

WILL FIGHT BRUSH

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE THREATENS TO WITHDRAW ITS PROTECTION

MANAGERS OF THE WESTERN

WILL ASK THE COURTS FOR AN IMMEDIATE RESTRAINING ORDER.

CONFERENCE AT MILWAUKEE

Results in the Decision to Insist Upon the Conservation of Western League Rights.

The fate of the present Western Base Ball league now seems to hang upon the strength or weakness of John T. Brush's strategic ability.

"Another base ball war is on, but it will not reach the proportions that the brotherhood war of 1891 did. This time it is between John T. Brush, of the Indianapolis club, and John Goodnow, of the Minneapolis club.

When it became known that the brush and Comiskey could not attend for the reason that they could not possibly reach Milwaukee in time, D. A. Listerbeck arrived here last evening, and with President Johnson held a private conference in the office of Attorney Killies.

"It is certain that should the National league board desire to withdraw protection from the Western league, an injunction will be secured at once preventing the carrying out of the proposed plan.

The facts of the matter are that, so far as the usurpation of the league throne by Brush is concerned, it will not be tolerated for a minute by this league, as there are five solid votes against the Brush element.

When it comes into the national league, of course, it is proper to consider Rudyard Kipling's suggestion that "that's another story." When Brush gets into that league he is not as big a frog as he is in the Western league, even.

Two clubs that may be surely relied upon not to take action against the Western league are the Louisville and Cleveland, for the same reasons which are trying to upset the Western are trying to throw them out in the cold, cold world.

OPERATORS SURPRISED

At the Statement Made by the Canadian Pacific.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 3.—At the headquarters of the C. P. T. surprise was expressed at the Montreal dispatch which declares that the vice president of the Canadian Pacific asserts that the chief question involved is whether the company shall deal with its employees direct or with the officials of their organization.

Going to Montreal. PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 3.—Grand Master Sar-

TWO FOR OROLES

SPIDERS EASILY BEATEN IN THE SECOND OF THE TEMPLE CUP CONTESTS.

"BROTHER JOE" PITCHED.

YOUNG CORBETT THE STAR OF THE RATHER ONE-SIDED GAME.

ATTENDANCE PROVOKINGLY SMALL

Monday's Game May Be Played at Pittsburg or Cincinnati, En Route to Cleveland.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 3.—"Brother Joe" Corbett was the star in today's Temple cup game, and under his skillful generalship the Orioles took the second game of the series with quite as much ease as they did that of yesterday. The crowd was again provokingly small, owing to the threatening weather.

The people have gathered what lumber they could find and, together with logs, have made a camp in which men, women and children are being sheltered by the hundreds. Their food is nearly gone. They cannot use wagons or horses to get a fresh supply, but have sent men to Bradford, and they will make an effort to bring groceries down the Suwanee river in a boat.

CONNIE MACK, Manager Milwaukee Ball Club.

has been destroyed; nothing is left of Mayo, the county seat. East of the Suwanee river the probable loss to the phosphate plants is estimated at $500,000. In Lafayette county the valuable cedar or forests are lost. Stock has been killed by the hundreds. All crops have been destroyed and hundreds of people are in distress. They have no homes and nothing to eat. To add to their distress, the roads are covered with trees which will have to be removed before the farms can be cultivated.

The turpentine men on either side of the Suwanee are financially ruined. All had invested all the money they possessed in turpentine lands and stills and everything is destroyed. Nearly all of them have discharged every laborer they had. This means that at least 2,500 men are out of employment. Most of the laborers, many of whom have families, must live by charity until they can find something to do. In Suwanee county, many houses were unroofed and fences blown down. To clear the roads of trees will cost Alachua county $5,000. There are twenty-two turpentine stills with their equipments, camps, hands and teams being left standing in the woods, and not one of these will ever run another charge, all the timber being destroyed. Yulee, a town of 300 people, with fifteen or twenty business houses is gone, and the citizens have made up a committee and appointed a committee to solicit aid for the sufferers. Similar action has been taken at MacClenny, Baker county. Every phosphate plant in the vicinity of Fort White, Columbia county, is a total wreck. The turpentine people are completely ruined. Hardly a tree being left standing in the woods, the stills are all blown down and torn up, their houses all wrecked, and many mules killed. Hundreds of people are out of employment. The suffering will be great and assistance has already been asked for and the mayor will make an appeal to the governor of Florida for assistance. In Alachua and Levy counties, 200 families are reported destitute and in the latter the town of Hillard, Nassau county, between Jacksonville and Waycross, the families are homeless and about without food. The charitable contributions of other states will almost certainly be required to alleviate the sufferings.

BARRIE ARRIVES.

Famous Scotch Novelist in the United States.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—J. M. Barrie, the well-known Scotch novelist, arrived on the Cam-

Captain-Manager says that he finds Freedman a jolly good fellow, genial and a good man to work for. That is all right, but he will tell you a few games.

Connie Mack is quoted as saying that he has a much better thing of it in Milwaukee than he had in Pittsburg. He will be the manager in fact, as well as in name, in the Wisconsin city, something he never was in Pittsburg.

Byron McKewen, the millionaire owner of the Washington team, has reserved nearly all of his players for next season. He will play ball next year, but will not have a team in Washington. McKewen and Capt. Curran are after the in-between team.

A Wheeling special says Capt. Glascock of the St. Paul Westerns, league team, arrived there Friday. He says the Western league has had a splendid season and that the St. Paul team shared up over $15,000. Glascock has been reserved by St. Paul, but it is said, Cincinnati wants him next year. He has been playing great ball, having a batting average of .42. He says he prefers to stay in St. Paul, and that the salaries there are as good as the average paid in the National league.

The "rock pile" of the Louisville Base Ball club has grown since the past season, despite the fact that it has tenaciously refused to be anything but a tail-end. The net earnings are said to be $5,000.

Eddie McFarland, the St. Louis catcher, has been offered an interest in his father's business, provided he will give up base ball. He is considering the proposition.

Kid Gleason, the champion lightweight boxer of the league, has a bet of $500 to $300 that Pompadour Jim will pull off Red Robert, of Dingledale. In fact, as well as in name, in the like a take on Fier's part. He is looking for an ad. for his theatrical show. Says Gleason.—Washington Star.

Judge Noble, of the Louisville criminal court, has refused to quash the warrants issued and the fines imposed by Judge Thompson, of the city court, against Tebeau. Pursuant to the order of the Cleveland ball club for disorderly conduct during one of the Cleveland-Louisville games last June. The case was set for trial on Oct. 28.

Fifield said yesterday that the team had not won one game on a pay day this year.

TWO FOR OROLES

SPIDERS EASILY BEATEN IN THE SECOND OF THE TEMPLE CUP CONTESTS.

"BROTHER JOE" PITCHED.

YOUNG CORBETT THE STAR OF THE RATHER ONE-SIDED GAME.

ATTENDANCE PROVOKINGLY SMALL

Monday's Game May Be Played at Pittsburg or Cincinnati, En Route to Cleveland.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 3.—"Brother Joe" Corbett was the star in today's Temple cup game, and under his skillful generalship the Orioles took the second game of the series with quite as much ease as they did that of yesterday. The crowd was again provokingly small, owing to the threatening weather.

The people have gathered what lumber they could find and, together with logs, have made a camp in which men, women and children are being sheltered by the hundreds. Their food is nearly gone. They cannot use wagons or horses to get a fresh supply, but have sent men to Bradford, and they will make an effort to bring groceries down the Suwanee river in a boat.

CONNIE MACK, Manager Milwaukee Ball Club.

has been destroyed; nothing is left of Mayo, the county seat. East of the Suwanee river the probable loss to the phosphate plants is estimated at $500,000. In Lafayette county the valuable cedar or forests are lost. Stock has been killed by the hundreds. All crops have been destroyed and hundreds of people are in distress. They have no homes and nothing to eat. To add to their distress, the roads are covered with trees which will have to be removed before the farms can be cultivated.

The turpentine men on either side of the Suwanee are financially ruined. All had invested all the money they possessed in turpentine lands and stills and everything is destroyed. Nearly all of them have discharged every laborer they had. This means that at least 2,500 men are out of employment. Most of the laborers, many of whom have families, must live by charity until they can find something to do. In Suwanee county, many houses were unroofed and fences blown down. To clear the roads of trees will cost Alachua county $5,000. There are twenty-two turpentine stills with their equipments, camps, hands and teams being left standing in the woods, and not one of these will ever run another charge, all the timber being destroyed. Yulee, a town of 300 people, with fifteen or twenty business houses is gone, and the citizens have made up a committee and appointed a committee to solicit aid for the sufferers. Similar action has been taken at MacClenny, Baker county. Every phosphate plant in the vicinity of Fort White, Columbia county, is a total wreck. The turpentine people are completely ruined. Hardly a tree being left standing in the woods, the stills are all blown down and torn up, their houses all wrecked, and many mules killed. Hundreds of people are out of employment. The suffering will be great and assistance has already been asked for and the mayor will make an appeal to the governor of Florida for assistance. In Alachua and Levy counties, 200 families are reported destitute and in the latter the town of Hillard, Nassau county, between Jacksonville and Waycross, the families are homeless and about without food. The charitable contributions of other states will almost certainly be required to alleviate the sufferings.

BARRIE ARRIVES.

Famous Scotch Novelist in the United States.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—J. M. Barrie, the well-known Scotch novelist, arrived on the Cam-

Captain-Manager says that he finds Freedman a jolly good fellow, genial and a good man to work for. That is all right, but he will tell you a few games.

Connie Mack is quoted as saying that he has a much better thing of it in Milwaukee than he had in Pittsburg. He will be the manager in fact, as well as in name, in the Wisconsin city, something he never was in Pittsburg.

Byron McKewen, the millionaire owner of the Washington team, has reserved nearly all of his players for next season. He will play ball next year, but will not have a team in Washington. McKewen and Capt. Curran are after the in-between team.

A Wheeling special says Capt. Glascock of the St. Paul Westerns, league team, arrived there Friday. He says the Western league has had a splendid season and that the St. Paul team shared up over $15,000. Glascock has been reserved by St. Paul, but it is said, Cincinnati wants him next year. He has been playing great ball, having a batting average of .42. He says he prefers to stay in St. Paul, and that the salaries there are as good as the average paid in the National league.

The "rock pile" of the Louisville Base Ball club has grown since the past season, despite the fact that it has tenaciously refused to be anything but a tail-end. The net earnings are said to be $5,000.

Eddie McFarland, the St. Louis catcher, has been offered an interest in his father's business, provided he will give up base ball. He is considering the proposition.

Kid Gleason, the champion lightweight boxer of the league, has a bet of $500 to $300 that Pompadour Jim will pull off Red Robert, of Dingledale. In fact, as well as in name, in the like a take on Fier's part. He is looking for an ad. for his theatrical show. Says Gleason.—Washington Star.

Judge Noble, of the Louisville criminal court, has refused to quash the warrants issued and the fines imposed by Judge Thompson, of the city court, against Tebeau. Pursuant to the order of the Cleveland ball club for disorderly conduct during one of the Cleveland-Louisville games last June. The case was set for trial on Oct. 28.

Fifield said yesterday that the team had not won one game on a pay day this year.

THE PALACE

Advertisement for The Palace Furniture & Carpet Co. featuring various items like Center Tables, Bed-Room Stands, Heating Parlor Rockers, Banquet Lamps, and Chamber Suits. Includes prices and terms.

THE PALACE Furniture & Carpet Co., 22 and 24 East Seventh Street.

Our Whist Corner

Large whist-related article titled 'Our Whist Corner' containing news, scores, and commentary on the game. Includes sections like 'The whist season has fairly opened', 'REVISION OF THE LAWS OF WHIST', and 'AN INTERESTING DEAL'.

C. H. M'GILL, Republican candidate for the Legislature for Tenth and Eleventh Wards and Country.