WOLLEN AND WOOLENS.

It is difficult to decide which of these two presidential candidates gives out the more wearisome twaddle, McKinley or Bryan. If what they say, the ideas they emit, were capable of being weighed, the one would about balance the other, and neither, weighed alone, would require more than the lightest weights to counterbalance it.

THE SEVERITY OF THE TEST.

The National Democrat is a sorely tried individual. On the one side the men with whom he has stood shoulder to shoulder in past conflicts with the common enemy, reproach when they do not revile him. His Democracy is denied him because he refuses to accept the decrees of a national convention as Democratic. He is told that the rule of the majority is the first law of Democracy and the majority decreed that all Democrats should vote for Bryan and support the platform.

WITH INTENT TO AMUSE.

Cholly (repeatedly)—Daisy! Daisy! Miss Beach, why don't you know me? I have it. Daisy—Let me see! Oh, yes! I have it. You were in my collection last summer. Cholly—Collection? Daisy—Yes, yes—of my souvenir spoons.—New York World.

PARTY OF THE FUTURE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Senator John M. Palmer, of Illinois, presidential candidate of the National Democratic party, arrived in the city this afternoon from Philadelphia. The senator is on his way to his home in Illinois and stopped in this city to pay a visit to his married daughter, and for the purpose of looking after some departmental matters requiring his attention. He will leave for Springfield either tomorrow or the next day.

prices fell proportionately. It is one of the blessings, one of the compensations, that when a Republican panic came to blast industry, a tariff only partly Democratic aided largely other causes to render cheaper the clothing of the people.

WHAT CAUSED THE DEFICIT?

Edward Atkinson, who has become known as one of those uncomfortable and dangerous men who have a faculty for getting at the exact facts and a fearlessness in using them, discusses in Bradstreet's the causes of the deficiency of the revenues. He regrets that "when the opponents of high tariff are ready to vote the Republican ticket" the leaders of that party should reprobate them "by imputing the present dangerous conditions to mere changes of administration or to changes of the tariff policy."

The deficiency is due to the acts of congress and responsibility rests on that congress to whom the acts can be traced that resulted in a deficiency of revenue. He states the cash account of the treasury at the close of the respective administrations of Mr. Cleveland in 1889 and of Mr. Harrison in 1893, taking the fiscal year in each case. On June 30, 1889, the net balance, over the gold reserve, was $186,382,695; on June 30, 1893, it was $21,743,839 over a gold reserve that had fallen to $95,485,414.

SOME VICTIMS OF "THE CRIME."

There are victims of the "crime of 1873," which "cut the money volume of the world in half," made "two-hundred cent dollars" out of our coins, "doubled their purchasing power" and "halved their ability to pay debts" and "robbed commodities of half their value," besides the "victims" of whom we hear and read most. It is worth while to let the others have their day in court and be heard, so that the historian of that crime may have as full a roster of the unhappy victims as can be made up.

ANOTHER PUNCTURED TIRE.

We have frequently alluded to the presence of some superior and controlling force that sweeps away the combinations made by the managers of trade, manufacturing and traffic companies to control and maintain prices. This is no occult power, invisible, like gravity, but is purely human in its nature and is nothing more than the universal motive of self-interest, ranging down from the instinct of self-preservation to the impulse to action given by greed.

AT THE THEATERS.

"The Ensign," William Haworth's naval drama, was the attraction at the Grand last evening. The audience was large and the production was given a hearty reception. The play is a study in blue and gold. It possesses the attraction which always attaches to the service, and the brass buttons and gold lace make a fitting setting for the patriotism in which the story abounds.

STATE SENTIMENT.

Why should Republicans abuse John Lind? He is a Republican and has accepted the nomination of the Populists and Democrats for governor. It is because they can find nothing to commend in his opponent—Hubbard Enterprise.

MR. BRYAN SPENDS A SUNDAY QUITE ISOLATED FROM SILVERITE THROUGH.

BATH, Maine, Sept. 27.—William Jennings Bryan gained a needed rest today. He took advantage of the quiet of a typical New England Sunday to brace himself for the tedious journey back to Lynn, Mass., which will occupy from midnight tonight until 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Talks of the Financial Question in Two Republics. Rev. John J. Conway sends to the Globe from Paris the following interesting interview with Augustin Edwards, ex-president of the Chilian senate and a leading citizen of that republic.

"We have evolved up to a gold standard," said Mr. Augustin Edwards, ex-president of the Chilian senate, discussing the financial question of the United States and Chilli with me in his Paris hotel, overlooking the beautiful garden of the Tuilleries. Ex-President Edwards has been secretary of the Chilian senate since 1890. He has been in search of health. His long and varied public career has been an excellent authority upon the questions of the Chilian senate. It was only last year that he had been compelled to resign the presidency of the Chilian senate and to go abroad for mental and physical recreation.

opponents it stirs an anger that clouds reason and makes consequences inconsequential. But it is precisely such trials that test the strength of men. It is not the vessel that is seaworthy that carries its freightage safely over smooth seas before gentle winds, but the one that brings safe to port its cargo through the stress of the tempest.

MAKING NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.

It is always a pretty sure sign of a party's defeat when it begins to be very exclusive and to lay down rigid rules with which everybody must comply or be drummed out of camp. When an organization is moving towards success it is catholic. Its heart opens to everybody. It welcomes all the recruits it can get. It liberalizes its members as far as it can, and is ready to embrace all who come to it in its triumphant march.

meat it. Factories began to go into receivers' hands. Makers began to take advantage of the lower grade prices at which to sell their high-grade wheels. Then the department stores took a turn. They bought bankrupt stocks from the receivers and offered wheels at cut prices. This broke the combination. It went to pieces. A year ago no business in the country was so flourishing, none making such gains as bicycle manufacturing; today there is none so prosperous. It is the victim of its own greediness.

NO "OPEN DATES" AT CANTON

Busy Times Ahead of McKinley-Palmer Hopeful for the National Democracy.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Senator John M. Palmer, of Illinois, presidential candidate of the National Democratic party, arrived in the city this afternoon from Philadelphia.

The senator is on his way to his home in Illinois and stopped in this city to pay a visit to his married daughter, and for the purpose of looking after some departmental matters requiring his attention.

He will leave for Springfield either tomorrow or the next day. Next week he has some matters demanding his presence at the meeting of the supreme court of Illinois at Ottawa, and after that he will hold himself in readiness to respond to calls for speeches that he may be asked to make by the national committee.

The senator does not as yet know what demands there will be made on him in this respect. Concerning his brief trip in the Eastern states and the general outlook, the senator tonight spoke substantially as follows: "I have been very much pleased and gratified at my reception and at the audience which greeted me in the various cities, and especially at the predominance of young men in the organizations. The Democratic party, which shows great fighting spirit. The National Democratic party is the party of the future. The Democratic party organization is in bad shape in New England, New York and Pennsylvania, and the Republican party, with the exception of the country, McKinley, I believe, will also carry Maryland, Missouri, and I think he will be elected president."
