

MINNEAPOLIS.

OFFICE 29 SOUTH FOURTH STREET.

NOT EIGHT YEARS OLD.

Parents Charge Their Child With Burglary.

The spectacle of parents endeavoring to have an infant son examined and sentenced on a charge of burglary is an unusual thing to say the least, and yet there was just such an occurrence in the municipal court yesterday morning.

The boy was Willie Whitney, who resides with his parents at 2535 Twenty-sixth avenue south. The complainant was his father, William Whitney Sr., a grinder, in the employ of the Atlas Paint company. The child, but little over seven years of age, was brought into the clerk's office by his father and mother, and the former, after stating the case to Clerk Allen, asked that he be allowed to swear out a warrant against his son. The boy, he said, had broken open a pane of his neighbor's window and had stolen some knives and forks. The father insisted that the boy was a thief by instinct, untruly and obstinate, and the parents had decided that it was time for the court to look after him.

Clerk Allen surveyed the boy, a bright, good-looking fellow, who held his head in shame, and asked his age. Learning that he was not yet eight years old, the clerk refused positively to make out a complaint. Not satisfied, the parents brought the boy before Judge Holt. The court, after being acquainted with the facts in the case, ruled that the boy was under eight years of age he could not properly come under the jurisdiction of the law, and the parents would have to adopt some other means of disciplining him.

BUT FIVE WERE CHOSEN.

New Members Elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

A rumor that something was going to happen packed the chapel at the University yesterday morning. The expected came when President Northrup announced that at the last meeting of the honorary fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, the fall elections to that society had been made. The number chosen was five, and they are Miss Marion E. Potter, Helen C. Woodman, J. Burr Miner, Flora E. Brewer and Paul J. Schmidt.

The small number of elections occasioned some surprise, as the number of seniors who have a percentage of over 90 is 28. Of the five above, the young ladies are in the literary class, and the young men in the scientific and Schmidt in the classical. Miss Potter's rank is 94.57. Miss Woodman is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, and lives in St. Paul. Miss Brewer is a Kappa Kappa Gamma, and her home is in Minneapolis. The others are "nonfrats" and with the exception of Mr. Miner, who lives in Minneapolis, Miner's home is in St. Paul.

G. Cholwell Knox Weds.

Miss Frances Lavinia Kellogg and Gustavus Cholwell Knox, of St. Paul, were united in marriage last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Kellogg, 303 Oakland avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Foster, of Stoughton, Wis., cousin of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by Miss G. Edwards served the bridal couple as maid of honor and best man. Miss Madge King played Lohengrin to announce the entrance of the bride and party. The wedding was attended by 60 guests. After a trip to Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. Knox will reside at 39 Summit avenue, St. Paul.

Jewish Lodges Meet.

An important event in Jewish circles of the Twin Cities was a public meeting of the Minneapolis and St. Paul lodges of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, held last evening at the temple of the Minneapolis lodge, 1000 Hennepin avenue, at 7:30 p. m. The president of this district, this feature was supplemented by a carefully prepared programme and address by prominent members of the lodges represented.

INDIAN BABYHOOD.

Their Struggles for Existence.

Their Sorrows as Keen, their Pleasures as Great as their Little White Cousins, but They Are Always Well, and Grow Up Well.

The Reason. Many White Mothers Might Profit by it.

OW the little "papoose" is a marvel, protected from the elements and knocked about by winds, rain, and snow, regardless of what we are pleased to term hygienic laws. But live Indians do not grow up into a race renowned for health, perfect physical development, and endurance.

The reason is, they were the offspring of a nation whose systems had not been shattered by the use of poisonous drugs—Nature's own children—turning to her for help in times of sickness. It is the fact that the Indian with nature, discovering roots, barks and herbs, the great medicinal properties of which were unquestioned by the highest medical authorities of today, the most universally now used being the well-known Kickapoo Indian Remedies. The best physicians are now beginning to abandon the medicine of the poisonous minerals—alkalies and acids—realizing that, though they may, they may be obtained, troubles worse than the original disease are apt to follow. They are again turning their attention to natural remedies, and many of them recommend as being most reliable and safe the famous KICKAPOO INDIAN REMEDIES, the Great Blood Purifier.

By cleansing and invigorating the most vital organs, the kidneys, liver, stomach and blood, it dispels all diseases of the blood, and restores the system to its normal, healthy condition. Thousands are living to-day who owe their lives to its use, as many more, who, by taking a bottle in time, have saved from weeks of misery, sickness, suffering, and expense, accompanied by an awful expense. For the cure of rheumatism, a Blood Purifier, Dyspepsia, Kidney, Liver, Heart, Nervousness, and diseases resulting from derangement of these parts it is infallible. We employ a large force of Doctors, who will give you medical advice free if you will write us and describe your symptoms. Six bottles for $5.00. All druggists, Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., New Haven, Conn.

GOING UP AGAIN.

THE WESTMINSTER CORNER-STONE LAID WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.

THE FIRE OF SEPTEMBER, 1895 THIS IS TO BE THE THIRD STRUCTURE THE SOCIETY HAS BUILT.

THE BOWDALL ELECTION SUIT.

Jewish Lodges of Two Cities Celebrate—Twin City People Married.

BANNER LODGE SUES. The Grand Chief Took Away Its Property.

Mattie Mershon and all other members of Banner Lodge No. 22, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., have secured an alternative writ of mandamus returnable Oct. 17, before the district court of Hennepin county, against Ellen H. Mantor, grand chief of honor of the degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., of Minnesota.

The petitioners cite grievances covering many pages of manuscript. In the first place, the lodge history given. In some way the lodge offended the great chief, and she came to its sanctuary and took away about everything except the altar, the great lodge had no charter, books of record, or anything else, and is not in shape to do any lodge business. According to the petition, the order is fraternal, and its members have certain benefits which no chief or other potentate has a right to take away arbitrarily.

The petitioners also state that the grand chief has the right to suspend a lodge for thirty days until there are certain charges made, but can go no further. Therefore the petitioners request the court to step in and force the great chief to cart back the bone of the lodge, so that it can meet and so that its members may be able to do as they can be kept, and the members need not suffer from the loss thereof.

USED DAVENPORT ROUGHLY.

Burglars Break His Hand With a Billy.

R. H. Davenport, of 3533 Nineteenth avenue south, had a rough experience at the hands of burglars Monday, and is congratulating himself on escaping as luckily as he did. Mr. Davenport was awakened shortly after midnight by an unusual sound from the front door of the house. It sounded as though some one was trying to gain entrance by turning the door-knob. Mr. Davenport determined to investigate and arising he opened the door and found a lighted lantern and went downstairs. As he approached the front door the noise ceased. He unlocked the door, grabbed the knob and gave a quick turn, and the door flew open.

Quick as a flash a billy in the hands of a man on the outside whizzed across the threshold and struck Mr. Davenport's hand, fracturing the bone badly. The injured man gave a cry of pain, and with that the two burglars fled. Mr. Davenport jumped out of the porch and fled away in the darkness. They had evidently figured on striking Mr. Davenport on the head and when they realized the mistake, had made their escape.

Mr. Davenport went to the residence of the nearest doctor and had his arm set.

The boot and shoe store of John Erickson, 815 Franklin avenue, was entered by burglars Monday evening. They effected entrance by prying open a rear window and succeeded in carrying off a considerable quantity of shoes, valued at $50. The burglars are supposed to have been the fellows who used Mr. Davenport so roughly earlier in the evening.

GOT THE CALICO.

And the Elopers Were Given a Hearty Welcome by the Old Lady.

"I spent the night in a cabin near Monticello, a few miles from the town of Iwaine, of the Blue Grass state, to a Star reporter.

"This morning a young girl who had cooked the supper the night before was missing, while her mother was in a terrible rage. She did not want to hear that gal again; she cried, vehemently.

"What is the trouble?" I asked.

"The trouble is, none other than gal o' mine has 'loped 'th Tom Wildkiss."

"To you object to him very greatly?"

"No, I don't. I did not know he had 'loped 'th her. She said she had 'loped 'th him. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

THE SAINT PAUL GLOBE: WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1896.

RUSSIAN SECRET POLICE

ON HAND TO PREVENT THE POSSIBILITY OF ANY UNFORTUNATE "ACCIDENTS."

NICHOLAS THOUGHT IT WAS NICE.

Greatly Flattered by the Warmth of the Greeting Accorded to Himself and the Czarina.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The czar and czarina arrived here safely at 10 o'clock this morning. The czar, who is accompanied by a number of Russian officials, was met at the station by a number of officials and greeted with the warmest of welcomes. The czar and czarina were met at the station by a number of officials and greeted with the warmest of welcomes. The czar and czarina were met at the station by a number of officials and greeted with the warmest of welcomes.

USED DAVENPORT ROUGHLY.

Burglars Break His Hand With a Billy.

R. H. Davenport, of 3533 Nineteenth avenue south, had a rough experience at the hands of burglars Monday, and is congratulating himself on escaping as luckily as he did. Mr. Davenport was awakened shortly after midnight by an unusual sound from the front door of the house. It sounded as though some one was trying to gain entrance by turning the door-knob. Mr. Davenport determined to investigate and arising he opened the door and found a lighted lantern and went downstairs. As he approached the front door the noise ceased. He unlocked the door, grabbed the knob and gave a quick turn, and the door flew open.

Quick as a flash a billy in the hands of a man on the outside whizzed across the threshold and struck Mr. Davenport's hand, fracturing the bone badly. The injured man gave a cry of pain, and with that the two burglars fled. Mr. Davenport jumped out of the porch and fled away in the darkness. They had evidently figured on striking Mr. Davenport on the head and when they realized the mistake, had made their escape.

Mr. Davenport went to the residence of the nearest doctor and had his arm set.

The boot and shoe store of John Erickson, 815 Franklin avenue, was entered by burglars Monday evening. They effected entrance by prying open a rear window and succeeded in carrying off a considerable quantity of shoes, valued at $50. The burglars are supposed to have been the fellows who used Mr. Davenport so roughly earlier in the evening.

GOT THE CALICO.

And the Elopers Were Given a Hearty Welcome by the Old Lady.

"I spent the night in a cabin near Monticello, a few miles from the town of Iwaine, of the Blue Grass state, to a Star reporter.

"This morning a young girl who had cooked the supper the night before was missing, while her mother was in a terrible rage. She did not want to hear that gal again; she cried, vehemently.

"What is the trouble?" I asked.

"The trouble is, none other than gal o' mine has 'loped 'th Tom Wildkiss."

"To you object to him very greatly?"

"No, I don't. I did not know he had 'loped 'th her. She said she had 'loped 'th him. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she run off ter take that piece of five-cent calico she had on her back. I tol' her that I did 'th it's the gal. She said she had 'loped 'th me. I had taken rather a fancy to the girl, so I thought I would try to placate the mother."

"You shouldn't be hard on her. Young people will marry."

"Some nice girls like to elope. It adds romance," I persisted.

"I allus tol' her to run away ter gal married. It makes a husband better when she thinks he stole 'th her. I ain't no true blue fixin' for a weddin' an' dance. She done jes' as tol' her 'bout runnin' off ter town."

"Trubble enough. I tol' her when she