

MINNEAPOLIS.

OFFICE 23 SOUTH FOURTH STREET.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

The Wednesday matinee has been permanently abandoned, and hereafter the matinee at the Bijou will be held on Tuesday and Saturday of each week.

After the present gap in the season's bookings has been passed over it is the belief of the management that no further trouble will be experienced in keeping the time filled.

Hutchins, Cook & Co. have made an assignment for the benefit of creditors to John P. Byrne. The firm operates what is known as the National steam laundry, on Western avenue.

The central high school seniors held their class election Friday. M. C. Bachevalier was elected president; Miss Jenney, vice president; A. Patten, secretary. The class numbers 200.

Beginning with today's matinee, the comedian Lighty Bell and his splendid orchestra will be in charge of the matinee at the Bijou theater, with matinees on Tuesday and Saturday.

Miss Marie Collins, principal of Martin college, Washington, D. C., delivered a lecture last night at the Bijou theater, with matinees on Tuesday and Saturday.

With the exception of this evening, when Cooke, the spiritualist, will give a séance and endeavor to bring his audience in close communion with the spirits than they have ever been before, the Metropolitan opera house will be done up in the next period.

Superintendent of Police Smith will return from the East Wednesday. His mother, who was dangerously ill, has experienced some improvement in her condition. She will accompany Supt. Smith to Minneapolis, in the hope that the Minnesota climate will be beneficial.

His Swenson is an inmate of the North side station, having been arrested over a week ago by local authorities by some railroad men on the charge of having picked a woman's pocket. The only reason the authorities have against him is the pocketbook, as the lady proceeded.

The first of a series of Saturday night informal receptions was given last evening by the Young Men's Christian association. It was very well attended, and the guests were entertained by the association.

Final decree was signed yesterday morning in the foreclosure of the mortgage on Normanna hall, held by the Northwestern Mutual life insurance company. The decree was made by Judge Elliott, who signed the decree, and secured the placing of the loan a number of years ago.

S. A. Stockwell, candidate for the legislature in the Thirty-third district, will commence a novel out-door campaign this week. Two or three speakers will be invited to accompany him on his tour.

While in the city Congressman McClary was the guest of P. F. Collins, at whose home, 1229 Broadway, he was entertained at dinner, previous to the meeting. There were present at the dinner, in addition to Mr. Collins, L. A. Lydard, J. C. Williams, president and secretary of the Fifth Ward Republican club, under whose auspices the dinner was held.

A feature of the dinner was the novel manner in which the table was decorated. Vegetables of all kinds, besides being on hand as eatables, were used as ornaments, emblematic of the district which Mr. McClary represents, a strictly agricultural one.

The entertainment Mr. McClary was afforded before the meeting seemed to act upon him as a stimulant, and his address, particularly brilliant one, Congressman McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one. He has a style of speaking which is clear and carries conviction with every word.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

ALL WERE POINTED

ARGUMENTATIVE TACKS WITH WHICH McCLARY PUNCTURED SILVERITE TIRES.

EXPO AGAIN WAS CROWDED.

MONSTER AUDIENCE PRESENT TO HEAR THE SECOND DISTRICT CONGRESSMAN.

FUSIONISTS WILL DEMONSTRATE.

Senator Allen to Be Heard Next Saturday Evening—News of Minneapolis.

Congressman James T. McClary, at the Lyceum theater last night, set points upon the political track that punctured the tires of the free silver wheel, so that even Candidate Bryan would have failed to recognize it.

With the exception of the big meetings held in the exposition building, it was the most successful meeting held in Minneapolis during this campaign. Before 8 o'clock the building was almost entirely full, and a steady stream poured in until every seat was occupied and several rows standing in the back of the main floor.

On the stage were placed 200 chairs, and these were also in use. It was the kind of crowd that makes the present campaign more than any previous one of education. Like the big parade a week or so ago, there were representatives there of all classes. There was a sprinkling of the gentler sex, too, and they were as enthusiastic as were their male companions.

The 200 seats on the stage were occupied by the most prominent Republican leaders of the city. Among them were Congressman Loren Fletcher, Gen. George B. Wilson, W. R. Manning, Albany, N. Y.; Judge J. O. Pierce, Judge Steele, George K. Hay, W. R. Morris, Weed Munroe, Eugene Hay, L. A. Grant, L. G. Powders, P. Roberts, E. A. Savage, J. B. Atwater, M. J. Dennis, Dr. Dennis, John M. Rees, Judge Edlin.

While in the city Congressman McClary was the guest of P. F. Collins, at whose home, 1229 Broadway, he was entertained at dinner, previous to the meeting. There were present at the dinner, in addition to Mr. Collins, L. A. Lydard, J. C. Williams, president and secretary of the Fifth Ward Republican club, under whose auspices the dinner was held.

A feature of the dinner was the novel manner in which the table was decorated. Vegetables of all kinds, besides being on hand as eatables, were used as ornaments, emblematic of the district which Mr. McClary represents, a strictly agricultural one.

The entertainment Mr. McClary was afforded before the meeting seemed to act upon him as a stimulant, and his address, particularly brilliant one, Congressman McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

He speaks in a clear, concise manner and he speaks to him, one forgets all but the speaker's message. He leads up to his points in a way that one never forgets the full tenor of his remarks, and so home to his audience to stay.

Congressman Loren Fletcher was chairman of the meeting and in a very thorough manner introduced the speaker. Mr. McClary had not the confidence of a great many speakers of the present day, but he is nevertheless an entertaining and instructive one.

"TICKETS, PLEASE"

ALL PARTIES ARE HOLDING COUNTY CONVENTIONS AND MAKING NOMINATIONS.

WAR HEROES ARE HEARD.

Old Veterans Speak at Mankato, St. Peter, Sioux Falls and Other Points.

EX-MINISTER AYME TALKS.

Tells a Litchfield Audience of the Conditions in Mexico—The Northwest.

Special to the Globe. MONTGOMERY, Minn., Sept. 26.—At the Democratic county convention held at Le Sueur Center today the following nominations were made: Representatives, Frank Roberts and W. R. Manning; sheriff, S. I. Davis; register, Joe Finn; auditor, J. M. Forder; assessor, F. C. Gibbs; county attorney, C. C. Kolars; superintendent of schools, T. J. Lynch; surveyor, E. Solberg; coroner, C. P. Dolan; county commissioner, First district, J. Spence; Third district, R. Doran; Fifth district, F. L. Volk. The Democrats and Populists fused, the Populists getting one representative and judge of probate.

Special to the Globe. LITCHFIELD, Minn., Sept. 26.—The Democrats and Populists held their county convention today, and as was anticipated fused. The tickets named are as follows: Representative, L. L. Peterson; county auditor, G. A. Leasing; treasurer, C. H. Bart; sheriff, A. D. Ross; judge of probate, M. Forder; county attorney, J. T. Byrnes; clerk of school, J. F. Olson; superintendent of schools, H. W. Johnson; surveyor, N. Y. Taylor; register of deeds, A. L. Nelson; county commissioner, First district, R. Welch; Third district, B. Scott; Fifth district, Thos. Staunton.

Special to the Globe. PIERRE, S. D., Sept. 26.—The Republicans of Stanley county in their convention at Fort Pierre this evening nominated for sheriff, Eglin Brown; treasurer, Geo. Mathison; auditor, John Comstock; clerk of courts, W. G. Hovey; county attorney, J. K. Madden; superintendent of schools, Mrs. Hutchinson.

Special to the Globe. MADISON, Minn., Sept. 26.—The Populists nominated for sheriff, Eglin Brown; treasurer, Geo. Mathison; auditor, John Comstock; clerk of courts, W. G. Hovey; county attorney, J. K. Madden; superintendent of schools, Mrs. Hutchinson.

Special to the Globe. ELK RIVER, Minn., Sept. 26.—The Republicans of Sherburne county held a big county convention today, and as was anticipated fused. The tickets named are as follows: Sheriff, Wm. Hickley; treasurer, A. W. Paterson; clerk of court, J. H. Matthews; auditor, H. J. Piers; state attorney, F. J. Warwick; state senator, H. B. Wynn; members of the house of representatives, Joseph H. H. G. Olson, Geo. Olson, Mrs. Lease spoke before the convention.

Special to the Globe. LE SUEUR, Minn., Sept. 26.—Gen. Alger and Gen. Sikes addressed the people, and were loudly applauded. The speakers made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 26.—A special train over the Omaha line carrying the Gen. Alger and Gen. Sikes arrived here this evening at 6 o'clock. The old soldiers turned out to meet them, and many were pleased to see the generals with whom many were personally acquainted. The party made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 26.—Gen. Alger and Gen. Sikes addressed the people, and were loudly applauded. The speakers made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. TRACY, Minn., Sept. 26.—Another fine here this morning. The veterans of the Civil War were present in large numbers. The speakers made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. WELLS, Minn., Sept. 26.—Creditors have seized the hardware and harness stock of John Storm, at Kestler Center, an Indian town in this county. Bad management is said to be the cause of failure.

Special to the Globe. HAGGART has a Walk-Over. FARGO, N. D., Sept. 26.—Senator Haggart was elected in the Republican primary and will be elected in the legislative convention in this city Monday.

Special to the Globe. GRAND LODGE ADJOURNED. DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 26.—The Sovereign Grand lodge of Odd Fellows was called to order at 8:30 o'clock and remained in session until 3:45. The question of opening the doors of the Rebekah lodges to all white women, eighteen years of age and of good moral character, was taken under consideration. The committee appointed to look into this matter presented a minority and majority report. The minority report being against the action, the majority report was adopted. The action on this matter was deferred until the next session of this body.

Special to the Globe. MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 26.—Mayor Bowler, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, spoke here tonight on the money question. The attendance was not large.

Special to the Globe. KASSON, Minn., Sept. 26.—Hon. F. W. M. Cutcheon spoke here last night under the auspices of the Kasson Sound

WAR HEROES ARE HEARD.

Old Veterans Speak at Mankato, St. Peter, Sioux Falls and Other Points.

EX-MINISTER AYME TALKS.

Tells a Litchfield Audience of the Conditions in Mexico—The Northwest.

Special to the Globe. MONTGOMERY, Minn., Sept. 26.—At the Democratic county convention held at Le Sueur Center today the following nominations were made: Representatives, Frank Roberts and W. R. Manning; sheriff, S. I. Davis; register, Joe Finn; auditor, J. M. Forder; assessor, F. C. Gibbs; county attorney, C. C. Kolars; superintendent of schools, T. J. Lynch; surveyor, E. Solberg; coroner, C. P. Dolan; county commissioner, First district, J. Spence; Third district, R. Doran; Fifth district, F. L. Volk. The Democrats and Populists fused, the Populists getting one representative and judge of probate.

Special to the Globe. LITCHFIELD, Minn., Sept. 26.—The Democrats and Populists held their county convention today, and as was anticipated fused. The tickets named are as follows: Representative, L. L. Peterson; county auditor, G. A. Leasing; treasurer, C. H. Bart; sheriff, A. D. Ross; judge of probate, M. Forder; county attorney, J. T. Byrnes; clerk of school, J. F. Olson; superintendent of schools, H. W. Johnson; surveyor, N. Y. Taylor; register of deeds, A. L. Nelson; county commissioner, First district, R. Welch; Third district, B. Scott; Fifth district, Thos. Staunton.

Special to the Globe. PIERRE, S. D., Sept. 26.—The Republicans of Stanley county in their convention at Fort Pierre this evening nominated for sheriff, Eglin Brown; treasurer, Geo. Mathison; auditor, John Comstock; clerk of courts, W. G. Hovey; county attorney, J. K. Madden; superintendent of schools, Mrs. Hutchinson.

Special to the Globe. MADISON, Minn., Sept. 26.—The Populists nominated for sheriff, Eglin Brown; treasurer, Geo. Mathison; auditor, John Comstock; clerk of courts, W. G. Hovey; county attorney, J. K. Madden; superintendent of schools, Mrs. Hutchinson.

Special to the Globe. ELK RIVER, Minn., Sept. 26.—The Republicans of Sherburne county held a big county convention today, and as was anticipated fused. The tickets named are as follows: Sheriff, Wm. Hickley; treasurer, A. W. Paterson; clerk of court, J. H. Matthews; auditor, H. J. Piers; state attorney, F. J. Warwick; state senator, H. B. Wynn; members of the house of representatives, Joseph H. H. G. Olson, Geo. Olson, Mrs. Lease spoke before the convention.

Special to the Globe. LE SUEUR, Minn., Sept. 26.—Gen. Alger and Gen. Sikes addressed the people, and were loudly applauded. The speakers made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 26.—A special train over the Omaha line carrying the Gen. Alger and Gen. Sikes arrived here this evening at 6 o'clock. The old soldiers turned out to meet them, and many were pleased to see the generals with whom many were personally acquainted. The party made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 26.—Gen. Alger and Gen. Sikes addressed the people, and were loudly applauded. The speakers made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. TRACY, Minn., Sept. 26.—Another fine here this morning. The veterans of the Civil War were present in large numbers. The speakers made round money speeches all along the line.

Special to the Globe. WELLS, Minn., Sept. 26.—Creditors have seized the hardware and harness stock of John Storm, at Kestler Center, an Indian town in this county. Bad management is said to be the cause of failure.

Special to the Globe. HAGGART has a Walk-Over. FARGO, N. D., Sept. 26.—Senator Haggart was elected in the Republican primary and will be elected in the legislative convention in this city Monday.

Special to the Globe. GRAND LODGE ADJOURNED. DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 26.—The Sovereign Grand lodge of Odd Fellows was called to order at 8:30 o'clock and remained in session until 3:45. The question of opening the doors of the Rebekah lodges to all white women, eighteen years of age and of good moral character, was taken under consideration. The committee appointed to look into this matter presented a minority and majority report. The minority report being against the action, the majority report was adopted. The action on this matter was deferred until the next session of this body.

Special to the Globe. MANKATO, Minn., Sept. 26.—Mayor Bowler, the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, spoke here tonight on the money question. The attendance was not large.

Special to the Globe. KASSON, Minn., Sept. 26.—Hon. F. W. M. Cutcheon spoke here last night under the auspices of the Kasson Sound

WAR HEROES ARE HEARD.

Old Veterans Speak at Mankato, St. Peter, Sioux Falls and Other Points.

EX-MINISTER AYME TALKS.

Tells a Litchfield Audience of the Conditions in Mexico—The Northwest.

Special to the Globe. MONTGOMERY, Minn., Sept. 26.—At the Democratic county convention held at Le Sueur Center today the following nominations were made: Representatives, Frank Roberts and W. R. Manning; sheriff, S. I. Davis; register, Joe Finn; auditor, J. M