

FAIR HELEN WINS

MISS MAYES' VICTORY IS SUSTAINED BY THE SUPREME COURT.

CALENDAR CALLED AND SET.

USUAL BUSTLE PERTAINING TO THE OPENING DAY OF THE TERM.

STATE HAS A LONG LIST TO TRY

And in the Main They Get Dates That Are Comparatively Early.

Fair Helen Hayes has won her case against her traducer, Mrs. Ira Waldleigh, of Minneapolis, and M. L. Cornman, the lawyer who represented Mrs. Waldleigh in her persecutions of the St. Paul stenographer. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed yesterday at the opening session of the supreme court.

The day was a busy one for the judges, clerks and attorneys having cases at bar. There were 297 cases on the docket, and only a small number of these were continued over the term to relieve the pressure. A few, however, were disposed of as promptly as the Hayes case.

The case of the State of Minnesota, ex rel. Cowden against Charles G. Miller, a Duluth cause, was submitted on briefs, this disposition being agreeable to both sides.

The case of the State of Minnesota, ex rel. Patrick Kelly, against Arthur F. Kilbourne, superintendent of the Rochester insane asylum, was dismissed and stricken from the calendar.

The motion to affirm the decision of the lower court in the suit of the Village of Wayzata against the Great Northern Railway company will be made today.

A motion to dismiss will be made today in the case of the State against the Shelvin-Carpenter company, of Minneapolis.

Motions to quash the writs of certiorari of Butler and Abel against the city of Minneapolis, growing out of the changes in street grades in East Minneapolis due to the lowering of the Great Northern Railway tracks.

The disposition of the St. Paul and Minneapolis cases and other cases of general interest is as follows: 1. Jane C. Bennett, appellant, vs. City of Minneapolis, respondent. Continued.

2. Harlan P. Roberts, respondent, vs. James H. Ege, appellant. Continued.

3. Charles C. Smith, respondent, vs. John R. Lewis, appellant. Continued.

4. M. B. Hobart, respondent, vs. C. K. Sherburne, appellant. Continued.

GOOD OF THE CHURCH

ST. PAUL PRESBYTERY SPENDS A DAY IN DEVOTION TO IT.

WORK IN AID OF FREEDMEN

WILL BE PUSHED AND A SPECIAL COLLECTION TAKEN IN FEBRUARY.

SYNOD WILL CONVENE TODAY.

Interesting Programme Has Been Prepared for the Three Days' Session.

The St. Paul presbytery met in semi-annual session at the Goodrich Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday, and as a primary matter of business directed its attention to the condition of the negroes of the United States. It was unanimously decided to take up a special collection in all the churches in the jurisdiction of the presbytery on the Sunday nearest the anniversary of Lincoln's birth, the same to be devoted to the cause of the freedmen in the South.

The presbytery has a permanent committee on negroes, and its work has heretofore been far-reaching and of great benefit to the people whose advancement it espouses. There is a full recognition of the responsibility imposed upon the American people by the heritage of President Lincoln, and the committee on negroes is vigorous in its efforts to be faithful to the trust imposed.

The session opened promptly at 10 o'clock, with the customary devotional exercises which were participated in by those present. Rev. J. H. Sammis, the retiring moderator, preached the opening sermon incident to the abdication of his office.

The election of a new moderator was the next order of business, and Rev. H. Meyers, pastor of the East Presbyterian church, was unanimously chosen to fill the position for the ensuing term on the first ballot. Rev. W. C. Covert, pastor of the Merriam Park Presbyterian church, was elected temporary clerk.

H. A. Leaty and S. F. Sharp, students who have been under the care of the St. Paul presbytery for several years, were transferred to the presbytery of Pittsburg, and the following new members were admitted to the St. Paul presbytery:

Dr. H. A. Leaty, presbytery of La Verne, Ill.; Dr. S. F. Sharp, presbytery of Cross; Rev. J. B. Adams, of the Dakota presbytery; Rev. J. B. Adams, of the Dakota presbytery; Rev. J. B. Adams, of the Dakota presbytery.

Moderator Meyers then announced the following permanent committees: Bible and Tract, J. H. Sammis, J. C. Danner and W. L. Wilson; Judicial, Dr. J. P. Egbert, Dr. Meldrum and J. C. Danner; Rev. C. C. Duncan, Rev. W. C. Covert and J. R. McLean; and a special committee, consisting of Prof. J. W. Lewis, George H. McCallister, and Rev. J. C. Danner, to consider the correspondence in heavy detail.

While the presbytery was busy with the matters claiming its attention the ladies of the Goodrich avenue church, were also showing their interest in the negroes by preparing an elaborate dinner to which the members were invited at the conclusion of the morning session. The dinner was served in the assembly room of the church, and amid the ministrations of the ladies, was thoroughly enjoyed by those who had been invited to the banquet.

At the afternoon session the resignation of Rev. W. R. Farmer, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the official sanction of the presbytery by Rev. J. C. Carver, of Duluth, was authorized to preach at the church next Sunday, and to declare the pulpit vacant. Rev. C. Carver was elected to the pastorate of the session. Dr. J. P. Egbert stated that the details of the arrangements for raising the present indebtedness of the church, amounting to $12,000, had been completed.

Rev. W. W. Lewis, formerly pastor of the East Presbyterian church, was invited to preach outside the jurisdiction of the St. Paul presbytery.

The report of the committee on home missions showed much progress to have been made in the work of the Bethany Presbyterian church at the town of Etter, Minn., with a membership of twenty. The church is now in the hands of three elders.

The session concluded with an intercessory prayer, and the work of the general assembly, which recently completed its work at Saratoga, N. Y., by Rev. George W. Davis, who attended as delegate from the St. Paul Presbytery.

The evening session was opened with the report on ministerial relief by Eld. H. A. Leaty, and the work of the committee on the Sabbath observance, by Rev. O. H. Elmer, of the college aid, and Rev. John Pringle of the work toward the securing of "Sabbath Observance," by Rev. J. C. Danner.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS AND GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, for the election of a Board of Directors and for the transaction of other business as may come before it, will be held at the office of the company in St. Paul, Minn., on Thursday, October 8, 1896, at 11 o'clock noon.

THE PARTNERSHIP SEPTOPORE EXISTING between John La Bau and Peter La Bau, under the firm name of W. La Bau & Co., is by mutual consent hereby dissolved, and the office of the said firm is hereby authorized to continue the business heretofore conducted by said firm, collect all bills and pay all accounts due to and by said firm, Oct. 5, 1896. J. W. La Bau, P. Trux.

REPEATED efforts have been made to discover J. F. Kelly, the attorney in the case sprung by the Kandiyohi people, but without success. The city directory gives his residence at 83 Iglehart street, but says nothing of the location of his office. It was ascertained yesterday that he was formerly in the employ of the Western Union in some capacity, but had not been there for some months. The visits paid to his home on Iglehart street by a reporter of the Globe on Monday night were resumed yesterday without any better success. When the reporter called last night a little girl opened the door, and when asked if Mr. Kelly was at home, hesitated for a moment. The answer was taken out of her mouth by a young man, who suddenly appeared from somewhere and announced that Mr. Kelly was not at home, that his return was, and always has been, uncertain, and that the Globe would get in nothing by calling again.

But the Globe desires to see him about the case and will not be seen about it, he replied the young man.

"But," said the reporter, "you do not know what case I mean."

"You mean the state capitol case, and he will not talk about it." And with that the beardless youth closed the door.

WILLIAM BOWLIN DEAD. Promising Young Man a Victim of Appendicitis.

William H. Bowlin, son of P. J. Bowlin, died at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday afternoon, aged twenty-two years. His death was caused by peritonitis, following an operation from appendicitis. He first complained of feeling ill on Friday morning. His condition becoming worse, he was removed to the hospital Sunday, where the operation was performed that evening. He rallied after the operation and was thought to be doing well, but Monday noon he began to sink, and by Tuesday afternoon he was dead.

He was a young man of sterling qualities and leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn his loss. He graduated from the high school here after spending three years at Georgetown college. He was for the past two years his father's business assistant.
