BLAZE AT THE LAKE

FOUR HANDSOME SUMMER COTTAGES AT MINNETONKA REDUCED TO ASHES.

RESULT OF A SUNDAY OUTING.

MERRYMAKERS LEAVE FIRE GUARDED IN A FIREPLACE—LOSS NEARLY $7,000.

DEBS TALKS IN THE MILL CITY.

The Young Men's McKinley club met in weekly session at the New York Life building last evening at which a large number were present. The usual order of business was observed. The speaker of the evening was Eugene G. Hay, who spoke of going around the country in the campaign. The speaker of the evening was Eugene G. Hay, who spoke of going around the country in the campaign.

A disastrous conflagration, the result of a Sunday outing, has marred the beauty of West Point, Lake Minnetonka, and reduced four handsome summer cottages to ashes. The point of the Lake Park shore, and in view of the scene of the Fourth of July fire last year, when the Rosser place was burned to the ground. The fire occurred on West Point yesterday morning, starting in the John F. Wilcox house, and quickly spreading to the adjoining cottages. There were only three or four persons on the point at the time. No help could be obtained, and the spectators were powerless. They could watch the buildings go up in fire and smoke until not a vestige remained. The houses burned were those of John F. Wilcox, A. Z. Levering, S. W. Levering and Mrs. Ada Whitney. The B. West cottage was scorched, also one of the West steam launches lying on shore, but the damage to the West property was slight, while there was almost a total loss to the others. Mrs. Whitney's house was only partially burned, and her loss is figured at $600. Loss to the others is: Mr. Wilcox, $2,500; A. Z. Levering, $2,500; S. W. Levering, $2,000. The origin of the accident was a fire in the Wilcox fireplace, kindled by a pleasure party of young people out from town for over Sunday. The night being cold a generous fire was kindled on the hearth, and when the party left the blaze was quickly burning and locked the house doors. There were a few warm coals in the fireplace, though nothing to occasion any apprehension to those who left them there. Starting on the hearth the fire spread to the adjoining rooms, and in the course of a few hours the cottage was in flames. The blaze was quickly communicated to the neighboring houses, and after an hour the four cottages fell. Of the entire furnishings of the four houses not more than a few scattered pieces were rescued.

Bishop Arnett Gives Some Interesting Figures.

As mentioned yesterday, Bishop B. W. Arnett, of Wilberforce, O., is in the city on a tour of inspection. The bishop is the guest of Mrs. Coleman, 322 Franklin avenue. Mrs. Coleman is the author of a book entitled "Poor Ben," which is a biography of the bishop. The bishop is an elderly colored gentleman, highly educated, and readily consented to talk yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. E. church, he has charge of the work in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas. He was appointed to his office in May and this is his first episcopal visit to Minnesota. He will be in the city until Thursday, when he intends to return to his residence at home in time to cast his ballot.

About forty sound money Democrats gathered at the county headquarters in the Wright block last evening to listen to an address by F. W. M. In reply to the greeting, Bishop Arnett, of Wilberforce, Ohio, delivered an address. The speaking was followed by a well spread banquet, in which all participated and the evening passed away pleasantly.

It Remains to Be Seen If the Latest Propositions Regarding Venezuela Will Please.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The following official statement regarding Venezuela was issued this evening:

The British government has manifested on both sides of the water between the respective peoples, and it frequently happens that manifestations of this kind help governments to an amicable conclusion which would otherwise be impracticable.

Regarding the allegation that Sir Julian Pauncefote has returned to America charged with mission having for its object the settlement of the dispute, the patent fact is that he has long had such a mission, and has returned to Washington with certain instructions, and negotiations will be reopened immediately on his arrival. But it is too early to say whether or not the negotiations which the British government are likely to be accepted.

SPECIAL TO THE GLOBE.

MANKATO, Minn., Oct. 19.—Many efforts have been made to identify the man who came to Mankato last week without money or friends and with a complete loss of memory. He is now at the hospital, but does not recall his name, where he came from, or in what business he was engaged in. When he first came to town, he registered as J. Harrison, but is not sure this is his name. There is nothing about him to show his identity, but the initials of J. H. on his linen. Today he thought he was formerly engaged in furniture manufacture in a small city in the United States.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A Berlin dispatch to the Standard reports that the Frankfurter Zeitung has a dispatch from Constantinople which says that negotiations are on foot between the powers and the porte for the abrogation of certain portions of the Bardoanles treaty.
