Girl of Eighteen Married to a Baron of Seventy—The Social Gossip of London.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The election in the United States has completely overshadowed all other events during the week on this side of the water. Englishmen have never been known to take such an interest in a foreign event, and the newspapers of this metropolis have never reported one so fully. In addition to the most voluminous, prompt, accurate and in every way efficient report cabled from New York to the Reuter Telegram company, nearly all the London newspapers had long special cable messages on the same subject and published diagrams and maps in order to assist in explaining the political situation to their readers, all of which is having a beneficial effect here, as it is teaching Englishmen to know the United States better than they have done in the past, and to recognize the true worth and greatness of the country many of them have been inclined to look upon in anything but the proper light. In addition, several of the newspapers published more or less appropriate cartoons, and Punch, which is publican. It appears that, just before the Twentieth Hussars went to India, a newly joined subaltern was taken by his brother officers to the riding school and put on a bareback horse. The animal was made to gallop, and the subaltern was whipped until he fell, injured his knee and became insensible, after which he was put on the sick list for weeks. The object of this treatment, it is stated, was to drive the subaltern out of the regiment. When the latter reached India, it is further said, these practices were kept up; the subaltern was made to dress in the clothing of his native servant, to salama to his servant, to jump into bonfires, with his pajamas on, etc., all in order to disgrace the young officer in the eyes of the natives. Truth thereupon demands that his tormentors be tried by court-martial, but adds that it does not expect Lord Wolsey (the commander-in-chief) to maintain the honor of the queen's uniform.

MARRIED A BARON. Quite a sensation has been caused in certain circles by the announcement of the marriage of Miss Julia Emery, a pretty girl, only 18 years old, and until quite recently an assistant in a fancy dry goods store at Eastbourne, to Baron Lyvent, who is over 72 years of age and a widower, his first wife having been a daughter of Earl Fitzwill-

Thousands of women go down to death every year through their own ignorance and neglect. Every woman should know something of the physiology of her womanly self. Every woman should appreciate the importance of the organs that constitute her womanhood. The woman who neglects her health in this respect is sure to be a continual sufferer and is in constant danger of an early grave. To such a woman wifehood is a torture and motherhood a menace. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription acts directly and only on the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It invigorates them and makes them healthy. It prepares a woman for an almost painless maternity. It does away with the dangers of motherhood. It insures the health of the newborn in the family. Over 90,000 women have testified to its wonderful virtues. All good druggists sell it. There is nothing "just as good." "If it had not been for your medicine and your advice," writes Mrs. J. M. Thomas, "I would not have been able to nurse my child. I was a feeble, nervous, and sickly woman, and I had been for years before. Before using your medicine my weight was about one hundred and fifty-five pounds, and now I weigh one hundred and sixty-five."

SYMPATHY FOR MRS. CASTLE.

Expressed by the Leading Papers of London. LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Westminster Gazette this afternoon, and other afternoon papers of this city, urge the release, on medical grounds, of Mrs. Walter M. Castle, of San Francisco, who was sentenced yesterday at the Clerkenwell sessions, to three months imprisonment for shop-lifting. The Globe says it strongly believes in the mania defense and declares that the sentence constitutes a most terrible violation of common justice. "though," the article says, "it is certain that the judge only desired to do what was just."

The St. James Gazette, while agreeing that it is a case for clemency, in view of the prisoner's health, says: "If Mrs. Castle is released, it ought to be clearly understood that the evidence of kleptomania came to nothing. If her counsel relied upon that defense, people's party was the only party that supported solidly and unflinchingly the candidacy of Mr. Bryan. That was natural, for the people's party came into existence to bring to the front and to press to victory the principles of Lincoln and Jefferson, already long discarded by the two old parties. The money power, feeling reasonably sure of its control and domination of the leaders and the controlling influences in the republican party, in 1892 gave its support to the candidacy of Grover Cleveland, for the special purpose of having him, through the use of patronage and otherwise, crush out the silver sentiment in the South, and make the leaders in that party as completely subservient as those in the republican party. To accomplish this purpose, four cabinet ministers were selected from the South, and an unusually large amount of patronage was on political leaders to the same end.

It will be remembered that Mr. Cleveland demanded that the democratic senators and congressmen, give a decisive vote in the interests of the gold standard before he would even give out the postoffices. This deep-laid plan might have succeeded had not the people's party at this juncture sprung into existence, exposed the plot, stood in the breach, and appealed to the patriotic hosts of both parties to check the scheme of the people's despoilers, and rally to the common defense. Thus the people's party forced the democratic organization to repudiate Clevelandism and return to correct fundamental principles.

The officials of the home office have not yet replied to the letter of United States Ambassador Bayard, urging clemency for Mrs. Castle, on the ground of her physical condition. It is understood, however, that the letter was marked "unofficial," and was not sent as being from the United States ambassador.

Mr. Bayard wrote to the home secretary, Sir Matthew White Ridley, again today, and Mr. Castle wrote to Mr. Bayard, thanking the United States embassy for its best efforts, and urging the ambassador to take every step possible to secure the release of Mrs. Castle.

The home office declines to give any information on the subject to the press.

THOMAS UNDER BONDS. One of the Alleged Forgers Captured in New York. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—James Thompson, alias D. W. Snyder, alias Otto V. Thomas (which last is said to be his real name), was arraigned in court on a warrant issued in Lansing, Mich., charging him with forgery. Thompson has been in the custody of the police for several days. At the time of his arrest it was said that he was one of a gang of forgers who have been operating throughout the United States. The warrant was returned on Oct. 7, 1896, and had uttered a draft upon the Third National Bank of Buffalo, N. Y., to which, it is alleged, he had signed the name W. D. Snyder. Thomas, in the guise of a commercial traveler, presented the draft to P. Downey, of the firm of H. F. Downey & Sons, Lansing, Mich., and asked him to cash it. He showed a letter purporting to be from his employers, rebuking him for his lavish expenditures, but complimenting him on the volume of business he sent in. Downey cashed the draft, implicated with Thomas, or whatever his real name may be, are Walter R. Peters, a lithographer in Chicago, and Willis Herbert Conner. Peters was arrested in Chicago yesterday, and Conner was arrested in Flint, Mich. The judge on the presentation of the case against Thomas, held him in $500 for extradition by the Michigan authorities.

DEMOCRATS BROKE FAITH.

EVEN IN DEFEAT THE SENATOR FIGURES OUT A MORAL VICTORY.

MR. BRYAN THANKS BIMETALLISTS

Greeting Sent to the Scattering Few Who Aided the Lost Cause in the East.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Senator Butler today issued the following: To the People of the United States: In the remarkable campaign just closed the their vote for financial reform and American independence. The people's party, with a high patriotism and an unselfish devotion to principle, greater than ever before exhibited by any other party, stepped outside of its organization to throw its 2,000,000 votes solidly for Bryan. Had not more than this number of those who called themselves democrats in 1894 given their support to Mr. McKinley, the cause of the people and American principles would have triumphed this year. This class of democrats will surely support the party of monopolies and trusts in the future. Their places in the ranks of the reform hosts must be taken by patriotic republicans. In fact, Bryan would have been elected in this contest had even 25,000 more silver republicans come to the rescue.

The election of McKinley and the triumph of the gold standard does not express the desires and sentiments of the people. The majority oppose the policy for which he stands, and will so vote whenever an opportunity is presented for a proper alignment.

The remarkable and brilliant campaign of William J. Bryan would have aligned these forces and marched them to a triumphant victory if any candidate or leader in America could have done so under the democratic banner.

The administration of McKinley cannot receive prosperity to the American people. The mills cannot be kept open, idle labor given employment and general prosperity restored and maintained until the wealth producers are enabled to purchase. The gold standard and monopoly rule, to a continuation of which Mr. McKinley stands pledged means 4 more years of falling prices; four more years of lockouts and strikes; four more years of reduced wages and idle labor. This will cause the patriotic rank and file of the republican party to condemn and repudiate McKinleyism as the patriotic rank and file of the democratic party has condemned and repudiated Clevelandism.

I cannot believe otherwise, for I have not less confidence in the patriotism of this class of republicans than the rank and file of the democratic party has already demonstrated. Therefore, a large per cent, who though not people's party, yet who would not in this campaign fight under the democratic banner, are sure to join hands with the majority of American voters outside the old parties to party, which had dominated and debauched the party for a quarter of a century, would be driven to the support of the party that took a position on the side of trusts, monopolies and gamblers. While on the other hand, it is evident that even a larger per cent of the republican party favored the principles now being advanced, for which it is only a small per cent would in this campaign support them because they found them under the democratic banner. Had it not been for the prejudice against the democratic name, as well as want of confidence in democratic promises, for which it must be frankly admitted past experience furnished ample ground, a majority of the voters of the country, in spite of the tremendous and unparalleled forces put forward by the republican managers, would have cast

Koegel claims that last June he finished a walk around the world on a wager of $5,000, against $5,000, with some San Francisco men, that he could not perform the task in two years, or less, but that his bet because he had the time, but lost his bet because he had not been able to get through Siberia, which was one of the conditions of the wager. He was refused permission to go to Siberia, so just walked back across the continent on his way home to Savannah.
