuries old, which consists in breaking the ranks of the people and destroying their liberties by instilling into their breasts class prejudice and class hatred.

BRILLIANT BUFFALO

BOY ORATOR ONCE MORE IN THE COUNTRY OF THE ENEMY.

BIG CROWD TURNED OUT.

LARGEST AUDIENCE SINCE THE NOTIFICATION MEETING AT MADISON SQUARE.

OLD, OLD SILVER STORY RETOLD.

The Greater Part of the Candidate's Address Devoted to His "Dominant Issue."

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Apparently the entire population of Buffalo, the home of Grover Cleveland, turned its footsteps tonight toward Music hall, where Mr. Bryan addressed 4,000 people, as many as could be packed within the four walls, while unnumbered thousands filled the neighboring streets.

Upon their arrival in the city from Erie at half-past three, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan were escorted to the Genesee hotel. There they were quartered in apartments which had been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, just before the election of the president and his wife. A reception was held for two hours in the hotel parlors in the afternoon, when Mr. and Mrs. Bryan shook hands with a constant line of callers which still stretched a long half a block outside of the building when the doors were closed upon the last comers.

Mr. Bryan was escorted to the hall by the "Cleveland Democracy," the city's oldest party organization, and by ward clubs bearing torches. The line of march was along half a mile of Main street, crowded almost as thickly as the hall, and red fire and cannon announced the candidates coming. In the hall the crowd had amused itself listening to an eccentric gentleman in the gallery who loudly proclaimed the coming of the "fraternal," "Bill Bryan, dear Bill Bryan, first in the fight."

Hon. Charles F. Tabor was chosen president of the meeting and when the order of vice-presidents was read the name of Norman E. Mackintosh, the only free silver paper in Buffalo, was cheered almost as enthusiastically as Mr. Bryan had been. Mr. Tabor made a speech, in which he said there was no need to disguise the fact that opposition existed among New York Democrats to indorsement of the Chicago ticket and that he had thereupon struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver.

Mr. Bryan, who was received tumultuously, struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver. He asserted that the "Cleveland Democracy" was a party of the past, and that the only party of the future was the "Buffalo Democracy," which he said was a party of the future.

Mr. Bryan, who was received tumultuously, struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver. He asserted that the "Cleveland Democracy" was a party of the past, and that the only party of the future was the "Buffalo Democracy," which he said was a party of the future.

Mr. Bryan, who was received tumultuously, struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver. He asserted that the "Cleveland Democracy" was a party of the past, and that the only party of the future was the "Buffalo Democracy," which he said was a party of the future.

Mr. Bryan, who was received tumultuously, struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver. He asserted that the "Cleveland Democracy" was a party of the past, and that the only party of the future was the "Buffalo Democracy," which he said was a party of the future.

Mr. Bryan, who was received tumultuously, struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver. He asserted that the "Cleveland Democracy" was a party of the past, and that the only party of the future was the "Buffalo Democracy," which he said was a party of the future.

Mr. Bryan, who was received tumultuously, struck out boldly with the declaration of his advocacy of free silver. He asserted that the "Cleveland Democracy" was a party of the past, and that the only party of the future was the "Buffalo Democracy," which he said was a party of the future.

nothing. Without daring to defend the gold standard, without daring to set a time when you shall escape it, they preach the doctrine of silver and offer to hope to the human race. We ask for the free coinage of silver. We have had it in the past and we ask for it again. We ask for it because it is the only way to save our country from the ruin which is now before us.

I am told that some of your merchants, in order to give an object lesson to the people, have been offering to furnish Mexican dollars for fifty cents as part of change when you buy goods. My friends, let me give you an opportunity to test the strength of these dollars. Let me give you a suggestion. They tell you that if we had the free coinage of silver, the American dollar would be worth as little as the Mexican dollar is now. They tell you that if we had the free coinage of silver, silver will not be worth as much as gold. They tell you that if we had the free coinage of silver, silver will not be worth as much as gold.

All that I can say in parting is this: That your vote is your own. We come before you with our policies, and we ask you to vote for us. We ask you to vote for us because we believe that you can better serve your country by working with the opposition. We ask you to vote for us because we believe that you can better serve your country by working with the opposition.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Bryan's programme for next week has been changed. The intended speech at Columbus, Pa., has been abandoned by the advice of Chairman Jones of the national committee, and the trip from this state to Chicago will be on Monday, the candidate will go to Toledo and thence through Michigan by way of Adrian, Hillsdale and Findlay and will make a dash down to Elkhart, Ind.

Just exactly the time for the notification has not been decided upon, but it is probable that the manner has been decided upon. This will be no big meeting like that in New York, but Senator Allen, of New York, will write a letter to each of the candidates, officially informing them of the nomination.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

MISSIONARY WORK To Be Done at the St. Paul Encampment for McKinley. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, president of the Grand Veteran Patriotic League; Gen. W. W. Dudley, secretary, and Gen. Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the president of the Pennsylvania organization, will leave for the West on Saturday to attend the Grand Army encampment at St. Paul. They will open their headquarters at the Metropolitan Hotel on an ex-day in Full, appreciating the fact that the Grand Army is a non-partisan organization they will endeavor, nevertheless, to do some effective work with regard to the nomination of McKinley.

Advertisements for Silver, Paper or Poker Chips, and other financial services. Includes text: 'SILVER, PAPER OR POKER CHIPS', 'Silver's Ideas Regarding Their Coinage Further Set Forth', 'VERY TART LETTER', 'ALTDIED REPLIES TO THE CHARGES OF FOREMAN', 'SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Aug. 27.—Gov. Altgeld tonight gave an open letter addressed to ex-Congressman Foreman, in reply to the recent letter to him making a golden text of the Republican lesson.'