MINNEAPOLIS GLOBULES.

The closing of "The Merry World" two weeks in the Illinois leaves the first four nights of this week at the Metropolitan without an attraction.

Joseph Murphy, the celebrated Irish comedian, will visit Minneapolis shortly and play at the Metropolitan in "The Kerry Gow" and "Shawn Rhué."

John Rosenbush, a porter on the East side, fell through a manhole Friday afternoon while carrying wood, and broke his leg. He was taken to the city hospital.

The edict has gone forth that the ice and snow ordinance must be enforced, and Supt. Smith, in accordance therewith, has issued the requisite orders to the police captains, who in turn will instruct their subordinates. Inspectors Hoy and Lawrence arrested George Lyon yesterday afternoon, the junior member of the well-known plumbing firm of Lyon & Son, Nicollet and Ninth streets. The young man was arrested on a bench warrant, having been indicted for forgery.

Paul Ward Lamson, son of Judge A. W. Lamson, of Cleveland, O., left his home Oct. 17, and has not been heard of since. He is seventeen years old, of medium build, weighs 140 pounds. He took his bicycle with him. The police of this city are asked to watch for him.

Mrs. L. W. Berghausen, aged twenty-eight, died Thursday at Ashbury hospital. The funeral will be held from 1. O. O. F. hall, 413 Plymouth avenue, at 2 o'clock this p. m., and will be attended by members of Mission lodge, D. of R., to which the deceased belonged.

A matinee performance this afternoon at 2:30 will inaugurate the engagement of McKee Rankin, in his latest effort, entitled "New York As It Is." "New York As It Is" locates its action in America's greatest city, and deals with the many phases of its social conditions.

"Thoroughbred," produced by Charles Frohman, with a record of New York success, and with Thomas Q. Scarborough at the head of the cast, will continue its tour for the Metropolitan, where it is to hold the board at least half of the week, including a Saturday matinee, beginning Thursday night.

Victors Will Banquet.

The sound money victory will be celebrated by a banquet to be given under the auspices of the Ninth Ward Aggressive Republican club next Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, at Burnham's hall on Central avenue. The affair is a social function to wind up the best campaign which has ever been made in the Ninth ward and a love-feast time is expected. The menu card is filled with French dishes, and the programme of toasts is long enough to keep the Ninth warders loading up with patriotism until morning. H. C. Pearce is to be toastmaster and the list of toasts includes twenty of the leading Republicans of the Ninth ward.

Jail Locks Too Secure.

The county commissioners yesterday placed a machinist at work to see if something could not be done to correct the defective working of the elaborate locks which confine the doors to the new cell cage. At 11 a. m. the board went out in a body to the old dredge boat at Lake Minnetonka to consider what can be done with the machinery on board.

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT.

MORE MADE AND SOLD THAN ALL OTHER ELECTRIC BELTS COMBINED.

HAS CURED MORE SUFFERERS THAN ALL OTHER ELECTRIC BELTS COMBINED.

POINTS OF SUPERIORITY:

ELECTRIC POWER. DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT generates double the power of any other Electric Belt made. The arrangement of the metals is upon the most approved scientific basis; the Voltaic piles, being quadruple, so as to bring out a steady, powerful current; perfectly insulated, so that, different from all other belts, the full force of the current is conducted into the weakened system in a continuous life-giving stream. It gives tone and energy to the nervous system and all its dependent organs. As "Electricity is life," Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt is the modern life-giver.

DURABILITY. DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT is positively guaranteed for one year. Every belt broken or by any circumstance, whether the fault of the belt or the wearer, having lost its curative powers of electricity within one year, is replaced with a new one at no expense to the wearer. If Dr. Sanden's Belt was twice its present cost it would make as cheap, as no other appliance made can be sold with this guarantee.

CONVENIENCE. DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT is applied on retiring at night and worn until time of arising in the morning. No care or trouble is incurred in its use; no time is wasted in using it, as its soothing, strengthening current absorbs into the weakened organs while you sleep. Beneficial results are noticed in one night's use, and the sleep is made sound and refreshing. It quiets the nerves and builds up the weak parts in a natural, humane manner.

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT is constructed with a patent regulator. No other Electric Belt has it. When you have placed the Belt on the body and feel the powerful current penetrating your system you adjust its strength by turning to right or left a small screw attachment, setting the current at any desired force, and you can then enjoy a restful, quiet sleep without being awakened in the middle of the night by a sensation which makes you imagine you are being electrocuted. Those who have used the old-style belts know what this is, and understand why have discarded them are now being peacefully restored to health and strength by Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt and are testifying to the value of the new method. If you don't want to be burned to death in your sleep, use Dr. Sanden's.

$5,000 REWARD. DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT gives into the body a genuine current of electricity for several hours at a time; $5,000 reward will be paid for one of these Belts, which will not generate a current which is perceptible to the wearer immediately after charging and applying to the body.

IT CURES. DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT is credited with some 3,000 cures in the Northwest alone during the past ten years. Cures in fact. Cures of men who are manly enough to proclaim to the world their recovery of manhood and the means of getting it—DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT. It is strong, and has the names and addresses of hundreds of grateful citizens of the Northwest can be found in the little book, "Three Classes of Men," which gives full information; a scientific diagnosis of all cases which can be cured by electricity, and prices. It is "free." Sent sealed by mail, or at office.

No care or trouble is incurred in its use; no time is wasted in using it, as its soothing, strengthening current absorbs into the weakened organs while you sleep. erection of a two-story fire-proof power station at the foot of Seventh avenue southeast at the new location. The ground dimensions of the plant will be 100x200 feet. The materials used in its construction will be brick, iron and hardy anything else, as care will be exercised in all directions to make it completely fire-proof. The permit calls for the expenditure of $10,000. William de la Barre is the architect and will supervise the construction.

Commercial Club Officers.

John F. Calderwood was again elected president of the Commercial club at the annual meeting of the club held yesterday. G. L. Harris was elected first vice president; George A. Duvingeand, second vice president; and H. C. Pearce, treasurer. E. L. Danforth was re-elected secretary. This official staff could hardly be improved upon, and the Commercial club may feel gratified that the club's destiny is in such capable hands.

Winona's Canal Scheme Booms.

A New York dispatch says that Erastus West's plan for decreasing the cost of lake and canal transportation to New York is rapidly reaching a definite shape and that a company known as "The Winona Canal and Lake company" will soon be incorporated. E. M. Clarkson, who is one of West's backers, is believed to be negotiating for forty vessels will be placed shortly.

SEVERAL ARE MISSING.

Minneapolis Police on the Lookout for Various People.

Superintendent of Police Smith has received a communication from Harry Reinheimer, of Fuchanan, N. D., asking assistance in ascertaining the whereabouts of his father, W. E. Reinheimer, who is thought to be in the employ of a local commission house.

The police have been asked to be on the lookout for Harry Crawford, alias "Doc" of Chicago, Ill., who is wanted at Toledo, O., on a charge of murder. A reward of $100 is offered for information leading to his arrest. Crawford is described as being five feet eight inches in height; thirty years old; with dark brown hair and mustache. He weighs 175 pounds and has grayish brown eyes. He wears black clothes, a sack coat, an ulster overcoat, a black Fedora hat and had on a white shirt.

EXPENSIVE OVERCOAT.

G. W. Boeking Fined $50 on a Charge of Larceny.

G. W. Boeking was fined $50 or sixty days, in the municipal court yesterday, on a charge of petit larceny. The complainant was W. A. McLeod, who charged Boeking with the theft of an overcoat Boeking appeared in court wearing the coat in question. McLeod, it seems, had offered to withdraw the charge if the defendant would return the coat, but Boeking refused to compromise the matter, claiming that he had secured the coat in a legitimate way. The evidence which he introduced did not substantiate his claim, however, and the court accordingly found him guilty and pronounced sentence.

THE VOTE OF HENNEPIN.

Ames Had 1,210 Ballots to His Credit.

The official vote of Hennepin county, as given out yesterday, shows but little variation from the unofficial estimates already published. The vote was as follows: For President, McKinley, 25,786; Bryan, 20,515; Levering, 460; Matchett, 256.

For Governor: Clough, 21,700; Lind, 23,275; Dean, 520; Ames, 1,210; Lieutenant Governor: Gibbs, 23,478; Bowler, 20,622; Secretary of State: Berg, 24,355; Hennepin, 280; Treasurer: Koerner, 25,378; McKinnon, 19,877; Secretary of state, Childs, 23,675; Keyes, 19,041.

Union Veterans' League Goes Wild With Enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm bubbled and gushed from inexhaustible sources at the rooms of the Union Veterans' League, 118 Hennepin avenue, last evening. Although not strictly intended as a ratification to the election of McKinley, the members of the league gathered there to pay the president his thanks for his fair play and the results of the election. There was riotous applause when J. President McKinley, before the president had fairly taken his seat, the members allowed their restraint to depart and were carried into the air by the cheering and the campaign, which closed Nov. 3, was again fought over and the results dilated upon. WHY IS HOLLY WANTED?

Kansas City Man Gives the Police the Slip.

Upon the request of the authorities at Atchison, Kan., the police yesterday located M. K. Holly of this city at the party house. Holly disappeared Nov. 7 from Atchison, Mo. He held a good position in the Missouri freight office. The following day his son received a letter from him intimating that he had committed suicide, and winding up "look" in the bottom of the river.

The Atchison police took the case in hand and traced Holly to Omaha, where the clue was lost. Lately Mrs. Holly received a card from her husband, authorizing her to draw part of his salary. The Minneapolis police were immediately asked to detain him. The following morning by inspector Stavlo at the hotel. There being no criminal charge he could not be held. The Atchison authorities were wired for instructions. The answer asking that Holly be held came today. The following morning, but in the meantime Holly had succeeded in getting away.

Duluth Church Wants a Minneapolis Pastor in Place of Rev. Dawley.

A dispatch from Duluth says that the First Baptist church of that city will probably decide today to extend a call to Dr. S. E. Price, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, of Minneapolis. The pulpit of the Duluth church has been vacant since Dr. W. W. Dawley came to Minneapolis to assume charge of Central Baptist church. The committee appointed to consider the selection of a pastor, in accordance with the decision of the meeting held Thursday, will report in favor of Dr. Price today.

The Minneapolis committee made a favorable impression in Duluth and a suggestion of the committee will undoubtedly be accepted.

Celebrated With a Banquet.

At the Minneapolis club last evening Thomas Shovin, the senior member of the Shelton-Carpenter Lumber company, and one of the leading lumbermen of the Northwest, gave a dinner to a number of personal friends to celebrate the victory of sound money and the revival of prosperity. The winners were the basis of a dinner party. A few of the men who bet their money and lost were among the invited, but the great majority were of the winning side. Shovin possessed of his confidence. His mind, it was held to be, was in a state of high tension, and it was as elegant as anything that has been given at the club in many a day.

Helppen Jr. in Trouble.

Joseph Helppen, a son of Leo Helppen, who had a spectacular career in this city culminated in his arrest for embezzlement and subsequent suicide. When in April last, he was arrested last evening by inspectors Morning and Morrison, charged with the larceny of a bicycle. He took the wheel from Lake Harriet July 23, according to the police, shipped it to South Dakota four days later,

BANNER LODGE DIFFICULTIES IN COURT CAME TO A SUDDEN TERMINATION.

FACTIONS AGREE TO LIVE APART.

Two Lodges Will Be Formed, the Member Objected to Going With the Bolters.

The Banner lodge suit, which began yesterday in Judge Jamison's court room, and which promised to become a sensational case, on account of the prospect that lodge secrets would be divulged, before the case was completed, came to a sudden termination at noon, after a number of witnesses had been examined, among them Ella H. Mantor, the grand chief of the order for Minnesota.

At noon, Judge Jamison scored a most decisive touchdown, and washed his hands of a very hard piece of work thereby. He stated that it appeared that there was an endless controversy on hand, and the best thing the parties could do was to get together during the noon hour and make it all up. There were looks of scorn fired across the room by the factions, but during the noon hour, nevertheless, the attorneys came together, and made an agreement, which was afterwards entered into between the parties. By this agreement, the grand chief is to reinstate the lodge known as Banner lodge, giving it back its property, and having the new lodge formed on the charter of Banner lodge, taking the name into itself. Thus the two factions will have different lodges, and all will go as gaily as a marriage bell. The old Banner lodge has gained its point in not having Mrs. Crandall as a member, and the aforesaid Mrs. Crandall will be a member of the new lodge. So all have kissed and made up, and the courts will have nothing more to do with it. The chief reason for the arrangement was that the court examination bid fair to expose many of the lodge secrets, and the parties objected to that. The case was brought up some weeks ago by Mrs. Mantor, of the lodge to compel Mrs. Mantor, the grand chief, to reinstate the lodge. She claimed that without authority she had taken away the right of the lodge to exist and had delivered the charter to another gathering of women to operate under.

What Is Known There of Mysterious Mr. "Jones."

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Thomas Meric Jones was in Chicago, and registered at McCoy's hotel, Sept. 22, 1895. He was a member of the Eastern star, and occupied Room 34. Mr. McCoy, in speaking of the man who gave the sensational testimony at the Ivory trial in London, said that he had never met Jones, and if he met him, I have forgotten. I attended one session of the convention, but the rest of the time was busy at the hotel and did not keep the records of the proceedings. I believe his evidence is rubbish. He is probably in the employ of the British government, and his story is intended to make a bluff at earning his salary. As to the secret meetings, they are more imaginative than real.

Harbert's Tests of Tailless Kites

Takes Photographs by Their Aid and May Show Himself Some Day.

Whenever the wind is favorable Arthur Harbert, of Evanston, flies his kite, says the Chicago Times-Herald. This is not his amusement, for Mr. Harbert is not a boy, but a scientific kite flyer, making experiments which he believes some day will enable a man to be carried up in the air by a kite. This is only a dream of the future, at present, but he can now attach a camera to his kite, and expects that before long he will be able to take snap shots with it in the air.

It was only last March that a magazine article aroused Mr. Harbert's interest in the kite question. Since that time he has been busy with his law studies all the time he could spare from his law studies has been given to kites. Of course, he experiments with none but those of the Manx cat variety—tailless. None of the kites approved by science have a tail.

Scientific kites are mostly variations of the "Eddy tailless" kite, or the "Hargrave box kite." The former is made on a skeleton formed of two sticks of square length. These are tied so as to cross each other at right angles at a point about 18 per cent of this length from the top of the upright. The cross piece is then sprung backward by means of a bend joining the two ends like a bow. A support frame for the cloth is made by running wire over the tips of the sticks notched to hold it, and the cloth pasted heavy cotton cord such as is used in fishing seines has hardly done better, and he has been racking his brains to find something at once light enough not to prove a serious drag on a kite and strong enough to hold it when a stiff breeze is blowing.

"Wire" is an trying wire, however, stretches and stretches under the tension, and gets thinner and thinner till it breaks. I've tried picture wire, but that doesn't work either and a heavier wire rope weighs too much. Piano wire is the ideal stuff, but piano wire is expensive when you want to buy it by the mile instead of by the foot.

Mr. Harbert last week expected to send up a camera attached to a triplet of kites and get some bird's eye view of the Northwestern university grounds. He busied himself constructing a lightweight camera—before he caught the kite crane Mr. Harbert was devoted to photography—and yielded to the importunities of a representative of the Times-Herald, who wanted to see the experiment. When the appointed time came the wind, while sufficient to raise the kite alone, was not sufficient to raise them weighted with the camera, and the tackle necessary to its operation at a height of a quarter of a mile or so.

After a morning wasted in vain endeavor during which Professor Garriot declined to turn on any real wind, though he let out a few tantalizing puffs, just to show what he could do, if he had a mind to, the experiment was temporarily abandoned. An hour later, when two disgusted young people were following their respective callings in Chicago, a strong, steady breeze sprang up, which would have been very useful had it only come on time.

Some day Mr. Harbert expects, with the aid of eight or ten kites, to float himself. The plan is feasible for Hargrave has been lifted to a height of sixteen feet by a number of his kites. "And then," it was suggested to Mr. Harbert, "you can go up yourself with your camera, and take just what you want, without trusting so much to luck."

"Go up half a mile at the tail of a kite? No, I thank you. I'm not ready to be a martyr to science yet awhile. I might not be able to get down, you see, and that would be awkward. Lighthall found it so, and I don't care to be the second man killed. Killed by the kites—what a good headline it would make for your newspaper fellows. But if it's all the same to you, I'd rather not be the subject of it."

Mr. Harbert began his experiments in scientific kite flying near Lake Geneva, where the Harberts have their summer home, and the natives considered that an occupation only for children. Mr. Harbert had many an amusing encounter with the rustic prejudice in the course of his kite-flying experiments last summer.

Even in cultured Evanston he finds himself holding a public reception on the beach whenever he tries to raise one of the kites which he has made in the little workshop back of his father's Judson avenue residence.

Plea for Farmers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The features of the procedure of the National game today were the submission of the report of the executive committee and the calling of the members in a body on President Cleveland. The executive committee reported a total of $25,000 loaned on real estate securities. The report says agriculture is suffering from disproportionate burdens, which, if long continued, may cause such disastrous results as have overtaken the agricultural class in other countries. The report is a strong plea for farmers' rights.
