

ALPHABET RAN OUT

IN PRINTING THE PROGRAMME OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY MEDICAL MEN.

LONG WORDS ARE THE RULE.

THE CITY'S GUESTS WILL BE GEN- TLEMEN OF POLYSYLLABIC PROFUNDITY.

BUT THE KNIFE AND THE VIAL

Are the Only Things They Will Bring to Be at All Afraid Of.

The full programme of the twenty-second meeting of the Mississippi Valley Medical Association, the general details of facts of which were given in the Globe yesterday, has been arranged, and neat folders for the guidance of the visitors will be issued from the press tomorrow. It is announced therein that all papers except the annual addresses will be limited to twenty minutes in duration, leaders in discussion to have not to exceed ten minutes, others, five minutes.

After the convention is called to order Tuesday morning by Chairman Wheaton, of the local committee, the invocation by Archbishop Ireland and addresses of welcome by Gov. Clough, Mayor Doran and Health Commissioner A. J. Stone, the convention will listen to the reports of Secretary Loeb, of St. Louis; Treasurer Meyer, of Chicago, and the annual address of the president, Dr. H. O. Walker, of Detroit, Mich.

At the afternoon session papers will be read as follows:

- D. S. Maddox, Marion, O.—"The Decade of the General Practitioner and the Reign of the Specialist."
F. H. Brody, Chicago, Ill.—"A New Operation for Clift Palate."
Elmer Lee, Chicago, Ill.—"The Physiologic Treatment of Typhoid Fever."
W. R. Allison, Peoria, Ill.—"Proprietary Prescriptions."
C. H. Huges, St. Louis, Mo., honorary fellow of the Chicago Academy of Medicine—"The Neural Factor in Clinical Medicine."
M. F. Cupp, Edinburg, Ind.—"Infant Food in the Anti-Dysenteric Action of Cow's Milk."
J. Osborne de Courcy, St. Libory, Ill.—"Preventive Medicine."
Hugh T. Patrick, Chicago, Ill.—"Trunk Anesthesia in Locomotor Ataxia."
Gustavus Blech, Detroit, Mich.—"Treatment of Some Inflammatory Diseases of the Gastro-Intestinal Tract."
G. O. Coffin, Kansas City—"Intestinal Surgery."
M. Hatten, Pittsburg—"Valve Disease of the Heart."
Wednesday morning after the business routine, the reading of papers will be continued, with the following topics:
Harold N. Meyer, Chicago—Address on Medicine—General Morbid State of the Nervous System.
Paul Pautin, St. Louis—"The Treatment of Experimental Tuberculosis in Animals by the Use of Blood."
Talbot Jones, St. Paul, Minn—"The Value of Medicinal Antipyrines in View of Newly Acquired Knowledge Respecting the Nature of Acute Infectious Diseases."
D. C. Ramsey, Mt. Vernon, Ind.—"My Favorable Experience With Diphtheria Antitoxin."
E. M. Houghton, Detroit, Mich.—"A Demonstration of the Therapeutic Action of the Anti-Toxin."
E. W. Saunders, St. Louis, Mo.—"Twenty-Seven Cases of Crup."
Florence Weir Hayes, Terre Haute, Ind.—"Stippling."
Joseph Mull, New York—"Reinfection in Consumption."
J. B. Murphy, Chicago, Ill.—"Conservative and Cosmetic Surgery of the Testicles."
Hugh T. Patrick, Chicago, Ill.—"Electro-

Diagnosis and Electro-Therapeutics Simplified.

The afternoon papers will be:
J. Frank, Chicago—"A New Method of Fastening the Round Ligament in Alexander's Operation."
Frederick Johnson, New York—"The Pathology of Idiocy."
J. C. Gieseler, Chicago—"Tandemotomy by Catuary Dissection," followed by discussion, opened by H. W. Loeb, of St. Louis, Mo., Mayo.
Alex. Hugh Ferguson, Chicago—"Cholelithiasis in America," with the report of four cases.
A. J. Courier, Kansas City, Mo.—"Gastro-Jejunotomy in Leon Sordani, Mo.—"Some Facts and Fallacies of Modern Rectal Surgery."
Thomas H. Manley, New York City—"Conditions Which May Simulate Organic Obstruction of the Rectum."
F. H. Brody, Chicago, Ill.—"Further Report on the Treatment of 500 Cases of Gastritis."
E. J. Thomson, St. Louis, Mo.—"Gunshot Wound of the Liver." Report of case involving diaphragm and lung; operation successful but fatal termination two weeks later from pneumonia.

J. M. Pierce, Chicago, Ill.—"Submucous Linear Cauterization, a New Method for Reduction of Hypertrophies of the Concha."
William E. E. Wirt, Cleveland, O.—"A Further Contribution to the Use of Dry Heat in the Treatment of Chronic Joint Affections."
J. M. Mathews, Louisville, Ky.—"Best Treatment for Stricture of the Rectum."
Thursday morning the business routine will be taken up again, following which some more papers will be read, as follows:
Horace H. Brant, Louisville—Address on surgery, "The Relationship of Diagnosis to the Treatment of Typhoid Fever."
A. C. Bernays, St. Louis—"The Result of Operations Per Se in Cases of Tubercle and Cancer."
James H. Dunn, Minneapolis—"Appendicitis: to Operate or Not to Operate."
F. H. Brody, Chicago, Ill.—"Surgical Cases of Appendicitis."
J. B. Murphy, Chicago, Ill.—"Indications for and Demonstration of Removal of Gallstones."
F. H. Brody, Chicago, Ill.—"Pleuritic Effusions and their Treatment."
A. J. Oschner, Chicago, Ill.—"Nerve Sutures in the Treatment of Injuries to the Nerves of the Upper Extremity."
Henry P. Newman, Chicago, Ill.—"Woman and the Physician."
F. F. Lawrence, Columbus, O.—"The Pathology and Treatment of Suppurative Salpingitis."
A. Goldsoph, Chicago, Ill.—"Rational Operations for the Cure of Uterine Retroversion."
Thursday afternoon's programme will be papers by the following:

Arthur R. Edwards, Chicago—"Certain Misconceptions Regarding Cardiac Murmurs and their Treatment."
R. H. Babcock, Chicago—"Report of a Case Illustrating the Value of Secondary Physical Signs in Cardiac Diagnosis."
Ephraim Cutter, New York—"Conventional Treatment of Heart Diseases Versus Positive Treatment."
L. Harrison Metter, Chicago—"The Lumbar Enlargement of the Spinal Cord."
A. J. Oschner, Chicago, Ill.—"The Significance and Occurrence of Capillary Pulsation in Various Diseases."
Augustus G. Cooley, New York—"Indications for Ventral Suspension of the Uterus."
E. B. Smith, Detroit, Mich.—"The Necessity of Vivisection."
E. B. Smith, Detroit, Mich.—"Irregularities in Delivery Due to a Short Umbilical Cord."
R. Hansbury Suttin, Pittsburg, Pa.—"Pregnancy, Complicating Operations on the Uterus and its Appendages." Remarks with cases.
Eduard Boeckmann, St. Paul—"Operative Treatment of Pterygium."
Gustavus Blech, Detroit, Mich.—"Kola."
F. H. Brody, Chicago, Ill.—"The Newer Remedies in Otolaryngology and their Results."
W. S. Caldwell, Freeport, Ill.—"Ether and Chloroform in the Treatment of General Anesthesia."
B. Parker, Cleveland, O.—"The Use of Oxygen in Chloroform Narcosis."
The afternoon papers will be:
J. J. Kelly, Springs, Ark.—"Treatment of Syphilis."
J. Travis Drennon, Hot Springs, Ark.—"Syphilis as an Etiologic Factor in the Production of Tuberculous Lesions."
W. Barclay, St. Louis, Mo.—"Diseases of the Nose and Throat."
Edwin T. Dickerman, Chicago—"Nasal Papilloma."
B. M. Behrens, Minneapolis, Minn.—"Rhinoscopic Examination in General Practice."
W. R. Allison, Peoria, Ill.—"The Rapid Cure of Gonorrhoea."
B. Merrill Ricketts, Cincinnati, O.—"Surgical Melanage."
Bransford Lewis, St. Louis, Mo.—"Seminal Vesiculitis; its Relative Frequency and Relationship to Prostatitis and Inflammation," with remarks on treatment.
Henry Hatch, Quincy, Ill.—"An Oath Sworn to by a brother of the dead man, and stated to the court that O'Neill desired to waive a preliminary examination. Judge Kelly directed the clerk to make the proper record of the arraignment, and directed that the prisoner be held to await the action of the grand jury. Accompanied by Mr. O'Brien, County Attorney Butler and his bondsmen, O'Neill was taken to the chambers of Judge Brill where an application was made for his release on bail. Mr. O'Brien suggested that $5,000 bonds could be given for O'Neill's appearance at the next term of court. County Attorney Butler said that amount would be satisfactory to him and a bond duly signed by James Kasson, of the firm of Jefferson & Kasson, and Patrick Conroy, ex-alderman, was presented and approved. The grand jury, which meets in October, will consider the case against O'Neill, and until that time he will be suspended from the force under an order issued by the mayor on Sept. 5. O'Neill did not care to be interviewed, but said it must be apparent to any one who was acquainted with him and to the general public that he had no intention of killing McDonough when he fired the shot which resulted in his death.

JOCKO CONWAY AGAIN

Finds Himself a Prisoner in the City Lock-Up.
Jocko Conway was arrested yesterday afternoon charged with drunkenness. Conway was taken in custody Thursday evening by an officer in the Margaret street district, and brought to the police court Friday morning. While waiting in the rooms used for a bull pen, Conway lifted a window and skipped. Special Policeman McDonough, who was on duty during the escapade, reported to the central police station yesterday afternoon that a man had been held up in the Fourth street tunnel Friday night, and that Conway was the one who did the holding up. McDonough also said he knew where Conway was to be found, and a couple of days were needed to get on for a time as he was glad to get out for a time as he was as glad as a kid, I never saw so many people before in my life, that is, so many people who don't know one end of a train from another.

Thursday, Sept. 3.—Have lost me halter. Can't even whisper. But it saves me a lot of trouble, and I would not care only Jimmie Farrell keeps showing old women over to me and tells them I am such a nice man. I have learned the heart and dumb alphabet, and me and Swan Anderson, at the gate, can understand each other. Swan has lost his voice too, but his temper never changes.

I feel cranky today, probably because I had to care for three lost children who wanted me to buy candy and pop. I got me lamps onto a Chicago "Optic," but he got soon as he saw I was piping him. I cannot write any more as I have lost me voice.

Friday, Sept. 4.—Everyone is getting out of town, and they all want to go at once. The crowd reminds me of a school of salmon going up a fresh water creek. Last night I got a few wags of sleep just to keep in practice. I find sleeping to be all a matter of habit anyhow, and wholly unnecessary when you get used to it. Since noon today, I have answered 23,432 questions, most of them so foolish as to ask me to believe that the folks at St. Peter and Rochester have come down for an airing.

Saturday, Sept. 4.—Chief says I can go home and am acquainted with my family tomorrow. I have gotten so used to this talking business that I think I would make a good prize fighter. I would need the pit boys for ear muffs, for my hearing is bad. The noise of so many "deposits going to Chicago" at the same time has worried me. I have a pair of fire escapes on his nose, asked me today if I was a Christian, but I told him I couldn't hear him, that he was talking in a low voice. A man with a damphool question I have heard for the last four days.

Sunday, Sept. 5.—Step lightly, Big Andy sleeps.

STATE TEACHING RULES.

Requirements Demanded by the State Department.

The state department of public instruction has issued a circular presenting in concise and comprehensive form the requirements of the department for the issuance of public instruction certificates. Among the requirements are the following:

State certificates are issued by the state superintendent of public instruction on recommendation of an examining board of three persons, consisting, at present, of Prof. D. L. Kieble, of the State university, City Superintendent C. B. Gilbert, and County Superintendent S. J. Race, of Redwood county.

A life certificate is not issued to one who has not taught, at least, five years; a five year certificate is not issued to one who has not taught, at least two years; a two year certificate is not issued to one who has not taught, at least one year or more.

A teacher is not necessarily, however, entitled to a certificate for five years or for life, because he has had an experience of less than two years, respectively. Each case is considered individually and much depends on the character of the work he has done and the general character of the applicant.

Candidates taking examinations may be credited on subjects in which they have passed in examinations of state certificates in this state, provided the proper university certifies to such examinations and furnishes the questions on which examinations were taken. No credit will be given for work done on examinations by the state examining board. Examinations may be taken before county superintendents at any of the times appointed by the state superintendent of public instruction for uniform examinations. A candidate desiring to take part of the examination in his own county should correspond with his county superintendent in regard to time, place and subjects, in order that the latter may order sets of questions from this office.

It was written on a piece of paper examination to graduates of colleges or universities of good standing, if the applicants have taught in the public schools of Minnesota, with ability and success in the past, that such certificates are given for life only to graduates of institutions which rank as high as the University of Minnesota. This is a full four years' high school preparatory course for entrance to the freshman class and an additional course of four years' college preparatory course. Certificates of second grade (or first grade for a time not to exceed five years) may be granted to graduates of institutions of lower rank, provided such institutions give a satisfactory high school preparatory course of, at least, three years.

The diplomas of state normal schools of other states, may be approved by the state superintendent of public instruction, thus making them valid as state certificates for two years. At the expiration of that time, the approval may be extended for one year or more, according to the course from which the holder graduated and the character of the teaching he has done. The president of the board of normal schools constitute a board on the extension of such approvals.

LEARNING BY TRAVEL.

Class of University Students Taking a Trip.

Prof. J. R. Chapin, of Puget Sound University, Tacoma, passed through the city yesterday for the West, having returned from a party of seventeen young people who had entered that far away institution of learning.

The scheme under which the class is traveling is a new and novel one, and originated in the Chicago office of life. A department of travel has been added to the college, and each year the students are given an extended tour, covering from 1,000 to 2,000 miles or more, paying all the traveling expenses out of the $300 annual tuition fees. A different trip is taken each year, the last year being reserved for a trip to the Indian country. This year the trip is in Minneapolis today, consists of both young men and young ladies, mostly from well to do Ohio families. From St. Paul the party will go to Yellowstone Park and thence to Butte. From there they go to Tacoma. Yesterday was spent in sight seeing in St. Paul and Minneapolis. The party will leave from the latter city this afternoon, over the Northern Pacific.

MUST TELL THEIR AGE

Before the Assembly Will Confirm Police Appointees.

Chief Goss notified the recent appointees to the police force yesterday, whose appointments they are requested to file with the city clerk and display showing their age. Until this formality is complied with the assembly will not confirm the mayor's appointments.

WILL MARRY HIS MAMIE

How Fay Steffey Will Avert a Prosecution.

Fay Steffey was arrested last evening by Detectives Daly and Campbell on a warrant sworn out by Mamie Gates, of 217 Nugent street. Steffey, who is a railroad man, was arrested at East Seventh street, will probably escape punishment as he stated to the officers last evening that he intended to make a complaint against witness his wife in the near future.

MODELS OF PERFECTION

Albrecht's Furs, 20 East Seventh Street.

ANDY GALL'S DIARY

UNIQUE HISTORY OF THE RECENT ENCAMPMENT PREPARED BY THE GIANT.

WHO STANDS AT THE DEPOT.

HE GOT THE VISITORS FIRST AND MADE THEM GOSSIPERS, LAST.

STORIES OF RATTLED PEOPLE.

Who Made Life a Burden, Noted by the Cerberus of the City Gate.

Big Andy Call, otherwise known as "Always on Call," he of the Herculean frame, who represents the metropolitan police force at the union depot, had had seven nights of blissful slumber since the close of the Grand Army encampment.

Poor Andy! He needed them. He, with his fellow policemen, was on hand from early until late, but somehow Andy got the worst of it, although he says he would not take a month's pay for the fun he had out of it. Depot Master Jim Farrell says Andy will soon write a book upon the "Dampness of the Travelling Public," and his data therefrom from the multiplicity of incidents which befel him during the rush. The big policeman has already prepared some of his data, and his diary, which he kept daily, will furnish the material for the rest of it. It looks now as if the work, unabridged and unexpurgated, would fill two volumes.

Andy's diary is a marvel which Bill Nye in his halcyon days would have read with envy. In fact, Andy wrote just as he would talk, and if you ever hear the big fellow in his curb stone dissertations upon folks in general, you will appreciate the simple pathos of that diary. It is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a big book, written with a freight clerk's big pencil in a big hand, and the author of the diary has not yet had time to correct it, and if the Globe prints a few excerpts therefrom, Andy will have no recourse but to kick himself for leaving the precious book open to the public. It is too rich to hide by concealment, and it is a