INJUNCTION TO FURTHER COMPLICATE THE DULUTH WATER WORKS CASE.

BOTTINEAU SUFFERS BY FIRE.

PARENT OF THE BANK ROBBERS.

He Seeks to Identify His Surviving Boy—News of the Northwest.

Special to the Globe. DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 14.—Papers are being prepared in a suit to restrain the city clerk from issuing ballots in the election on the purchase of the water plant to officers of the November election. The suit is on the ground that it will be illegal to submit the question at any general city election. Nels Nelson is plaintiff in the suit.

TWO FIRE DISASTERS.

Big Bottineau Mill Burned—Death From a Bara Blaze.

Special to the Globe. BOTTINEAU, N. D., Oct. 14.—Kallfisch's flour mill, near here, was burned this morning. The fire caught from a hot box on the elevator shaft. The mill and buildings were worth $20,000. Five thousand bushels of wheat and 3,000 sacks of flour were also burned.

Tuesday evening a fire caught from a lantern in John Taylor's barn, ten miles west of here. A daughter was putting hay in the manger at the moment and narrowly escaped the blaze. Mrs. Taylor succeeded in saving the other buildings, but fell dead immediately after. Her husband was away from home. A span of horses, some pigs and sheep were burned.

TO IDENTIFY HIS BOY.

Kellihan Sr. Departs for Blue Earth City.

ROCK RAPIDS, Ia., Oct. 14.—John Kellihan, the father of Louis and J. Hans Kellihan, the two boys who robbed the Sherburne bank, started with his brother-in-law, J. D. Wilson, early this morning for Blue Earth City to further identify Louis. The sympathy of the entire community is with the grief-stricken parents.

The community has been watching the development in the bank robbery and the hunt of the murderers with the greatest interest and the portraits published in papers are read by thousands of the boys who have lived here nearly twenty years. J. Hans Kellihan was born and raised here, and until four years ago attended school here at Rock Rapids. His grandfather moved to his farm near Brush creek, in the eastern part of the state, and for a year or so Hans helped on the farm and then went on the road with a theater company. He was always a quiet, unpretentious boy while here, and the news of his recent crime has shocked the whole community. Louis has been at home until about two weeks ago running his father's billiard hall; he was steady and did not drink, smoke or chew. His mother and father are church members, and although financially in rather poor circumstances, the family are looked on as good citizens.

"FAKE" WAR SCARE

THE UNITED STATES HAS NO INTENTION OF FORCING THE DARDANELLES.

ORDERS TO THE BANCROFT

WERE NEVER ISSUED WITH ANY SUCH AN ATTEMPT IN VIEW.

WHOLE STORY CLASSIFIED AS ABSURD

Uncle Sam Would Like a Dispatch Boat on Hand, but That Is All.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Inquiries made at the foreign office show that nothing is known there regarding the alleged intention of the United States government to force the passage of the Dardanelles with the cruiser Bancroft, supported by the other vessels of the United States squadron, in European waters.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The closest inquiry fails to disclose any change in the policy of the state department towards the Turkish question, and in particular respecting the movements of the little dispatch boat, Bancroft. From the first the officials of both the state and navy department have been reticent on this subject and have refused to state where the boat was going, further than to make the official orders to her commander. These orders directed him to report on arrival at Gibraltar to Admiral Selfridge, commanding the European station, and to take all further orders from him. It can be stated positively, however, that no orders have gone forward since the original instructions to Admiral Selfridge, nor are any on the way now touching the future movements of the Bancroft.

The vessel upon arrival at Gibraltar was ordered by Admiral Selfridge to proceed to Smyrna, and she is due at that place in a day or two. The Cincinnati is also on the way to the same point. At Smyrna are now assembled the British fleet, the fleet of the United States, and the fleet of the Ottoman empire. The purpose of the gathering is to meet the Cincinnati and the Bancroft, which is expected to arrive in a few days. The place of the sailors on the station, whose terms of enlistment are about to expire, if they are kept longer by the government, must be met by extra compensation. The men relieved are to be placed on the station will be taken by the Cincinnati and the Maribhead will come home.

Naval officers, one and all, ridicule the idea that the United States will undertake to force the passage of the Dardanelles, for this would be absolutely impossible since the fleet of the United States is not strong enough to take the place of the sailors on the station, whose terms of enlistment are about to expire, if they are kept longer by the government, must be met by extra compensation. The men relieved are to be placed on the station will be taken by the Cincinnati and the Maribhead will come home.

Mill Owner Shows Employers That Their Interests Are Identical in This Campaign.

Gen. John M. Palmer, of Illinois, and Gen. S. B. Buckner, of Kentucky, the nominees for president and vice president of the National Democratic party, will speak in Minneapolis, at the Exposition hall, Saturday evening, Oct. 24. They will also be accompanied by Congressman John P. Irish, the eloquent exponent of honest money from California. Arrangements for this meeting will be made at a meeting of the Minneapolis Sound Money Democracy at their headquarters, Wright block, next Monday night. At that time F. W. M. Cutcheon, of St. Paul, will give an account of his trip through Indiana and other states in the interest of real Democracy and sound money. A conference of representative young men of the city, representing several political organizations, was held at Union league rooms last evening, for the purpose of considering the advisability of holding a grand young men's rally some time immediately before the election. The talk was to have the Exposition building, and if possible to get some noted speakers to the city. A committee was selected to see what speaker could be secured, the committee to confer with the state central committee at St. Paul. The names of Benj. Harrison, Gov. J. B. Foraker and many others were considered. The demonstration will be in the interests of sound money and will be in other respects non-partisan.

Charles A. Pillsbury delivered a round address on the money question last evening, in the Metropolitan Ward Republican club, at the Union League rooms, last evening. It was addressed to laboring men, and the arguments advanced were in favor of sound money. He said in brief: "No less than 90 per cent of the employers of labor in the country, as well as the merchants and the money lenders, are in favor of sound money. Now is it not to our advantage to pay them the lowest possible wages, and then to pay them in depreciated money? In one way it would be to our advantage to pay them in depreciated money, but from another point of view we are very much interested in having the laboring people well paid and prosperous. We sell our flour to thousands of families. During hard times the sales of flour, the most needed of all products, falls 20 per cent. The laboring men are the great consumers, and manufacturers would be stupid not to want the laboring people to be prosperous. There is great talk in this campaign of the capitalist. Where are the capitalists? A few men in this city borrow more money during certain months of the year, for the purpose of keeping up business and giving employment to their men than all the rest of the people borrow in their lives. If they cannot obtain this money the mills must of necessity shut down. If I believed that free silver would benefit the laboring man I would be the loudest advocate of free silver in the city, because it would be to my best interests. But I honestly believe that the laboring man would be the first to suffer from a depreciation of the currency."

Several other speakers were listened to and music was furnished by the Apollo club.

A meeting of the executive committee of the McKinley and Hobart bicycle league of the city was held at Union League rooms last evening, and arrangements were discussed for a mass meeting of Republican bicycle riders to be held in Harmonia hall next week. The exact date has not yet been fixed, but the idea is to have present all men who are candidates for the state legislature, and give each man a chance to go on record as to his views on the question of good roads. It is believed that a monster meeting will be the result.

Two Tragedies Bring Mourning Into Prison City Homes.

A sad accident occurred here Tuesday afternoon, which resulted in the death of the six-year-old daughter of Arsene Gagne. She was playing with her dolls in a room when she decided to build a small bonfire. She assisted in throwing dry clothes on the flames, which she had discovered that her clothes were burning. She ran home, a distance of nearly a block, and Mrs. Stack, who resides on the opposite side of the street, noticed her condition, the flames from her clothes enveloping her body. She ran to her assistance and succeeded in smothering the flames, but the child's injuries were so severe that she died a few hours later.

Miss Lucy Gott, a well known and popular young lady, died very suddenly Tuesday evening at her home, 71 Hudson street. She was 27 years of age and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Gott. The funeral will be held from the First Baptist church, this afternoon.

Democratic caucuses will be held in this city for the election of delegates to the city convention, to be held Saturday.

The registration of names for the caucus, including names transferred from the old poll lists, amounts to 1,576.

A message has been received here stating that David Bonner, of South Stillwater, was killed Tuesday in a railroad accident at Gladstone, Mo.

A few men in this city borrow more money during certain months of the year, for the purpose of keeping up business and giving employment to their men than all the rest of the people borrow in their lives. If they cannot obtain this money the mills must of necessity shut down. If I believed that free silver would benefit the laboring man I would be the loudest advocate of free silver in the city, because it would be to my best interests. But I honestly believe that the laboring man would be the first to suffer from a depreciation of the currency."

Several other speakers were listened to and music was furnished by the Apollo club.

A meeting of the executive committee of the McKinley and Hobart bicycle league of the city was held at Union League rooms last evening, and arrangements were discussed for a mass meeting of Republican bicycle riders to be held in Harmonia hall next week. The exact date has not yet been fixed, but the idea is to have present all men who are candidates for the state legislature, and give each man a chance to go on record as to his views on the question of good roads. It is believed that a monster meeting will be the result.

Gen. John M. Palmer, of Illinois, and Gen. S. B. Buckner, of Kentucky, the nominees for president and vice president of the National Democratic party, will speak in Minneapolis, at the Exposition hall, Saturday evening, Oct. 24. They will also be accompanied by Congressman John P. Irish, the eloquent exponent of honest money from California. Arrangements for this meeting will be made at a meeting of the Minneapolis Sound Money Democracy at their headquarters, Wright block, next Monday night. At that time F. W. M. Cutcheon, of St. Paul, will give an account of his trip through Indiana and other states in the interest of real Democracy and sound money. A conference of representative young men of the city, representing several political organizations, was held at Union league rooms last evening, for the purpose of considering the advisability of holding a grand young men's rally some time immediately before the election. The talk was to have the Exposition building, and if possible to get some noted speakers to the city. A committee was selected to see what speaker could be secured, the committee to confer with the state central committee at St. Paul. The names of Benj. Harrison, Gov. J. B. Foraker and many others were considered. The demonstration will be in the interests of sound money and will be in other respects non-partisan.

Charles A. Pillsbury delivered a round address on the money question last evening, in the Metropolitan Ward Republican club, at the Union League rooms, last evening. It was addressed to laboring men, and the arguments advanced were in favor of sound money. He said in brief: "No less than 90 per cent of the employers of labor in the country, as well as the merchants and the money lenders, are in favor of sound money. Now is it not to our advantage to pay them the lowest possible wages, and then to pay them in depreciated money? In one way it would be to our advantage to pay them in depreciated money, but from another point of view we are very much interested in having the laboring people well paid and prosperous. We sell our flour to thousands of families. During hard times the sales of flour, the most needed of all products, falls 20 per cent. The laboring men are the great consumers, and manufacturers would be stupid not to want the laboring people to be prosperous. There is great talk in this campaign of the capitalist. Where are the capitalists? A few men in this city borrow more money during certain months of the year, for the purpose of keeping up business and giving employment to their men than all the rest of the people borrow in their lives. If they cannot obtain this money the mills must of necessity shut down.
