STAY IN YOUR TURKEY

BE THANKFUL AND GIVE YOUR NEIGHBOR EQUAL REASON.

MAKE USE OF THE HOLIDAY BY HELPING THE VARIOUS RELIEF AND AID SOCIETIES.

SAY YOUR PRAYERS THIS MORNING. Then Join in the Festivities Offered at a Score of Places.

The weather man supplements the proclamations of the president and the governor. This promises to be a splendid day to stay at home and celebrate.

Of the national holidays Thanksgiving is the one most celebrated in the home circle, and with such weather every one will be quite willing to let his neighbor attend the religious services. It is a holiday for everybody. All public offices will be closed.

The postal employees share in the cessation from routine, but one delivery being made and the local office will be printed in gaudy colors and the bill of fare augmented by seasonable edibles. Sojourners at the clubs will be better fed than usual.

There's a turkey raffle advertised for every block in the city. The day will not be unlike previous Thanksgivings in the city, different probably from Thanksgiving days to come. It is a welcome holiday, the first of the series of intervals of relaxation that makes more endurable the burdens of a work-a-day world.

Have you helped make the day one of Thanksgiving for your neighbor? NEGRO MELODIES.

The Fisk Jubilee Singers Will Again Be Heard. There is a movement and a sympathy in negro melodies that is contagious.

There is a movement and a sympathy in negro melodies that is contagious. The Fisk Jubilee Singers will again be heard at the People's church tonight.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE. Union Services at the Dayton Avenue Presbyterian Church.

In the churches today there will be the usual number of union services. The St. Anthony hill churches will unite in singing hymns and the probable where Rev. J. F. Stout, of the First M. E. church, will deliver the sermon.

Music will be furnished by a quartette consisting of the Central Presbyterian, Baptist church will unite at Emmanuel church, and Rev. C. C. Markham will speak.

St. Clement's church, corner of Portland and Milton street, services will be held and holy communion celebrated at 10, instead of 11 o'clock. Rev. W. C. Conley will officiate.

Services will be held at 11 o'clock in the People's church. Dr. S. G. Smith will deliver an address on "The Advantages of the People's Church." The choir will render a musical service, and one number will be sung by F. J. Loudin, bass soloist of the St. Paul Episcopal church.

At St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. John Wright will speak at 11 a. m., on "Elements of National Greatness." A union service will be held at Pacific Congregational church, Acker street, at 10 a. m. All the churches in the city are invited to participate.

There will be services at the House of Hope Presbyterian church, commencing at 11 o'clock in the morning. Paul Egbert, D. D., will preach the sermon.

Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. at Central Presbyterian church, with preaching by the pastor, Rev. A. B. Meldrum, D. D.

Union services will be held in Centennial hall at 10:30 a. m. The First Baptist church and Central Park Methodist church will unite in this service, which will be conducted by Rev. W. C. Conley and Dr. William McKinley.

Grace M. E. church, the Arlington Hills Presbyterian and the Burr Street Central Presbyterian churches will unite at 10:30 at the Arlington Hills church. Rev. G. L. Conley will preach the sermon.

Services will be held at the Pilgrim Baptist church, Summit avenue and Cedar street, at 11 a. m. Ladies of the church will serve dinner until 2 p. m.

GIFTS FROM THE SCHOOLS. Substantial Aid Given the Relief Society.

The weather interfered somewhat with the distribution of Thanksgiving gifts from the relief rooms yesterday, but not enough so that a large number of families all over the city of St. Paul went to bed happy last night.

The thought that their dinner for today was assured, the contributions which reached Secretary Hutchins yesterday came in with a flourish, and the relief rooms were driven up to the building, topped off with two or more small boys from the school who didn't mind the storm and who were learning a lesson in practical charity they will not forget.

Mrs. Deacon sent a couple of boys from the Franklin school who obtained the use of a horse belonging to the father of one of the boys. They had a load of provisions in the buggy, which they were taking to a family in the next part of town. When they reached the house they found they had the wrong number, but also found at the same location a family so restless that the boys' hearts quite ached. Leaving the provisions with which they had come burdened with the family for whom it had been intended, they rushed back to the relief rooms and breathlessly told Mr. Hutchins of their discovery. The case was at once looked up and away the little fellows drove again all excited and happy to carry a Thanksgiving dinner to their proteges. The school, however, was not in the line of the work this year and the Hancock comes second, and the others follow in this order: Nell, Rice, Franklin, Scheffer, Washington, Webster, Handrick, McClellan, Madison, Central high, Adams. The other schools did their own distributing, obtaining names of families in need near the building.

The boys from the Franklin school were Jay Strane and Frank MacCauley.

MARKETS WELL SUPPLIED.

Plenty of Fowl for Thanksgiving Purposes.

There is always a certain degree of interest in the market prices of domestic products, and the line of natural products, that is strengthened at the present time owing to the fact that today is Thanksgiving.

The different supply centers about the city will be open this morning to admit of purchases being made and want supplied.

In a walk through the markets and commission stores of the city yesterday it was seen that the supply of products was ample, and the scarcity was spoken of in any particular line. The cold snap at the beginning of the week gave rise to the belief that prices would be somewhat soft with a tendency to an increase.

Soft weather intervening, however, there was practically no change in the quotations, and the probable difficulty in keeping a fowl over until the day wanted resulted in slow sales and a consequent advance.

That indispensable feature of a Thanksgiving menu, the turkey, was found to be provided in plenty. The supply is abundant and the prices are unexpected demands. The grade of fowl met with is, if anything, superior to that of last year.

Many of the birds are small but the quality is good. Sales on other fowls are quiet. Geese job at 8 cents and retail at 10 cents. Ducks range from 10 cents wholesale to 10 1/2 cents retail, and 10 cents wholesale to 6 cents retail.

The prices of vegetables continue reasonable. Apples are being sold for 20 cents per bushel retail. Cabbages are held at 25 to 40 cents per dozen, according to the merit of the heads. Onions are quoted from 25 to 30 cents and carrots at 25 cents per bushel.

Grand Masquerade Ball. The second grand masquerade ball under the auspices of the Twin City Athletic club, was an event enjoyed by about 100 couples.

Despite the fact that the members of the club and their friends were present in handsome and fanciful costumes, the light fantastic together in a spirit of rivalry incident to the contest, the enjoyment of the spectators and enjoyment of the participants. Supper was served during the evening.

Salvation Army Dinner. The Salvation Army will give a free dinner for the special benefit of the poor at the hall on Broadway, at 10 o'clock this evening. The officers and members of the army have been receiving donations for the affair, and expect to receive many of the St. Paul poor with a good dinner.

Woodmen Will Banquet. Minnehaha Camp, Modern Woodmen of the World, will give a reception and banquet to members and invited guests tonight. Among the guests will be Mrs. W. C. Conley, Mrs. Berg, Conde Hamlin, Dr. C. A. McCullum, head consul of the order, C. S. Schurman, state consul, and others.

STREET. Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly will be at home after Dec. 10 at 497 Broadway, St. Paul.

Miss Emma Stover, of Summit avenue, gave a social last evening. Covers were laid for fourteen.

A meeting of the Lower Town Mothers' club was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. App, on East Ninth street. Elaine Goodale said in her address, "Marrage and Life," which was followed by a lengthy discussion.

Albert Lindeke entertained the Shakespeare club last night at his home, on Summit avenue. The first portion of the evening was devoted to a reception, between the hours of 7:30 and 9. After that hour the guests marched to the banquet hall, where a tempting old-fashioned repast was served.

It was a regular Thanksgiving day feast. After the banquet the guests were entertained with literary entertainments. Those who took part were Miss George Johnson, Waldron Holder, Messrs. Roy Kilbourn, A. L. Wilson, Frank Lillygreen, A. J. Ritchie, Miss Susie Gauder, Miss M. J. McClellan, Mrs. L. J. Powell. The fourth and concluding feature of the entertainment was a hop.

Seventy-five couples attended an annual hop given by the Irish-American club, at the English home, on East Ninth street. The hop was in charge of the officers of the club, and it was a thoroughly enjoyable affair. After the first portion of the evening was devoted to a banquet, which was served in the corridor of the building. The tables were prettily decorated.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Division No. 3, A. O. U. W., gave an annual dinner and hop last evening at Central hall. There were nearly 200 couples on the floor. The reception committee consisted of Mrs. Cook, Misses Nettie McCall, Mary Conely, Nellie Haverty, Emma Tracy, Madeline Snyder, Foutsger, and Mitchell. The entertainment was given by Misses G. O'Connor, Slater, Cummings, Koch, Cassin, and Madock and Potogiser. The refreshments were in charge of Misses Maloney, Cummings, Keating and Marshall.

St. Paul Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, gave its third annual ball at Martin's hall, on East Broadway, last evening. The attendance was large and the entertainment successful in the character of the hospitality furnished by the hostess. The commodious hall furnished ample space for the movements of the dancers and the reception committee was anxious to see that the entire company might enjoy the program of well chosen dance numbers by the orchestra. The supper was served at midnight.

While their more mature sisters danced the German, the members of the junior circle of the club, embracing most of the girls of the younger social set, gave last evening a genuine treat last night in the shape of a grand ball. The entertainment was ending with Howe's farce, "The Rehearsal." A score of interesting young women laid the plans and carried them out with a satisfactory finish, the torrents of rain to the contrary notwithstanding. Unity church hall was selected as the place for the ball, and experienced friends, no detail was omitted to a very professional looking program. Most of them excelling done. Charles Parram, who has been a member of "Anto da Fe," by "Oh, Oh," was especially clever. Irene Regan, a tiny little dancer, and her partner, who were selected and received their hearts of the negro favor of a premiere audience, while she was selected and received their hearts of the negro favor of a premiere audience, while she was selected and received their hearts of the negro favor of a premiere audience.

The club will attempt to observe the day, or rather the evening, and a dancing party has been announced for nearly every hall in town. An old time New Year's party will be given at the parlors of Central Presbyterian church by the Ladies Aid society. The Standard club will entertain in its hall on Jackson street, on Wednesday evening. The Young Men's Christian association will give a supper and party at White Bear lake. Division No. 2, Auxiliary of A. O. H., gives a hop in Twin City hall, on Broadway, at 10 o'clock.
