SENIATOR ALLEN'S ILLUSION.

Senator Allen, at Minneapolis: "I tell you the moment this government declares for free coinage silver will go to $1.29 an ounce. The seal of the government stamp will create the value."

When, in the discussion of money, its nature and the relations of governments to it, a man tells you that "the seal of the government stamp creates the value," it would seem as if the end had been reached.

We place in connection with the assertion of the senator for the purpose of demonstrating its accuracy, a statement contained in a news dispatch from Havana of the same day, when he was making his unsupported and untrue statement in Minneapolis.

But in Cuba the case is different. Gen. Weyler is captain general, embodying in his office absolute power, now made active by rebellion.

gold in all cases. And still all his power and all the terrorism prevailing are unable to enforce the decree, and the bank notes, whose value he attempted to "create," are quoted at 19 per cent discount.

MR. SEWALL ACCEPTS.

If Mr. Tom Watson entertained any hope that Mr. Sewall would decline the honor thrust upon him at Chicago, and leave him as Mr. Bryan's "other deer charmer," the publication of his letter of acceptance will fall on and wither the hope as April frost blasts the vines in a Georgia watermelon patch.

But Mr. Sewall accepts. He can do this without any jettison of those business principles that stand with him, for political principle. He would have felt constrained to decline the same nomination in 1892 because the declaration in the platform that year that "protection is a fraud and a robbery of the mass for the benefit of the few" would have been so contradictory to his business principles that his self-respect, as well as his veneration for business, would have constrained him to refuse a nomination on a plank so at variance with his ideas of government and what it is for.

There is the same dolorous note in his letter that one finds in all the letters, speeches and writings of the sixteen-to-one aggregation. The gold standard is the cause of all our woes, and the baleful money power holds us gripped firmly in its rapacious and cruel hands.

about its banner. Thousands of those who were in the ranks four years ago are rallied under the banners of the enemy they then fought. Consultors of expediency have made scandalous terms with Populism, sacrificing Democracy to the remote chance of achieving a doubtful victory over the Republicans. The Populist is become a Populist-Democrat, and the Democrat does not feel his cheeks flame when he is designated a Democrat-Populist.

And why this rapid and disastrous descent? Whence came all this demoralization? Where did the idea originate that principle is nothing but a lure to gain votes with, a pack of marked cards, and that the sole end of party is to drive one set out of office that another may get in?

HARRISON IN OHIO

SPLENDID DEMONSTRATION IN HONOR OF THE EX-PRESIDENT AT CINCINNATI.

CAMPING ON BRYAN'S TRAIL.

HIS ADDRESS DELIVERED IN MUSIC HALL, WHERE BRYAN SPOKE RECENTLY.

THOMAS H. REED AT BOSTON.

Work in the General Campaign Begun by the Caucus of the House.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 7.—The sky was clear but the weather was cold to night when ex-President Harrison, with his wife by his side, set out for the city.

Long before 6 o'clock the crowd began to assemble in front of Music hall. At 7 o'clock the doors were thrown open and in less than ten minutes the hall, including the great stage, was filled.

Let us be comfortable. I have had a suspicion for some time that he has settled to keep the presidency very long out of question. In this campaign the Republican party is in a very favorable position to the voters of the United States.

upon another basis; to have our operations measured by another standard. Even if it were a better standard, we should not pay. A flurry, a panic, a scaling down of debts due to worthy men and worthy institutions, and all this would be a standard less stable, more fluctuating than we have now.

Accompanied in the Republican Nominee for Governor.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—The Republican patriotic battalion, composed of Gen. Sickles, Howard, Alger and Stewart and Corporal Tanner, arrived in Belleville, Ill., at 6 o'clock this morning, over the Illinois Central, and made a stop of nearly an hour, during which short addresses were made by the members of the party.

WEST VIRGINIA FUSION.

Deal Closed on the Basis of the Original Proposition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Senators Faulkner and Butler, of the Democratic and Populist committees respectively, today received telegrams from West Virginia, informing them that fusion between the Democrats and Populists on the electoral ticket in that state had been perfected on the basis originally suggested by the Populists of four Democratic members of the state.

POPULISTS WILL REMAIN.

The Ticket in Indiana Not to Be Withdrawn.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 7.—A conference was held this morning by the Populist state candidates, and it was decided that the state ticket will not be withdrawn from the field.

COLORED BY HIS HOPES.

Matthews Says Bryan Will Carry Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 7.—Gov. Matthews, who has written the Richmond State as follows regarding the political situation in Indiana:

SENIATOR WELLINGTON SAYS THE STATE IS SAFE.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 7.—United States Senator-Elect Wellington, in speaking of the political situation in Maryland, said today: "I have a complete and detailed report of a complete and detailed check-up of every district during the past few days. There is no doubt whatever as to the result; Maryland will go for McKinley."

STRUCK BY A BRIDGE.

THE MONEY POWER.

Copyrighted, 1906, by the Author.

No great agitation like that for free coinage of silver can go on without disclosing the mental extremes to which untrained or heedless men are carried.

The most conspicuous illustration of this at present is the insistence upon the conspiracy of the "money power" to defraud the "struggling masses."

When, therefore, in the discussion of the silver question, reference is made to the "money power," what is meant in reality is the wealth power, or the power of men of riches. The popular use of money in the sense of riches accounts for this confusion of thought, and enables some pretenses to thereby cloud the money problem.

It is stated, however, that one way the rich have of getting richer is to "corner" gold, that is, to take gold out of circulation in order to make it scarce.

It is not to be undertaken, in the first place, because it is not desirable. Very rich men engaged in productive enterprises always have large sums to pay as well as to receive; and they would injure, as much as they would benefit, themselves by the proposed scheme.

TAINT ON THE BALLOT.

Editor of the Globe.

After an inquiry into the laws and methods of election in this state, I can perceive a difficulty which may exist at least in the political efforts that have been made within the last year.
