RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYED.

A parlor conference of ladies and gentlemen, interested in the relief of unemployed, homeless, destitute men in this city the present winter, will be held in the west of the city on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16 at 8 o'clock. All churches and philanthropic societies are requested to be represented at the meeting. It is expected that about fifty or sixty poor, homeless men have been obliged to seek shelter and lodging at the central police station, since Nov. 1, shows the urgent need of immediate and effective relief. The tramp room at the central police station is a 25x40 foot cellar with a water closet and two wash bowls. The men are crowded and are arranged where the men lie as close as possible. The largest number sleeping in this room, any one night was 17.

Grand Jury Indictments.

The grand jury made a report to Judge Smith yesterday afternoon, and returned a batch of indictments, quite bulky in proportion. In response to the arrangements will take place this morning at 10 o'clock. John Skuter, an east of town man, for whom there are two indictments, pleaded guilty to one of them in which he was charged with the theft of a bicycle. He was fined $10 and eight months. John Wilson, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging grand larceny in the second degree, and as he had never been in the cells before, he was sent to the reformatory.

Found Stolen Goods.

About a score of unmatched coats and trouses all much the worse for wear, were found yesterday in an alley adjoining S. E. Olson's store by one of the employees. Inspector Lawrence was informed of the find and had it removed to police headquarters. He thinks it had been temporarily placed there concealed in a room, probably having been stolen from a second-hand store, and was to have been removed later. There was nothing about the coats or trouses to identify the rightful owner, or lead to the discovery of the thief.

The Gopher Came High.

Last year the class of '97 of the university attempted to break all records for beauty and excellence and size of the Gopher, which the junior class issues each year. They succeeded fairly well, and also broke all records for being stuck. Yesterday the class had a meeting at which the report of the board showed that $30 was yet due the publishers for the work of printing the book. It was at first thought best to secure a loan by which to carry the debt over until the latter part of the year, but President Northrup objected to that plan, and advised the class to pay their debts at once. What the class will do remains to be seen.

The action brought by the board of county commissioners against the Bank of New England to enforce the liability of the bondsmen was continued over the term yesterday to await the distribution of assets now on hand and thus first determine the liability of the stockholders. There is now an outstanding liability against the bank of but about $60,000, and it is believed that a considerable portion of that amount will be realized on the stock. The county's claim is about $17,000.

THE CUPBOARD BARE.

Sad Case of Destitution Unearthed on the East Side.

An unusually sad case of destitution and disease was unearthed by agent William Cheney, of the Minneapolis Humane society, Thursday. In a tumble-down house on the East side he found a poverty-stricken family which presented as pitiful a spectacle as was ever witnessed in the tentment house district of New York. The family consisted of a father, mother and a two-year-old boy. There was not a thing to eat in the house, the last piece of bread having been eaten by the mother the day before, and the father, who had been out of work for a long time, was sitting in a desolate mood, with his head buried in his hands, and his wife weeping and crying piteously for something to eat.

When Agent Cheney entered the place he found the poor mother confined to her bed, in the last stages of consumption, with a scarcity of coverings with which to protect her chilled limbs from the cold. The father, who had been out of work for a long time, was sitting in a desolate mood, with his head buried in his hands, and his wife weeping and crying piteously for something to eat.

Successful boards are in operation in New York, Chicago, Omaha and San Francisco. By way of the latter city, these boards are at last being organized in Minneapolis. It is very likely that they will be slightly altered to cover conditions here. Matters to be touched upon are the amount to be paid to dealers for second hand wheels, amount to be paid in advance on new wheels and the interest on the loan to dealers on the amount of price fixed, thus offering like protection to every dealer. Severe penalties will be fixed for infringement. The board will be organized in Minneapolis, and the new organization is expected to fill a long left want.

What Mrs. McKinley will do when she goes to the White House is told in an illustrated article in tomorrow's Sunday Globe.

CYCLE DEALERS FORM A BOARD OF TRADE IN THE MILL CITY.

THEIR OBJECT IS TWO FOLD.

TO PUT A DAMPER ON CYCLE SHOWS BY OUTSIDE PARTIES AND KEEP UP PRICES.

COL. WEST IS TO BE HONORED.

Complimentary Dinner Tendered the Boniface of the Big Hosiery—Mill City Matters.

The bicycle dealers of Minneapolis took the initiative steps toward forming a cycle board of trade at a meeting held at the rooms of the North-western Hotel, at the corner of Third and First avenue south, last evening. The dealers showed their desire for such an organization by being present in such large numbers and by the enthusiasm which was shown.

L. H. Fawkes called the meeting to order, and Col. Bell and J. A. Wintemish were chosen temporary president and secretary respectively. Some discussion followed as to the objects of a cycle board of trade and what had been done in other cities was cited as showing what might be accomplished in Minneapolis. The dealers decided by signing the names of the list presented that they would become members of the organization and abide by its laws. The following firms were represented and agreed to join: Jarney, Semple & Co., W. K. Morrison & Co., Schramm & Meyer, McDonald Bros., Fred Schaefer, Reese & Russell, Howard Street, H. Anderson, Heartfield Rubber Works, Snow Cycle company, Fred Rosh, Dean & Co., P. A. Myers & Co., Gardiner & Davis, Northwestern Cycle company, Century Cycle company, Harper Cycle company, Eastern Cycle company, Deere & Webber company, Heath-Quinby company, A. A. Hansen, Cycle and Linen company, E. Moore Carving Machine company, E. L. Darrow & Co. Committees were appointed to report at the next meeting.

The matter of a cycle show was brought up and the fact was developed that the outside parties had made application to the same board of trade to hold one in Minneapolis. A motion was put and carried unanimously that the board of trade should put themselves on record as not in favor of any such show held under the auspices of outside parties and also agreeing not to give their support to any such show. The board of trade when outside parties held such a show and the dealers did not work together, the showmen received all the benefit while the dealers were held out in the cold. From what was said at the meeting, it seems probable that the dealers themselves may at some time in the near future request permission to come the national board to hold a cycle exhibition under the auspices of the newly organized local board. In this way the dealers would reap the benefits accruing.

The meeting adjourned to meet next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the same room. From what was developed at the meeting, all the dealers in the city have been seen in regard to forming a local board of trade. With one or two exceptions, the bicycle men took kindly to the idea and promised to join and a large majority put their names at the meeting. It is expected that they will all be in the fold before long. From correspondence which has been had with the national board, it is likely that sanction will not be granted outside parties for the bicycle show here, but if the local board wishes sanction it will not be a doubtful matter to obtain in securing it.

HOW RESULTS ARE VIEWED.

We can now all join in running up the flag; not because the victory has been won by any one political party, but because 73,000 people of this great nation, divided on political issues, have by the ballot decided the result and today all stand united to abide by the rule of the majority.—Le Secour News.

The victory in this country last Tuesday is the result of an educational campaign. The strongholds of Populism saw the light of reason, and the faces of them as a revelation. The victory of the majority would stand the light of intelligence and when the farmer took to his home the words of the majority and the light of his own freeride carefully read them, there was a change. Populism is dead forever in this country. There will be no more Democratic party, but the farmers will now really all turn to the Republican party, for the party of the Republic.

The expected has happened, the conscience of the nation has awakened itself overwhelmingly in favor of patriotism and personal integrity. By a majority which has no element of uncertainty, the people by a vast majority have declared in favor of the existing financial standard, an honest dollar and sound currency, stability and prosperity.—Sunk Center Herald.

The gold standard has won the day, not fairly, but foully. Consider the dreadful odds against you had to contend! Remember the educational campaign. The strongholds of Populism saw the light of reason, and the faces of them as a revelation. The victory of the majority would stand the light of intelligence and when the farmer took to his home the words of the majority and the light of his own freeride carefully read them, there was a change. Populism is dead forever in this country. There will be no more Democratic party, but the farmers will now really all turn to the Republican party, for the party of the Republic.

The advent of prosperity will reach those who have had and will the light of his own freeride carefully read them, there was a change. Populism is dead forever in this country. There will be no more Democratic party, but the farmers will now really all turn to the Republican party, for the party of the Republic.

We sincerely hope, now that the election is over, that business will be resumed and the country enter upon its march to the predicted prosperity. We have the utmost confidence in the wisdom and ability of the people, and are satisfied with the result, although it was not what we had hoped for. We are more than satisfied that the country should have the majority of both houses of congress, that the Republicans should pass the bill for the relief of business depression, under which the country is now suffering.—Perham Bulletin.

The result of the presidential election is a victory for the Republican party, though the masses were not as much as expected. Landladies as was claimed. It is to be hoped that everybody, business man and mechanic, will set to work and cheerfully abide by the will of the majority which was exhibited at the polls.—Labor Journal.

The elections are over and this campaign has been a success. It has set the people to studying the questions of property rights, which they never did before. No doubt, the will of the majority will have a beneficial effect on the American people and on our government.—Goose River Farmer.

The effects of Maj. McKinley's election are already being felt. There is renewed confidence in the future, and business is being revived. These results will work good to business men and to the workers, and will bring about the next four years give promise of plenty and prosperity. It is firmly believed that the country will be benefited by the election of McKinley and his administration.—Bismarck Tribune.

While the election of Wm. McKinley to the presidency, with a Republican majority in both houses of congress, is a great and gratifying fact, it cannot bear fruit until next March. In the meantime the country will continue to suffer from the effects of the administration, with a gradual improvement in business conditions with the assurance that the national board of trade will be organized to take charge of national affairs.—Fort Benton River Press.

"Between Democratic demoralization on the one hand and Populist infatuation on the other, the country is in a state of hopefulness and confidence."—Branford Dispatch.

The nation finds much to be thankful for in the outcome of the presidential election, but not the least remarkable and satisfactory fact is the fact that the Democratic party, once "solid South" has been broken.—James-town, N. D., Gazette.

The campaign which has just closed had, perhaps, a greater influence upon the current business than any other in the history of five months. It was in progress, than any presidential campaign for a generation at least. It was a campaign of the necessary amount of time that will be required to recover from the effects of the losses necessarily incurred by the country in the necessary expenditures of so great a campaign, but it ought not to be very long.—Jackson Republic.

During the next four years the gold standard will be put on a firm basis. The labor and industry, the free silver theory will be buried. The tariff will be lowered, and the wise tariff legislation fails to restore prosperity to the producing classes. The tariff will be lowered, and the wise tariff legislation fails to restore prosperity to the producing classes. The tariff will be lowered, and the wise tariff legislation fails to restore prosperity to the producing classes.

"Sound money and prosperity" has been the campaign cry of the Republicans. Now, then, that they have won the victory on that issue, it is not surprising that they have told us much as they will. Fargo County Register.

All honor to the sound money Democrats, who buried partisanship in their patriotism and joined the Republicans in this great fight of intelligence Register.

ACADIA IS ON SHORE

THE MYSTERY OF THE FATE OF THE MISSING STEAMER IS CLEARED UP.

THE CREW ARE ALL SAFE.

THE VESSEL WENT ASHORE ON THE NORTH SHORE OF SUPERIOR IN A STORM.

SEVERAL DAYS SPENT ON ROCKS.

Intense Cold Made the Situation of the Wrecked Mariners a Very Serious Thing.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 13.—The Canadian steamer Acadia, which has been missing several days, is ashore on the rocks near Michipicoten river and will be a total loss. The master of the steamer, Capt. Clifford, with four of the crew, reached port tonight in a boat belonging to the light-house department. Since a week ago Thursday they have been fighting for life against cold and hunger on the bleak, desolate wilds on the Canadian shore of Lake Superior.

The Acadia measures 806 tons and is owned in Hamilton, Ont. Her cargo was 20,000 bushels of wheat, the boat was cleared from Fort Williams last Wednesday for Kingston, Ont. Capt. Clifford tonight said: "We were headed for shelter at Michipicoten river when a heavy snow storm set in and at 1 o'clock Thursday night we struck the rocks. The sea increased and soon after midnight we were compelled to abandon the steamer. The crew of seventeen men took a supply of provisions and bedding ashore in the boats. We constructed a rude shelter on the beach near the steamer and remained there two days. The weather was very cold, and all hands suffered. There was no habitation within many miles, and the country was very rough and wooded.

"The weather moderated after two days, and leaving two men to watch the steamer, the remaining fifteen got into two yawl boats and started for the nearest port, well laden with provisions. We arrived at Gargantua Saturday night, and after a short stay, provisions, four of us embarked in the lighthouse tender, a sailboat, Sunday morning, to make a desperate attempt to reach Sault Ste. Marie. But we struck heavy weather and near Manitowish we were forced to land again. The desolate character of the country continued and our provisions ran low. Fortunately a settlement was discovered, and we obtained food.

"The weather moderated this morning and we reached port this afternoon, all right. I am afraid that the men at Gargantua will suffer from hunger if we are not enabled to reach them in a short time. There are twelve men and their provisions will last them only two days longer."

Capt. Chamberlain and the members of his crew will leave tomorrow if the weather permits for the scene of the wreck. On the way they will pick up the men at Gargantua. An effort will be made to rescue the steamer, if anything can be done for her. The names of the crew so far as obtainable are: John Clifford, master; James H. Brown, chief engineer; John Hughes, second engineer; Thomas Collins, mate; Stephen G. Smith, steward; and George H. Tounin, wheelman; George Heard and —, Williams, firemen; Geo. Fred, Purser; Anne Perkins, cook; Thomas Saxby, deck hand.

WALLULA WRECKED.

Steamer Missed the Harbor and Went Ashore.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 13.—The steamer Wallula, owned by Capt. Thomas Wilson, of this city, missed the piers at Conneaut this morning and ran aground on the rocks in the big storm and went ashore. The crew was taken off with much difficulty. The steamer is now in a very bad way and will be a total loss. She is insured for $70,000, and is valued at $90,000. Soon after five o'clock the steamer was abandoned by the crew.

Schooner a Wreck.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 13.—The schooner Brenton was driven ashore just east of the pier at Conneaut this morning by a wind and snow. The life-saving crew succeeded, after much difficulty, in rescuing the crew of five men. The schooner is pounding hard and will soon be a total wreck.
