LIVERPOOL.—Sailed: Pavonia, for Boston. NEW YORK.—Arrived: Norge, from Copenhagen; Columbia, from Hamburg; Palatia, from Hamburg.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The American liner St. Paul, which arrived tonight, sighted her disabled sister the Paoli Tuesday last in latitude 45.4, longitude 56.13.

The wood baron and the coal baron are brother robbers. Possibly Watson didn't put stamps enough on that letter.

A brick trust is forming in Chicago. It will be a solid affair.

Candidates for office who are wise will now begin to dress for frosts.

Why doesn't silver help its own case by going up when wheat goes up?

Keep your temper, Mr. Bryan. Three weeks hence that is about all you'll have.

Wheat continues to rise in India, and the Minnesota farmer doesn't care if it does.

An Indiana family held a reunion in a cemetery. Its members were perhaps seeking ghoulish glee.

Registration in the cities of the Union shows that the fellows who went to the woods did not stay long there.

The political forecaster is beginning to get gloomy already. Less than three weeks hence he will be out of a job.

Some pretty bad cigars are being sold in New York city. A man jumped into Niagara falls just after lighting one of them.

Postmaster Smith, you will have to do a lot of lat hustling the coming year. The postoffice deficit for the year just closed was $8,127,688.

George Fred Willbanks has given up Massachusetts. He is going over to Michigan university to try to puncture the arguments of Chauncey M. Depew.

The man with the loveliest disposition in the whole world lives in Chicago. He has had six members of his own family arrested and placed in jail.

The meanest man in America lives in Chicago. He got hold of a woman's letters to a friend of his, and extorted money from her on the threat to expose her.

Why is it that nine-tenths of the women in public life are more than thirty-six inches round the waist?—Chicago Record.

Will the editor of the Record please tell the rest of us how he secured this information?

Nicholas, czar of all the Russias, has written a book. The emperor of Germany might say his caster into the ring again now, by inditing another gem of poetry.

McKinley is elected now.—Matt Quay. However, we will go through the formality of casting the ballots, Mr. Quay, just for the extra excitement we get out of it.

Southern Minnesota should take lessons of Colorado in the matter of handling bank robbers. Bandits tried to rob a bank at Meeker, and three of them lost their lives.

There is no good reason why Stanley should not be named as king of darkest Africa. He had negro blood injected into his veins to prevent a fever and is turning black.

New York women are wearing complexion masks while they sleep. Due notice is given burglars of the fact to prevent them from being scared to death while at their work.

Dick Croker is not in the thick of the fight in New York this time. He even stays over in England until after the election, no doubt expecting his beloved New York to be a storm center.

Spain announces that she will let Cuba go if the revolutionists unless she can subdue them before next March. This is tantamount to admitting defeat, but, dear Spain, wouldn't it be cheaper to let go now?

REALLY IN DOUBT

THE POLITICAL HORIZON OF INDIANA IS CLOUDED WITH PERPLEXITIES.

NOBODY SURE OF VICTORY.

FUSION BETWEEN DEMOCRATS AND POPULISTS AND WHAT IT MEANS.

FACTIONAL QUARRELS GALORE.

Chairman Martin of the Democratic Committee Makes Some Sweeping Claims.

Special to the Globe.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 16.—During great political conflicts it generally happens that the eyes of the nation are riveted on Indiana. It has always been a close state politically and politicians are popularly supposed to grow on trees all over the commonwealth.

This year it is a battle royal between the two great parties in Indiana. Everybody talks of politics and even the women and children have become inculturated with the general enthusiasm.

The money question is the only issue discussed, and the very air is laden with an intensity of feeling that is sometimes painful. For months past every down-town street corner in Indianapolis has been the scene of daily arguments on present financial conditions and the relief necessary, and long ago a point was reached where it became necessary for the police to interfere in order to keep the streets clear so that traffic could be carried on as usual.

The holding of the National Democratic convention in this city Sept. 2 and 3 but added fuel to the flame, and since then the rivalry between the two parties has been intense. Prominent Democrats are now actively identified with the gold standard Democracy, while equally prominent Republicans are espousing the cause of free silver with great fervor.

Prior to the Chicago convention the most sanguine Democrats in Indiana, the men who have for years had the management of the party, were ready to acknowledge that there was no hope of carrying Indiana. They also concede with equal frankness that the Republicans have a national victory with ease. But after the free silver wave had passed over the country hope began to glimmer on the political horizon, and the campaign was entered upon with a vigor that had not been anticipated.

The sudden activity of the Democrats aroused the Republicans from their lethargy and they were quick to rally through a general feeling that success was certain, and from that day until the present not a single stone has been left unturned by the party to increase its prospects for victory.

When conditions are normal Indiana is a doubtful state. This year the Democratic party is confined to cities and manufacturing districts, while the Bryan ticket will show a strength largely in excess of the normal state, and in the portions of the state where agricultural interests predominate. The indications now are that the free silver Republicans in the state will outweigh the gold standard Democratic strength. However, this is largely a matter of lottery. There are elements in this campaign, as from those already mentioned, that are very uncertain.

In the first place the railroad vote of Indiana, according to the railroad employees have voted the Democratic ticket, but this year the Republicans lay claim to almost the entire vote of the railroad employees. The state at Topeka to be filed. The withdrawal of Mr. Watson's name will leave the fusionists in a dilemma. Mr. Bryan has to insert the name of Sewall, the Democratic nominee, or leave the vice presidential office blank and give the ticket. This will cause much embarrassment.

Mr. Watson's name will appear only once on the ticket, and he will be placed at the head of the middle of the road Populists.

RICKARDS DEFENDS MONTANA. He Explains the Report That His State Repudiates.

HELENA, Mont., Oct. 16.—Speaking of an article published by Bryan attacking the financial integrity of Montana, Gov. Rickards, in an interview, said:

"The statement that Montana does not honor her outstanding obligations is false and malicious. The warrant issued to Lauritzen & Co., for $500,000, was not a contract, but a mere fund and so states upon its face. The fund is created from the sale and leasing of 180,000 acres of land granted to the state by the federal government for the purpose of erecting buildings. The warrants issued against this fund are largely in the nature of bonds redeemable as money accumulates in the fund. They are issued with that understanding and show upon their faces that they are not payable out of the general fund of the state."

NOW IT IS SHEERIN. The Ex-Secretary of the National Committee Repudiates Bryan.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 16.—S. P. Sheerin, for many years secretary of the national Democratic committee and the Indiana member of that committee, in a statement prepared by him for the Indianapolis News, repudiates the nomination of Bryan and Sewall, and declares against them. He denounces in a most vigorous manner the fusion of Indiana Democrats with Populists. Mr. Sheerin says he is still a Democrat, but is not a Bryan or a Populist, and he calls upon the members of the party to repudiate the ticket nominated at Chicago.

Read's Vote Falls. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 16.—Speaker Read, of Indiana, who spoke here last night, is confined to his bed on account of sickness and was unable to attend the meeting this morning. His vote has given out, and he is unable to speak above a whisper.

CHILLY PROPOSITION, THIS. Polar Explorers Will Enliven Philadelphia Society.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 16.—A meeting of prominent Arctic explorers, residing in this city, was held here to-night, and the first steps in the organization of a club were taken. Among those present were: Amos Boushall, a survivor of the Kane expedition; Dr. Benjamin Sharp and Hughes, of the Peary expedition of 1891; Dr. Cook, of the 1893 expedition; and Samuel J. Enderby, who was second in command of the expeditions of 1893 and 1894. It is proposed to make the club a social one with a limited membership. No explorer will be eligible except those who have penetrated beyond the Arctic circle. The name of the club has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably be called either the Arctic or Polar club.

DEATH IN A BARRAGE

A SPARK FROM A DRILL IGNITES GIANT POWDER WITH DIRE RESULTS.

SIX MEN DIE INSTANTLY. IT WAS A RECORD-BREAKER.

SPEECHES WERE DELIVERED AT EVERY STOP MADE BY THE TRAIN.

Immense Crowds Out at Jackson and Lansing and the Candidate Endangered at Former Place.

The Floors of a Duvelling Building Bury a Dozen Firemen in Their Collapses.

MONTEALE, Ark., Oct. 16.—Last evening about 4 o'clock, at the camp of W. H. Kennedy, about fourteen miles south of Mena, occurred a most disastrous explosion. The men were working in loose rock, but they were compelled to blast in order to handle it to advantage. The main blast was the one they were working, and they had difficulty in getting it planted right, and while using a steel drill the drill struck a stone and a spark from it ignited the powder which caused an explosion which threw dirt, rocks and steel a distance of one hundred yards. The killed are: DENNIS MURPHY, foreman of the power gang; J. P. LIMON, JACK McDONALD, EDWARD ALBERS, T. O. NORRIS, water boy, W. H. KENNEDY, the contractor, was standing close by and was found beneath the rear of the car, she stood by his side. Floral tributes were literally showered upon her and one end of the private car was nearly filled with the fragrant offerings. At many stations she gratified the crowd by distributing posies from the rear of the car. Lansing was reached at 7:30 o'clock, and a torchlight procession was in waiting. Excursion trains from adjacent districts had been carrying visitors into the city nearly all afternoon and the principal streets were almost impassable.

Three meetings had been arranged here, one in a large clothing establishment to an audience of women; the second in the Star theater, and the third on the stand in front of the capitol building. At the meeting at the capitol square Mr. Bryan addressed the largest crowd yet seen in the city. He went into an elaborate discussion of how the bond debts are manipulated, as he claims, and gave in substance his arguments as were given in his Milwaukee speeches.

In the address from the balcony of the Downey house Mr. Bryan said that he recognized the right of each citizen to vote for the protection of his property, and he addressed the public that it might act with greater intelligence by understanding the arguments which he advanced. Mr. Bryan was also applauded by Senator Stewart, of Nevada. He left Lansing at 10:30, and the car in which he will rest will be side-tracked at St. Johns.

THE DAY'S PROGRESS. Many Short Speeches Made in Michigan Towns.

BANGOR, Mich., Oct. 16.—If the enthusiasm which met Mr. Bryan early in the day is any indication of what can be expected of the towns yet to be reached by the train, the day will be one of the most successful of the campaign. When at 8 o'clock the nominee arrived, there was a large crowd and it gave him an opportunity to address the people of the few words he could utter in the short stop. They cheered him lustily and assured him that he was all right and that they would follow him wherever he went. He was followed by a large number of the gold men were strongest, how the followers of Bryan have taken possession of all the party machinery. It is well enough for Gov. and his cabinet officers to go for Palmer and Buckner; well enough for some of the very rich men of the East and West. But for the ordinary man in politics it is the greatest folly. The Democratic office-holders, with the exception of members of the cabinet, would be great fools to become bolters. They should either stay in their offices or hold over for a time—not to be dismissed like menials. It is well enough for the silver men to hold their own, but it is not to be held, independent and fearless, but that kind of talk does not earn a dollar in the office-holder's pocket, and it is the man under him to earn a dollar.

"I see the regular 'three-weeks-before-the-election' scare has taken hold of the Republicans. That is worked up; that finds its way into the newspapers so that the capitalist and the money men, who have been prophesying a silver boom, are talking to the politicians. That is an old job. However, I suppose it will work as well this year as it always has. The Republican pilots are busy telling in the press of the danger places that confront them. A million or more dollars must be paid to buy the election. One thing is sure: if the silver man will live whether gold or silver succeeds in this election, but silver would, in my opinion, break up the existing stagnation and bring prosperity."

DEP. THE POLICE. Silver Men Declare They Will Parade in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Hard luck seems to wait upon the Democrats in their efforts to hold another parade. Chairman Bryan, in a speech at the State fair upon Sunday, Nov. 1, and now Chief of Police Badenoch announces they will not be permitted to parade on the night of Oct. 31, as was their intention, for the reason the Cook County Republican Workingmen's club, which filed a previous application, has been granted a parade on that night. The Democrats are wroth over the matter, and Secretary Burke, of the county committee, declared with emphasis this afternoon they would parade anyway. Chief Badenoch, however, says as firmly they will not.

Chicago Record's Vote. CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The Chicago Record's vote stands: Bryan, 13,300; McKinley, 8,718; Palmer, 4,411; Levering, 54. Ninety-four counties in Illinois voted of Chicago give Bryan 4,183; McKinley, 11,887; Palmer, 259. Ninety-eight counties of Missouri give Bryan 2,580; McKinley, 2,476; Palmer, 87; Levering, 10. Eighty-four counties of Iowa give Bryan 1,947; McKinley, 4,488; Palmer, 87; Levering, 40.

Bryan and Palmer in Chicago. CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Two presidential candidates will invade Chicago the last week of the campaign. The 2nd0 Democrat has secured a promise from Senator Palmer that he will canvass Cook county and the city of Chicago. McKinley will also be here, and is scheduled for several speeches during the three days he will spend in Chicago.

Wholesale Slaughter. EDMONTON, Mo., Oct. 16.—It is believed that the killing of his sister, his brother and man Wilhelm, by an ax in the hands of John Imboden, in Reynolds county, is but the sequel to a sudden death in May. Mrs. Imboden's wife and two small children, all of whom died within a few days, it is now thought, Imboden says.

BRIDGES BIG DAY

Twenty-seven speeches were made at the meeting.

WAS IT CONSPIRACY

PETITIONER FOR A RECEIVER FOR THE BAY STATE GAS COMPANY ARRESTED.

MANY MILLIONS AT STAKE.

THE CORPORATION INVOLVES $30,000,000 WORTH OF PROPERTY—RECEIVERS NAMED.

PROOF OFFERED OF SOLVENCY.

It Is Charged That the Petitioner Conspired to Ruin the Company by His Action.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Wm. Buchanan, of New York, who petitioned in Delaware for a receiver for the Bay State Gas company, was tonight served with an order to appear in the police court on Monday next to answer to a criminal charge made against him by Camille Weldenfeld, of the firm of Lawson & Weldenfeld, of Boston and New York.

The depositions set forth among other things that Buchanan has calculated, contrary to the statutes of the state of New York, false statements, rumors and intelligence concerning the Bay State Gas company, of Delaware, stating that it was insolvent and bankrupt; that on the 15th of May he converted millions of dollars of its capital stock to his own use.

An affidavit was filed by the treasurer of the Bay State Gas company, setting out under oath that the corporation was not insolvent or bankrupt; that on the contrary during the present year he had off all its indebtedness, at one time amounting to over $1,000,000, and that at the present time it has only a small amount of current debt, and has cash on hand to a considerable amount; that the president had not appropriated any of the stock, and, so far as the new issue is concerned, he has not received or owned a single share of it. The president is Mr. Addicks, who became famous in his campaign for United States senator.

MILLIONS INVOLVED. The Bay State Gas Company in the Hands of Receivers.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 16.—An order was granted in the United States court here this morning for the appointment of receivers for the Bay State Gas company.

The complaint upon which the application was based is made by Wm. Buchanan, a resident of New York, who really believes the money he receives for his toll is too good, that it will buy too much food and clothing for himself and his family, and that he has more money than he should have, then it is his duty to vote for free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. If there is any laboring man in the world who is not in a position to comply with your request, My reasons are well understood. My business has been so arranged that I can make the best of it in my own state, but it is not possible to go elsewhere. But there are one or two things suggested by your spokesman, which I would like to say to you.

"Tell the truth," shouted a voice. "I'll try to," replied Mr. Carlisle. "If there is any laboring man in the world who is not in a position to comply with your request, My reasons are well understood. My business has been so arranged that I can make the best of it in my own state, but it is not possible to go elsewhere. But there are one or two things suggested by your spokesman, which I would like to say to you."

And He Might Have Had If He Had Lived in Maine.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 16.—John R. McLean, proprietor of the Enquirer, publishes a signed article today in which he says that he has received from the Boston Gas Light company (of Massachusetts) a check for $100,000, which the capital stock was raised from $3,000,000 and that the majority of the stock was retained by one Addicks and his agents without just consideration and fraudulently.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 16.—The Bay State Gas Co., of New York, was incorporated in 1886, principally for the purpose of consolidating the fourteen gas companies then supplying the city of Boston, and in addition for the purpose of obtaining control of the Boston gas companies, subsequently absorbed the Brookline Gas Co., at a cost of about $125,000. The financial statement of January 1, 1896, shows the company's total stock $15,000,000; total stock and bonds issued $29,000,000. The authorized capital is $30,000,000. The authorized bonds issued $18,000,000. The authorized stock is $12,000,000. The authorized bonds are $18,000,000. The authorized stock is $12,000,000. The authorized bonds are $18,000,000.

The report of the Brookline Gas company has been filed in the case. The report shows that the company has a floating debt of about $1,000,000. About 15,000 shares of Bay State Gas were tendered in the case. The company has 4 per cent to call the stock at 6 any time today was made at one time.

M. TRECUL DEAD. The Eminent French Botanist Dies in Want in a Hospital.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—Auguste Trecul, the French botanist, died today in an hospital in Paris, in a condition of poverty.

Auguste Adolphe Trecul, member of the Institute, was born in France in 1818, studied pharmacy at Paris, but turned toward the study of botany, and published in 1843 several memoirs. These caused to be called to the attention of the French government, and by the minister of agriculture he was sent to the United States in 1848, and was in Texas and Mexico the next year.

JAY GOULD'S WIDOW. Step Taken by Mrs. Angell to Prove Herself Such.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Justice Beckman today heard arguments on a motion made on behalf of Mrs. Sarah Ann Angell for the appointment of a receiver for the late Jay Gould estate to recover what she alleged was the widow of the late Jay Gould. Beckman, who is a commissioner will be named in a few days.

MINNESOTA MAN KILLED. The Falling of a Bridge May Result in Three Deaths.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Oct. 16.—By the falling of the false work of a bridge at Cates, six miles south of here, George Smith, aged forty-five, was killed, and John Klumpp, of Weaver, Minn., and Harry Kooty, of Ancker, Minn., were badly bruised.

Wholesale Slaughter. EDMONTON, Mo., Oct. 16.—It is believed that the killing of his sister, his brother and man Wilhelm, by an ax in the hands of John Imboden, in Reynolds county, is but the sequel to a sudden death in May.
